News has been received here of the death of Dr. Franklin, which occurred several days ago at his home at Union Springs, Ala. Dr. Franklin had been a visitor to Concord on several occasions, visiting his daughter, Mrs. John M. Craven, formerly of this city, now of Birmingham, Ala.

It is reported that owing to the fact that there were several hundred visitors in town today—the usual Saturday throng—and scores of school children—the street sprinkler could not operate during the morning hours. There was a parade and if the street sprinkler had been in action during morning the parade could not have kicked up any dust, and what is a parade without dust? After all the people have departed and the town gets calm and quiet the sprinkler will probably be operated. The driver was possibly too busy looking over the big throng to run it this morning.

ROWAN BOY A WINNER.

J. L. Yost Member Victorious Roanoke College Debating Team.

Salisbury, Va., April 17.—Roanoke College won the silver loving cup here tonight in the intercollegiate debate with Randolph-Macon College. The question under discussion was: Resolved, That the United States should grant the Philippine Islands their independence within eight years.

D. L. Snyder, of Romney, W. Va., and W. S. Deyerie, of Singer, Va., represented Randolph-Macon College and took the affirmative. I. A. Harvey, of Floyd county, Va., and J. L. Yost, of Salisbury, N. C., represented Roanoke and took the negative.

Congressman Flood a Bridgroom.

Washington, D. C., April 18.—The first of the notable Easter weddings in the capital to take place in All Souls' Church this afternoon, when Miss A. V. Portner, a member of a prominent Virginia family, became the bride of Congressman Henry D. Flood of Virginia. On account of Mr. Flood's prominence in official life as chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the House, as well as the bride's long residence in Washington, the wedding was looked upon as one of the most notable events of the season.

DR. J. R. REITZEL, OF HIGH POINT, KILLED

Met Almost Instant Death When His Auto Turned Turtle in Greensboro.

Greensboro News, 18th.

Dr. J. R. Reitzel, a prominent physician of High Point, met almost instant death yesterday morning at 11 o'clock when his automobile turned turtle, pinning him beneath the car. The fatal accident occurred near the corner of Spring Garden and Dairy streets and came when the deceased was driving eastward at a rate of 15 miles an hour, and when he made an attempt to pass a team which had stopped in the middle of the street.

Miss Sallie Phillips, the only eyewitness of the fatal turn-over, spread the news of the wreck. Dr. S. B. Klapp and R. L. Sudduth were soon on the scene and after a few moments of hard lifting they managed to pull the injured physician from beneath the car. Others who were near rushed to the scene but they could be of no assistance. Dr. Reitzel passing away in a few minutes after his car turned over. He did not utter a word after the accident.

As he lay dying in the street, proceedings in Superior Court were suspended awaiting his arrival from High Point to testify in the case of Haynes vs. Southern Railway. He had attended the plaintiff, who was asking damages for personal injuries. In a few minutes after the court suspended news was brought to the court that the witness wanted was dead.

A rather striking incident happened in connection with the case. An attorney for the plaintiff had gone into the trial of the case with the statement that Doctor Reitzel was a witness, but would be in court by the time he was needed, "unless Providence intervened."
