THE LAST REHEARSAL.

The Children's Entertainment a Big Success—The Sum of $7.90 Raised for the Library.

There was big excitement and big fun at Judge Montgomery's lawn last night, the occasion being the presentation of the "Last Rehearsal," by a number of little girls of the city, who got up the performance for the purpose of raising money to buy children's books for the library. They had provided a tent on the lawn and it was in this the play was presented. Quite a large number composed the audience, and from the moment the curtain was first rung up the fun and merriment never ceased, and by the close of the performance the whole audience was fairly bubbling over with laughter. Not that the performers were to be laughed at—far be it from this—but every one entered into their role with such zeal, vigor and childish glee that the situation was running over with amusement. It is said that the little girls got up the play unassisted, and there is no reason to doubt it, but nevertheless a very distinguished lawyer, who has a special fondness for children and growing pretty roses, was seen behind the footlights.

Every little girl deserves mention for the manner in which they performed their part but special mention is due little Miss Mary McLaughlin, whose work was of the stellar order. The play opened with Martha Caldwell, Elizabeth Dick, Helen Troy, Mary McLaughlin, Elizabeth Black, Frances Young, Isabelle Goodson, Margaret Bell and Lucy Richmond Lantz, singing "School Days," while Master David Lowe, who occupied the top round of a step ladder nearby, kept time with his feet, much to the amusement of every one. After this the play moved along without a hitch, except being frequently interspersed with applause. It represented a rehearsal of a play by a number of children in a lower grade at school being coached by a pupil from the high school. Miss Nannie Lee Patterson played the role of high school teacher and Estelle Dick the teacher, and Frances Richardson, a maid, Davy Pemberton brought forth an avalanche of applause when he entered dressed as a girl, wearing a big straw hat and heavy veil. Davy looked so stunning that he evidently aroused the jealousy of the girls, for he was soon stripped of his glad rags and made to look like any other barefoot bean.

The audience was one of the most distinguished ever gathered in the city. Such honored notables as Billie Boyd, James York, Jr., Robert Dick, Heath Pemberton, Buster Lantz, George Lowe, Luther Hartsell, Thompson Fetzer and Tom Gay Coltrane occupied seats on both end row and the boxes were occupied by such famous beauties as Jennie Gibson Brown, Alice Bernice York, Adelaide Harris, Nancy Lantz, Catherine Carpenter and Blanche Dick.

The little girls not only furnished loads of fun and amusement but succeeded in raising the neat sum of $7.90 for the library.

Wilbur Jones, of High Point, Dies Suddenly at Asheville.

Asheville, June 16.—Wilbur Jones, prominent citizen of High Point, founder and editor of the Southern Furniture Journal, died this afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Mission hospital in this city, after an illness of less than an hour.

Mr. Jones complained to his friends that he was feeling bad with a peculiar pain about his heart and went to the hospital merely for an examination. He died soon after reaching there. He came to Asheville Wednesday in apparently good health to attend the meeting of the North Carolina Furniture Dealers' association and his sudden death comes as a great shock to his relatives and many friends.

THE GAME YESTERDAY.

Concord Defeats Kannapolis by a Score of 8 to 4—A Slow Game.

In a slow and uninteresting game of ball Concord defeated Kannapolis yesterday afternoon by the score of 8 runs to 4. Anderson, a lanky south-paw, and Bell, the tall righthander, were opposed to each other on the firing line, with honors in favor of the local mounder. Irby, the visitor's custodian of the keystone bag, put up an exhibition of fielding that has not been witnessed here in many moons. Clarence Norman put up a classy fielding game in right and was there in a pinch on two occasions, driving out singles. L. Sappenfeld, to use plain talk, has the fall-downs or the stumbles, or the can't-stand-ups or some like malady, for three times he flung his body against the ground while chasing balls, the first two times didn't do any damage but in the seventh while chasing a fly he toppled again, the side of his face digging deep into terra firma, with the result that some several inches of skin were torn away. The blood began to trickle down and formed a compatible mass with the perspiration, the red dominating, and there after "Kiddo's" face resembled the flat side of a pickled beet.

Concord scored in the first inning on a combination of hits and errors and that ended the run making until the fourth, when Kannapolis forged ahead. The swatters from the border city were there with the bells on in this frame, or at least they were there on Bell and for a time two baggers and triples percolated through the sultry atmosphere. A series of errors, two bases on balls, Overcash's double and Irby's triple netted four runs. After this the elongated horse hide hurler put extra wrinkles on his shoots and there was nothing further doing in the scoring line.

L. Sappenfeld opened the fourth with a wallow for one base and scored on infield hits by Rogers and Clark. Norman batted the bulb for a base and Clark pedaled home.

O. Sappenfeld went the circuit in the sixth on a single, two stolen bases and an infield out.

Grier pried the lid off in the seventh with a triple to the right field hedge and scored on a wild pitch. Clark doubled and went to third on Roger's safe bunt. Bell walked and Norman sent the two across with a single.

Batteries: Anderson and Boger; Bell and Rogers. Umpire, Mabrey.

Oregon Apple Expert to Locate Near Asheville.

Asheville, June 16.—It is learned today that the Oregon expert, who has been here for several days, mentions of which has been made, has decided to locate near Asheville and establish a large orchard. It is understood that this gentleman has several places in view and will take one of them. He now has a nursery of 20,000 trees in Oregon which he will ship here and plant. He says that he will plant the 20,000 trees and that he will be able to gather probably two or three boxes of apples from each tree this year.

Mr. Cline Gets Damages from Telephone Company.

China Grove Record.

J. E. Cline, H. S. Bostian, F. R. Watkins and C. S. Sechler were in Salisbury Wednesday attending court. The Telephone Company had gone into his yard and cut off several trees by cutting off limbs and making a way for their lines without Mr. Cline's consent. The case was tried before Judge Miller and resulted in Mr. Cline being given $90 damages.

He's Now on a Sheep Ranch.

Gaffney Ledger.

The clerk is now on a sheep ranch.

The Times and the Tribune have just received a car load of news print paper to use in getting out the two papers. The car contained 32,000 pounds, and cost $375.00. This is a much better grade of paper than the last car load of paper we used, and is the grade that we will use altogether in the future. For some weeks we have been using the same grade of paper on the Tribune, but this is the first of it used on The Times. We are sure the readers of the latter will notice the improved grade of paper even without being told.

TOMORROW.

"Tomorrow," said the languid man, "I'll have my life insured, I guess; I know it is the safest plan, to save my children from distress." And when the morrow came around, they placed him gently in a box; at break of morning he was found as dead as Julius Caesar's ox. His widow is now scrubbing floors, and washing shirts and splitting wood, and doing fifty other chores, that she may rear her wailing brood. "Tomorrow," said the careless jay, "I'll take an hour and make my will; and then if I should pass away, the wife and kids will know no ill." The morrow came, serene and nice, the weather mild, with signs of rain; the careless jay was placed on ice, embalming fluid in his brain. Alas, alas, poor careless jay! The lawyers got his pile of cash; his wife is toiling night and day, to keep the kids in clothes and heat. Tomorrow is the ambushed walk avoided by the circumpect. Tomorrow is the fatal rock on which a million ships are wrecked. —Walt Mason.

British Soldiers at Bunker Hill.

Boston, Mass., June 17.—The steady tread of British troops was heard in the vicinity of Bunker Hill today as on that memorable day 136 years ago, when the first important conflict of the American Revolution took place. Today, however, the Americans were not fortified on the crest of the hill ready to "fire when you see the whites of their eyes." The Americans were on hand, this time in vastly superior numbers, and they gave the British soldiers a warm reception, for the latter were the St. John Fusiliers, of St. John, N. B., who had come down on a fraternal visit to help in the celebration of Massachusetts' Fourth of July. The celebration centered in Charlestown, where the British troops marched in parade with the Massachusetts militia and sailors and marines from the American warships at the navy yard.

Buy Screen Doors and Windows.

Smithfield Herald.

It is surprising how many well-to-do farmers will deny themselves the ordinary comforts of life when they are in easy reach. One of the things to mention is the protection afforded by screen doors and windows. They cost but little. Doors are from $1.00 each to $1.75, and windows forty and fifty cents each. They keep out flies and mosquitoes and add to the comfort of the home day and night. If the whole house cannot be screened they could be put in the windows of the dining and sleeping rooms. The price is a small matter and the comfort and sanitary protection is worth considering.
