A two-reel picture, "The Gambler," featuring Harold Lockwood, will be run at the Theatorium today. Also a two reel Centaur feature with Margaret Gibson and the Boston wild animals.

"The Island of Regeneration," in six parts at the Marsh today is a great picture. Don't miss it. Tomorrow another big six-reel play will be given, "The Eagle's Nest." Both of these pictures are features, and it will be worth your while to see them.

During the 1914 and 1915 Chautauqua seasons the American Male Quartet, which is to appear here on the lyceum course next Thursday night, appeared in 150 towns and cities of from 500 to 100,000 population. That they met with popular approval is shown by scores of enthusiastic press comments received at the Redpath offices. In Youngstown, Springfield, Mansfield and other Ohio cities where the quartet appeared during the summer of 1915, audiences were so insistent that in many cases the program was prolonged to meet the demand.

WHICH IS METHODIST MOTHER

Church to Settle Claims of New York City and Maryland. New York World.

The question whether the old John Street Methodist Church, formerly the Wesley Chapel, founded in 1760 by Philip Embury, is "the mother of Methodism," is causing a bitter controversy among Methodists throughout the country.

The Rev. William V. Kelley, editor of the Methodist Review; Dr. J. S. Chadwick and Dr. H. K. Carroll, who represent the Federal Council of Churches at Washington, have resigned from a commission appointed to determine whether Robert Strawbridge founded the Wesleyan church in Frederick county, Maryland, before the John Street church was established. They charged that Methodist North Bishops on the commission took action before the body had deliberated.

At the coming Saratoga General Conference an effort will be made to settle the dispute in such fashion that the plans for country-wide unity may not be disrupted.

Warning Passengers.

People who insist on standing on the platforms of moving passenger cars place in jeopardy their own lives and the lives of others. It is the intention of the Pennsylvania Railroad to put a stop to this practice, if possible. The officers of the Pennsylvania railroad have gone to the point of writing a letter to the general managers and superintendents of the various industries around Pittsburg, requesting them to post notices in their factories, warning employees of the danger of standing on the platforms of moving cars.

"Who Will Be the First to Meet Willard?" asks a headline. Somebody can have our proxy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE WIFE POISONER TO HANG.

Patent Automatic Hanging Machine Is to Be Used.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 15.—A patent automatic hanging machine that never fails will be used in the execution of Oscar J. Comery, the Manchester man who poisoned his wife. The execution will take place in the Concord State Prison on Friday morning. It will be the first hanging in the State for 23 years.

Hundreds of people have applied for tickets to the execution, and a wave of morbid curiosity has swept the State. Sheriff Stearns has decided to limit the number of spectators to the legal number of a dozen. A millionaire has indicated that he would pay handsomely for a ticket. The sheriff has received letters from some who are even anxious to spring the trap. Others have actually offered to pay for the privilege of being allowed to take part in the execution. The sheriff says he has almost lost faith in humanity.

As the day of execution draws near, there is no hope for a reprieve for the condemned man. Comery was found guilty of one of the most cold-hearted murders that ever occurred in the State. Governor Roland H. Spaulding has said that he will not interfere, the Council having voted down a pardon.

Comery's crime was uncovered by a minister, the Rev. Emile J. Parisoul, pastor of St. Jean Methodist Episcopal Church of Manchester. Comery, who is about 35, worked around garages. His wife, who attended St. Jean's Church, was taken suddenly ill one night and died. The funeral was held November 20, 1914, and Comery's haste in making the arrangements aroused the suspicions of the minister, who knew considerable of the Comery family affairs.

Letters were found which caused him to investigate the relations existing between Comery and a young school girl. Confronted with the facts, Comery finally confessed to the clergyman that he was responsible for the girl's condition and had decided to kill his wife that he might marry her.

The body of the dead wife was exhumed, and in the stomach was found enough strychnine to have killed a dozen people. Comery was arrested and tried for murder. Comery's lawyers put up a hard fight, but his guilt was obvious. He had purchased strychnine to "kill a dog." The jury imposed the death penalty upon Comery.

Comery has made one attempt at suicide, and he is being closely kept during his final week in prison. Comery cut his throat while awaiting trial in the Manchester jail, and for weeks he lay between life and death. He recovered only to face the verdict that he must die for his crime.

DON'T WASTE POWDER; WAR HAS JUST BEGUN.

That Injunction is Marked on All Boxes of Ammunition Served to Russians.

Milan, Italy, Feb. 14.—All boxes of ammunition being dealt out to Russian soldiers now are marked: "Don't waste your ammunition; the war is only just beginning."

Posted in every public building in Russia, from railway station to restaurant, are notices reading: "Speaking German is strictly forbidden."

The penalty for violating this rule may be three months' imprisonment.

The British Foreign Office has issued instructions to all British Consular officers in allied as well as neutral countries to see whether British subjects within their districts are associating with persons of belligerent nationalities. Offenders are to be warned once; if they persist in associating or even talking with an enemy either in a business or social way their British passports will be cancelled.

The regulation, already being enforced applies chiefly to British subjects in neutral countries and to those doubtful ones who have become naturalized subjects of King George while preserving their German, Austrian and Turkish sympathies. In Switzerland, Sweden and Holland, the regulation has already borne fruit, many so-called Britons who are Germans in disguise, having received warning.

Medicine for Stricken Jews on U. S. Collier.

New York, Feb. 15.—The first of a series of great shipments of medicines, food and raiment for the unfortunate Jews of Europe and Asia starts today for the Mediterranean on a United States collier. An immense fund has been raised in America for the Jewish sufferers, and Uncle Sam has consented to aid in overcoming the difficulties of transportation of the relief shipments. The first consignment consists mostly of medicines, for the most pressing need is to relieve the distress caused by shortage of the most necessary medicines and to check the plague of malaria in Palestine. The American Jewish Relief Committee is handling the problem, and with the backing of its big fund and the sympathy of America, the prospect is considered good for effective and thorough aid.

WESTERN STANLY.
