PLANNING FOR NEW PASSENGER STATION.

Superintendent Foreacre and Engineers of the Southern Railway yesterday looking over the site of the new passenger station. The station will likely be built at present location.

General Superintendent Foreacre and two of the Southern Railway's engineers were here yesterday and made a thorough inspection of the railroad's properties here with a view to building a new passenger station. Mayor Wagoner, representing the city, spent several hours in consultation with them. Every detail was considered at length but nothing definite was decided upon. At the close of the conference Mr. Foreacre told Mr. Wagoner that he and the engineers would decide definitely just what they would do here as soon as possible.

After an inspection of the various locations suggested for erecting the new station the officials of the road expressed themselves as being unable to see where it would be to the advantage to the company to change the present location of the station. The engineers were of the opinion that by a few changes in the location of the track a station could be built at the present location that would serve the public equally as well as one situated at any of the locations proposed.

Mayor Wagoner urged that the present freight station be torn away and the new station erected on that site but this did not seem to meet with their approval, although they made no definite statement concerning it.

The matter of changing the track so that an underground passage can be made under the tracks at the Corbin street crossing was also presented to them by Mr. Wagoner. There are several handicaps to making this change, the principal one being that the law requires a distance of 22 feet from the tracks to all overhead bridges and 12 feet from the ground to the track at an overhead passage. If the road raised its tracks seven feet along that part of the line the overhead bridge would have to be torn away and in order to have the tracks at the underground passage twelve feet from the ground the road would have to raise its tracks seven and one-half feet and the city dig down seven and one-half feet, making fifteen feet, but three feet of this distance would be used by the structure of the track.

Mr. Foreacre and party also inspected the ravine back of the Cabarrus mill with a view of building a freight station near the Crowell roller mill but they did not seem very favorably impressed with the proposition. They also went over the spur track to the Locke mill and seemed favorably impressed with the proposition of building a freight depot near the Brander mill.

Several plans for the new passenger station will be made at once but on account of winter weather it is hardly probable that actual work will begin until spring.

Governor Wilson a Knocker.

Charlotte Chronicle. Governor Woodrow Wilson is developing into a knocker. At a monster Sunday school gathering in Trenton six thousand people sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." In a speech following it, the New Jersey aspirant for presidential honors, denounced the hymn as "silly and meaningless." Then he "depreciated many of the present Sunday school methods of teaching. He did not favor Sunday school lessons and said that he never saw one that yielded the meaning of the text it was trying to interpret." Governor Wilson seems bent on talking himself out of popular favor, religiously, politically, and every other way.

Should Take a Few Lessons.

Gastonia Progress. There are many old men in this town who get up at four o'clock and go to their work. Most of the younger class, however, think that it is a hardship if they have to get up at 7 o'clock. The fact that the older men have been successful may be due to the fact that they were willing to go early and stay late if their business demands it. And the younger generation cannot do better than to take a few lessons in diligence from them.

Simmons, of Newbern, senior United States Senator from North Carolina, will arrive here tonight on train No. 43 and will spend tonight and tomorrow here conferring with friends on his campaign for re-election to the Senate. Senator Simmons has many warm friends and admirers in both the city and county, who will gladly welcome his visit here. While in the city Senator Simmons will be a guest at the St. Cloud.

RALEIGH, CHARLOTTE AND SOUTHERN WILL BE BUILT

Final Arrangements for Transferring Franchise to E. C. Duncan.—Will Make Surveys at Early Date.

Greensboro News, 2nd. A meeting was held in the parlor of the Guilford Hotel yesterday afternoon by the original incorporators of the Raleigh, Charlotte and Southern railroad, and the final transactions for turning over the franchise, which was secured at the last legislature, to E. C. Duncan, of Raleigh, were carried through. Mr. Duncan and his associates, whose names have not been divulged, expect to get busy right away in making preparations for building the railroad, and will soon get into the field with the surveys. The price paid for the franchise was not made known.

Mr. Duncan is very enthusiastic over the future promotion and building of the road, and steps will be taken at once toward securing the proper capital for financing the proposition. It is estimated that from $7,000,000 to 10,000,000 will be necessary for putting the line in operation, and that from one to three years will be required for the construction.

The proposed road will be about 144 miles in length, and according to the original plan will extend from Raleigh to Charlotte via Pittsboro, Asheboro and Albemarle. It seems to be the policy of Mr. Duncan to carry this plan out.

The road will tap the old C. F. & Y. V. near Siler City, and will pass through the manufacturing district of Randolph county, which will include Cedar Falls, Franklinville and Ramseur. A branch line is proposed to extend from some point near Pittsboro to Greensboro via Saxapahaw, Haw River and Burlington, a distance of between 50 and 60 miles. By reason of its connection with the Norfolk and Southern at Raleigh, the proposed road will give Charlotte direct connection with Norfolk.

The Raleigh, Charlotte and Southern railroad will pass through a new section of unlimited resources, especially of timber and waterpower. It will go near the great Whitney plant, which is rapidly nearing completion. It will give to the counties through which it passes an east and west line through a territory for a radius of 40 miles each way.

The Original Dandy Dixie Minstrels.

Next Friday night there will be presented at the Concord opera house a genuine all colored minstrel aggregation known as the "Original Dandy Dixie Minstrels."

The company has been accorded the endorsement of both white and colored patrons wherever presented in the South. In fact the notices from the Southern press (which will be presented from time to time) are most commendatory for the excellence and cleanliness of the performances given by this company.

The Tampa (Florida) Daily Times, of February 18th, contained the following notice:

"One of the best minstrel performances ever seen in Tampa was that of the 'Original Dandy Dixie Minstrels,' who appeared at the Tampa Bay Casino Saturday night. Owing to the excellence of the show, the performance will be given tonight. Hundreds of white people enjoyed the performance Saturday night as much as did the colored people in the gallery."

Concord Teachers Highly Honored.

Tomorrow is Founders Day at the State Normal College in Greensboro. This is the twentieth anniversary of the opening of the institution and it is the purpose of the college to celebrate it in a fitting way.

Representatives of each graduating class have been invited to represent their class and to deliver short addresses on this occasion.

Miss Lelia White, the teacher of the Ninth grade of our city schools, has been invited to represent her class (1911) and she will leave for Greensboro this afternoon.

Miss Mary Lewis Harris was invited to represent her class (1894), but was kept at home by illness.

Trinity College Gifts Aggregate Over $200,000.

Durham, Oct. 3.—At the celebration today of Benefactor's day at Trinity college gifts in the aggregate of $235,000 were announced.

For building, James Buchanan Duke and Benjamin Newton Duke contributed $201,000 and for running expenses $27,500. The North Carolina conference donates $4,380 and the Western North Carolina conference $1,000.

President Henry N. Snyder of Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C., delivered the address.

It is easier to climb down a tree than to climb up, which explains why the top is never crowded and why there is always room there.

MR. ROGERS RESIGNS.

Field Agent for Children's Home Will Return to Ministry.

Special to Daily News. Winston-Salem, Oct. 3.—The board of trustees of the Children's Home held their annual meeting at the home today. The morning session opened at 10 o'clock and was presided over by Dr. T. F. Marr, president of the board. The out-of-town members here include the Rev. Harold Turner, of Statesville; C. H. Ireland, of Greensboro, and J. L. Nelson, of Lenoir.

Superintendent Hayes submitted his annual report and the same was interesting and highly gratifying, showing as it did the splendid management and growth of this deservedly successful institution.

Superintendent Hayes, who has been recognized since he took charge of the home as "the right man in the right place," was unanimously re-elected.

The Rev. J. P. Rodgers, who has been field agent of the home for two years, tendered his resignation, he having decided to return to active ministerial and pastoral work. It was accepted with reluctance and much regret on the part of every member of the board. His splendid report of the work accomplished during his term was convincing that he had "made good" with that his work was crowned with success. A rising vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Rodgers by the board.

The Rev. J. F. Kirk, for two years pastor of Central M. E. church at Mt. Airy, was elected assistant superintendent and field agent of the home. Those who have a personal acquaintance with Mr. Kirk will readily assent that the board made a wise choice and that Mr. Kirk will make a valuable assistant to Superintendent Hayes and that no better man could have been found to take the place of the Rev. Mr. Rodgers, who, during his term, raised the handsome sum of about $70,000 for the institution.

These changes will not take place until after the annual session of the Western North Carolina, which will convene at Statesville on Wednesday, November 8.

Low-Grade Haughtiness.

Wichita Beacon.

"We stood in the ticket office of a depot the other day, and heard a timid old lady trying to extract information from a haughty clerk. It took him longer to get rid of her by treating her snobbishly than it would have had he given her the information desired and apparently needed. He was insolent and supercilious. If his insolence had been witnessed by a superior officer of the road he would have lost his job immediately. We have often noticed that the higher up the official is, in the railroad service or any other service which comes in direct contact with the public, the more polite and courteous he is. The reason for this is that the unfailing marks of cheapness which the Almighty placed on people are insolence and superciliousness. If every boy who works in a depot or a store and every girl who works in a telephone office or behind the sales counter would just come to realize that the insolent people are always low-salaried people, that insolence and superciliousness are proofs of small minds, we would have better courtesy and better manners everywhere."

Ecumenical Conference in Toronto.

Toronto, Oct. 4.—What is considered by the leading bishops and lay delegates as the most important convocation of Methodists ever held in the Western World began in this city today with the formal opening of the Fourth Methodist Ecumenical Conference. The attendance includes 500 delegates representing England, Ireland, Australia, India, Canada and the United States. The sessions will continue for two weeks during which time men of international prominence, including public officials, labor leaders, financiers and business men, in addition to churchmen of wide reputation, will discuss the tasks of Methodism in aid of temperance, missions, social service, the settlement of theological disputes, church unity, world peace and better government, child welfare, literature and education, and methods by which laymen and women may help all these causes in the largest ways.

Predicts Bumper Crop.

Washington, Oct. 3.—The cotton crop of the growing season of 1911, which early in the year gave indications that it would be one of the largest in the history of the country, will be approximately 13,868,337 bales of 500 pounds, or about 200,000 bales more than the record year of 1904. This was indicated by the final condition report of the Department of Agriculture, issued today at noon, which showed the crop to be 71.1 per cent of a normal on September 25. In fact

WAR MOSTLY RUMORS.

Rumors That Tripoli Has Been Cannonaded Without Truth—Powers Refuse to Intervene.

London, Oct. 3.—The lapse of another day leaves the Turco-Italian war without further developments. There is no confirmation of the reported bombardment of Tripoli which appears unlikely to have happened, and it will be several days before the expeditionary force is ready to leave Italian shores.

Apparently the Italian government is apprehensive that the Turkish fleet may be able to hamper the passage of transports, and great precautions are being taken. The expedition will be started from ports in two seas, rather than from South Italy and Sicily in order to minimize that danger and evidently Italy is in no hurry to get the expedition on the way.

Another reason for the delay of warlike operations in the continuance of the Turkish cabinet crisis. Clearly the old ministers are remaining in office against their will and are unable to formulate or agree upon any definite line of action. It is even reported that the Minister of Marine has resigned on account of the flagrant disobedience of his orders to the fleet.

Meanwhile the partisans of the powers continue without intermission. It is said that Russia is now supporting Germany in efforts to bring about peace.

A report comes from Agosta that the Turkish transport Derna changed her name to "Eitel Friederich" and flew the German flag while running the blockade to Tripoli and that her officers were proud of eluding pursuit. But it is pointed out in the report she might have been captured two hundred miles from Tripoli had not the Italians wanted her arrival at Tripoli and the landing of arms as a pretext to declare war.

Caterpillars Consume Cotton.

Capt. H. B. Parks and Mr. E. C. Barnhardt spent yesterday at Capt. Parks' farm in No. 2 township. Capt. Parks has a twelve acre cotton field on his place that has been attacked by a great army of caterpillars that have practically consumed the weed and a great number of bolls on the entire field of cotton. Capt. Parks brought two stalks of the cotton to this office as specimens of the havoc the worm has wrought with his crop. The leaves are cut in shreds and a number of unopened bolls have been about two and one half feet high and show only two well developed bolls, the others being destroyed by the worm in their premature state.

Capt. Parks is anxious that the matter be brought to the department of agriculture and says the danger from this worm warrants immediate and drastic efforts on the part of the farmers of the agricultural departments towards its annihilation.

HENRY MOORE BOUND OVER.

On Charge of Setting Fire to Jim Ellis' House—Several Witnesses Testify Against Him.

Henry Moore, colored, who was arrested yesterday morning charged with setting fire to Jim Ellis' house last Tuesday night, was given a hearing yesterday afternoon. Ex-Judge W. J. Montgomery appeared for Moore and Senator Hartell for the state. Jim Ellis was the principal witness against Moore. He testified that he saw Moore run across his yard as he ran out of the church to the fire and that he called to him to stop, saying, "Henry Moore you have set my house afire again." He said Moore was barefooted and bareheaded and in his shirt sleeves and that he made no effort to stop when he called to him. Milton Ellis testified that he saw Moore standing in his (Moore's) back yard just a few minutes after the fire was discovered and before the department arrived. He also testified that Moore was dressed in a manner as described by Jim Ellis.

Ida Ford said she saw Moore about five minutes after the fire was discovered going around the west side of the church and that he was dressed that way.

There were several other witnesses for the state and they all testified that Moore was dressed in that manner and that they saw him in different places near the fire both before and after it was discovered. Moore had four witnesses summoned but his counsel did not put them on the stand. He was bound over to court and committed without bail.

Strike Cause of Fatal Collisions of Workmen.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 3.—In a pitched battle in the freight yards of the Illinois Central railroad at McComb City, between strikers and strike-breakers late today several persons are reported to have been killed and others wounded.

Governor Noel ordered out troops at 7 o'clock tonight and two military companies are now hurrying to the scene.

Adjutant General Fridge with a squad of the Capital Light Guards left on a special train for Brookhaven where he will be joined by the Brookhaven and Natchez companies. They expect to reach McComb and take charge of the town by midnight.

Details of the fight in the McComb yards are difficult to secure. The special train bearing the strike-breakers continued on its journey to New Orleans, where it is reported no one was killed.

Citizens of Magnolia say that when the train passed there at full speed every coach window was broken and no one was visible at the openings, the strike breakers lying prone on the floor to keep from being fired at.

Creator of "Lady Audley's Secret."

London, Oct. 4.—Receiving congratulations from several generations of women and girls who have wept over the sorrows of the misguided heroine of "Lady Audley's Secret," the famous novelist, Miss Braddon (Mrs. Jno. Maxwell) today observed her seventy-fifth birthday anniversary at her home at Richmond, one of the loveliest spots on the River Thames. Since she first began writing in 1850 a total of seventy novels, besides a large number of short stories and several dramas, have come from Miss Braddon's pen. The table on which she writes is the one on which Wellington wrote his dispatch describing the battle of Waterloo.

AMBITION

YOU MUST be ambitious if the race is to progress—the middle aged and the old are most fortunate when they retain their ambitions. The little place in this country is all right, provided there is a purpose to make something out of it. IT MUST BE A PLACE TO WORK—not a place to loaf. If it is sought merely as the last station on the way to the grave its advantages over a cheap lodging in the city are problematical.

FIGHT APATHY always and everywhere as a deadly foe—START with ambition at 20 and call up the reserves at 70. If you have lost some of your physical strength and energy make up for the loss by an appeal to your own reason and experience as aids. They will be witnesses at every stage for the alert and the purposeful.

McCabe, today was retired from the Pure Food and Drug Board, Associate Chemist F. L. Dunlap, closely identified with McCabe, was allowed leave of absence until the President's return and Chemist Harvey W. Wiley, left apparently in supreme command of the Board. Dr. R. E. Doolittle, of New York, was temporarily appointed to the Board to succeed Mr. McCabe.

These changes were announced by Secretary Wilson today following a conference with Dr. Wiley, who has been on a long vacation.

CHALONER STARTS LONG DEPOSITION.

Story of How His Brothers Placed Him in Asylum—Promises Big Scandal.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 3.—"No jury in the world would ever say that John Armstrong Chaloner is not competent to administer his property," said Attorney Frick D. Ware, of New York city, as he swung off a train here today to represent Chaloner in the taking of depositions in his suit in the New York Federal Court to recover his property from a "committee," Thomas T. Sherman.

Chaloner's depositions may be one of the longest on record anywhere. He said it would take a week to tell what he had to say. It being a deposition there was little restriction on him, and accordingly, Chaloner started at the beginning to narrate how he was thrust into the insane asylum at Bloomingdale, N. Y., on the complaint of his brothers, Winthrop Astor Chaloner and Lewis Stuyvesant Chaloner.

Chaloner will tell how he was confined four years in the madhouse; how he escaped, and getting to Virginia, had a court in Charlottesville declare him sane. Chaloner will recount his psychological researches, which were the basis for the lunacy proceedings in New York. Then he will tell, he reasserted today, of one of the worst scandals the world has ever known, a scandal affecting one of the most prominent men in New York city, an affair touching the innermost circles of New York's "four hundred."
