A NEWSY LETTER

FROM KANNAPOLIS.

Batch of Interesting Items From This Rustling Village.

The Kannapolis Y. M. C. A. baseball team played with the Gibson mill team Saturday evening in Concord. The score was 10 to 9 in favor of the letter. The batteries were: Anderson and Rogers for Kannapolis, Cauble and Brown for Gibson. Although our boys were defeated, they say they are ready to cross bats with the Gibson boys again. Their opponents had a high class college pitcher, Utley made a four-base hit off him. Irby and Holfield made some fine high catches. There was a big gang of rooters on both sides.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. A. had a feast Saturday night at Mr. Daywalt's in East Kannapolis. They had plenty of cake and cream and fruit, and had a jolly good time together. The lodge here has grown rapidly this year, taking in many of the prominent men of Kannapolis and vicinity and now has a membership of 150.

The attendance at the Y. M. C. A. moving pictures Saturday night was between 250 and 300, although the weather was threatening. The four reels were exhibited without any delays, as there was an experienced man at the machine. Mr. Owens expects to have him every Saturday night. The show will begin hereafter at 8:15 during the summer months.

The Men's Bible class met as usual Sunday evening in the hall and had an interesting lesson after which they had their cake and lemonade.

Monday night the boys' Bible class, composed of the boys' baseball team and other of the larger boys, met and had a lesson about Gideon. After which the team met and appointed committees to arrange for the Fourth of July entertainments in which baseball will be prominent.

There will be "something doing" at the Y. M. C. A. all day on the Fourth and visitors will find a welcome here and they can get refreshments at the hall as arrangements will be made to that end.

In the pool tournament Mr. Pomeroy is still high man and in all probability will win the cue for the third time.

The suits for the Cannon Sluggers are being made and will be ready for them to wear Saturday in the game with one of the Concord teams.

Mr. Owens, always looking out for the comforts of the visitors and members of the Y. M. C. A. has put in a large water cooler and no one needs to be thirsty.

We only voice the sentiment of the entire community when we say we are sorry to lose Rev. W. T. Talbirt, who has been the efficient pastor of the Baptist church here for the past two years, and who resigned some time ago, while in ill health. Mr. Talbirt preached his farewell sermon last Sunday morning at 11 o'clock to a large congregation, after which resolutions of love and respect were read and adopted by the church. These resolutions stated among other things, that Mr. Talbirt was a very close student of Scripture and that his parishioners were sorry to part with him. Mr. Talbirt was very popular as such, and now we commend him to the love and esteem of the good people of Concord, among whom he moved this week, locating on a cold street, his house number being 30. Concord now has a marrying parson and we hope he will work as faithfully in conjunction with Cupid there as he did here, making many hearts happy.

A telegram Sunday brought Mrs. H. M. Phillips the sad intelligence of the death of her father, Mr. John Haywood, which occurred at his home near Stout's Station, in Union county Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips attended the funeral which took place at Shiloh, near Monroe Monday morning. The deceased was in his 82nd year and leaves six children. We sympathize with the bereaved one in their loss.

The Third Quarterly Conference of the Kannapolis circuit, M. E. Church, South, will be held here in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium tomorrow morning, Dr. J. C. Rowe, the presiding elder, will preach at 11 a. m., and after the preaching service, will hold the conference and will preach again at 11 a. m. Sunday and administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Dr. Rowe always draws a large congregation as he always edifies. Being one of the ablest preachers of the Western N. C. Conference, he is equipped for service and always tells something we never heard before.

Rev. W. B. Shinn will preach the third of a series of sermons on the Lord's prayer at 8 o'clock Sunday night.

There was a "free silver" game of ball here yesterday evening between China Grove and Kannapolis which resulted in a score of 16 to 1 in favor of Kannapolis.

The loss of time through these disputes is estimated at 299,400 working days, compared with a loss of 292,275 days in April, and of 71,830 days in May, 1910.

Review at Buckingham Palace.

London, June 30.—The piked troops who came here for the coronation from the Overseas Dominions and from India were reviewed by King George at Buckingham Palace this morning. The event concluded the long list of coronation ceremonies and festivities which have kept London astir since the beginning of June.

The scene on the terrace was a very brilliant one, the European military and levee dress being quite outshone by the splendid apparel of the Indian princes. The great lawn below the terrace, was a marvelous sight in red, yellow, green and blue. The Sikhs, Bengalese and other Indian contingents made a strong contrast to the khoda-clad troops, from Canada, Australia and other parts of the empire.

At the word of command lances, rifles and carbines were grounded, and the contingents, having gone through some simple tactics and again shouldered their arms, filed past the royal canopy, saluting their Majesties and receiving medals commemorating the coronation.

Class of Orphans to Be Here Next Sunday.

The children of the Methodist Orphanage Home of Winston-Salem, will be here Sunday and there will be interesting exercises by them at Central Methodist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Forest Hill Methodist church at 8 o'clock. The exercises will be given under the direction of Superintendent Hayes and will no doubt prove exceedingly interesting. No collection will be taken, as the visit is for the purpose of showing the members of the various Methodist congregations the work the institution is doing.

Mrs. George Fisher has gone to Greensboro to visit her son, Mr. Homer Fisher.

OPENS UP BOOKS.

Northern Spinners Try to Depress Price of Cotton and Enhance Price of Mill Products.

Washington, June 29.—Deep interest is being manifested by southern congressmen in the disclosure that northern cotton spinners signed agreements to curtail their production with the double view of depressing the price of cotton and enhancing the price of cotton mill products.

This revelation came to the house committee on expenditures in the department of justice through Edward Stanwood, secretary of the Arkwright club, who opened the book containing the minutes of the organization to the committee. Representative Beall, chairman of the committee, has been anxious to complete the chain of testimony showing that not only the bulk cotton operators, but the southern spinners, the bear operators and the northern spinners have been operating under signed agreements either to depress or increase the price not only of cotton but of cotton products. He declares that he is entirely satisfied with the rounding out of his phase of the committee's investigation by the production of the minute books of the Arkwright club.

The Arkwright club is a business organization which embraces leading cotton manufacturers and some woolen manufacturers. Reading from the minutes of the club, Secretary Stanwood testified that the club prepared and circulated among mill owners circular letters submitting an agreement for the curtailing of the output of the mill, which turned to the club. He said these agreements were generally signed and lived up to by the mill owners.

At that time the mill owners agreed to curtail output by shutting down their respective plants for four weeks during a period of nine months. The purpose of this agreement, it was developed, was to depress the price of cotton and increase the price of mill production. Stanwood said that Richard Onley, Secretary of State under President Cleveland, had approved this agreement, saying it was not a violation of the law.

The testimony is of particular interest at this time because the government proceeding against the bull clique for alleged restraint of trade rests on the fact that the clique and the southern cotton spinners entered into signed agreements whereby the southern cotton spinners were to go into the New York cotton exchange and buy up 300,000 bales of cotton and refuse to tender it back to the exchange, thereby cleaning out the available cotton supply in New York and enabling the bulls to force the price of cotton to dizzy heights and compel the bear to settle at fictitious prices.

Gibbons 50 Years a Priest.

Baltimore, Md., June 30.—Cardinal Gibbons today rounded out half a century as a priest of the Roman Catholic Church and a quarter century as a member of the Sacred College, a combined distinction which no American ever before attained. It was on June 30, 1861, that the prolate was ordained to the priesthood, and it was on June 30, 1886, that he was invested with the princely insignia by the Pope.

The double jubilee was permitted to pass today without any special observance beyond the special masses celebrated throughout the diocese and the receipt by his Eminence of a large number of congratulatory letters and telegrams from friends and admirers throughout America. Added to the American greetings were felicitous messages from the Pope and from personal friends at the Vatican.

Cardinal Gibbons' jubilee was celebrated some weeks ago by a great non-sectarian gathering in this city which was attended by President Taft, ex-President Roosevelt, Chief Justice White and many other notables. About the middle of October, when the season is more suitable than at present, the ecclesiastical celebration will take place. At that time it is expected that the most noted prelates of the church in America will assemble in Baltimore to do honor to the Cardinal.

Next month Cardinal Gibbons will be 77 years old. He enjoys good health, although he is somewhat feeble, and he continues to perform the active duties of his office.

Dominion Day Celebration.

London, June 30.—With the venerable Lord Strathcona in the chair and his royal Highness the Duke of Connaught as the guest of honor, today's Dominion Day dinner in London to be a highly notable public function. The dinner was followed by a reception at the Imperial Institute, which was attended by nearly five thousand guests. Among the guests were many of the notable Canadian visitors to the coronation and eminent representatives of all other parts of the empire.

FOR LAW REFORM.

Bar Association Favors Some Radical Changes.

Lake Toxaway, June 29.—The North Carolina Bar Association in session here today was very keenly disappointed when telegrams were received by the secretary that J. J. Britt and Martin A. Littleton were both unable to be present. Mr. Britt is third assistant postmaster-general and the pressure of business compels him to remain in Washington. Mr. Littleton is engaged in the trial of an important case in New York and cannot come.

At the morning session memorial addresses in honor of members who died during the year were delivered. The committee reported the following members who have died: J. S. Adams, Kope Elias, A. A. Fisherstone and N. A. McLean. The absence of three former presidents of the association, who are detained at time by sickness, Thomas A. Keenon, Charles A. Moore and W. D. Pondon, was announced, and suitable resolutions adopted.

Thomas A. Pittman, of Henderson, read a splendid address on the Tennessee system of land registration.

The committee on law reform offered a report which brought about considerable discussion. The report was a distillate outcome of the splendid address of President Charles W. Tillet Wednesday night.

The committee's report strongly advocated three radical changes; first, that the number of Superior court judges be increased to 24 and suggested that the state be divided into three circuits of eight judicial districts each. Second, that the present system of rotation of judges be abolished. Third, that the solicitors be put on a salary. Further the committee advised changes in the laws governing the matter of challenging jurors. The report of the committee also suggested the appointment of a committee of five who are to prepare bills to be presented to the next legislature that shall embody these changes and that these proposed bills shall be published before the next meeting of the association before being presented to the legislature.

Democratic Primary in Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., June 30.—On the eve of the Kentucky Democratic primary at the end of one of the most interesting and bitterly fought campaigns the Blue Grass State has been in some years, each of the factions and candidates expresses confidence and an unusually heavy vote is anticipated tomorrow.

Nominees for State officers from governor down are to be selected and a candidate endorsed for United States senator to succeed Senator Thomas H. Paynter, whose term will expire in March, 1913, and whose successor will be elected by the next legislature. Senator Paynter having withdrawn from Congress and one of the most conservative of the First district in from the contest, Ollie M. James, republican leader of the Democratic party in Kentucky, has the field all to himself.

Two aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination will fight it out in the primary. They are James B. McCreary, who formerly sat in the United States senate, and William Adams, whose home is in Harrison county. Interesting contests are on for the nominations for lieutenant governor, auditor, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction and commissioner of agriculture, labor and statistics. Though the liquor question and various other State issues have been discussed the campaign as a whole has been conducted along personal lines and with the rivalry of the several factions of the party playing the most conspicuous part in the fight.

Tired of Promises, the Wife Plowed the Potato Patch.

Wadesboro Messenger.

It is often said that our women are not as capable, resourceful and energetic as they were during the war, but at least there are still a few who live up to the old adage, "Where there's a will there's a way." Last week a lady in Wadesboro township wanted a potato patch prepared and insisted every day in the week that it must be done. The husband, very busy with farm work that he considered more important, put her off from day to day till finally it was Saturday noon. She insisted that the patch certainly must be fixed that afternoon, but he was compelled to come to town, and promised faithfully to attend to it the first thing Monday morning. When he had left for town the lady with quick determination went to the stables, caught a mule or horse, hitched him to a plow and proceeded to do things for herself. When her husband returned that afternoon the potato patch was nicely "bedded" and "set out."

TWO WEDDINGS.

Mr. John Boger and Miss Rose Young and Mr. Lester Murr and Miss Lee Propst—Both Couples Have Quiet Weddings.

Although not altogether unexpected the marriage last evening at 6 o'clock of Mr. John Boger and Miss Rose Young proved quite a surprise, as they had only told a few of their most intimate friends of their plans. The young couple have been sweethearts for some time and yesterday afternoon Mr. Boger called for the young lady and the two drove to the home of Rev. W. T. Talbirt, who performed the ceremony in the presence of only a few friends. Mr. Boger is the son of Chief of Police Boger and is night ticket agent at the Southern Railway station. Miss Young is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Young and has a wide circle of friends here, where she has always made her home. The marriage was in no sense a runaway affair as the young people just decided to change their plans and be married at once.

Murr-Propst.

Forest Hill Methodist parsonage was the scene of another wedding last evening at 6 o'clock, when Mr. Lester Murr and Miss Lee Propst, two of Concord's well known young people, were united in marriage. Rev. W. L. Hitehins, pastor of Forest Hill Methodist church, officiating. Only the relatives and a few close friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. Immediately after the marriage vows had been spoken Mr. and Mrs. Murr left on train No. 12 for Richmond, where they will spend their honeymoon. Mrs. Murr is the daughter of Mr. J. S. Propst, of Forest Hill, and is very popular with a host of friends. Mr. Murr is a clothing salesman at Brown-Cannon Co. and by his genial manner and courteous treatment has made for himself a large circle of friends.

Good rains are reported from different sections of the county, outside of Concord. Very little rain has fallen here in eight weeks.
