REV. DR. DUBOSE DROWNED.

Prominent Episcopal Minister Lost His Life in Catawba River This Morning. Special to The Tribune. Charlotte, N. C., April 15.—Rev. Dr. McNeely Dubose, one of the best known Episcopal clergymen in the South, was drowned in the Catawba river near Morganton this morning about 8 o'clock while hunting ducks in company with his two small sons. The body has not been recovered. Dr. Dubose was formerly rector of St. Mary's College at Raleigh, and had occupied the pulpit of a number of the largest Episcopal churches in the South.

Definers Lost to Concord.

The Concord Athletic Club defeated the Definers of this city in an intensely interesting game at the old baseball grounds yesterday afternoon, the one run that decided the game coming in the ninth inning. Both Seppenfeld for the visitors and Alexander for the home boys pitched superb ball, the former having the better support in the tight places. The features of the contest were a one-handed stab by Wearn of the locals and the hitting of L. Seppenfeld for the visitors. The game was witnessed by a goodly bunch of the youthful fans of the city. The score by innings follows: Concord 000 000 001—1. Definers 000 000 000—0. The above is from today's Charlotte Observer. Our youngsters returned last night on No. 30 and were highly elated over their victory. It was sweet revenge for the drubbing they received here when the Definers gave them a severe wallowing.

Commissioner Graham Pleaded With Work at Test Farm.

Raleigh, April 14.—Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham, just back from the Edgecombe and the Pender county test farms, expresses gratification at the work being accomplished at both. Varieties of corn and cotton adapted to the soils in that territory are being developed. A variety of other crops that exceeds itself for six years as a winter cover crop. Experiments there have also worked out a method of draining water galls that makes serious inroads on available crop lands on many farms. This is only the third crop year for the Pender farm. Much new land is being cleared. One acre in lettuce has this spring already yielded a revenue of $800. Truck and fruit crops are the experiments on this farm, the purpose being to discover and introduce the best methods of growing and handling for the benefit of farmers in that territory.

Big Fire Loss in Carolina.

Raleigh, April 14.—Commissioner of Insurance James B. Young is calling the attention of the people of North Carolina to the fact that the fire loss in this state for the month of March, according to the showing of The New York Journal of Commerce, amounted to $518,700, considerably more than should have been with proper attention to the elimination of fire waste and precautions as to condition of buildings in the towns. The loss for the United States and Canada was $20,000,000 more than for March, 1910.

Pastor Shies Book at Sleeper in Congregation.

Los Angeles, April 14.—Rev. H. H. Crossfield, President of Transylvania University, Kentucky, was greatly annoyed during the sermon last night at a series of revivals he is holding at the First Christian Church by two of the brethren who had fallen asleep because of unusual exertions during the day. After calling attention to the fact that he was listened to most attentively by all the congregation, the doctor noticed that one of the transgressors, evidently a light sleeper, was aroused. The other, however, sitting in the next to the front pew was not awakened by such a soft rebuke.

The Kentucky parson could stand it no longer. Keeping right on with the sermon, he shied a song book at the sleeper. One book followed another until the audience was in a titter, but the tired man simply opened his eyes for a moment and shifting his position from full face to profile, slept right on until the benediction without apparent interruption.

Simmons Favors Primary for Nominating Senator.

Washington, April 14.—Replying to an inquiry as to his position with reference to a senatorial primary, Senator Simmons said today: "I have no hesitancy in saying that in my opinion a primary would be greatly to my advantage. The first time I was nominated for the Senate I was nominated by a primary ordered by the State convention with my hearty consent and approval. I earnestly hope when the next Democratic convention meets it will see its way clear to order a Statewide primary for the nomination of a candidate for United States Senator."

"I assume that the convention will settle this question in accordance with its views as to what will be for the best interest of the party and the people, and not become either my opponents or myself think it will be to our advantage. I repeat that I hope the convention will call a primary, and it is my opinion that the interest of the party will be subserved thereby."

Mr. C. E. Williams went to Waynesville Friday for a few days.

"The Crucifixion" Rendered Last Night. An audience that filled the church auditorium and also the gallery assembled at St. James Lutheran church last night to hear the rendition of "The Crucifixion," a meditation on the sacred pasover of the Holy Redeemer. The music was directed by the pastor, Rev. C. P. MacLaughlin, and the soloists were: Mrs. MacLaughlin, Misses Laura Ridenhour and Verna Blume, Messrs. Ed Sherrill, C. A. Cook, Campbell Chis, V. L. Norman and Rev. C. P. MacLaughlin. These were assisted in the chorus by about 40 voices. Much hard work had been placed on the composition, and the result of this work was evident in the rendition. The music was difficult, but as a whole it was well rendered and was most impressive. The organist and members of the choir were in vestments and this added to the impressiveness and effect of the music.

The stockholders of both banks have been notified to meet May 17 to pass upon the proposition to consolidate. The First National is one of the oldest banks in this section of North Carolina, and the People's is one of the newest and has been eminently successful.

The consolidation is made in the interest of both institutions, and will give added strength and economy in management. Both banks have a large business. The name will be the People's National Bank.

Girls Offered for Sale; Only Death Remains. Shanghai, April 14.—Pitiful stories of suffering in the famine stricken areas of China reach this city daily. Sixty girls were offered for sale at one small town without a purchaser, because the food the slaves eat is more valuable than their lives. Only death, therefore, awaits them.

Heavy rains have partly reflooded the famine district for the third time in two years rendering extremely difficult the importation of grain for the relief of the starving thousands. In some cases the water is so high that it prevents the gathering of herbs in the fields and also cuts the people off from relief stations.

Statesville's new passenger station has been opened to the public and the travelers generally seem well pleased with it. The new station, which is built of red pressed brick, with stone trimmings and terra cotta roof, is a very handsome one, being of rather unique style of architecture, and when the work on its surroundings has been completed, it will present a very fine appearance.

OKLAHOMA CROPS LIVE AGAIN.

Rain Revived Wheat Believed to be Dead and Fruit Damage Isn't Great.

According to Joseph P. Harter, government demonstrator in agriculture at Tulsa, Ok., recent rains have improved the condition of wheat in his district at least 50 per cent, and what before promised to make only part of a crop will turn out to be the greatest crop ever produced in that section of the state. With less than an inch of moisture from planting time until a few weeks ago many farmers had concluded the wheat crop was a failure. Some fields were plowed up recently, although a majority of the farmers decided to wait and see what the late rains would do and those have been rewarded by a remarkable prospect considering the unfavorable weather conditions which prevailed so long. Fields that appeared to be entirely dead have come up and in many instances the stand is heavy.

Big Cotton Crop Needed. Charlotte Chronicle. The New Orleans Picayune says that although the last cotton crop was approximately 12,000,000 bales, it has utterly failed to provide the supplies which the world's mills have required, except at prices which have made it impossible for many of the mills, particularly those in the United States, to operate at a profit.

The short crops of recent years have not been the result of concerted curtailment of acreage. Unfavorable weather and the boll weevil have been mainly responsible for the short yields. It is certain that farmers are determined to plant a large acreage this spring, and nothing on their part will be done to stand in the way of a large yield.

A large crop this year is actually and seriously needed to restore normal conditions in the cotton trade of the world, particularly the manufacturing branch.

Stocking Ripped; Gems Gone. Pittsburg, April 14.—Mrs. R. E. Shore, wife of a Pennsylvania avenue commission merchant, lost gems worth $2,150 in an odd manner today. She was waiting for a street car on the platform at Biggett Manor when her foot went through a rotten board and ripped her stocking.

When she reached a department store in the city she discovered that a bag containing the gems, which she had placed in her stocking, had disappeared. She is in a hysterical condition at her home in Hawthorne avenue, Crafton, while city detectives are hunting the missing jewels.

A Poor Excuse. Charlotte Chronicle. The Concord Times advances the explanation for the existence of that bad gap in the national highway between Concord and Charlotte, but all in Cabarrus county. It is a poor excuse. Why cannot condemnation proceedings be resorted to? We find it difficult to conceive how any landowner could protest against the building of a good road through his property, in view of the established fact that good roads enhance the value of every particle of land they touch. But aside from this, the inaction of the Cabarrus board of commissioners is entailing a grievous inconvenience on the people, not only of the two counties, but of all this section of the country. There is a remedy for this state of affairs. It should be found and applied.

BE SINCERE. The shortest and surest way to live with honor in the world is to be in reality what we would appear to be, and if we observe we shall find that all human virtues increase and strengthen themselves by the practice and experience of them.—Socrates.

Since its erection on the South-bound railroad right of way, the Farmers' Union warehouse in Albemarle has presented a busy scene, says the Enterprise. Eighteen car loads of fertilizers were received one day last week, and so great was the rush that wagons waited for several hours before being filled. The farmers have adopted this system as one of the means of economy, and it bears the co-operative feature. It also demonstrates to the farmer that when he has the cash to "plank down," he gets a discount which counts largely to his profit.
