Arrival of Trains at Concord. JOHN M. OGLESBY, .....City Editor

Concord, N. C., December 18, 1911

When England insisted upon taxing the American colonies without allowing them representation there was a mighty revolt, which ended in the victory of the colonists in their fight for freedom and the setting up of an independent government. The pension steal recently voted by the House means rothing less to the South than "taxation without representation," because the South will live at No. 44 Loan street. I want pay millions to sustain this infamous you to bring me a big doll, candy. raid on the public treasury and will nuts and all good things to eat. Don't receive none of the benefits. Was it Governor Vance who said that the Republican party could be depended on to set the rascal and the Democratie party the fool? The majority of the representatives of the Democratic party at Washington have certainly acted the fool this time.

The economy committee of the House Saturday made an effort to cut in two the mileage of Senators and Representatives, making it ten instead of twenty cents a mile. The plan was voted down by a vote of 136 to 56. Naturally the Republicans charged the Democrats with having lost sight of their economy programme. When the vote in the pension steal is considered with this, it begins to look like it sure enough. When the mileage of the Congressmen is actually only four cents, why should it be made even ten cents?

School for Farmers.

Charlotte Chronicle.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College at Raleigh, has found a useful plan of utilizing what might be called the winter holidays. It is the institution of a winter short course for the man-farmer. This farmers school opens on January 3, and continues eight weeks. In a letter to The Chronicle, Dr. Newman, professor of agriculture, says of the school that the first week will be devoted enagriculture in general and the last apples, oranges, candy and all kinds week to farm drainage. This course is offered for the purpose of meeting a demand on the part of the farmers of the State for more information in lines of their vocation. No fees are charged and the expense of those attending this short course need not exceed the cost of travel and board. Certainly it would seem that this winter school affords an excellent opportunity for the farmers to gain knowledge that will be useful to them.

Dr. Peacock for Simmons

Dr. Peacock was asked about the senatorial race in the State and he said so far as he could see the peo-ple were going to keep Senator Sim-mons in the Senate for a long time. "I am a great admirer of former Governor Aycock and would like to vote for him, but I am not in favor of turning a man out of Congress at the very height of his usefulness to
