

POLKEMAN IN LEXINGTON KILLED

MELL GARLAND SHOT TODAY BY LEE FOARD.

Garland Was a Special Policeman.—Shooting Occurred at 12:30 O'clock.—Rifle Was Used and Three Shots Took Effect.—No Cause is Assigned for the Killing.

Special to the Tribune.

Lexington, N. C., April 4.—Mell Garland, a special policeman, was shot and instantly killed here at 12:30 o'clock today by Lee Foard. A rifle was used and three shots took effect. No cause is assigned for the killing. Foard is in jail.

THE COLLECTORSHIP

My Boyden Says He's "Got It".—Another Account Says He Will Be Appointed Postmaster at Salisbury.

A Washington special to the Charlotte Observer, under date of April 3, says:

Col. A. H. Boyden, of Salisbury, let it be known today that he had the collectorship of internal revenue for the western district "sewn-up in a sack." He made the claim quite freely today, but it could not be verified from either of the North Carolina Senators. Senator Simmons is still backing A. D. Watts strongly.

Mr. Parker R. Anderson, Washington correspondent of the Greensboro News, sends the following to his paper under the same date:

It is being rumored around Washington that Colonel Boyden will be offered the postmastership at Salisbury. The place pays about $2,500 a year, not near as much as the collectorship, but as postmaster at Salisbury Colonel Boyden would be at home and it is believed if he is offered this place he will accept. In the meantime President Wilson is turning over in his mind what was said to him by E. J. Justice, of Greensboro, in regard to "reactionaries" and "progressives" in North Carolina.

SURPRISE MARRIAGE

Mr. Mark B. Fuller and Miss Ponsa Cline Married March 19.

The facts of a surprise marriage of a young couple of this city, Miss Ponsa Cline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Cline, and Mr. Mark B. Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Fuller. The young couple were married March 19 at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Daniel McCurdy, on West Corbin street, Rev. W. T. Talbirt officiating. After the marriage Mrs. Cline returned to the home of her parents and so well did the young people keep the affair a secret that the marriage only became known to the members of the immediate families yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller are boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McCurdy.

PETITION TO HAVE GOV. MANN IMPROVED.

Friends of the Allen Owners Start the Movement in Hanover, Virginia.

Richmond, Va., April 3.—Petitions asking members of the Legislature to convene in extra session for impeachment of Governor Mann for "permitting the judicial murder" of the Allens executed here last Friday, were circulated in Hanover county today.

Those behind the plan expect to attempt gathering of signatures in other counties if the movement succeeds in Hanover.

MISS ETHEL ROOSEVELT BECOMES A BRIDE TODAY

Ex-President's Second Daughter Weds Dr. Richard Derby.

New York, April 4.—St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church, Oyster Bay, L. I., was filled with a gathering of distinguished guests today, when Miss Ethel Carow Roosevelt, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, became the bride of Dr. Richard Derby of this city. The youth and beauty of the bride, the prominence of her father as an ex-President of the United States, and the presence of many guests of wide note combined to make the wedding the most notable affair of its kind that has taken place in this vicinity in along time.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the rector of the church. The bridal attendants were the Misses Josephine Osborn, Margaret A. Tucker, Helen Coster and Cornelia London and Miss Derby, a relative of Dr. Derby. The groom was attended by his brother, George A. Derby, who acted as best man and met the bride at the church steps. The ushers were Messrs. Archibald D. Roosevelt, brother of the bride; James L. Derby, a brother of the bridegroom; Dr. Henry James, John C. Waterbury and Edmund P. Rogers of this city and Mr. Nelson F. Bossert, of Boston, a classmate of Dr. Derby at college.

The bride was given away by her father, Colonel Roosevelt. She wore a French gown of white satin with long train and covered with point lace. Her veil was of old point lace and she carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The programme of orchestral and vocal music at the church was especially notable and was arranged by the bride herself. Miss Ernestine Merrill, of Boston, sang several songs, one of which told the story of Ruth and Naomi. The organ was supplemented by an orchestra under the leadership of Nahau Franko of this city.

After the ceremony the bride party and guests were taken in carriages and automobiles to Sagamore Hill, the Roosevelt home, where a wedding breakfast was served and a large reception was held. The breakfast was served on small tables in the dining room. Clusters of roses adorned the center of each table. The decorations of the bridal table were entirely of white. In the center was a two-story wedding cake.

Dr. Derby and his bride have engaged passage for Europe tomorrow. They plan to spend the greater part of the summer in travel on the Continent. Upon their return home next fall they will take up their residence in New York city.

Though she has not been so conspicuously in the public eye as her half-sister, Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, the bride of today naturally attracted much attention during Colonel Roosevelt's tenure of office as President of the United States. She made her formal bow to society at a brilliant reception at the White House in December, 1908, and since that time she has been conspicuous in the younger social sets in Washington and in New York. During the past four years the most of her time has been spent with her parents at Sagamore Hill. Like her father, she is an ardent devotee of outdoor sports and is an exceptionally good horsewoman. Those who know her best describe her as an excellent example of the American girl of the highest type, attractive in personal appearance, with a winsome spontaneity which is so evidently natural and ever magnetic.

Dr. Richard Derby, the bridegroom, is about thirty-two years of age. He graduated from Harvard in 1903 and is now a successful physician in this city. His father, the late Dr. Richard H. Derby, of this city, was a noted eye specialist, who graduated from Harvard in '67, and whose death occurred on July 4, 1907, at his summer home at Dark Harbor, Maine.

New York Giants in Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., April 3.—The New York Giants, fit and trim for the opening of the big league season, arrived here today on their barnstorming tour from the southern training grounds. Manager McGraw says the real games his disciples are playing will prove better training than the keeks spent nearer the torrid zone. The local club will compete with the big fellows this afternoon. Tomorrow the team will play Richmond, Va.; will be in Baltimore the two following days; in Washington April 7 and 8, and will land in the home camp April 9.

Mr. Caldwell Coming Home.

Mr. W. C. Caldwell writes us as follows from Kansas City, Mo., under date of March 31:

"As I am almost ready to come home I will ask you to stop the paper for the present. I certainly have enjoyed it this winter, and hope to have it next. I will leave here Monday if nothing prevents. Don't know about the water—it may be I can't get home for a while. I certainly will be glad to get back to North Carolina. No place like home."

Don't miss too much conditions in appearance. Many a man with a red nose and a white shirt has been

CONVICT CAPTURED.

Guard Baker Captures Fleeing Convict Without Assistance.

Saturday afternoon while the chain gang was working on the Poplar Tent road Dave Connor, colored, an Iredell county negro who was working a sentence on the gang for shooting another negro, made a dash for liberty. Guard E. D. Baker went after the negro. The negro had the advantage of long distance, gained before the guard could summon another guard to look after the convict, but Baker kept in pursuit until he found the man. Leveling a Winchester rifle at the fleeing convict he ordered him to stop, which he did. He was returned to camp immediately, the capture being negotiated in a short time after the escape was made, the race, however, extending over several miles.

Death of Mr. J. G. Boylin.

Monroe Enquirer.

Mr. James G. Boylin, editor of the Wadesboro Messenger and Intelligencer, died at his home in Wadesboro this morning at 4 o'clock of pneumonia. Mr. Boylin was a native of Wadesboro and was about 50 years old. He lived in Monroe several years and was with his brother, Mr. W. J. Boylin, of the Enquirer. A little over twenty-five years ago he went to Wadesboro and bought the Wadesboro Messenger and later consolidated that paper with the Intelligencer. For over twenty-five years he was an honest in purpose, true to his people and he greatly endeared himself to them and was a most popular man. He was twice married, first to Miss DeLuxe Blair, of Monroe, and his second marriage was to Mrs. Berta Ingram, of Wadesboro, who with two young daughters, survives him. Surviving him are five sons, children of his first wife.

Mr. Boylin was a progressive man, taking active interest in political and business life and he was a citizen loyal to his community and he did fine work for its development. He was a warm hearted, sociable man, and his friends are legion.

Death of Aged Lady at China Grove.

China Grove, April 3.—Miss Mary Elizabeth Albright, an aged maiden lady, was found dead in her bed this morning at her home four miles northwest of this place. Miss Albright was 79 years of age, and was in her usual health last night on retiring. She was buried at the Albright burying ground, a mile from her home, by her pastor, Rev. C. A. Brown, after services at the house this afternoon.

Didn't Pass It.

Trenton, N. J., April 4.—The 137th legislature of New Jersey came to an end shortly after 1 o'clock this morning without passing a bill providing for jury reform. Failure to pass this legislation is in opposition to the expressed wishes of President Wilson and Governor Fielder, and the governor is expected to call the Legislature in special session to reconsider the question.

Salisbury Labor Men Have Tickets.

Salisbury, April 3.—At a mass meeting of laboring men here tonight a partial ticket was put out to be voted for in the Democratic primaries headed by D. L. Gaskill and including for aldermen E. W. Tierman, T. W. Ridgeway, E. M. Canale, S. W. Henry and D. W. L. Crump.

VOTING CONTEST CLOSES.

Little Miss Betsy Davis and Miss Lucy Brown Awarded Prizes.

The voting contest for queen of the carnival, which has been conducted here for the past week by the carnival and Company L, ended last night, the ballot boxes being opened by the judges at 7 o'clock. The results of the ballots showed that little Miss Betsy Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Davis, had the largest number of votes, and she was awarded first prize, a diamond necklace valued at $60, and Miss Lucy Brown the second highest number of votes and she was given second prize, a gold handle umbrella, value $25.

FRIEDMANN REFUSES TEST.

Says Patients Are In Too Advanced Stage for Cure.

New York, April 3.—Announcement was made today in behalf of Dr. Frederick F. Friedmann that he has postponed treatment of the 100 patients selected by Government physicians as mediums for the demonstration of his tuberculosis vaccine. The reason given was that half of the cases selected were in such an advanced stage that recovery is practically hopeless.

Sons of Weather Prophet Are Skillful Scouts.

The two sons of James Scarr, New York's Weather-man, are skillful boy scouts. Both are members of troop No. 1, under Scout master A. J. Bliss of Hasbrouck Heights, N. J. Bernard Scarr, the older boy, now a student in Rutgers' College, is assistant and scout master of the troop and a splendid all-round scout. The younger brother, Francis, is a first-class scout and already has qualified for twelve merit badges, having shown proficiency in Craftsmanship, Handicraft, Machinery, Chemistry, and various other activities.

Lee to Oppose Ellyson.

Washington, April 4.—Col. Robert E. Lee, Jr., grandson of the Confederate chieftain, will be asked to make the race for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant-governor of Virginia against J. Taylor Ellyson, the present holder of that office, as a result of the disclosures in the eleventh-hour respite of the Allens by Mr. Ellyson while Governor Mann was out of the State.

Behind the Lee movement are a number of Richmond and Norfolk men.

Hope.

Hope springs eternal in the baseball breast, Until June hovers near; Whereat it takes a long, sweet rest And warbles of "next year."

"Hope springs eternal" — sang an ancient bard;

Perhaps—within some towns; But "eternal" means about two weeks For the Boston Braves and the Browns.

Predicts That Women Will be in Congress.

Washington, April 4.—Representative Johnson, of Washington, today predicted women in Congress. He said the growth of the movement indicated that soon.

Those who allege they know, say that Miss Nellie Wisler, Claude Allen's sweetheart, who wanted to marry him the day before he was executed, will keep her vow never to marry and live the life of a devoted widow, just as though she had become her

WANTS CITIZENS' TICKET.

Let Us Get Together in Mass Meeting And Nominate the Best Men.

Mr. Editor: I am in thorough accord with your article in regard to law enforcement—surely every good citizen in Concord must be of the same mind. I have understood, and think there is something in it that the old board of aldermen and mayor do not care to serve another term, and therefore I take it that it will be no reflection on them if another board is nominated. Now, why not begin anew in the manner of nominating our city officers? Let the citizens gather in mass meeting, nominate and make the ticket non-partisan. We need a getting together in Concord for the building up of our town—we do not want factions but a united people. It has often been asserted that two or three men put their heads together every two years and say who must be nominated in the primaries—whether this is true or not I believe that if we nominate in a different manner and in the way suggested it will be satisfactory to the voters. No law-abiding citizen can be in favor of any man for office who is not in favor of enforcing to the fullest extent, all the laws on our statute books. If there is such a man in our town see that he is left off the ticket. So far as the liquor question is concerned that is settled. If there has been any doubt of it before there should be none now for the search and seizure law and the Webb bill settles that matter for some time to come. What say you all? VOTER.

MILL STRIKERS SHOT.

Two Women Seriously Hurt in Riot With Police.—More Trouble is Feared.

Auburn, N. Y., April 4.—Six twine mill strikers, two being women, were seriously in a riot with the police today. The trouble rose over picketing the front of the mill. The police arrested a man and his comrades interfered. The man and women may die. The strikers may retaliate and trouble is feared.

Supposed Spies Released.

Paris, April.—The French government released the officers of the German airship when an investigation revealed that they were not spies.

Airship Operators Will Probably Be Court Martialed.

Berlin, April 4.—The German airship operators will probably be court martialed for landing in France. The Germans are chagrined that France had an opportunity to examine the airship and learn the secrets of its construction.

Charlotte Company Chartered.

Raleigh, April 4.—The Parity Dairy Products Company, of Charlotte, was chartered today with a capital of a hundred thousand dollars.

WORKING HARD AT CAIRO TODAY

PACKED SAND BAGS ON LEVEES ALL NIGHT

To Prevent the City Being Engulfed By Flood.—River is Above the Ohio Levees.—Rains Increased the Danger.—The Flood Situation Generally, However, is Improving.

Cairo, Ill., April 4.—Hundreds worked frantically packing sand bags on levees all night last night to prevent the city from being engulfed by the flood. The river is above the Ohio levees. Rains during the night increased the dangers. Provisions are low at Shawneetown. At Paducah, Ky., water is creeping to the center of the retail district.

Says Ohio Disaster Could Not Be Helped.

Chief hydrographer at Washington, has just given it as his opinion that no human agency could have averted the loss of life and damage caused by the Ohio floods. Most of the floods came from the breaking of reservoirs. He said that no reservoirs could be built to hold the strain which came upon those in Ohio through the heavy rains of the past two weeks. It would be impossible to build reservoirs to stand such a strain, and if the old reservoirs were rebuilt Ohio will be in danger of a repetition of the disaster.

85 Dead Recovered in Columbus.

Columbus, Ohio, April 4.—The bodies of eighty-five dead have been recovered. It appears that the list will reach 100. Senator Burton promises prompt action of Congress for flood prevention.

Flood Conditions Generally Improving.

Washington, April 4.—Despatches received at the War Department say that the flood conditions generally are improving except in Illinois. At Cattleburg, Ky., the sanitation is reported bad and the people suffering.

Appeal Refused Because Words "For God's Sake" Were Used.

London, April 4.—Because the mother of Miss Zolie Emerson, American suffragette imprisoned for militancy, wrote the words, "For God's Sake" in her appeal to the British Home Secretary for the release of her daughter, the Secretary was offended, and refused to answer her appeal.

Packing Combine Preparing to Retaliate.

Washington, April 4.—It is reported here that the packing combine is planning to absorb the supposed savings of the people by the Democrats giving them free meat by purchasing cattle in Argentine, shipping it here, and slaughtering at port.

A very common expression is "Jones has got pneumonia." A better way to say it would be, "Pneumonia has got Jones."
