MISS EDNA CORRELL WEDS MR. TELFAIR

WEDDING WAS SOLEMNIZED LAST EVENING AT 9 O'CLOCK

At Central Methodist Church in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends. Church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Misses Morrison and Mr. Benson render delightful musical programme. Bride and groom leave on wedding tour to Canada and other points of interest.

Central Methodist Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding last evening at 9 o'clock when Miss Edna Correll became the bride of Mr. George B. Telfair, of Pittsburg, Pa. For more than an hour before the appointed time for the ceremony the guests began to arrive and in a short time the church was filled with a large assemblage, a number of whom were out-of-town points. Preceding the ceremony Mr. R. P. Benson capably rendered an appropriate musical programme.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the altar, pulpit and aisles being covered in white. The choir railing was also in white and banked with ferns. Fringing the white decorations around the pulpit was trailing pine which was arranged with striking effect. On each side were pedestals upon which rested pretty collections of lilies and upon the post of the choir rail were handsome candelabras with numerous white candles. Just preceding the ceremony Misses Mary and Adeline Morrison, attired in white crepe and carrying white carnations, entered, and taking their places on the pulpit and just above where the wedding party stood, rendered, "Still As the Night." Just as the last soft note was sounded, they stepped back and took their places around the altar to act as bridesmaids and Mr. Benson rendered "Lobengrin's," which signified the entry of the bride party.

First to enter was the officiating minister, Rev. Harold Turner. Next came the ushers, Fred and Leslie Correll, brothers of the bride, and C. B. Waggoner and Harold Correll, of Spartanburg. The maid of honor, Miss Wilma Correll, wearing yellow crepe and carrying yellow Marguerites, then entered. The bride, wearing a handsome gown of broad-crepe satin and carrying sweet peas, entered from the right aisle with her father. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Dr. A. L. Krepps, of Pittsburg, who had previously entered from the Sunday school room, and the wedding vows were spoken.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Telfair left on their wedding tour, which will embrace visits to Washington, New York, Thousand Islands and points of interest in Canada. They will be away about three weeks after which time they will make their home in Pittsburg.

Miss Correll is the only daughter of Mr. E. F. Correll. Her pleasing personality and many noble qualities have endeared her to a wide circle of friends and she is quite a favorite in this, her native town. The groom holds a responsible position with a large Pittsburg concern and is held in high esteem and is a man of ability and worth.

CITIZENS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY

HARPER-STEWART

Miss Mamie Stewart became the bride of Mr. G. V. Harper this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A marriage that will be quite a surprise to the numerous friends of the young couple was solemnized this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. G. F. Stewart, of North Church street, when Miss Mamie Stewart became the bride of Mr. G. V. Harper, of Charlotte.

Although the marriage had been expected for some time no previous announcement had been made and so well did the young couple keep the date a secret that only a few of their most intimate friends were aware of the happy event. The marriage was a quiet one and was witnessed only by relatives and a few intimate friends of the young couple. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. T. Spethers, pastor of Forest Hill Methodist Church, of which the bride is a member. There were no attendants.

The marriage of Miss Stewart and Mr. Harper is the culmination of a romance that started in a newspaper office several years ago, when both were employed there, the groom in the circulation department and the bride as a stenographer. Miss Stewart returned to her home in Concord and continued her stenographic work at The Tribune office for over a year, and later at the office of the Kerr Bleasley. The courtship, however, continued to a happy culmination this afternoon.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. G. V. Stewart. She attended the Greensboro Female College and graduated in the business department there. She is popular with a large circle of friends here. The groom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and is connected with the circulation department of the Charlotte Observer and is held in high esteem by a wide acquaintance.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper will make their home in Charlotte.

COMMENCEMENT AT THE STATE UNIVERSITY

Address Today by Secretary of Commerce Redfield.

Chapel Hill, N. C., June 3.—The principal address for the commencement exercises today was by Hon. William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce in President Wilson's cabinet. "Thorough Thinking" was the theme and the view was taken that there are two kinds of thinking abroad in this country that differ broadly, one being "long distance" thinking and the other "local." One seeing things in relations to larger movements, extensive broad and large and the other localized, concentrated and small. He charged the young graduates that they had just been through mental training and were about to her the command "Go" in the race of life that stretches before them. The State has a certain right to expect results in their capacity to "think straight" and "think far," grasping and utilizing realities.

He declared that there was never a time when men are more needed in business and public life who can discern afar the path of truth and walk therein. The public atmosphere is, he said, full of the yelps and howls of the little thinkers. And one might almost ask in vain as to our public discussions "What is the Truth?" That which is a part is exalted if it were the whole and the large is lost in the to-do raised about the little, and the incidental is exaggerated in to the important.

MEETING OF STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE

North Carolina Crops of 1913 Largest in the History of the State.

Raleigh, N. C., June 3.—The State Board of Agriculture convened this afternoon in semi-annual session for a review of the work of the department and the mapping out of the work for the next six months and to set aside the financial budget for the work, aggregating generally from $80,000.00 to $90,000.00. The board this afternoon heard the report of Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham that proved most interesting. He declared that the North Carolina crops for 1913 were the largest in the history of the State and was several million dollars greater in value than any previous year for a year. It exceeded $260,000,000 an farm lands have climbed in tax value to $231,000,000. Farmers are in better condition in this state than ever before in the opinion of the commissioner. The work of the department of agriculture has progressed most satisfactorily.

A few minutes before the noon hour the veterans formed in line and marched into the building where the dinner awaited them. The repast was served by the daughters of the Confederacy and consisted of sandwiches, sliced beef, ham and pickles. Lemonade was also served.

After dinner the veterans spent some time on the court house lawn relating reminiscences, renewing friendships and enjoying the companionship of each other generally.

RETURN TO PEACE UP TO CARRANZA

RESULT OF OVER NIGHT MEDIATION DEVELOPMENTS

Confidence That Solution May Speedily Result Expressed. — Renewed Pressure Brought by Administration Officials on Constitutionalists to Consent to Armistice Until Mediation is Tried a Few Days Longer.

Washington, June 3.—Return to peace is "up to" Carranza. This is the position of officials here as a result of over night mediation developments at Niagara Falls. Confidence that a solution will speedily result to the constitutionalists as a result of Huerta's notice to the A. B. C. mediators that he stands ready to resign upon "political pacification" is generally expressed. Renewed pressure has been brought by administration officials on the constitutionalists to consent to an armistice until mediation is tried a few days longer.

Mediation is progressing satisfactorily," Secretary Bryan said. He also indicated that adjournment is in sight.

BLANQUET TO DEPORT HUERTA?

It Is Said That He Has Gained Almost Complete Control of Huerta's Government.

Torreon, Mexico, June 3.—Colonel Perez, escaped from Mexico City, reports that General Blanquet, Huerta's Minister of War, has gained almost complete control of Huerta's government. He will probably deport Huerta and assume the dictatorship himself. Colonel Perez says that when Saltillo fell he captured papers that involved Leon de la Barra, former ambassador to the United States, in the Diaz-Huerta conspiracy, which resulted in the overthrow of Madero. He intends to make the papers public. He shows that Barra counselled Huerta not to salute the American flag at Tampico.

Edward K. Graham is Elected President of State University.

Chapel Hill, June 2.—Edward Kildner Graham was unanimously elected president of the University of North Carolina tonight by the trustees. The nomination was made by Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels. Instantly a dozen rose to second it. The choice was by rising vote.

By resolution the Francis P. Venable chair of chemistry was created to which Dr. Venable was elected. Regrets were expressed at ill health which caused his resignation.

Mr. Graham was born in Charlotte in 1876, educated in the Charlotte city schools and graduated from the university in 1898. He was librarian of the university 1898 and 1899. He secured his A. M. from Columbia in 1904 and studied there in 1904 and 1905. He became associate professor of English at the university in 1905 and professor of English in 1909. The past year he served as acting president.

Baraca-Philathea Union to Meet

The Baraca-Philathea City Union will hold its next meeting in the Methodist Protestant Church tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock. A very interesting programme has been arranged for the meeting; and it is believed that a large crowd will be in attendance. Watch for the program in tomorrow's paper.

The purpose of this city union is to effect a closer feeling of brotherly love and fellowship among the classes; to strengthen the classes by keeping in close touch with them, and by exchanging helpful suggestions and ideas at the regular meetings.

From nearly all classes that have joined themselves to the union, come reports of increased enthusiasm, and a growth in membership. This proves beyond doubt that the union is doing good work, and thereby accomplishing the purpose for which it was organized.

Flogging of Convicts is Authorized.

Salisbury, June 2.—The Rowan county commissioners have by an order passed at a meeting held this week authorized and empowered the superintendent of the convict force "to inflict such reasonable corporal punishment upon the convicts as will secure a compliance with the orders of the superintendent." This order was given as a protection to the superintendent in the securing of discipline and was considered necessary because of a recent ruling of the supreme court.

Fou is Renominated.

Raleigh, June 3.—The fourth congressional convention this afternoon renominated Edward W. Fou for Congress without opposition. It endorsed the State and national administrations.

Major E. H. Vance, a son of the late Gov. Vance, and Miss Mary Hendren, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Hendren, of Newbern, will be married on the 11th.

THE RIKER BILL

Cabarrus County Citizens, Who Has Visited Mississippi Delta, Writes of Plan to Control the Overflow of the River.

Mr. Editor: For one time I will try to write about something I know very little. But I will give my opinion, which is worth about as much as a lot of others who are expressing their views on the same subject.

It is the Riker plan of controlling the overflow of the Mississippi river, and the building of fourteen dams on the river between Memphis and New Orleans. Now, the building of the dam is for a two-fold purpose—maintaining a deep waterway for large vessels and generating electricity to light the whole delta country, and run machinery of every kind in the delta vicinity. That is, except flying machines, which, I believe, are not mentioned.

Now, the United States does big things. Think of the Panama Canal, which I suppose is one of the largest undertakings of modern times. But that is child's play compared to the Mississippi proposition.

So far as the overflow is concerned the plan of Mr. Riker is practical and can be accomplished satisfactorily. The plan is to condemn a strip of land ten miles wide from the Gulf of Mexico to some point above Memphis, through the lowest part of the bottom, and clear it of all obstructions and cut the canal on both sides 500 feet wide, placing the dirt on the outside and turning the overflow in. That will solve the overflow problem for a long time. For the present levees are on the highest part of the bottom and not near so high as the one constructed by the Riker plan would be.

The construction of the fourteen dams, however, is another proposition. To build them would require the skill of the combined world. I believe Mr. Dyer's plan is for the President to appoint seven of the ablest engineers to be had to consider the plan and determine whether it would be practical.

New Orleans has an altitude of 14 feet and Memphis 274 feet above the sea level. That leaves 260 feet to be divided between the 14 dams, which is 18 4/7 feet to the dam.

They will have to be five miles long and go down below the bottom of the river at least 100 feet and possibly more. The locks required for large vessels will have to be just as substantial as they have quicksand bottom to stand on. Such a volume of water has never been penned up by man and I doubt if it ever will be.

Suppose there is a freshet and the spillway is filled up and the upper dam would give way. That would break every dam below and wash New Orleans into the Gulf of Mexico, besides covering every part of the delta on the side of the river. The delta between Memphis and Vicksburg is the most improved part. There are about 10 counties between the Mississippi and the Yazoo rivers and their tributaries that would be partly or entirely covered with water.

There are quite a number of nice cities that would be at the mercy of the water. Then all the vast amount of lowlands south of Vicksburg and on the east side of the Mississippi would be covered with water, destroying thousands of lives and millions of property.
