TIME.
 Part with time as with money, sparing; pay no moment but in purchase of its worth. And what its worth? Ask deathbeds; they can tell.—Young.

The Greensboro News, one of the very best daily newspapers in the South, scores in publishing today the detailed figures of the population of all North Carolina counties. The population of every city, town, village and township in the State is given. The figures show a decided increase in population all over the State. The total increase is 302,477. Probably the most gratifying fact about the returns is that while they show that North Carolina is forging fast ahead as a manufacturing and commercial State, it is losing little as an agricultural State.

Some one sends us a copy of the Daily Herald, published at Everett, Washington, which contains an account of the raising of a popular subscription of $45,000 in that city of money needed by the public treasury, due to the decrease in public revenue by voting out the saloons last November. This is the first case of the kind on record, so far as we have heard, and shows that the people of Everett have not only public spirit but that they are behind the enforcement of the prohibition law.

Mr. Edmonds may have been justified in knocking the ten miles of bad road he found in Cabarrus county, but at the same time he might have said something about the excellent road between Concord and Salisbury.—Durham Herald.

It is conceded that the seven miles of road from Concord to Kannapolis, every yard of which is in Cabarrus county, is as fine a piece of road as can be found on the entire National Highway.

The "recall" has been used by the citizens of Tacoma, Washington, against their mayor, A. V. Fawcett, who had served only eleven months. He was charged with gross incompetence, and was opposed by the women and the church people generally. The recall election resulted in his being ousted.

One dealer in Charlotte has sold about a dozen harem skirts. We have not yet seen anything in the Charlotte papers about a riot on the streets of that city, however.

The Baltimore Evening Sun refers to Congressman Gudgeon, of the tenth North Carolina district, as "Representative Gudgeon." Such is fame.

North Carolina Lutheran Synod.
 The one hundred and eighth annual convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod and Ministerium of North Carolina will be held in St. Paul's church, Wilmington, beginning Wednesday, May 10th.

Speakers and subjects as follows: Wednesday, 10 a. m., Synodical sermon, President Rev. V. Y. Boozer; 8 p. m., Beneficial Education—The Service of the Church College; 1. The Church College and the Business Man—Rev. M. M. Kinard, Ph. D.; 2. The Church College and the Professional Man—Rev. J. P. Miller, Thursday afternoon—Laymen's meeting with addresses by laymen; 8 p. m., Missions—Our Mission Field at Home, Rev. J. L. Morgan; 2. Our Mission Field Abroad, Rev. R. C. Holliday, D. D.

Sunday, 11 a. m., Ordination services, Rev. H. L. Patterson; 3:30 p. m., address to the Sunday school—Rev. Geo. H. Cox, D. D.; 8 p. m., sermon—Rev. A. G. Voigt, D. D.

Speaker Edmonds, in coming out in favor of a primary, shows that he is not afraid of the verdict of the people in regard to his record in the Senate.—Winston-Journal.

GLADSTONE

Fine weather since last week. Ground is about ready for farmers to go to plowing.

Some of our people went to the picnic on the river Monday and reported a nice time.

Peaches are few and far between and many apple trees are not blooming this year as they gave fruit last year and will rest this year.

Wheat is looking well, the rainy weather has got it on the higher move.

Mr. Burwell Frick and Miss Eller Culp were married on last Sunday.

Booze has been plenty during the Easter season.

Mr. J. C. Burrage and wife, of Concord, visited the former's parents here over Easter.

Mr. Will Burrage, of Rocky Mount, came in on a visit last week and returned Tuesday.

Rev. Matney, Presiding Elder, moved into his new house Monday.

We need some of those chickens that lay three eggs a day. Ours do not average one egg in three days during the year. Eggs are bound to decline at the rate of three eggs per day for hens. Sometimes and very often three hens lay in the same nest. I don't see how a man can tell anything of certainty about how many eggs one hen lays especially if he has more than one hen. If he has but one hen and no other chickens near then he could be a little more accurate in his statement. We would not have been so much surprised if this would have occurred on the first day of April.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Miller, of Concord, have been here among friends and have returned.

MT. PLEASANT, R. F. D. 1.
 There was a large congregation attended preaching at Mission Easter Sunday. Rev. J. S. Harris preached an excellent sermon.

There were a number of young people from here attended the sociable party given at Mr. W. A. Crayton's last Saturday night. Music was furnished by the Page string band.

Rev. J. S. Harris was a pleasant visitor at the home of M. R. Crayton's last Friday and Saturday.

The wedding bells have not rang yet but we are expecting to hear them at any time near Mt. Pleasant, on route 1.

There will be preaching at Mission Baptist church the third Sunday evening at 3 o'clock and Sunday at 11 o'clock.

One Conductor Helped Back to Work.
 Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect. The third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It will do all you claim in case of rheumatism." It clears the blood of uric acid. M. L. Marsh Drugist.

NO. 3 TOWNSHIP.
 Miss Carrie Emerson, president of the Young People's Missionary band, entertained the members at an egg hunt Monday afternoon.

Miss Carrie Harris has gone to Moravian Falls to visit friends.

Lesson IV.—Second Quarter, For April 23, 1911.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.
 Text of the Lesson, II Kings xii, 4-18. Memory Verse, 11—Golden Text, I Chron. xxix, 9—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Today we combine the story of Josiah, king of Judah, in last week's lesson and in this one. He began to reign in his seventh year and reigned forty years, doing right in the sight of the Lord, while Jehoahaz, the priest, instructed him (verses 1-3), but he did not destroy idolatry in the land.

Our last good king in Judah was Jehoshaphat, who was succeeded by his son Jehoram, his firstborn, who married a daughter of Ahab and did evil in the sight of the Lord and put to death his six brothers. He reigned only eight years and died a fearful death, as the prophet Elijah sent him word that he would. It is written of him that he departed without being buried (II Chron. xxi).

Jehoahaz (or Ahaziah), his youngest son, succeeded him, all his older brothers having been slain by the Syrians. He reigned only one year, and his mother, Athaliah, was his counselor to do wickedly (II Chron. xxii, 1-4). He was slain by Jehu, and when his mother knew that he was dead she at once proceeded to destroy all the seed royal of the house of Judah, but Jehoshaphat (or Jehoshabab), the wife of Jehoiada, the priest, and sister of Ahaziah, rescued the infant Josiah and hid him and his nurse in the house of the Lord six years while Athaliah reigned over the land (II Kings xi, 1-3; II Chron. xxiii, 10-12).

Last week's lesson told us how, in his seventh year, Jehoahaz, the priest, arranged to have him brought forth, uncrowned, and proclaimed king, and made a covenant between the Lord and the king and the people that they should be the Lord's people (xi, 12, 17). They broke down the house of Baal and his altars and images, slew the priest of Baal, and also the wicked queen mother Athaliah. So the people rejoiced and the city was quiet (xi, 18-20).

We must not confuse our good King Josiah of Judah with another Josiah, king of Israel, who began to reign over the ten tribes in the thirty-seventh year of the king of Judah's reign and who departed not from the sins of Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin (I Kings xiii, 10-13). We have a key to the heart of today's lesson in the expression, "The house of the Lord," which occurs in our lesson verses just twelve times. If we include verse 18.

Inasmuch as the king spent the first six years of his life in some part of the house of the Lord under the care of the priest of the Lord it is the most suggestive phrase in our lesson, and the more so when we remember that the kings who reigned at Jerusalem were said to sit on the throne of the Lord as king (I Chron. xxix, 23). We cannot think of Israel as a nation without a tabernacle or temple as a dwelling place for Jehovah in their midst. One of the first commands to Moses after the deliverance from Egypt and the giving of the law at Sinai was, "Let them make me a sanctuary that I may dwell among them" (Ex. xxv, 8). When Cyrus, king of Persia, made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom that the Jews might return from Babylon he said that it was to build the house of the Lord God of Israel in Jerusalem (Ezra i, 1-4). Ezekiel xl to xlviii tells of the temple that is to be when they shall be gathered from all nations never to be pulled up or scattered any more.

When Israel was numbered it was the law that every one, rich and poor, should give a half shekel as atonement money as a ransom for his soul, and this money was to be used in the service of the Lord (Ex. xxx, 11-16). This is probably a part of the money referred to in verse 4 with which they were to repair the house of the Lord, for the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken up the house of God and had bestowed the dedicated things upon Baalam.

Josiah instructed the priests and the Levites to go out into the cities of Judah and gather of all Israel money to repair the house of the Lord from year to year, but this collecting business did not work any better than it does today, and after more than twenty years the work was not done (verses 1-8; II Chron. xxxiv, 4-7).

Then Jehoahaz, the priest, took a chest, with a hole in the lid, and set it beside the altar on the right side as one cometh into the house of the Lord, and they made a proclamation through Judah and Jerusalem to bring in the offering that Moses had commanded, and thus they gathered money in abundance, and the workmen wrought, and the work was perfected by them and they set the house of God in his state and strengthened it (verses 9-14; II Chron. xxxiv, 8-13).

I have personally tried the box at the door plan for thank offerings, for benefits received at the services, the money to be given to missions to help tell the glad tidings to others, and it has worked splendidly. It is many a long year since I ever solicited money from any one personally or permitted any one to go out collecting, and we find there is no need of it. The wickedness of Josiah after the death of Jehoahaz, at the age of 130 years, and the murder of the son of Jehoahaz and his idols are written in II Chron. xxv, 18-27.

WEST CABARRUS

There was a delightful Easter party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Christenbury last Friday night, which was enjoyed by a large crowd in spite of the rain. At 10:30 o'clock everybody was invited to the dining room and there was a delightful supper. There were about 45 present. Among them were:

Misses Mattie Brown, Ollie and Willie Crenshaw, Willie May Oehler, Bertha and Mary Beard, Marie Grace Barnett, Edna Harkey, Grace Wallace, Claudia and Maggie Heglar, Messrs. Breward and Clifford Wallace, Atlas and Young Davis, Henry Gallo-way, Charlie Whitley, Boyce, Otis and Edson Gray, James Kirk, James Oehler, Charlie Harkey, Stitt Beard, Ed. Taylor, Charlie Lefler, Clayton Alexander, Fred and George Motley, Tom Brumley, Jr., Homer Heglar, John Alexander, Jack Barnett, Ernest Walker.

Remember the school entertainment at the Dehler school house on April 28th, 1911, beginning at 2 o'clock, p. m.
 Mr. E. W. Christenbury has had gas lights put in his house.
 SWEETHEART.

A Reliable Medicine—Not Narcotic
 Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." M. L. Marsh, Drugist.

Regal Shoes at Cost Plus 5 per Cent.

An Earthquake for the Trade, but a Benefit to the Public

Regal Prices Are Now $3.35 to $5.85

NOBODY OUTSIDE the shoe trade can realize what a jolt that trade received when the Regal Shoe Company announced its new pricing policy.

"HENCEFORTH," said the Regal Shoe Co., "all the shoes we make will be priced at COST OF MANUFACTURE AND SELLING, PLUS FIVE PER CENT. COMMISSION, no matter whether that price figures out in odd or even money, and without regard to the 50c jumps between prices, heretofore arbitrarily fixed in the shoe business."

IT WAS NOT the five per cent. that gave the jolt. The Regal Shoe Co. has always done business on a five per cent. profit and every manufacturer knew it. It was the abandonment of the "even price" that caused the stir.

THAT "EVEN-PRICE" policy has been the darling superstition of the shoe trade for twenty years or more. Standard shoes had been sold for so long at $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00 and so on, that dealers thought no other prices were possible.

"BARGAIN" SHOES—nameless products shoveled out by shoe "departments"—might be sold at odd prices. But standard makes—oh, never!

IT WAS ARGUED seriously by expert shoe-salesmen that men and women who wanted shoes of name and character would rather pay even prices. That is, they argued that a man would rather pay $5.00 than $4.85, whether or not he got anything worth having for that extra 15c.

AND SO, WHEN a designer produced a new shoe that could be sold for profit and all at $4.85, the manufacturers were up against an embarrassing situation.

THEY COULD DO any one of three things—and some one of these three things they all did:

THEY COULD LET that $4.85 shoe stand as it was and ask $5.00 for it, getting an extra 15c profit, if Regal competition would allow it,—or

THEY COULD ADD 15c worth of unnecessary expense to the shoe, bringing its price up to $5.00

OR, THEY COULD SKIN 35c worth OUT of the shoe, bringing its price down to the next even figure—$4.50, but spoiling the shoe's quality-balance.

BUT AS FOR DOING the obvious and proper thing—selling that $4.85 shoe for $4.85—why that was not to be thought of!

SEEMS RIDICULOUS, doesn't it? But all superstitions seem ridiculous after you have exploded them. And the Regal has exploded this one.

HEREAFTER, Regal Shoes will be built just as the Regal style-builders plan them. They know their business, and they know their public.

IF THEY SAY "This shoe is right as it stands—the best shoe that can be devised and built for its particular want and purpose"—why that shoe is going to the public just as it is, unaltered by a foolish custom.

THE DESIGNERS will not be required to add anything unnecessary to it, nor to take anything out of it, to bring its price up to or down to any set figure.

THE MANUFACTURING COST of that shoe will be figured carefully; five per cent. will be added and a further allowance covering the actual cost of selling that shoe to the customer, and the resulting sum will be the price of that particular shoe, whether it is $3.35, or $3.50, or $4.85, or whatever it is.

THE PRICE WILL BE STAMPED ON THE SHOE AT THE FACTORY and certified public accountants will verify the prices and also verify the fact that only five per cent. commission is added.

YOU GAIN MORE than the dimes you save by the odd prices. You gain also by better balanced quality and by the fact that you pay only for what you want.

REGAL Style-Builders now have a free hand. They simply get out the BEST SHOE THAT THEY CAN DEVISE for a certain purpose at about a certain price. You pay for exactly what you get, plus the fair 5 per cent. You are taxed nothing for useless additions.
