September 11.

Gen. Fred C. Ainsworth.

Major-General Fred C. Ainsworth, the adjutant-general of the United States Army, was born at Woodstock, Vt., September 11, 1852. He was educated in the public schools of his native State and afterward entered the medical department of the University of New York from which he was graduated in 1874. In the same year he was appointed as first lieutenant and assistant surgeon of the United States Army. He reached the grade of Colonel in 1897 and at the same time was made chief of the Record and Pension Office. In 1904 he was appointed major-general and military secretary of the army. He has been adjutant-general since 1907. General Ainsworth, while chief of the Record and Pension office, devised and introduced the index-record card system, which made the full record of every soldier immediately available. It is estimated that he government makes a permanent saving of not less than a half million dollars a year by having adopted the system.

Judge Clark's Theories. Fairbrother's Everything takes Judge Clark's platform quite humorously. It says what is a fact that the judge is of another school than that of the other three candidates. "He wants to be senator, the same as a surgeon wants to go to a dissecting room. Judge Clark has theories that he thinks would work in governmental ways. He wanted free silver and went to Mexico and found it was a great success. He wants to elect federal judges. He wants to elect postmasters. He wants to skin skunks by machinery, and it was said that he was in favor of woman suffrage. In fact Judge Clark, while walking along the borderland of anarchy, socialism, prohibition, populism, grange, free trade and some few other things, had a little show all his own, and were Judge Clark he would give up a form of government entirely unlike any we have ever heard about—and it might work and it might not. In other words Judge Clark has ideas which he wants to set in motion. As a senator he would have opportunity to try it on the nation. That is why he wants to be senator, we take it, and as an explorer he is to be commended. Scientific investigation and experiment in any line is to be commended, and if the judge could get his show under canvass he might be a public benefactor."

Bill Nye's Steer. The funniest thing that Bill Nye—my brother—ever said," declared Representative Frank Nye, of Minnesota "was about a steer that ran away from him. Bill and I were boys when our parents moved to the West. We worked on father's farm. Bill got together enough money to buy a little steer, which we intended to break to harness and work. Several days after we got the steer home he disappeared and we never saw him again. We spent one entire day in the mountains hunting for him. That night, and it was after midnight when we got home, mother was in the road crying, thinking that we were lost. We had been lost and were hungry, tired and footsore. Twenty-five years later, when Bill was launching on his newspaper career, I received a letter from him. He was on his way to Europe. He told me that he had been offered a trip around the world by a big daily paper and thought he would accept it. "For one particular reason I think I will take it," he wrote, "and that is to see if I can find that darned old steer." While our aim isn't exactly contagious, it is apt to make other people tired. He misses the steers, but he gets a share of the gate receipts. Most men dislike to play poker with a bad loser—also with a good winner.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Pitcher Jeff Pfeffer, of the Boston Nationals, will most likely perform in the Southern League next season. Rumors of a baseball war—a flying thick and fast, but the chances are that there will be nothing doing. "Nap" Lajoie has passed Jackson and is crowding Ty Cobb for the batting honors in the American League. During the Athletics' stay in St. Louis, President Hedges made flattering offers to Harry Davis to manage the Browns next season. Thursday, Aug. 31 was the first day this season that not a major league game was played. Rain put the kibosh on the entire schedule. As the Athletics will be playing at home while Detroit is hitting the road, prospects for the pennant look pretty sweet to Connie Mack. Catcher 'Chief' Myers, of the Giants, has his old war club on the job this season. He stands third in the National League batting averages. Larry Cheney, the Louisville pitcher has joined the Cubs, and will be given a chance to snare his puzzlers against the eastern teams. The Oxford Orphan Class. The Singing Class from the Oxford Orphanage abs started on its third tour. The demand for the splendid entertainment which these children give has grown so much that it has become necessary to have the tour of the state divided into three trips instead of two, as has been the case for some years past. This enables them to take two resting spells instead of one which makes the work much easier on them. The first trip this year was confined to the north-eastern and upper Piedmont section of the state during the pleasant weather of late spring. It proved to be a very successful trip in every way. The second trip was made during the summer months through south-eastern and lower section of the state, making special trips to be present at the Masonic picnics at North Wilkesboro, in June, Albemarle, in July, and Mooresville, in August. This trip was successful beyond the expectations of the management, we are told, and that it has surpassed any trip ever made by the children; their entertainment receiving most flattering compliments at every point visited. We are informed that the invitations which come in, begging for a visit of the children are so numerous as to make it, at times, not a little embarrassing to the management to know how to accept all of them. This is so much the case that after every effort is made by the management to show their appreciation of these invitations, some places have to be left out. This is a noble cause and worthy of the help of all good people, but we feel sure that all who attend these concerts will get value received for all they pay to hear them. How's This? We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out all obligations made by him. WALTER D. A Protest Against an Unseemly Thing.

It may be none of our affair, but we will take a shot at a matter a leading citizen of the county has called our attention to, and that is the attendance of white people at colored churches. Our informant says that frequently white people go out to the churches where colored folks are holding their meetings, stay out in the grove "seeing what they can see and hearing what they can hear" and sometimes the white spectators carry their dinner out to the colored churches and at dinner time go out under the shade of the trees and take their noonday meal. Ordinarily what folks do about going to church in their own affair only, but let us say to you white folks who have been going out to the colored folks' churches, loitering around there just for the fun you can get out of it—you will know that you do not go there to worship—that you should do about that matter as you would have the colored people do by you, and you know full well that you would not stand for it if some colored sports on pleasure bent were to loiter around the grove, peer into the windows, making fun of the worship, and at dinner time opened up their dinner baskets near the white folks' church and partook of their meal. No, you would not stand for that; therefore, do not go to the colored people's churches and take liberties the colored people would not be allowed to take at the white people's churches. The Moral. September Lippincott's. "The persistence with which children see in a fable some other moral than the one which it is intended that they shall see is often distressing," remarks a Philadelphia instructor of the young. "I had recited to one little boy the story of the wolf and the lamb, and had followed it up with the remark: "'And now you see, Tommy, that the lamb would not have been eaten by the wolf if he had been good and sensible.'" "Yes, I understand," said Tommy. "If the lamb had been good and sensible, we should have had him to eat!" Common Colds Must Be Taken Seriously. For unless cured they sap the vitality and lower the vital resistance to more serious infection. SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed. There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, time-consuming methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wylth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented. Don't neglect your hair. Get a bottle of Wylth's Sage and Sulphur today, and notice the difference after a few days' use. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agents: GIBSON DRUG STORE.

MILAM Restored After Being Given Up by Specialists A wonderful cure by MILAM Mr. W. E. Griggs, Secretary and Treasurer Westbrooks Elevator Co. and formerly Cashier Bank of Danville, says: "About ten years ago my eyesight began to fail to such an extent that it became necessary for me to consult a specialist. My trouble increased until I found it necessary to consult several others. My case was diagnosed as atrophy of the Optic Nerve, caused by impoverished blood supply. The progress of my trouble was slow but steady, with never any relief, until finally my physician advised me that nothing further could be done. About this time, about two years ago, I could not see to read, and my range of vision was so short that I could not see anything at a greater distance than fifty or seventy-five feet. I often found it difficult to recognize acquaintances when I met them, distinguishing them more by their voices than their features. In 1908, a friend advised me that if my physician's diagnosis was correct, MILAM would cure you, because it will purify and enrich the blood, increase the flow, and build up the system, but it will take a long time and the improvement will be slow. "I did not believe one word of this, and was tempted to take MILAM because I did not think I could hurt me, and there might be a bare possibility that it might help me. After six weeks I began to notice a slight improvement in my sight, which has been slow but steady, and with no setback. Now I can read newspapers with ordinary glasses, can distinguish large objects two miles away, and have no difficulty now, as far as my sight is concerned, in attending to my duties as the executive officer of a corporation. "I am still careful not to tax my eyes unreasonably, because I realize that I am not cured but hope, and am more and more encouraged as time goes on to believe that the continued use of MILAM will cure me. "I think it proper to state that my general health and strength have also improved in the same ratio as my eyesight, and I attribute this to the use of MILAM." (Signed) W. E. GRIGGS, Danville, Va., March 23, 1910. MILAM IS NOT AN EYE medicine and will cure no blindness except that arising from impoverished or impure blood or depleted system. Ask Your Druggist.

Note the Money-Saving Price Stamped on the Sole No guess work about these new Regal prices. The price is stamped right on the shoe—at the factory. And it isn't stamped on until chartered public accountants have figured the cost of manufacture and of marketing and added the Five Per Cent. Commission. These accountants pay no attention to the old-fashioned superstition of "even money" prices. All they care about is an accurate, close-fitting price. The chief thing that Regal designers care about is to put just as much Value—just as much Style and Comfort and Wear—as they can squeeze into each shoe. The thing you care about in shoes—namely, big value in a close-fitting price—you're sure to find in Regals. $335 to $585 REGAL SHOES FOR MEN Cannon & Fetzler Co.
