The Nebraska State Journal, a Republican newspaper published at Lincoln, Neb., is making a poll at Lincoln, Neb., of the State on the presidential outlook for 1912. Three questions were asked, namely: 1. Is it your judgment that President Taft can carry Nebraska? 2. Can he be elected? 3. Do you believe a stronger man can be nominated by the Republicans next year? The largest number of answers so far received are negative as to the first two questions and affirmative as to the last one. These answers are significant and only help to confirm the expectation among Democrats everywhere that they will elect the President next year.

Eury, formerly editor of the Kings Mountain Herald, but who for eight months past has been publishing the Gastonia Progress, has accepted the position of business manager of the Carolina Union Farmer of Charlotte. To the People of the South. The western railroads and real estate sharks are making war on the "Back Home" movement. They have made personal threats against Mr. J. A. T. Bacon, a former Southerner now in Seattle, Wash., whose letters to me about the unfavorable conditions in the west for home-seekers have been passed on to you through your newspapers. They were sent you to show that your young men and those who want homes should stay in a country which is today the only on this continent where they should be, and to induce you to personal activity in calling back those who have moved away from the South. More than any thing else the South needs more people. Less than anything else can we afford any continuation of the constant drain upon us for population. But be sure the western railroads will never cease their efforts. They will spend millions of dollars, and by every conceivable device of advertising, personal solicitation, press-muzzling, threats and violence keep up the flow of people to the west if possible. Long after any opportunity exists there for people, they will persuade them to go. The "Back Home" movement and its organ, the "Back Home" Magazine, are means through which you can execute a flank movement in this fight since Stonewall Jackson's flank movement at Chancellorsville, the world has known that we are not troubled by any fears or lacking in ability to match brains with any people on earth. The South is now in battle with the west for the possession of our people. But our own good friends in their camps are still loyal to her, and when they hear the "Back Home" call, all the threats and danger in the world will not close their lips nor keep them from coming "back home". Will you help by sending me the names of all you know in the west? W. D. ROBERTS, Sec., "Back Home" Association, Spartanburg, S. C.

Hickory Baggage Master Disappears Mysteriously. Hickory, July 3.—Lee Sigman disappeared from this city last night and no trace of him can be found. He is baggage master for the Southern and C. and N. W. railways at this place and is an estimable citizen. He carried the mail to the postoffice from train No. 35, which reached this city at 11:23 and at 12:10 was in the lobby of the Hotel Central. Since that time no trace of him has been found. Foul play is suspected by many people of the town. Chief of Police Shell has searched all day for some trace but all in vain. No cause other than foul play can be assigned, as he was devoted to his family, which consists of a wife and a crippled son.

Always keep in mind during the remainder of the summer that your business should be thoroughly dislocated all the time if you and yours would be receiving income from fear and pestilence.

SHE LEARNED TO PLAY THE PIANO BY MAIL.

Girl Performs in Court—Opinions Differ as to Her Skill.

After her father, Augustus Doda, had testified that she had obtained all her musical education by correspondence through the United States School of Music, Adele Doda, a fourteen-year-old girl, played two pieces on a piano before Justice Brady and a jury in the New York supreme court. The decision of the court was disturbed by the applause which greeted her efforts, for the room was filled, and interested auditors crowded the corridors outside. Miss Doda and her father were witnesses in the school's $50,000 libel suit against Collier's Weekly, based on an editorial calling the scheme of teaching music by mail "a triple played swindle." Although Miss Doda's playing won the approval of the courtroom auditors, it did not satisfy the professional music teachers who were present to testify for Collier's. They criticized her work as inartistic. One of them also criticized the playing of Melvin Vreeland, a New Jersey farmer's boy, who learned to play a violin by correspondence. He declared that the lad's playing was such that no regular teacher would undertake to instruct him.

The girl played Smith's "Marche des Tambours" and a sonata by Mozart. She said she had never played for so many persons before, but was not visibly embarrassed. James W. Osborne, counsel for Collier's, asked her if she had not studied singing in the public schools before she took lessons from the correspondence school of music. She said that she had, but denied that she had ever played a piano before her father spent $16 to buy her a course of instruction in the school. J. K. Blackford, who prepared the violin lessons for the school, was one of the witnesses. "You are a professor?" he was asked. "No, a teacher," he replied, with a smile. He said he had taught violin playing for seventeen years. He said that the school did not claim to make finished artists on the violin, but only to help pupils to play with a reasonable degree of proficiency.

LIVES WITH NECK BROKEN.

Brooklyn Man Was Terribly Injured on Ship Forty-eight Years Ago. Having lived forty-eight years with a broken neck, Edmund Malone, sixty-seven years old, of Brooklyn claims a record. He says he owes his life to the fact that there was no surgical aid near when he sustained his terrible injury. For two years after the accident the upper part of his body was paralyzed, but after recovering from that he enjoyed fine health and has worked hard every day up to a few months ago. At the age of fifteen Malone ran away to sea from his home in Ireland. In physique he was almost a man then and four years later was aboard a sailing vessel as an able seaman. During a storm he was pitched from a high mast, landing on the deck on his head.

There was no doctor on board, so the boy stayed in his bunk until the ship reached New York five weeks later. Every bone in his neck was crushed, but by the time he reached New York they had started to grow together. He went to a seaman's retreat, but for some strange reason his case received little attention. His arms were paralyzed, but he regained the use of them after two years. Then Malone started to look for a job. The broken neck gives him no discomfort, except that it is stiff, and he can't turn his head without moving his body. There is a large lump on the back of his neck where the bones have been thrown out of place. Several days ago Malone went to an eye and ear dispensary. A doctor accidentally twisted his head while treating a sore ear, and Malone exclaimed, "Look out for that neck; it's broken!" The doctors gathered around and proclaimed it the worst fracture of the neck they had ever seen.

PLEADS FOR THE RICH.

College President Deplores Attacks on Successful Business Men. In his baccalaureate sermon President Flavel S. Luther of Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., condemned the indiscriminate attack upon men who are adversely criticized because of their business transactions. "We read and hear much," said he, "of evil, grasping selfishness in the business world. Men are held up by name to the scorn and derision of the reading and listening world. Their methods of business are denounced in many quarters as of devilish origin and of fatal effect. "There is something in all this, but the curious thing is that these men, whose names I suppose, occur to you as I am speaking, when you come to meet them, are honest, straight, upright, loving fathers, faithful husbands, Christian gentlemen, charitable, lovers of men and lovers of God. "There is something pitiful in the genuine surprise with which in the last few years Christian gentlemen of the sort whom I have described discovered that the things which they have been doing are regarded by the world as evil. "I do not believe that these men are sinners above other men. They are the victims of the imperfect standards which have been placed in their hands."

Deafness cannot be cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, it is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken off and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed. However, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for Constipation.

Cutting Out One Factor In The High Cost of Living. One of the chief causes of high prices is high profits. Any plan that reduces the size or the number of profits that stand between the factory and you is a plan in your benefit. Regal Shoes are Sold Direct from the Factory to Wearer at Cost Plus Five Per Cent. Commission and the Low Regal Selling Cost. Heretofore, all good shoes have been built to sell at fixed "even" prices—$3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00 and so on. If a shoe could be sold at, say $4.35, shoe traditions would not permit it. It had to be "built up" by adding unnecessary expense to sell at $4.50, or "cut down" (to its hurt) to sell at $4.00. All this has been changed by the Regal Shoe Company's new plan of selling shoes just as many other necessities are sold—and just as all necessities should be—at a definite, small commission over cost of manufacture—in our case only 5 per cent.—plus the cost of selling. It makes no difference whether or not the price figures out in "even money." The new plan gives you Regal Shoes nearer to actual cost, and charged with smaller and fewer profits than any other make. The price is stamped on the shoes at the factory. This stamp is your guaranty that more of your money goes for quality and less for profit than in any other shoe you can buy. Regal Prices are now $3.35 to $5.85. REGAL SHOES FOR MEN Cannon & Fetzer Co.
