IN A LENGTHY INTERVIEW TO DAY.

If Thaw Follows Writings of Chaloner He Will be Free—Should Come to Virginia, Where He Would be Declared Legally Sane.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 25.—Harry Thaw is sane. His lawyers, if they obtain their client's liberty should follow the advice contained in my book, "Lunacy Law of the World," now in the congressional library at Washington. John Armstrong Chaloner, himself now a fugitive from a New York asylum, made the above statement today in a lengthy interview. He denied that he had asked Thaw to come to Virginia, where he had been declared legally sane. "Thaw will elude liberty, if he follows my writings," Chaloner said.

Frank May Know His Fate Tomorrow

Atlanta, Aug. 25.—With Solicitor Hugh Dorsey still speaking, and the case not likely to go to the jury until late this afternoon, it begins to look as if it may be tomorrow before Leo M. Frank will know his fate.

Speeches on both sides were so long that Judge Roan was compelled to forego his hope of putting the case in the hands of the jury Saturday afternoon.

Hugh Dorsey has staked his reputation on the case. He has declared that he believes Frank guilty, and that no matter how this case turns out he will resign rather than prosecute the negro Conley.

CHIEF ROGER ON COCAINE.

Concord's Chief Declarer Cheap Liquor is Responsible for Many Crimes Attributed to the Use of Cocaine.

In speaking of the cocaine evil Chief Roger stated that in his opinion there were a number of crimes charged to cocaine that were due to other causes, chiefly to cheap liquor. In giving his observations, based upon a number of years of experience in dealing with the victims of both habits, Chief Roger did not discount the evils of the use of cocaine. "It is the cause of many serious offenses," said he, "and when a man is fired with the drug he is one of the most dangerous class of criminals the officers have to deal with. But I have observed men drunk on cheap liquor that were as equally as dangerous as men drunk on cocaine. I have also seen men drunk on cocaine and liquor also that were in the best of humor and seemed to get a strange delight out of the effects of either. I have also seen men converted into dangerous criminals by the use of either liquor or cocaine. My contention is that a man who will become dangerous by the use of cocaine will also become dangerous by the use of liquor. There is much talk about the use of cocaine that is exaggerated. I think it is encouraged by people who are against prohibition and contend that if liquor is prohibited that the use of cocaine will be increased."

Garrison, who refused Arnold's offer to testify.

Andy Berryhill Found Dead on Railroad.

Charlotte Observer, 25th. Andy Berryhill was found dead upon the tracks of the Southern Railroad, in North Charlotte yesterday morning about 2:30 o'clock. He was thought to have been killed by Southern train No. 43, though it is also possible that No. 35 struck him. He was found at some distance from the track on the engineer's side and being badly crushed on the right side and shoulder, it was evident that he had been struck by a train going South.

Mr. Berryhill's horse and wagon were found on the Salisbury Road some distance from the scene of the accident and the theory is that the animal wandered off there after being left by its owner. There is absolutely no way of knowing why Mr. Berryhill was upon the track, though it is thought he sat down to rest on the end of a cross-tie and went to sleep, and the engine failing to see him, the train struck him and killed him. There is no suspicion of foul play for the manner in which he was struck showed that Mr. Berryhill was in a sitting position when struck. His shoulder was crushed to a pulp and his thigh also knocked in.

Mr. Berryhill was not found until yesterday morning at an early hour, there is no doubt but that he was killed during the late hours Saturday night for the body was rigid when found and brought to the undertaking establishment.

Arms May Be Shipped To Huerta

Washington, Aug. 23.—President Wilson has granted permission for the exportation of 2,000 rifles and $50,000 cartridges to the Huerta government. All but 1,000 rifles which go to Vera Cruz from New Orleans will be shipped from El Paso via Juarez. Some of the latter already have gone.

Although it was the first permission granted since June 25, and many applications have been turned down, it was declared no change had been made in the government's policy and officials pointed out that the neutrality proclamation permitted the President to authorize shipments in his discretion.

Unofficially it is said the United States is not opposed to having the Huerta garrison at Juarez well armed, to discourage attack and a battle on the border with its consequent complications. Neither is this government opposed to seeing the line of communication between Vera Cruz and Mexico City kept open as an avenue of egress for foreigners in Mexico City.

No general shipments will be permitted.

To Investigate Murder of Missionary

Constantinople, Aug. 25.—Lewis Heck, acting vice consular, has been ordered by the United States embassy to go to American and investigate the murder of Rev. Charles Holbrook, of Lynn Mass., an American missionary. Two Turks shot him where he was asleep in a garden.

A Vocal Similarity.

Youngtown Telegram. A little miss who lives in the country was much overjoyed recently when a baby sister arrived at her home.

A neighbor meeting the little girl a day or so later, inquired: "Did the stork bring a baby to your house the other night?" "No," replied the little miss, "when I first heard it I thought it was a goose, but when I looked out of the window I found it was an automobile."

PRESIDENT WILL CONFER WITH COMMITTEE

CONFERENCE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS TONIGHT.

Mr. Lind Will Remain in Mexico Until All Hope of Success in His Mission is Gone—No Ultimatum Made to Huerta—Undecided as to Further Course.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The President has invited the House and Senate foreign affairs committees to confer with him on his mission tonight. He told all callers today that Lind would remain in Mexico until all hope of success of his mission was gone. No ultimatum has been made to Huerta, but negotiations are considered closed now and will only be reopened on Huerta's request. The President has not decided yet whether to make any recommendations in his message as to future course of actions.

Washington, Aug. 25.—If Huerta backs down in his present position President Wilson will not deliver his promised message to Congress tomorrow. While the officials denied that he was thus holding a bluff over Huerta, it is known that this has been made plain to Huerta.

SUBLIME PORTE OLING TO ADRIANOPLE.

Also Kirk Killiseh, But is Willing to Make Concessions in Other Quarters.

London, Aug. 25.—The sublime porte has opened direct negotiations with the Bulgarian delegate M. Nochevitch, who has remained in Constantinople since he went there at the outbreak of the second war to negotiate an understanding with Turkey. It is understood that the porte remains firm with regard to Adrianople and Kirk Killiseh, but is prepared to make concessions in other quarters. Pierre Loti, the French writer, under Constantinople date, sends a vivid story of his impressions on visiting Adrianople and the surrounding district. Loti says: "The Bulgarians have made of Thrace a desert surpassing in abomination everything I had been told and all that I had imagined. With what fury have these Christian liberators worked in order to accomplish so much destruction in a few months!"

He describes orgies and massacres and violation and desecration in all the Turkish villages, and asserts that Adrianople itself only escaped by a miracle because the Turks arrived a day earlier than was expected and so defeated the Bulgarian plans for a similar massacre there.

M. Loti confirms the story of several thousand Turkish pioneers being herded on an island and there allowed to starve to death by the Bulgarians, those who survived starvation being massacred, and protests in the strongest terms against Europe permitting Adrianople to be handed back to Bulgaria. He says to do so would be a crime and expresses the belief that the Russians have been misled and that when they know all the monstrous truth they will realize that to take up the cause "of this small, deceitful, and ferocious Slav family, would be to soil their history with an indelible stain."

Yours very truly,
H. M. FITZGERALD.

Scottsville, Va., Aug. 24.—Richard W. Harrison, telegraph operator in the Chesapeake & Ohio railway station here was shot and instantly killed while on duty early today. The train sheets showed that he had copied a train order at 2:23 a. m., and at 3 o'clock when a freight conductor went to the office he found Harrison lying on the floor dead with an automatic revolver in his hand. The bullet entered the right shoulder and glanced downward and there was nothing to indicate that the weapon had been discharged, especially when no empty shell could be found. Nothing in the office was stolen.

He was rushed to a hospital for treatment and lost considerable blood. Hess is being held for a hearing.

FLAG NOT RETURNED.

Report That Part of Famous Flag Was Returned is an Error.

Capt. Chas. McDonald received yesterday the following letter in relation to the part of the battle flag of the 20th N. C. Regiment, captured at the battle of Gettysburg. Mr. Ervin referred to in the letter was a lieutenant of Co. A, (Cabarrus Guards) and is a native of this county, but now lives in Durham. Mr. Fitzgerald belonged to the 97th N. Y. Regiment, which regiment confronted the 20th at that battle. The brigade (Iverson's) was badly torn to pieces in the final day's fight and ceased to be an independent brigade for several months, being attached to Gen. Ransom's brigade. When finally recruited to its normal strength it was recomanded for the rest of the war by Gen. R. D. Johnson of the 23d Regiment. Mr. Fitzgerald's letter is as follows:

Chicago, August 21, 1913.

Mr. Charles McDonald:

Your very welcome favor of the 12th is at hand and with pleasure I hasten to answer it. I found it in the reason I have not answered sooner. I have not received a letter from our friend, Mrs. John D. Ervin. I have his address and the reason I have not written to him is because I am waiting patiently to hear from the people I wrote to for the address of Charles Wheelock's family or some one of them who may be living, as our Col. Chas. Wheelock and wife died many years ago, and the old Colonel had four or five boys and girls, and as I have written two letters to parties to find out, if possible which one of the old Colonel's children have the part of your battle flag, as a man in my regiment got the flag and gave it to our old Colonel and he took it home with him, I think some one of the old Colonel's children have it and I will try my very best to return it to you or yours. They are living in the State of New York and I am writing there to people whom I know, near where I was raised, to find out where the Wheelock family are so I may write direct to them. I have written two letters, but have only got an answer from one, yet I know of two more persons down in the State of New York to write to. I will do all in my power to get that missing part of your battle flag. If I can find out who the right one is to write to, I will be only too glad to do all I can for you to get it. I never enjoyed myself better in my life than I did at Gettysburg reunion or 50th anniversary. I think it one of the grandest affairs which has ever taken place in our country to unite us as brothers in union for one country and for one flag. I think it a God's blessing to have such reunion among two such great opposing armies on the greatest and bloodiest field of battle that was ever known in history. There is no other nation on earth that ever did the like or will have such a reunion after fifty years. As soon as I hear from or about your battle flag I will write you.

Yours very truly,
H. M. FITZGERALD.

How Tuberculosis Spread.

Buffalo, Aug. 25.—Air-borne "driplets" are the principal factors in the spread of tuberculosis, according to Professor Edward C. Jordan, of the University of Chicago, who was the first speaker today at the opening sessions of the Fourth International Congress on School Hygiene, which will continue in session through the week. President emeritus Charles W. Eliot, of Harvard, president of the Congress, called the great meeting to order today. More than three hundred of the most noted educators and health workers in the world are scheduled to address the delegates who represent every State in the Union, and the leading nations of the world. Every well known educational institution in the Americas is represented officially and hundreds of cities in Canada and the United States likewise are represented by formally accepted delegates. Professor Jordan's declaration that "air-borne driplets" are the chief cause of dissemination of tuberculosis came in his address entitled, "Disease Carriers Among School Children." He pointed out that the gathering together of children in schools must necessarily play a large part in the dissemination of diseases and especially those to which the young are subject.

Railroad Values Increasing in Georgia

Atlanta, Aug. 25.—When the special committee appointed by the legislature meets to take up the Western & Atlantic Railroad question, it will have some interesting new figures before it. Larger gains over the year previous are shown in the gross and net earnings of the road. The gain in gross earnings is over $270,000. The gross earnings per mile of the Western & Atlantic are nearly three times as much as the Southern, the Central and the Coast Line. It is indicated by all the comparative figures that the State's property is growing yearly more valuable. All these figures will be submitted in detail to the joint committee of which Representative Bary Wright, of Floyd, is chairman.

Committee Will Report to the Next Session of the Legislature.

This committee will report to the next session of the legislature.

FRIEND OF THE SOUTH

IN WASHINGTON.

In the Person of Hon. W. J. Harris of Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., August 25.—That the farmers and country bankers of the South have a valuable friend in Washington in the person of the new director of the U. S. census, Hon. W. J. Harris, of Georgia, has just been shown in a striking way. When the national treasury decided to send money to the South to help move the cotton crop, Director Harris, whose life in Georgia made him intimately familiar with Southern conditions, called on Treasurer McAdoo and urged that the banks in the smaller towns be supplied with a good share of the funds. Senator Harris took along with him a list of the towns and villages in Georgia and other cotton States, showing the population of each. The census department not only furnished the treasury that information, but it also had statistics galore showing the amount of cotton ginned and handled in each little community.

Treasurer McAdoo assured Mr. Harris that the money would be shipped to the banks in the larger cities with the distinct understanding that they must let the country banks have all the money needed to supply their wants. Senator Harris had both argument and statistics in hand to prove the reasonableness of his point. A thing that stood him in good stead was the knowledge he had gained all over the State in handling for several years the activities of several hundred agents of the fire insurance company of which he is president. One million and eight hundred thousand dollars will be distributed among the banks of Georgia alone. The importance of this distribution is tremendous and the administration has been highly commended on all sides.

Senator Harris, who is now in Atlanta, returns to Washington tomorrow. While in Georgia he paid a flying visit to Rome and Cedartown. He is in the best of health and was kept busy while in Atlanta shaking hands with his hundreds of friends.

Lesser Evil.

A certain island in the West Indies is liable to the periodical advent of earthquakes. One year before the season of the periodical advent of the terrestrial disturbances, Mr. G., who lives in the danger zone, sent his two sons to the home of a brother in England to secure them from the impending havoc.

Evidently the quiet of the said English household was disturbed by the eruptions of the two West Indians, for the returning mail carried a message to Mr. G., brief but emphatic:

"Take back your boys; send me the earthquake."

WILL NOT CHANGE THE CURRENCY BILL

CONFERENCE IS NOT REPRESENTATIVE ONE

Says the President to Callers—Conference is Dominated by Big Banking Interests.—Bill as Adopted by Bankers Would Emaculate Measure.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The President told callers today that the resolutions for the amendment to the currency bill as adopted by Chicago bankers would emasculate the measure. He indicated that there would not be the slightest chance of any change in the measure. The President regards the conference as being dominated by banking interests and not representing the real sentiment among the entire banking interests.

FOREIGN PRESSURE ON HUERTA REGIME.

Great Britain, France and Japan Support The Efforts of Wilson.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Great Britain, France and Japan are among the nations which have interposed their influence upon the Huerta Administration in Mexico in support of the efforts of the United States to bring about a peaceful settlement of the revolution.

While the administration officials were silent today regarding this phase of the publication there was a lively interest manifest in diplomatic circles here as to the probable effect of foreign pressure on the Huerta government.

It was learned that the Mexican authorities hoped President Wilson would not read his message to Congress next Tuesday as he had planned, and showed a disposition to prolong the negotiations. Unless some tangible overtures, however, are received within 48 hours from the Huerta officials, indicating a desire to accept the fundamental proposals of the United States, the President will proclaim to Congress and the world the attitude of this government toward the Southern Republic.

The fact that diplomats from some of the very countries which not only have formally recognized Huerta, but whose bankers hitherto has floated loans for him are using their influence on the Mexican Administration is calculated to produce something definite shortly. Official reports to the Washington administration show the Huerta regime to be in desperate financial straits with little prospect of getting funds anywhere to meet the running expenses of the Government or pay its troops, already restive because of deferred payments.

So important is this aspect of the situation regarded that an air of tense expectancy prevailed tonight in official circles where it was believed some pronouncement would be forthcoming from Mexico City before President Wilson finally determined to communicate his message to Congress.

The insistence of the United States on a constitutional election and the elimination of Huerta was reiterated positively by administration officials—a position which Mr. Lind has been instructed to emphasize. Only concessions by the Huerta Government, it is believed here, now would persuade President Wilson to hold up the presentation of his message.
