JOHN S. COLEMAN, City Editor.
Concord, N. C. October 2, 1911.

Concord has been asking the Southern for a new passenger station—and the need will not be questioned by anyone who has seen the Concord station—but the request was unheeded. Finally patience ceased to be a virtue and the Concord aldermen directed that attorneys take up the matter with the Corporation Commission unless the Southern got busy within 30 days; and an ordinance was also passed requiring all passenger trains to stop in Concord (fast trains don't stop there). Then the Southern began to sit up and take notice and General Superintendent Forcace, of the Southern, visited Concord and assured the officials and citizens that a new station would be built, one that "will be a credit to the municipality," and that plans will be made right away. The Southern will build the station—now that it has to—Statesville Landmark.

We reproduce the above for the purpose of correcting the impression created by the Landmark in the words, "fast trains do not stop there." All of the fast trains of the Southern, including Nos. 29 and 30, 37, 38, 43, 31 and 32 have been stopping at Concord, under certain conditions, but the people of Concord thought the city was one of sufficient importance as to demand the stopping of all trains here, especially as the city was the only one on the Southern lines of the size at which all trains do not stop. Their demands were granted and hereafter all trains will stop to receive or discharge passengers to and from regular stops.

Concord is putting forth efforts to secure the Raleigh and Charlotte Railroad, having addressed E. C. Duncan, who is under negotiations for the charter of company. Mr. Duncan's purchase will be closed early in October, if arrangements are carried out, or else he will forfeit the earnest money which he placed down. Prospects for the building of this road appear to be bright, and it is to prove one of the most conspicuous links in the State's development.—Albemarle Enterprise.

What this city should do is to go after this road with business in the eye. We need it and we can get it if we make the proper effort.

Month's Cotton Declines Smallest in Ten Years.

New York, Sept. 29.—The condition of cotton on an average date of September 22, as ascertained from the replies of 1,900 special correspondents of the Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin, is 70.8 per cent. against 72.6 per cent a month ago, or a decline of 1.8 points for the period under review. A year ago at this time the condition was 65.7 per cent, or 5.1 points below this month; in 1909 it was 60.5 per cent; in 1908 it was 71.1 per cent; in 1907 it was 66.5 per cent, and for the ten-year average it was 61.7 per cent, while the average deterioration for the ten-year period is 8.2 points.

After the record decline of a month ago of 14.3 points, the loss is 1.8 points this month is, as might have been expected, a moderate one, being the smallest in the past ten years. Texas is conspicuous as being the only state showing an advance, gaining 4.2 points.

All other states lost from 1 to nearly 8 points, the principal ones being Alabama, 6.3 points; Mississippi, 7.2 points; Arkansas, 7.2 points, and Tennessee, 7.6 points. The chief factor in deterioration was the wide prevalence of insects, chiefly worms which stripped the plant of leaves, causing rapid opening and largely destroying the prospects of a top crop.

Is It Possible That Myrtle Hawkins is Still Alive?

Ashville Citizen.
A theory which has been advanced in regard to the Myrtle Hawkins mystery at Hendersonville, by many people of this city who have watched the case closely, is that the young lady is alive today and that the body which was found in Lake Ocoola on which were found her clothes and jewels had been placed there by some one other than a "murderer." Many reasons are advanced for this belief among them being that Myrtle never wore the cloak in which the body supposed to be hers was found and that it was used on this occasion for a "bluff." Another is the one expressed by a local physician to the effect that the body would not be so decomposed as to be unrecognizable in the space of three days, as the body which is said to be hers was. It is believed by the gentleman who expressed this opinion yesterday that the body which was found in the lake on which was found her clothes and jewels, was an exhumed one which had been placed there for a "bluff." The body was identified only by the clothing and jewelry, it will be recalled.
