PROUD MAN. But man, proud man, Drest in a little brief authority, Most ignorant of what he's most assured,

At the commencement exercises of Fisk University, the college for negroes at Nashville, held Wednesday a letter was read from President Taft in which he gave some sound and sensible advice. He said:

"I am not one of those who believe that it is well to educate the mass of negroes with academic or university education. On the contrary, I am firmly convinced that the hope of the negro is in his industrial education throughout the South, and in teaching him to be a better farmer, a better carpenter, a better machinist and a better blacksmith than he is now, and to make more blacksmiths and more good farmers than there now are among the negroes. But I have also become convinced that it is necessary to have a few high-class negro universities for those who are to be the leaders of the race and also to figure prominently in a professional way—their ministers, their physicians, their lawyers and their teachers—because we have got to treat the race as distinct from the whites."

It is the opinion of many who are interested in cotton mills, and who are, of course, well informed as to the cotton goods market and cotton mill situation generally, that the prospects for the remaining months of the summer are not flattering. It seems to be generally understood that there will have to be a general curtailment in order to meet with the conditions. The curtailment has already begun, and it is stated that it is at present from 25 to 30 per cent. among the mills of the Carolinas.

Says the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot: "Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, has at least one thing in favor of his reelection. Marion Butler is opposed to his return to the Senate." And we love him for the enemies he has made.

Editor Joe Robinson, of the Goldsboro Argus, had his nose broken by bumping it against the framework of his automobile while out driving a few days ago. What business has an editor with an automobile, anyway?

If you have to pay double taxes this year, you have no one to blame but yourself.

The Sum of $1,270 Missing. Albemarle Enterprise.

A. C. Parker states that he had $1,270 in money which he kept in his safe in the Farmers' Hardware Store. On Saturday, he opened his safe to place some money in with the other. On Monday, upon returning to the safe, he missed the box and the sum stated. Mr. Parker gives it as a theory that in his haste he left the box on a shelf outside the safe, and after re-locking the safe the small box and contents were in easy access of anyone who chanced that way. No evidence or suspicion seems to have arisen against anyone, and the incident is surrounded with a touch of the mysterious. Nine hundred dollars of the money is said to have belonged to another party.

Grasshoppers are Damaging Cotton. New Orleans, June 15.—According to a prominent cotton planter who has just returned here after a two weeks' visit to various parts of the cotton belt, grasshoppers in large quantities are beginning to attack the cotton crop in sections of Louisiana and Mississippi. So far the pests have become noticeable only in certain localities, but it is feared, the planter says, if the hot dry weather continues they will become a great danger to the crop.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

DON'T BE FOOLED, GIRLS.

Flowers And Candy Not All That Counts, Says Dr. Wharton. Baltimore Sun.

"Wives are unhappy because husbands show a remarkable aptitude for forgetting their marriage vows," said Dr. Henry M. Wharton, of Brantly Baptist Church, last night in another one of his "matrimonial sermons."

The subject of the sermon was "Why Wives are Unhappy." Right at the start Dr. Wharton placed the burden of marital sorrows on the husbands. "Husbands," Dr. Wharton said, "are too prone to fall before the allurements of other attractions. A proper husband is one who keeps up his courtship after his marriage."

Secret societies, lodges and clubs came under the ban, while saloons were scathingly designated as the worst destroyer of the happy relations. He strongly advised the married men never to tease their wives. "Teasing," he said, "sears away happiness which is the dove of Heaven."

"In order not to be unhappy," continued Dr. Wharton, "it is proper to start right at the beginning. Girls, when a young man comes to call on you and brings you flowers and candy, don't be fooled. Eat the candy, but find out about the young man. Wear the flowers and be nice to him, but look into his associations and the kind of life that he leads, so that when he comes to ask papa for your hand you may know whether you will be safe in intrusting it to him."

"Then when you get married, the burden of the responsibility rests upon the husband. Husbands, when you come home in the evenings do call your wife sweetheart, and maybe have a box of candy with you or a bouquet of flowers." Or instead of handing her flowers do you give her a lemon? A lit le taffy will go a great way to eliminate the vexing questions which arise in household matters.

"Don't be afraid to say sweet things to your wife. Neglect has blighted more lives than overindulgence of sweetness. If a thing pleases you, say so. A husband is not lowering his dignity by showing his wife that he can be tickled over potatoes fried a new way, or appreciating the manner in which the wife wears her hair. Be the lover all the time; the marriage certificate should not end the courtship."

"Be true to your wife, as you expect her to be true to you. You have no right to demand of her that she sacrifice all for you and then not be willing to do the same for her. If you want your home to be sweet, do not take all the worries to your hard-working wife and leave all the pleasures at the club or in the business office."

"The clubs are one of the worst snares for the dove of happiness that exist. When 'hubby' goes to the club to spend the evening and comes home, say, about 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning, so tired and sleepy that he has to have several companions to show him which is his house, is it any wonder that the wife does not greet him with a smile and a kiss?"

"The secret order and society which requires the presence of the husband every night will soon cause the home to seem plain and barren."

Your Neighbor's Experience.

How you may profit by it. Take Foley Kidney Pills. Mrs. E. G. Whiting, 360 Willow St., Akron, O., says: "For some time I had a very serious case of kidney trouble and I suffered with backaches and dizzy headaches. I had specks floating before my eyes and I felt all tired out and miserable. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised and got a bottle and took them according to directions and results showed almost at once. The pain and dizzy headaches left me, my eye-sight became clear and to-day I can say I am a well woman, thanks to Foley Kidney Pills." M. L. Marsh, Druggist.

Lesson XII.—Second Quarter, For June 18, 1911.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, II Kings xvii, 1-14—Memory Verse, 14—Golden Text, Prov. xxix, 1—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

A brief summary of the story of the ten tribes and their sin is found in verse 21 of our lesson chapter in those words, "He rent Israel from the house of David, and they made Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, king, and Jeroboam drove Israel from following the Lord and made them sin a great sin." Our whole lesson today is a summary of the sin of the ten tribes. From their first king, Jeroboam, to their last, Hoshea, they had, including these two, nineteen rulers covering a period of 200 years, part of which was an interregnum and part a time of anarchy. There was not one good ruler among them all, nor any real turning to the Lord, though He sent them from time to time as His messengers to plead with them, the unnamed man of God from Judah and the prophets Ahijah, Elijah, Micah, Elisha, Jonah, Hosea, Amos and Oded. The record of their persistent rebellion and sin is given briefly in verses 14 to 18 of our lesson chapter, and what a record it is! They would not hear, did not believe in the Lord their God, rejected His statutes, left all His commandments, followed vanity and became vain, sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the Lord. The record concerning Judah over a hundred years later reads thus: "They mocked the messengers of God and despised His words and misused His prophets until the wrath of the Lord arose against His people (all there was no remedy)" (II Chron. xxxvi, 16).

Last days have always been times of great rebellion against God, as were the days of Noah before the flood (Gen. vi, 5, 11, 12), and, according to the testimony of our Lord Jesus, such will be the case again at the end of this age just before He shall come in His glory to set up His kingdom of righteousness and peace on this earth (Matt. xxiv, 37-39; Luke xvii, 26-30). The present unbelief in high places, in pulpits and in many theological seminaries is a sure indication that we are in the last days of this evil age, which are described in II Tim. iii, 1-5; I Pet. ii, 3-7. As truly as the flood came in the days of Noah, the captivities of Israel and Judah in their day, the destruction of Jerusalem and the scattering of Israel among all nations, so surely shall the judgments come that are to close this age and introduce a better one of peace and righteousness. The warning as to what would come upon them if they turned away from the Lord and served other gods is written very plainly in Deut. iv, 25-27, and elsewhere, and, though the purpose of God may be delayed, whether for mercy or judgment, it cannot be frustrated (Isa. xiv, 24). God gives many a warning before He finally lets the stroke fall. In the days of the king preceding Hoshai a king of Assyria carried away many captives (chapter xv, 29), but the warning was not heeded.

This was probably the Sargon of Isa. xx, 1. On what is known as Sargon's cylinder, exhumed from Nineveh, are found these words, "I besieged the city of Samaria and took it. I carried off 27,280 of the citizens. I chose fifty chariots for myself from the whole number taken. All the other property of the people of the town I left for my servants to take. In the place of those taken into captivity I sent thither inhabitants of lands conquered by me and imposed the tribute on them which I require from Assyria." This reads very much like verse 24 of our lesson chapter, and the following verses tell how this mixed multitude under the teaching of one of the priests of Israel learned to fear the Lord and serve their own gods after the manner of the nations (verse 33). "They feared the Lord and served their graven images" (verse 41), which means that they did not in any true sense fear the Lord (verse 34). They are described in Isa. xxix, 13 as those who honor God only with mouth and lips, but have removed the heart far from Him, and their fear toward Him is taught by the precept of men. See also Ezek. xxxiii, 31, and the words of the Lord Jesus in Matt. xv, 7-9. The last days of this present age are described in II Tim. iii.

Israel had been brought out of Egypt and placed in the land given to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob that they might be a peculiar people unto God, set apart for Himself, unlike other nations, having God Himself as their king, judge and lawgiver (Ex. xix, 4-6; Isa. xxxiii, 22). But first secretly and then openly they turned from God to idols and did as the heathen whom the Lord carried away before them (verses 9-12). Though He sent many messengers who entreated them to turn from their evil ways and return to the Lord, they would not hear, but hardened their necks like to the neck of their fathers, that did not believe in the Lord their God (verses 13, 14).

It is written in Tit. ii, 14 concerning present day believers that "Our Saviour Jesus Christ gave Himself for us that He might redeem us from all iniquity and purify unto Himself a people for His own possession" (revised version). When we consider the conformity to this present age of the great mass of church members instead of their separation unto God we can but wonder at His mercy and long suffering, but the day of the Lord will come.
