

MR. DOUGHTON GETS OBSERVATION STATION.

To Be Established at Numerous Places—Orap Shooting Negro Shot Mrs. Noel Captured—Water Situation Unchanged.

Special to The Tribune.

Charlotte, Aug. 22.—According to a letter from Chief of the Weather Bureau Willis Moore to Representative R. L. Doughton of the Eighth District a number of observation stations will be established by the government in the fruit belt of North Carolina for the purpose of gathering data which may be of service to prospective fruit growers. Mr. Doughton has particularly interested himself in urging just such a step but it has only been within the past few days that Chief Moore has seen his way clear to taking it. Special stations will be established at the State test farm at Blantyre and in the orchards of Charles A. Webb, at Asheville, of W. T. Lindsay at Tryon, of Bowling W. Hall at Waynesville, of Mrs. Aaron Cone at Blowing Rock, and of J. B. Sparger at Mt. Airy. At each of these thermographs and specially constructed maximum and minimum thermometers will be installed and an expert will pay a round of visits for the purpose of instructing the orchard owners in the accurate reading of the instruments. It is planned that these observations shall extend over a period of not less than two years at the end of which time the data gathered will be carefully collated and arranged by a weather department expert who will later publish a report upon the subject.

A negro was badly wounded in Goldsboro yesterday under somewhat unusual circumstances. He had been detected in the act of "shooting crap" by the sheriff and gave leg ball. In the chase which ensued he was gaining rapidly when several citizens seeing the chase joined in, not knowing the comparatively trivial nature of the offense. One of these citizens, Mr. Burke Privett, realizing that they were not going to catch the flying negro drew his pistol and stopped him with a bullet, seriously wounding the man. The sheriff attempted ineffectually to prevent the firing but realized the danger too late. It is doubted whether the negro will survive.

Mrs. Charles Noel, wanted by the police of Lexington, charged with complicity in the abduction of two young girls some weeks ago, was arrested in Spartanburg Sunday night and waived requisition papers. Her husband was sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary for this crime, his trial coming to an end on Saturday, and the police have been very anxious to lay their hands on the woman whom they believe to be equally guilty. The young girls were lured from their homes in Lexington and taken to Charlotte with the obvious intention of transforming them into "white slaves."

The water situation remains practically unchanged, the filter purchased from Asheville not having reached Bryar creek station as yet. The 25,000 pound instrument has met with a series of provoking accidents on its way from the railroad siding and will probably not be in place before tomorrow or next day. In order to facilitate the handling of tank cars from the Catawba river a night telegraph operator has been stationed at Mount Holly which enables the authorities to run tank trains day and night. By this means something more than half a million gallons can be emptied into the settling basins every 24 hours, which together with the supply from Irwin's and Stewart's creek gives enough to take care of all but extraordinary emergencies. When the Briar creek flow is available the situation will be easy once more.

Mecklenburg Superior Court is in session with Judge W. J. Adams, of Sanford, presiding. No case of general interest is on the docket, time being consumed principally in hearing appeals from magistrates' and recorder's courts.

HAULING NIGHT AND DAY.

Charlotte Water Situation is a Puzzling Question to Authorities.

Charlotte, Aug. 21.—The Charlotte water situation became so acute yesterday that the city authorities ordered the tank car lines to resume night and day operations between the city and the Catawba river. Since this service had been dispensed with for some days it took quite a while to get things running nicely again.

Upon the arrival here late Saturday of the big pressure filter which the Charlotte authorities had purchased from the city of Asheville, the citizens at once thought it would be only a matter of a short while until they would be served with filtered Briar creek aqua pura. The residents had another thing coming to them, however, for the big filter which for some while previous to the installation of Asheville's gravity water system had been the means of purifying the Swannanoa fluid for the mountain metropolis rebelled at the idea of spending the rest of its days at Briar creek.

The big mass of steel behaved itself very well while in the Land of the Sky, and was loaded on the flat car without mishap.

Upon its arrival in Charlotte the city fathers contracted with J. P. Carr to convey the filter to Briar creek. Trouble was Mr. Carr's notion, for although he thought he was getting the strongest wagon in Charlotte, it proved helpless under the weight of the monster iron filter. The wagon wheel was crushed into numerous small particles before he had proceeded very far; another wheel was supplied, but more trouble came before he went much further. Tonight the filter is somewhere near Briar creek any way possibly be placed in a day or so.

Looks Like Murder.

Asheboro, Aug. 21.—Samuel W. Kearns, of Concord township, aged 65 years, was found unconscious in his home last Tuesday morning and, from appearance, he had wandered from his bed after having retired several nights previous, had fallen on the floor and left in a helpless condition. He was found in a state of delirium, a physician was speedily secured, but despite medical skill and the close attention of devoted friends, he died on Wednesday night.

It is learned that a will that he had executed some time ago is missing and about $200 in cash or valuable papers had been misplaced which suggests the possibility of other than natural causes being employed in the passing of this good man, who had accumulated a good estate by faithful endeavor and strict economy.

Death of Miss Laura Rowe.

Miss Laura A. Rowe, daughter of Rev. Dr. J. C. Rowe, presiding elder of this district, died Monday morning about 6 o'clock at the residence of her brother, Rev. Dr. Gilbert T. Rowe, pastor of Tryon Street Methodist church, of Charlotte, after a lingering illness.

Miss Rowe went to Charlotte four years ago with her brother and his family, and has since resided there. She took a severe cold which settled on her lungs and which, with complications, resulted in death.

Miss Rowe had been in declining health since November last. She had been acutely ill for four months. Miss Rowe lived in Concord for a short while during her father's pastorate of Central Methodist church.

Will Not Marry Astor.

Bishop David H. Greer of New York, said a few days ago: "Rest assured of one thing—no Episcopal clergyman in the diocese of New York will marry Colonel Astor and Miss Foree. I will not allow it. The position in life of Col. A. or Gen. B. or Capt. C. or his wealth or standing in society would not weigh with me one second. I trust some day our church, like the Roman Catholic church, will not recognize divorce or any marriage after divorce. The whole foundation of our social system is threatened, I believe by this divorce evil. Respect for marriage gone, respect for motherhood gone with it, and my mind stands appalled at the prospect."

Mrs. Noel is Arrested While Preparing to Skip.
Spartanburg, S. C., August 21.—Wanted on a charge of abduction in Lexington, N. C., where her husband was sentenced on Saturday to serve 15 years upon conviction of the same. Mrs. Charles Noel, of about 26 years, was arrested here tonight charged with having enticed Clara Belle Gibbs and Vertie Kindley aged 13 and 14 years respectively, from their homes in Lexington. When arrested the woman was packed; her belongings preparatory to leaving the city. She at first denied that she was Mrs. Noel, but upon being confronted by certain letters admitted her identity. She declared that she would not go back to North Carolina without requisition.

The Concert Last Night.

The concert given by the singing class of the Odd Fellows Orphans Home, of Goldsboro, at the opera house last night was an entertainment that pleased a large audience that filled the seating capacity of the play house. The children were under the direction of Mr. R. D. Berry, of Raleigh, grand secretary of the order, and they showed a careful training and talent of high order. The sum of $100, which will be used toward educating the children now in this worthy institution, was realized. The members of the singing class were the guests of the local Odd Fellows while here, and much of the success of the entertainment last night is due the Concord lodge for the work they have been doing to bring out the full house that was there last night.

To Seek Uniformity in Food Laws.

Duluth, Minn., August 22.—The problem of how best to bring about the much needed uniformity of the food laws of the various states of the Union was the main topic of discussion at the meeting of the Association of State and National Food and Dairy Departments, which was held here today. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, who is one of the strongest supporters of the uniformity movement, was present at the meeting and delivered an address, in which he explained the existing conditions and pledged himself to do everything in his power to bring about uniformity of food legislation.

BEATTIE TRIAL BEGINS.

Fleeds Not Guilty to Murder of Wife. The Jury is Selected.

The trial of Henry C. Beattie, Jr., for the murder of his wife began at Chesterfield Courthouse, Va., Monday.

Beattie pleaded not guilty when formally arraigned.

The defense made unsuccessful efforts to secure postponement of trial, which was denied.

The defense counsel stated that inability to examine auto in which Mrs. Beattie was killed has interfered with preparation of case.

The jurors, all but two of them, are farmers from the county. The two exceptions are a quarryman and a contractor.

Bensiah Binford, the pretty 17-year old "girl in the case," did not appear at the courthouse. She is held at Richmond as a material witness, but it was not deemed necessary to bring her Monday.

Paul Beattie, the prisoner's cousin, and one of the commonwealth's chief witnesses also was left in his cell at Richmond.

Bareheaded, chewing gum and smiling, Beattie swept up to the Chesterfield county courthouse in an automobile at 10 o'clock.

The tiny room was jammed as the proceedings began and to discourage the curious and idle the court ordered that all disinterested spectators stand up and remain standing. Two women newspaper writers were the only white representatives of the feminine sex in the yard or court building.

It became known Monday that Paul Beattie will be the weak spot in the case of the prosecution at which Harry M. Smith and Hill Carter, two of Virginia's ablest lawyers, will aim the big guns of their defense. The fact already established that Paul did not tell the whole truth in his story of buying the second-hand shotgun for Henry, with which the killing was done, will form the basis for the defense.

A sombre, black-clad Catholic priest may become the lever which will pry Henry Beattie loose from the death clasp of the electric chair. It became known Monday that the day his cousin was indicted Paul Beattie, who is a Catholic, summoned a priest to his lonely cell in Henrico county jail. Locked in his black-clad bosom that priest carries the secret for which the attorneys for the defense would give all the wealth they could command.

The heavy pall of the confessional surrounds the story that Paul Beattie told the priest and it is beyond the pale of the law.

But the lawyers for the defense may call the confessor to the stand and place before the jury the moral effect of the priest's refusal to tell the story related by Paul Beattie. The strength of this course with a jury of farmers can only be conjectured.

Asking Too Much.
An old negro preacher did the honors, and the candidate for baptism was a coal black negro woman. The preacher led his victim far out in the stream where she could be thoroughly immersed, and at the auspicious moment he cried in a loud voice:

"Be stiddy, sistah, be stiddy, an' you'll come up whitah dan snow."
"Oh, parson," she exclaimed, "dat's askin' too much; a cream col'ah'll do."

A 3-year course in Agriculture will be given hereafter in all the country schools of Oklahoma. It will be in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

Throw Away Vast Crop.
Colorado Springs, Co., Aug. 21.—Farmers of the United States needlessly threw away 8,896,000 bushels of winter wheat this year, not to mention an enormous loss in other farm products, simply because they failed to prepare against drought by taking steps to keep moisture in the soil. This is the declaration of Secretary John T. Burns, of the International Dry-Farming Congress, who is now preparing to conduct the sixth congress, which meets in this city next October.

Bryan "Deciding Force."
Detroit, Mich., Aug. 21.—Arthur H. Jones, a prominent Democratic leader who several times has stumped his state for Bryan, said today that Bryan still was so great in his party that no man whom he opposed could obtain the Democratic nomination for the Presidency next year.

Champ Clark is the Nebraska's first choice, said Jones, but either Governor Marshall, of Indiana, or Governor Wilson, of New Jersey, will be acceptable if Clark cannot win.

MILLS CLOSE DOWN AGAIN.

Unprecedented Conditions Here—Wheels of Industry Paralyzed by Long Drought—Only Two Mills in Operation.

Never before in the history of Concord has a period of dry weather caused such a condition of so serious a nature as the present one. Not only are the creeks and watering places dry but the wheels of industry are paralyzed and practically every loom and spindle here is idle for lack of water.

All the mills that are using primary power can secure sufficient power to operate their machinery, but several of the mills haven't a sufficient water supply to use in the process by which the goods are treated in manufacture, especially in the dye houses and bleaches. The Cannon, Cabarrus, Franklin, Brown, Young-Hartsell and Locke mills are now idle and will remain so until their sources of water supply are replenished by rain.

The Gibson mill and the Brander mill are the only ones in operation.

Inventor of the Bessemer Process.
Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 22.—Today saw the centenary of the birth of William Kelly, who is generally credited with the invention of the Bessemer process for converting melted cast iron into malleable steel, a discovery which revolutionized the steel industry and helped to make Pittsburg and the neighboring towns one of the greatest industrial centers in the world.

Kelly was born in this city August 22, 1811, and early in life manifested an uncommon aptitude for mechanics. In 1845 he removed to Kentucky, where he acquired an iron works on the Cumberland river. Here it was that he conceived the plan of dispensing with fuel in the process of refining and decarbonizing iron by the introduction of a current of air.

After several years of experimenting he finally perfected the process, which was long known as "Kelly's air-boiling process," and which was used for the manufacture of boiler-plates before Sir Henry Bessemer was known. When the latter brought out his process in England in 1856, Mr. Kelly asserted that Bessemer had obtained his knowledge of the process from English workmen employed by him in America. Subsequently both inventors applied for patents in the United States, but the commissioner issued one only, to Mr. Kelly, acknowledging the priority of his invention of the process.

Cats Attack Garbage Men.
New York, Aug. 21.—Scores of cats, left homeless by their owners going away for the summer, have created such a reign of terror among the police and street cleaning department men in the East New York section of Brooklyn that yesterday the S. P. C. A. was appealed to.

Four drivers of garbage wagons have been bitten by cats, driven mad by hunger, and a huge tomat went so far as to walk into the Liberty avenue station and try to bite Lieutenant Martin.

The garbage men say the animals followed the wagons around all night, and when chased away come back in crowds and attack the drivers.

Little Miss Elizabeth Black Entertains a Number of Guests on Her Eleventh Birthday.

Little Miss Elizabeth Black was hostess to a bevy of attractive young future belles of Concord yesterday afternoon at her home on Spring street, the occasion being her eleventh birthday.

Hearts dice was the game of the afternoon, at which Miss Minette Marshall excelled and was awarded prize, a pretty fan. The consolation prize, a box of mints, fell to the lot of a little Miss from Monroe, Miss Fannie Person Rudge.

Little Miss Black's guests were: Misses Margaret Virginia Ervin, Lucy Richmond Lenz, Elizabeth Smith, Mary Branson Coltrane, Marjorie Morris, Minette Marshall, Elizabeth Gillon, Isabelle Goodson, Nannie Lee Patterson, Virginia and Annis Smoot, Margaret Louise and Nancy Carr, of Durham, Fannie Person Rudge, of Monroe, and Margaret Yorke, of Charlotte.

Big Business in Patent Medicines.
Washington, Aug. 21.—Nearly seven million dollars worth of "patent medicines" were exported from the United States in the past year, and for the past decade the aggregate amounts to more than 50 million dollars. These figures, as compiled from the official records of the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor, include only that class of exports designated as "medicines, patent and proprietary," of which the exports in 1911 were $6,783,000 to foreign countries and more than a quarter of a million dollars worth to the non-contiguous territories of the United States, and do not include the numerous articles exported for use in the preparation of medicines, such as ginseng, which amounts to more than a million dollars annually, roots, barks and herbs, and other articles of this character.
