

THIS WEEK'S RACE STARTS WITH RUSH

TWELVE SPECIAL BALLOTS ARE TO BE GIVEN

Competitive Ballot Has Stirred Candidates to Renewed Activity. Watch The Tribune Every Day and Keep Awake—There is Opportunity for Every Winning Candidate.

A 500,000—special ballot and eleven other special ballots will be given to candidates in the Tribune and Times contest who turn in the highest amount of money on subscriptions between Monday, September 30th, and Saturday, October 6th at 8 p. m. Full details printed elsewhere.

The great prize and popularity contest of the Tribune is again at normal speed.

The contest department is refreshed and ready for whatever may develop. It is hoped by the Tribune and Times that the contestants feel the same.

Monday showed the lull after the storm, and to tell the truth, all of the members of the contest force were glad of it, for it took every bit of available help to get many new subscriptions started that came in Saturday.

Activity is again beginning. As the result of "The Two Weeks Opportunity Time" in the Tribune and Times Contest Saturday some business came in Monday morning. Of course, in comparison with Saturday it was very quiet in the contest department. The candidates and the contest department felt some need of peace and rest.

But didn't we have a good time while the excitement lasted? Such days make you feel that the interest in the contest is no mere talk, but a lively fact that has affected hundreds of people. Now that they have in a measure entered the lists themselves by giving their subscriptions to the credit of the contestant whom they wish to win, they will watch further developments with the keenest interest, and you all may be sure that none of your declared friends will let your campaign languish for lack of aid.

In this way, if you make use of the personal note in your dealings with those who help you, showing them how much they can do for you in influencing others, you will have a large army of aids working for you.

Even the fact that there are many people who mention your name every time the contest is discussed is a big advertisement for you, so you see that the more people who have helped you, the more they are likely to do so.

Don't go to sleep. Now that the "Opportunity Days" are over don't go to sleep. This is a real danger to many. They are conscious they did well during the time their efforts counted for most, and they lose sight of the fact that all of these efforts may be wasted if they relax their energies.

A new offer has started. Make up your mind that you will do as much with the opportunities offered you as you have in the past.

If you have failed up to this time in the utmost diligence, make up your mind to do still better than at any previous time.

The race is far from run, and there is not one of you who could not overtake you at the foot of the list, even come your present handicap in the remaining two weeks.

Watch for Announcements. Keep your eyes open and watch for what we have to say each day about the contest, so that you may not lose a single one of the suggestions we will give for making the most of your chances.

Procrastination the Thief of Time. You will get a valuable lesson from your candidacy in this contest, for nothing else could teach you so well the dangers of procrastination. Energy, promptness, perseverance, are requisites for success, and you will make the better business man or woman all your life for the training you can have in this merry race for a big prize.

Prof. and Mrs. Caswell to Return to North Carolina.

Salisbury Post. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Caswell, who have been in Moore Jav. Canada, all summer, are preparing to return to North Carolina, and will leave Moore Jav. the latter part of this week, coming direct to Salisbury. Mr. Caswell has not decided where he will locate or what he will do, but the Post is very much interested in their coming to Salisbury for a permanent home. Mr. and Mrs. Caswell have lots of friends in this city and they hope that these good people will do it to their interest to remain permanently in Salisbury. In a letter to the Post, Prof. Caswell says Mrs. Caswell is spending the days with the children.

CABARRUS IN STRONG FOR THE DEMOCRACY.

County Chairman Cook and His Aids Are Making a Most Vigorous Campaign.

Mr. James A. Parham, of the Raleigh News and Observer staff, who was here a few days ago, writes as follows to that paper: "They are having a genuine Democratic revival in Cabarrus county. It has been in progress now several weeks. Results are in evidence—evidence that no intelligent man can question, evidence of the kind ministers rejoice to see in religious revivals; namely, those reached and converted and those who, upon their own initiative are turning right about face in their political career, are not afraid nor ashamed, but glad to give public expression to their feelings and to give the reason for the new faith that is in them.

For weeks past County Chairman J. P. Cook and Editor J. B. Sherrill, of the Concord Tribune, have been almost daily receiving letters for publication, and for use in the campaign—from men who have been voting the straight Republican ticket for years—some of them for a life time. I read a number of these letters and saw others. Chairman Cook has dozens of them—all of the same general tone—done with the Republican party; henceforth a Democrat, for every man on the ticket, from Woodrow Wilson to township constable.

"These are not isolated cases. Nor are these men of the shifting, unstable variety. Their letters are impressive for the deep earnestness they express. I saw and talked with one of these men. He came into Democratic headquarters to explain to Chairman Cook why he could not attend the speaking that night. He had been ill for several days and was nearly able to walk then, but he said he was going to get himself well as early as possible in order to give his time and labor to the cause of Democracy nearer election day. These men are actuated by firm conviction. There can be no doubt about that in the mind of the man who has seen them and talked with them and read letters they have written.

"The hold and complete change of so many men from the Republican party to the ranks of Democracy and their cheerful and ready public testimony to their conviction, constitute the features of the campaign in Cabarrus county.

"Another interesting and impressive condition the visitors observe here is the zeal and interest manifested by the Democrats themselves. A number of men came nine miles to hear Governor Winston speak. One aged Confederate soldier, weak and feeble, but a true Democrat from principle, walked two miles to hear the speaking and said he just had to come, for he did not know that he would ever hear another Democratic speech from a man of Governor Winston's capacity.

"The party in Cabarrus is working. Chairman Cook is busy day and night, giving practically his entire time to the party and has lieutenants and helpers in every precinct, who are actively co-operating. The organization is in fine shape and the Democrats are confident of carrying the whole State by increased majorities. Only the county office is now filled by a Republican, and he, with the balance of the anti-Democrats in this county, are evidently dismayed."

Democratic Hand Book. The North Carolina Democratic Hand-Book has just been issued and makes exceedingly interesting reading. The matter is well selected and arranged and contains some splendid campaign arguments. It deals both with State and national issues in a thoroughly effective manner.

The following is a pertinent extract from the introduction: "The ones great Republican party in the nation, like a giant oak, has by its own rotteness, falling to the ground, by the admission of its own leaders, its corruption in the control of legislation has been proven. The great movement, however, have by a powerful plundering, by contributions from the Standard Oil, the Steel Trust, the Harvester Trust, the Insurance Trust, Perkins, Archbold and all the rest, controlled that once great party in the administration of the law for the special interests in favor of one section of the country against the other. Out of their own mouths have they been convicted. Such is the condition of the Republican party in the nation."

It is reported that Governor Kitchin expects to be nominated with a vote of 2 to 1. Surely the genial Governor has not lost track of events. Spending a day in the strongest Kitchin nation, his old district, shows the way the wind blows. Senator Simmons is growing stronger with the passing days and Chief Justice Clark is gaining. Who is the loser?—Charlotte Chronicle.

Teddy declared he will carry Oklahoma, North Carolina, Georgia and Maryland and break the solid South. Some papers printing this dispatch head it—Put Him in a Fedded Cell. "Just as the country is fast discovering that the man is 'lousy.'—Greensboro Record.

DOUGHTON AND REYNOLDS IN JOINT DEBATE.

Will Meet Here Next Thursday, October 3, at Noon.

Congressman R. L. Doughton and Mr. G. D. Reynolds will meet at the court house Thursday at noon in joint debate. This will be the first joint debate of the campaign here and will probably be the only one. Those who heard Congressman Doughton in debate with Congressman Cowles two years ago will know that the representatives from the eighth is able to hold his end of the discussion to the utmost satisfaction of his followers. Mr. Reynolds, the Republican nominee is a member of the Albemarle bar and is well known throughout the district.

Frank Iroter Accepted $500 of Allen Reward.

Frank Iroter, of Carroll county, father of Maude Iroter, the girl whom the detectives, in the pursuit of Wesley Edwards and Sidna Allen, followed to Des Moines to the hiding place of the fugitives, was in Roanoke Saturday. In discussing his connection with the Allen he said: "I did not intentionally give any information to the Baldwins. I spoke to Oscar Monday of what I knew concerning the relation of my daughter and Wesley Edwards and of their meeting after the Hillville shooting, but I did not know at that time that Monday was in any way connected with the Baldwin agency. I have been greatly impressed at the report that I was helping the Baldwins in order to get the reward. I did not want the reward at all, and I refused to have it. Mr. Baldwin, however, pressed it upon me and I finally consented to take it."

Simmons Managers Refuse to Have Joint Debate With Kitchin.

Wilmington, Sept. 30.—Acting as manager in this county for Gov. W. W. Kitchin, ex-Mayer William E. Springs and Joseph W. Little, Esq., wrote a letter to J. O. Carr, Esq., asking that Senator Simmons, who speaks in the opera house here tomorrow night, divide time with the Governor, so that the claims of both candidates for the Senate could be heard at the same time. Mr. Carr replied that as Senator Simmons himself and his State manager had decided and publicly stated the Senator will not debate the issue of the campaign with any Democrat and thus across antagonism in the Democratic party, he would have to decline the invitation for a joint discussion. He then brought in some personalities and to night Messrs. Springs and Little replied with still more personalities.

DEATH OF MR. J. LINKER.

Another Confederate Soldier, Passes Away—Was 74 Years of Age.

Mr. Jackson Linker, an aged and well known citizen of No. 1 township, died this morning at 8 o'clock at his home. Mr. Linker received a fall several weeks ago, from the effects of which he never recovered. About ten days ago he was seized with pneumonia, which was the direct cause of his death.

University Faculty Bailing Expelling Twelve Students to Stand.

Raleigh, Sept. 30.—After hearing the report of President Venable on the result of the faculty investigation of hazing at the University last spring, the executive committee this afternoon declined to go over the head of the faculty and therefore took no action in the twelve juniors who were suspended for participation in hazing last year. The committee took the position that the faculty were better able to handle the matter than they. It is said that some of the juniors may ask for a re-opening of their cases.

New York Worse Than Sodom.

New York, Sept. 30.—"New York today is worse than Sodom and Gomorrah, and God's wrath will fall upon it as it did upon them and smite it into nothingness." William McGlory, formerly "king of the divekeepers" here and known as the "wickedest man," now reformer, today is author of this statement and prophecy. He declared "the police are not what they used to be" and that he is now afraid to venture out upon the streets at night.

The Depths of A Man's Love.

It isn't in words of endearment,
Man shows the depth of his love;
For words are weak, but actions speak
And deeper meaning prove.

It isn't in deeds romantic,
Nor passion's alluring tone;
But he loves, indeed, who provides
For the need
Of his dear ones when he is gone.

DEATH OF MR. ROLAND HARRIS

Death Occurred Monday Evening After Only a Few Days Illness.

Mr. Roland Harris died yesterday evening at 7 o'clock at his home on West Depot street, after an illness of only a few days. Mr. Harris was taken seriously ill several days ago, and his condition grew rapidly worse until his death.

Mr. Harris was a son of ex-Sheriff James F. Harris, and was proprietor of the Harris Printery. When quite a young man he entered the office of the Concord Times, where he learned his trade. He also worked in various newspaper offices in the State, moving back to Concord about two years ago from Asheville, where he was foreman of The Courier office. He purchased the print shop from H. P. Deaton, and has since been engaged in business here.

Mr. Harris was married to Miss Maude Bos, a daughter of Mr. T. N. Bos, of No. 1 township, who with three children survives him. He is also survived by his father and several brothers and sisters. He was 35 years of age.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home on West Depot street and the interment will be made at Oakwood cemetery.

Roosevelt Festered by Many Cranks.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 30.—On the homestead of his swing around the circle Colonel Roosevelt inaugurated his campaign in the Republican stronghold of Eastern Tennessee here today.

This afternoon he will address a mass meeting in Knoxville. The candidate's rest is being disturbed by cranks. Today a man insisted on seeing the Colonel to tell him about little Julia, his daughter. The 12-year-old girl, he said, had written a piece of music, which she played on the violin most beautifully and which was dedicated to Roosevelt. Colonel Lyon, official buffer, inquired what the piece was called and the individual responded: "Hell's Broke Loose in Tennessee."

He missed seeing the Colonel.

University Students for Simmons. In a letter to his father, Mr. J. M. Hendrix, Mr. Joe Hendrix, who is a student at the University of North Carolina, stated that 90 per cent of the students at the institution were for Simmons in the senatorial contest.

Col. Roosevelt Winds Up His Trip.

Asheville, N. C., October 1.—Col. Roosevelt wound up his trip through thirty States today, speaking at Asheville, Greensboro, Salisbury and Raleigh. He is scheduled to leave Raleigh tonight, going direct to New York.

INVESTIGATING THE CAMPAIGN FUNDS

LOOKING INTO THE FINANCES OF THE BULL MOOSE PARTY.

Eliot Hooker the First Witness. Developed that Frank A. Munsey Contributed $38,000 to Fund in Four Lumps.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The Senate campaign contribution investigation committee today was expected to examine the finances of the Bull Moose party. Wm. Flynn, of Pittsburgh, is scheduled to testify with Eliot Hooker, progressive national treasurer. Flynn is expected to reply to the Penrose statement that Flynn offered Penrose $1,000,000 for the senatorial nomination. Judge Lovett, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific Railroad, was ordered to appear before the committee to testify regarding the alleged $250,000 raised by Rayman at Roosevelt's request.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Eliot Hooker, the first witness, said the Progressive national treasury received $6,519.83 from New York county committee surplus. Later the pre-convention fund was $50,126.35. Amos Pinchot, president of the league of Progressive clubs, collected $11,000. Alex. Cochran, carpenter manufacturer, of Yorkers, N. Y., gave $15,000. He detailed other contributions. Flynn heard the testimony.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The total pre-convention fund was $143,000; expenditures $141,657. C. C. Tegethoff, private secretary to E. H. Harriman, was recalled to the stand following Hooker. It developed in Hooker's testimony that Frank A. Munsey contributed $38,000 in four lumps.

Dynastic Conspiracy Case Opened Today.

Indianapolis, Oct. 1.—When the dynastic conspiracy case opened today the defendants were represented by twenty-five lawyers. Orville Manigault, the government star witness, who is guarded by secret service men, six deputy marshals and twelve special deputies, is the center of attraction.
