(By The Associated Press) London, April 29,-Although the still without authentic information as to the progress of later events.

Normal telegraph, telephone and mail service with Ireland have not been restored and the existing means strict censorship that it is possible to obtain only fragmentary informstion. Such news dispatches that come through this morning added little to last night's official advices and storice of eye witnesses. So far as official reports show the situation in Dublin is gradually being brought under control. The most important recent news that the rebels have been driven out of Stephen Green with bombs, sustaining heavy losses in killed and wounded, and prisoners, has not yet been confirmed officially. There seems to be no doubt, however, that the rebels still control various parts of Dublin and that street fighting with a lengthening list of casualties already will exceed 100.

Of the situation outside of Dublin little is known beyond the official admission that the disaffection has spread to Vrakis localities, in the west and south of Ireland. Field Marshal French's statement of last night describes the disturbances as local in character, and so far as has been revealed by information which has bassed the censorship, they have not been attended by heavy fighting.

SUBJECT LAST NIGHT

ON ONE SIDE OR OTHER.

of the Line With the Saved or on the Side of the Line With the Unsaved .- Few Very Bad Criminals vout Christians.-The Great Majority Stand Just as Close to the Stand.-Much Interest is Mani-

Last evening Mr. Abernethy read a Scripture lesson from the third chapter of St. John and selected as his text a part of the seventeenth and eighteenth verses of second Corinthians:

"Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and I will receive you.

"And I will be a Father unto you and ye shall be my sons and daughters, snith the Lord Almighty.'

saved from the unsaved. Every human being is on one side or the other. The act that transforms a person from one side to the other is regeneration. It is a change of mind, of heart and of life. The soul's freedom from sin, the supreme desire in God's church. All other Christian elements cluster in the northwest, threatening a furtharound it. No one enters the kingdom except by the spirit.

Mr. Abernethy eloquently presented the regenerative processes by prices, which ranged one quarter to which a man comes into a new life, a spiritual life by which his soul re- 5-8 to 7-8 and July at 115 1-4 to 1-2. ceives a new affinity by which life were followed by extensive additions made larger, more radiant, more al gains.

useful, more powerful. Continuing, Mr. Abernethy declared there was no substitute for consecration. We may give money, we may give time but God cannot use us unless we are consecrated. We may sing, we may lead meetings and we may de great things in the visible church but God cannot use us unless our lives are dedicated to God. He not only wants surrendered sinners out he wants surrendered saints.

When is a man consecrated? Some are consecrated at the time they cross the line. They not only surrender sin and believe but surrender theuselves. Others go weeks, and years and finally surrender themselves, saying, thou has been my Saviour, now thou art not only my Saviour but my Lord. Many take this step in a meeting like this. Therefore we must pray We must pray as a hungry child prays for bread. We must pray as a girl in a burning building prays for nelp. We must pray as a boy overboard crys for a life line. We must pray as a mother prays for a lost child. We must pray as a man seeks a lost fortune. And we must wait. We must wait as an effectionate wife waits for the return of her busband from abroad. We must wait as a mother waits for her son at midnight. We must wait as a merchant waits for his richly laden ship. We must wait as Wellington waited for victory at Waterloo. We must wait as a monarch waits for news of battle upon which his empire hangs. We must wait as Columbus waited for the sight of land. And we must remember that no one ever crosses the line until he surrenders himself and believes.

I have said, continued Mr. Abernethy, what I have said in order that I might say what follows. Look at the line. Here it is around the world. The human family is divided up. Here on this side of the line are saved. Over there the unsaved. And a great, remarkable thing is that, a great majority on both sides are just as near the line as they can be. There is nothing more striking, more significant than the fact that millions of the unsaved are just as near the line as they can be. There are very few really bad men. In fact there are only 127,000 murderers, yeggmen and other, classes of criminals in the prisons of the United States, while there are about 100,000,000 against whom the government has no charge. There are only a few, very few, Godless, helpless wretches.

On the other hand look beyond the line and see the men and women who have dedicated their lives to God. There is not a great crowd of them. Then look on the other side of the line, near the line in fact. There is a great crowd. They are respectable and you feel safe with them. They are moral, they are truthful and they are faithful as citizens, but they are not saved. They have not been born again. The truth of the matter is that they are just where Satan wants them to be. If you think he wants them in that crowd of murderers and yeggmen you are mistaken. Satan is an agent of light and does not want them degenerated. Mr. Abernethy spoke of one, whom he termed the nost powerful agent of Satan-a mar who preaches twice each Sunday and whose words are given more eirsula-tion through a publicity system than those of any other minister and whose labors as a whole were doing more generation than all the skeptics that ever lived. Yet that's the kind of man Satan wants. Indeed he wants the well dressed man who can walk down the receiving line where carpets spring, diamonds glisten and rubies burn. Yes, Satan wants the man who can lead the silk hat brigade.

Referring to the man who is just ross the line. Mr. Abernethy declar ed that such a man was not growing in life, was not growing in spirit but was just in a state of protracted infancy. But this is where the large majority stand or sit. If you want some one in that crowd to go out and talk about God and about the church they can't go. They are not prepared to talk about God. There are nothers in that crowd who never talk to their children about spiritual life. There are fathers in that crowd who never pray for their children's salvation. What is the result. They will go back across that unsaved line as sure as there is a God if they won' go out into a large life of liberty and a life of nower.

What do you say to get such a man back to the front of the line on the unsaved line. Do you just go over and tell him to come. No. He is the says I am truthful, I have moral rity, why men across the line and not do. Yet you go to a poor drunkard and you do not talk to him five or about two to three points net minutes before he admits he is a sin- higher. ner and begs you to pray for him. The same is true of the eard playing, dancing theatre-going society women, They are cultured, they are beautiful, radiant and rare. But can you get them over the line? You cannot. They care nothing about your prayers of your God.

Illustrating the power of a regener ated, reborn, spiritual life, Mr. Abernethy pictured Jerry McAuley, feared New York criminal, told of his blood red career of crime and battle against humanity and then of how, standing behind the bars of a New York prison cell, he vowed allegiance to Christ.
