

SENATE PASSES CLUB LIQUOR BILL

TO STOP BLIND TIGERS FROM OPERATING UNDER CLOAK OF CLUBS.

House Adopts Senate Substitute—No Vote on the Turlington Trust Buster Today—House Kills County Auditor Bill—Ten Years in Penitentiary for Seduction of Blind or Deaf Woman.

Special to The Tribune.

Raleigh, March 6.—The club liquor law was finally enacted by adopting the Senate substitute for the House bill, and it was enrolled for ratification.

It is still lawful to keep individual bottles at clubs and at home, but the new law is designed to stop blind tigers from operating under the cloak of clubs.

There was an exciting scene in the House when an attempt was made to reconsider the State primary bill, but it lost out and the primary was buried for the second time.

There has been no vote on the Turlington Trust Buster today. The Senate considered it but didn't report. It will take it up again, said Chairman Graham at noon.

The House passed the bill making it a felony of 10 years in the penitentiary for seduction of a blind or deaf and dumb woman. The House killed the State Auditor's bill providing for examination of books of all county by two traveling auditors, one of the best of the session. It also killed the bill to make it a felony for corporations to give money to political candidates.

Session May Last Several Days Yet. At the time these lines are written it is impossible to state the number of extra days the General Assembly will find it necessary to remain in session.

There are always three groups into which every legislature may be divided at this stage of the session. First those who are sincerely patriotic enough to remain without grumbling after pay stops until the business which ought to be fully attended to is accomplished. Second, those who remain because it is necessary to do so to preserve a working quorum, and who are continually nagging the workers to get through or they will go home at once. Third, the fellows who are afraid to go home before the session's work is completed and those who "hit the grit" Saturday night preceding adjournment (provided they have succeeded in getting their last day's warrant cashed), because they know there is no chance for them to ever come back anyway and they would not pay one day's board bill without compensation from the State if there is a train to get out of Raleigh on. Obviously the second class is the worst of the whole layout, for it depends after all on them whether all business necessary to be done is accomplished, or only a part of the unfinished work is superficially gone over before adjournment is forced upon the real lawmakers who are too few in number to keep a quorum of themselves.

Death of State Primary Senate Bill a Hard Blow.

That was a hard blow to the advocates of a State Primary which its opponents delivered Saturday evening. But the reader may recall the fact that it was asserted with some confidence in this correspondence several times recently that "there is evidently a powerful influence behind the opposition to the State Primary bill or it would have been disposed of sooner." So I claim the prophecy and donate the credit to charity. The "youthful senators" who deserve the credit of outvoting the elder opponents of the measure in the upper house had a very short-lived victory. But they did not neglect to enjoy it to the limit while it lasted.

After the boys serve a few more terms they will get wise to the fact that when Grandpa Doughton sets his night-stick out and goes after a recalcitrant claimant for legislative degrees, there is almost sure to be a death in the freshman class.

Possibilities Minus Accidents and Oversight.

About the tinnest thing of any pretensions during the whole session was the little incident in the House when the "anti-trust bill" drawn by Attorney-General Bickett and presented by Turlington in a very brief speech went through the required formalities. After it had several had looks repaired by such lawyers as Connor and Doughton and even Turlington himself (after he examined the baby more closely) it went toddling along to the Senate for "concurrence" almost as noiselessly as though the great big bass drum bill of the session had not been attended to at all. Nobody seemed to care enough about it to vote against it and that is a pretty sure sign that it is as harmless an infant as the late "pink tea" baby, provided this new one in the Senate knocks the other little fellow into the grave prepared for it. Its little teeth consist of dollar marks entirely—but there are ten thousand of them—and now the State can enforce it if it is an "effective" one. It is not some lawyer in favor with the governor can help out solicitors and get the pickings. And that's something, surely, either way you look at it.

CONGRESS ADJOURNS.

Extra Session Called to Meet April 4—Closing Scenes of the Congress.

Washington, March 4.—The Sixty-first Congress, heedless of one of the most important legislative tasks set before it came to an end shortly after noon today. Within the hour following President Taft had issued a proclamation calling the new Congress to meet in extraordinary session at noon Tuesday, April 4. At that time he will submit for ratification to a House overwhelmingly Democratic and a Senate barely Republican, the reciprocity agreement with Canada.

How long the extra session will last is problematical. While the new Congress may promptly ratify the reciprocity agreement—some Democrats are in favor of withholding confirmation until two or three new tariff schedules are ready—if tariff differences should arise between the new House and the Senate, the session unquestionably would be a long one.

The old Congress ended amid scenes of extraordinary excitement and uncertainty. In the House the disorder at times during the closing hours, when the successful filibuster against the tariff board bill was in progress, became almost a riot.

Representative Johnson, of Kentucky, glaring angrily at Speaker Cannon, shouted, above the general roar of confusion, a challenge to the effect that but for the Speaker's gray hairs he would carry the wordy disagreement to a more serious conclusion.

The Speaker, his sparse gray hair bristling in his rage, declared with a vicious blow of his gavel on the desk that no member need let his age be a bar to anything they had to offer. The House stood up and cheered.

The Sulloway Pension bill was called up, but there was a disposition to prolong consideration, and Scott, (Rep., W. Va.) withdrew it, thus ending the last chance for its passage at this session.

Lodge (Rep., Mass.) said it would add $440,000,000 to the Government's expenditures in the next 10 years and would necessitate new forms of taxation. Senator Joseph W. Bailey added to the excitement and to the extraordinary episodes surrounding the adjournment of Congress by resigning his office as Senator from the State of Texas, and a few hours later withdrawing his resignation.

Other Schools Contribute to the Bill Nye Fund.

The following schools have reported collections for the Bill Nye Fund since our last announcement:

Shinn	$ 1.50
Pinnacles, in No. 11	1.20
Hickory Ridge, No. 11	.87
Mill Grove	1.50
Canaan	.25
Flat Rock (colored) No. 11	.75
Rankin school teacher	.25
Liberty Ridge	1.50
Hartsell Mill (additional con.)	1.50
Brown mill	1.35

An error in the amount contributed by the Eastfield school in No. 3 only showed this school as contributing 19 cents. It should have been 65 cents.

Oline-Roseman.

Mr. Adam A. Cline, of the firm of Cline Bros. Co., of Concord, was married Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock to Miss Hattie Roseman, of South Rowan. The bride is a daughter of Mr. J. M. Roseman. The ceremony was performed at the St. John's parsonage by Rev. J. J. Long, in the presence of a few friends. After the ceremony the bride and groom went to the home of the latter's father, Mr. M. L. Cline, where a dinner was given in their honor. Mr. and Mrs. Cline will soon go to housekeeping in Mr. Wade Cline's house on East Corbin street.

Mr. and Mrs. Critz have resigned as operators at the Postal office here and left Saturday for Fort Worth, Texas. Mr. Ernest Rogers, of Greensboro, is now manager of the office.

Mrs. M. B. Stieckley will entertain a number of friends at dinner this evening.

Small Accounts

AS WELL AS LARGE ONES ARE welcomed here. You need not wait until your business has assumed great proportions before opening an account. Do so to-day.

Our patrons, regardless of the amount of business done, receive every courtesy in all matters of business entrusted to us, and there is nothing in safe banking we cannot perform.

DEATH OF MR. E. L. McALLISTER.

Prominent Citizen of Mt. Pleasant Passed Away This Morning at 5 O'clock.

Many friends in Concord were pained this morning to hear of the death of Mr. Robert McAllister, who died at 5 o'clock at his home in Mt. Pleasant after an illness of about two weeks. Mr. McAllister was at first seized with a heart trouble, and on last Thursday was stricken with paralysis. Since then it had been apparent that his death was only a question of a few days. Several Concord friends went down yesterday to see him, and reported his condition as precarious indeed.

Mr. McAllister had lived a few weeks, would have been 48 years of age. He leaves his wife and six children, five sons and one daughter, namely: Harvey, Lee, Ben, Everett, Brown and Mabel. He leaves also two brothers, and five sisters, namely: Prof. G. F. McAllister, of the Collegiate Institute, Mr. J. B. McAllister, Register of Deeds, Mrs. W. N. Misenheimer, Mrs. J. F. Misenheimer, Mrs. D. D. Barrier, Misses Maggie and Emma McAllister. Miss Maggie McAllister is a teacher in the High Point schools, and came home Saturday to be at the bedside of her brother. Mr. McAllister's widow is a sister of Mrs. M. L. Buchanan, of Concord.

Mr. McAllister had been a resident of Mt. Pleasant all his life. He was a son of Hon. H. C. McAllister, and a contractor and brick mason by trade. He was a man of energy and ability, and had the contracts for the erection of many of the largest brick buildings in this section of the State. He was superintendent of construction on the government building now being erected here.

The funeral service will be conducted tomorrow morning at Holy Trinity Lutheran church, of which Mr. McAllister was a member, and the burial will take place in the Lutheran cemetery. The hour for the funeral service will be 10 o'clock.

Death of Capt. S. E. White.

Capt. S. E. White died at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Leroy Springs, at Lancaster, S. C., last Saturday night at 9 o'clock. He had been in declining health for several years, but was seldom confined to bed. Three weeks ago he was taken ill and compelled to give up. He was 77 years of age, and was the last of his family. He married Miss Esther Allison, a daughter of the late Esq. B. W. Allison, of Concord, and was a brother-in-law of Mrs. J. M. Odell and Mr. J. P. Allison.

Sheriff Wallace Rounds up the Chicken Fighters.

It is reported here today that Sheriff Wallace, of Mecklenburg, rounded up about 25 would-be chicken fighters in that county yesterday (Sunday). They had arranged to have a main about 7 miles from Charlotte yesterday and the sheriff got wind of it. Out of the 50 people present he got half of them.
