

BITTER DEBATE IN SENATE TODAY

ON WHETHER OR NOT POSTAL EMPLOYEES CAN UNIONIZE.

Senator Smith, of South Carolina, Takes Part in the Debate, Which is a Bitter One.—Discussions on the Parcel Post.

Washington, August 13.—Whether postal employees have a right to unionize and strike if desired was the subject of a bitter debate in the Senate today. Senator Smith, Democrat, of South Carolina, contended that there is no law preventing an American citizen from joining any organization. If the employees are displeased with their compensation and conditions in the service, they had a right to protest and give up their positions at will.

Washington, August 13.—The passage of the postoffice appropriation bill, with complete parcel post system included, was part of the Senate's program this afternoon. The Bourne parcel post plan is considered the most important of the session. It divides the country into units thirty miles square, include in three cents additional, maximum weight 11 pounds. Rate in the zones increases proportionately.

HOT ON TRAIL OF REBEL BAND

Which Derailed Passenger Train Causing the Death of 36 Soldiers and Passengers.

Mexico City, August 13.—Federal troops and ruffians today are hot on the trail of the rebel band which derailed a passenger train in the canyon, 110 miles southeast of here Sunday, killing thirty-six soldiers and passengers and wounding many others, robbing the victims and setting fire to the wreckage, burning the dead and injured together. The crime was the most outrageous and fiendish in the history of the recent disorders in Mexico. The rebels when caught, will be herded together and shot down without delay. Many atrocious crimes were committed by the rebels on men and women passengers, the rebel leaders being mad at reports that President Madero, in recent peace negotiations, plotted to kill the rebel officers after they laid down arms and disbanded forces.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 13.—Tomorrow is to be "forage day" in Virginia, and in its observance the Old Dominion will establish a precedent for other States to follow. Governor Mann has issued a proclamation to the farmers of the State urging them to meet in the court house towns of their various counties and exchange views and information on forage crops, with a view of increasing the amount and variety of the hay, grasses and other forage crops raised in Virginia.

The big feature of the convention will be the dedication of the $60,000 Odd Fellows' temple recently completed in this city. The dedication ceremonies will be held tomorrow afternoon.

A Big Sunflower "Tree."

Mr. C. F. Smith, of No. 11 township, reports a sunflower stalk that is just a little ahead of anything that has ever been known in this section. He says it is 13 1/2 feet high, and that the stalk is three inches in diameter. Mr. Smith counted 150 heads on the stalk and then got tired and stopped counting. People have come from miles around to look at the sunflower "tree."

Mrs. Eliza Brunley, of Amherst, Va., has returned to her home after visiting her brother, Mr. W. C. Cook.

MONDAY'S GAME.

A Baseball Fan's Visit to the Cinco High Point Game Yesterday.

Say, Bo, you orter been to that ball game yesterday. It was rich, that is for a man who does not suffer with palpitation of the heart. That game was for anybody who would ask for it, but nobody seemed to want it. Regular Alphonso and Gaston stunt, you know. Honest, each side made four runs, and none of them were earned ones. Played for ten whole innings, finally getting tired of persuading each other to take the game, they called it off, saying it was on account of not being able to see the horsehide for the sun. Funny excuse, eh? We always knew the Concord people had warm hearts, but not warm enough to give a game to High Point. Sounds kinder unreasonable, eh?

The lanky Cinco, "Ding" Bell, started the twirling for that aggregation, but had to stop and give way to Graham, in the fourth. "Ding" was just getting warm, allowing only one run and two hits. He, however, did not yield the hit that scored that run, neither did the little boy, Graham. All made on errors, pure and unadulterated errors, every one of them.

Fitzgerald, Trinity Park's former spit-ball artist, was the worker for the visitors. That boy was there, that is at some points. He allowed ten hits, some two baggers and a lot of scratches, which had to pass for hits. If his teammates had not also had the "Santa Claus" feeling in their bones, the game might have turned out different.

Now for the way those runs were presented, not earned, mind you, but presented. High Point crossed the home stretch first. "Ding" Bell let Angier rap up a single in the first inning, but Winston caught him stealing second. Brockwell fled to the third. Bell then proceeded to walk Loman and Welch. Winston caught Welch off first and started out to do a marathon stunt in the diamond finally throwing wild and allowing Loman to tag the rubber. Again in the seventh little Angier singled. Graham forced him to second by hitting Brockwell. Welch singled to centerfielder Moose, who opened his heart, or hands, we do not know which, letting Angier and Brockwell score. "Ex-Guilford's" mountain of meat singled and scored Welch.

High Point presented their offerings in the fourth and seventh. In the fourth, when Winston singled, and was advanced to second by Patterson, to third by "Pros" Pearson's single. That made three men on, doesn't it, Bo? Well, Moose knocked one into the hands of High Point's second baseman, who stopped to play with it, allowing Winston to score. Quite plausible, eh? In the seventh it happened again, yea, that fateful or hateful seventh was truly a "comedy of errors." Moose slapped out a single, but was forced out at second by Sappenfield. Graham singled. Roberts placed a fly into Loman's hands, but he forgot to put glue into his glove. "Sapp" tagged and scored on West's sacrifice to center field. Johnson singled to center, who threw wild, allowing Graham to score, and Winston tied the thing with his single, which scored Roberts.

Some Christmas presents in circulation, eh, Bo? Well, ge guess. Both sides, however, seemed to kick because they wanted more and were too lazy to go after it. The grandstand seemed to be like a band of Comanche Indians turned loose on a carload of trinkets, when we were presented with our share, but nothing like that when it came our turn to present.

Son, you orter seen that West feller at short. The way that boy scooped 'em up and shot 'em to first would have made a big leaguer faint—nice work. We guess Honeycutt did some nice work catching, either assisting or putting out five men. Bowden made a star catch in right.

The Cinco rooters hope that the boys will soon realize that this is not near Christmas and that they will get to work. And, say, kid, if they would get a pair of motor-skates they might be able to run bases a little better, eh? Some scared kids they are, when it comes to leaving a sack, especially on that little boy Honeycutt.

Look at this line up and box score, will you, and see whereof we speak:

HIGH POINT	AB	R	H	PO	A	E

COLONEL TO MAKE A POSITIVE FIGHT.

Leader of Progressive Party Hopes to Put Other Candidates on the Defensive.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 12.—"At last I can sleep o' nights," said Colonel Roosevelt laughingly, when told that the plan for having William J. Bryan follow his trail about the country and reply to his speeches had been abandoned, as announced yesterday. The Colonel said that he was greatly amused at the decision of the Democratic opponents that the Progressive ticket was not a menace to them and that it would not be worth while to have Mr. Bryan spend his time in this way. "Isn't that perfectly lovely?" he exclaimed.

It is Colonel Roosevelt's purpose to make a positive fight for the Progressive platform and ticket rather than against the Republican and Democratic candidates. In the opening speeches of his campaign he plans to lay chief emphasis upon what the Progressive party proposes to do, rather than negative arguments. Colonel Roosevelt hopes to place the other candidates on the defensive. He expressed all confidence in the Progressive platform, drawn largely from his speech in Chicago, which he regards as the greatest effort of his life.

Populist National Convention.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 13.—About one hundred delegates from a score of States were in their seats today when the People's Party national convention was called to order by James H. Ferris, chairman of the national committee. The convention will name a presidential ticket and adopt a platform that will declare for the government control of railroads and other public utilities, the initiative, referendum and recall and various other measures of political reform.

M'INTYRE ALLEGED SENDER OF MACHINE.

Police of Two States Working With High Point Officers on Case.

Greensboro, Aug. 12.—Police of two States working under the directions of Chief of Police Ridge, of High Point, joined in an effort to locate Ed. R. McIntyre, a well-to-do young man of High Point, who is wanted by Guilford county authorities upon a warrant charging the sending of an infernal machine to Miss Ollie Hoover, a pretty and prominently connected young woman of High Point.

The developments in the case came yesterday with a rapidity which was in startlingness with grave charges, while shipped through the Thomasville office, was sent by a High Point man; that it was addressed to "Ollie Hoover" rather than to "Charlie Hoover" as was billed by the Thomasville express clerk. Then the admission of Chief Ridge that his men were seeking Ed. R. McIntyre as the sender of the package.

The Case in Epitome.

Greensboro News, 13th. On the evening of December 1, Express Manager Sam Grimes, of Thomasville, found at the door of his office a package, with note attached asking that it be expressed to High Point. One dollar was enclosed to cover express charges. December 2, the package arrived at High Point, way billed to "Charlie Hoover" though addressed to "Ollie Hoover." Something like a week later a strange man drove up to the Thomasville office and asked if the package had been properly handled. During the period elapsing from December to August Miss Ollie Hoover, of High Point, received a letter threatening to "blow her up" and an obscene post card. Miss Hoover reported the receipt of these letters to the postoffice officials and an investigation by secret service men had developed evidence sufficient to warrant them in preparing to ask the next Federal grand jury to indict Ed. R. McIntyre, a young man who had waged an unsuccessful love affair with Miss Hoover.

Simmons Speaks for the Rural Carriers.

Washington, August 12.—Senator Simmons made a speech today in behalf of an increased compensation for the rural letter carriers of the country. He was assisted in his fight by Senator Bristow, of Kansas. Senator Simmons has been appointed minority conferee on the part of the Senate on the canal bill and is making a hard fight to have his amendments retained in the bill providing for free American ships and also for the provision prohibiting railroad-owned vessels from using the canal. Representative Doughton returned to Washington today from a visit to his district. He said he found everything in good shape politically speaking and that the crops were fine and cattle getting fat. He expects the Republicans to nominate some one against him when the district convention is held but whom they expect to sacrifice he does not know.

Gov. Wilson Goes to Trenton.

Sea Girt, Aug. 13.—Gov. Wilson today went to Trenton on his weekly visit on State business.

High Point Express Manager W. M. Busbee and his cashier, Tal Morton, preparatory to consigning it to the unclaimed or "old hoss" heap.

The expressmen, to satisfy a curiosity, examined the package and upon opening an inner door there was a quick flash and a deafening report, both being hurled from their feet and against the floor. Manager Busbee was brought to Leo's hospital here. It is said he has a fine chance to recover, but that his face is marked for life. Mr. Morton was painfully, though not so seriously burned.

An examination by Chief of Police Ridge, of High Point, showed that the infernal machine had lain in the express office from December 2 to August 10, to explode that day in the hands of the expressmen.

A shipping tag found near the box and undamaged, showed that the deadly package bore the address of Miss Ollie Hoover, a well known and pretty young woman of High Point. An investigation held Sunday by Chief Ridge and District Attorney A. E. Holton resulted in startling disclosures, coming principally by Miss Hoover.

Was in Asheville.

Asheville, Aug. 12.—Ed. R. McIntyre, wanted in High Point in connection with the explosion of the infernal machine in the express office here Saturday, was in this city yesterday, at the home of his sister. In order to locate him, officers sent a fake telegram to the house yesterday afternoon, but he had departed, his sister stating that he had returned to High Point.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The financial side of the Democratic congressional campaign of 1908 was detailed to the Senate committee investigating contributions by Representative Lloyd, of Missouri, chairman and treasurer of the committee. He said he was solicitor and disburser of the funds, and kept a full record. The total receipts were $27,645 and expenditures $27,532. Seven thousand dollars was received from the sale of literature. The committee plans tomorrow to examine Benjamin R. Odell, former Governor of New York. Previous witnesses testified that Odell was in charge of the New York Republican campaign when Harriman raised the famous fund.

Moore County Peaches.

Mr. A. G. Bost recently received a crate of very fine peaches from his son, Mr. E. W. Bost, of Eagles Springs, Moore county, who is conducting a store at that place, and this year turned his attention to raising fruit. The peaches were very large and Mr. Bost wrote that he had quite a number of trees and all were full of fruit, and that the barren sand hills of Moore county were being turned into orchards, with the result that the finest fruit to be found anywhere was being raised there.
