RAILROAD SCHEDULE Effective Sunday, November 25, 1917. Table with columns for Northbound and Southbound times.

MONDAY, JANUARY 11, 1918.

The immigration bill which passed the House of Representatives last spring by a two to one vote, 252 against 126, has passed the United States Senate by the overwhelming vote of 50 against 7. The bill is now in conference and it will be presented to the President for his signature in a few days.

The President's address made at Indianapolis last week was indeed refreshing. There was no studied rhetoric, no "rounded periods," but a presentation of views in language that everybody can understand.

It begins to look as if the people who have been eating biscuits for a long time will have to come down to corn pone. It is now predicted that wheat will go to two dollars a bushel.

MODERN HOMES SCORED

Sundry Declares Silly Mothers And Fathers Ruin Children. Philadelphia, Jan. 9.—Fifty thousand men and women heard and 30,000 were tried but failed to hear Billy Sunday today declare that silly mothers, indifferent fathers and irreligious conditions generally in present day American homes were breeding millions of boy drunks and ruined girls every year.

More than 200,000 persons thus far have listened to the sky-rocket evangelist deliver his scathing denunciations of the devil during the first five days of his campaign in this city.

"Glorious to God!" screamed an old woman, jumping to her feet, as Sunday delivered his attack on the family life.

"Just a minute, sister," shouted back the evangelist. "Hold your squarer back a little and save gasoline."

"Our national life will never rise higher than our home life," he said, as he launched forth into his sermon on "Home, Sweet Home."

"You women can make a heaven of a home or a hell of a home. Don't turn your old galling-gun tongue loose and rip up your husband and everybody else and send them out of their homes."

"If a boy will not obey his father and mother he will not obey the social laws. It is from such that anarchists, nihilists, bomb-throwers and outlaws are made."

"You mothers ought to fit yourselves to be intellectual companions of your children. Make companions of your children instead of letting the saloon get them."

"When I get to heaven," said a woman to her Baconian husband, "I am going to ask Shakespeare if he wrote those plays."

MYSTERIOUS DEATH IN NORWOOD FRIDAY

Rosa Turner is Found Dead in Well By Negro Husband Who is Held By the Coroner.

Norwood, Dec. 9.—Last night about 6:20 screams were heard from the direction of the house where Julie Turner, a negro, lived, with his wife, Rosa. The place was in darkness. Those who heard the screams made no investigation.

This morning Julie went to a neighbor and borrowed a windlass, to clean out his well. Later he went to the same neighbor and said: "I got to tell you some bad news. I found Rosa in the well."

This neighbor notified Police Chief W. G. Smith, who summoned the coroner from Albemarle. The latter arrived late this afternoon, and conducted an inquest. Blood was found on stones between the back door and the well, and a bloody axe handle was found near the well.

The finding of the jury was to the effect that the woman had been placed in the well by Turner, and he was held in default of a bond of $1,000. The affair has caused much excitement, as it is the first of the sort in the history of the town, and both negroes were well known, having been born and reared here.

Child Labor on the Farm. Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 8.—The farmer who makes his children get out of bed before daylight and do hard work about the farm and keeps them out of school so they may do more work as great or a worse offender against child labor laws as the mill owner who employs children, according to Prof. E. C. Merry, superintendent of the Fulton county schools and chairman of the county's special child labor commission.

"I have seen country children come to school so worn out from work at home that the teachers let them go to sleep at their desks purely out of pity," said Mr. Merry. "I have become convinced that the farmer is as great an offender against the spirit of the child labor law as any mill owner."

Farming Out State Convicts Must End Says Henry A. Page.

Raleigh, Jan. 9.—Henry A. Page, of Moore county, took five shots at the State convict question today and presented bills in the house that will make impossible the exchange of prison labor for ditches through high grounds and fills in low lands.

Mr. Page offered just five of these bills which will repeal the sections of the 1909 and 1907 acts farming out convicts for the Mattamuskeet, the Elkin and Alleghany, the Statesville Air Line, the Transcontinental and other roads. It is not understood by the general assembly that all of these projects are of equal riskiness as concerns the State's stock, and moreover, some of them are said to be quite promising. But Mr. Page wants the State to get the money for this convict hire. That is all.

Told of a Young Man.

China Grove Record. Did you ever walk three miles with your girl from a Christmas exercise over frozen roads? Well, when he arrived at the home of his lover and was asked in, he thanks her, bids her good night and departed through the woods, making his way towards home and arriving in time for breakfast. In a day or two this young man had corns on his heels. A good cure for the heel disease would be to make the trip now.

COTTON REACHES NEW HIGH LEVEL FOR SEASON

This Week Promises More Activity, as Prices Now Permit of Two-Sided Market.

New Orleans, Jan. 10.—General buying last week put the price of cotton up to new high levels for the season, the market closing 36 to 33 points over the previous week's close. Considerable realizing was done by longs. Bears met advances by fresh offerings of short cotton and some little hedging was done by Southern spot holders.

The export movement was on the heaviest scale of the season, with clearing for January promising to exceed those of January last year.

Child Labor on the Farm. Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 8.—The farmer who makes his children get out of bed before daylight and do hard work about the farm and keeps them out of school so they may do more work as great or a worse offender against child labor laws as the mill owner who employs children, according to Prof. E. C. Merry, superintendent of the Fulton county schools and chairman of the county's special child labor commission.

"I have seen country children come to school so worn out from work at home that the teachers let them go to sleep at their desks purely out of pity," said Mr. Merry. "I have become convinced that the farmer is as great an offender against the spirit of the child labor law as any mill owner."

Soldier Wounded in Peculiar Manner.

London, Jan. 9.—The Reuter correspondent in Amsterdam sends the following story told by a wounded German soldier: "From one of the trenches, I aimed at my adversary, 70 yards away. It was an easy shot, and I was sure of success. I was just pulling the trigger. My aim was clear, my bullet could not fail."

Want to Repeal Calf-Slaughtering Act.

Raleigh, Jan. 9.—The introduction of a bill repealing an act applying to Rowan county relating to the slaughter of calves, by Representative Brown today, is understood to move toward a statewide law against the killing of veals.

WHAT WILL RELIEVE STOMACH TROUBLE

A Hard Question—But This Retired Ohio Farmer Answers R.—Mr. Matteson's Statements Are Reliable.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"I suffered from nervous dyspepsia and stomach trouble so that large lumps would seem to come up in my throat, and would get so dizzy I could not stand up or even see. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to help me until one day my druggist told me about Vinol. I tried it and soon noticed an improvement and now I am well."

Vinol seldom fails to strengthen and tone up the tired, overtaxed and weakened nerves of the digestive organs and remove the cause of indigestion and soon enables the sufferer to digest with ease the foods that once caused distress.

LADY SHOCKED BY CURRENT.

Electric Hair Dryer Knocks Davidson Woman Unconscious. Davidson, Jan. 9.—Mrs. M. G. Fulton was the victim last night of what looked at first to be a very serious accident, in the way of a shock by an electric current. Before retiring for the night she undertook to use a new electric hair dryer. For some reason the apparatus did not work properly and she sustained a severe shock, under which she fell to the floor. Her scream, as she fell, brought Professor Fulton quickly upstairs to see what was the trouble.

THE JUDICIARY.

Legislature and executive are means given to allow the people to do what they please under certain constitutional forms. The judiciary is a means given to prevent the people from doing what they please. How can we explain the fact that these judicial restrictions are of the very essence of freedom? I answer, because the law of the United States, as defined and administered by its courts, represents not only restraint, but self-restraint, and the kind of self-restraint which the nation must be prepared to exercise if it hopes permanently to enjoy the advantages of political freedom.
