

6,000 SOLDIERS

Met Them Last Wednesday on Their Way From the Front to Petrograd When 23 Miles From the City.

MINISTERS ARE TO BE HELD FOR TRIAL

Leon Trotsky Explained the Arrests of Certain Men Is Not An Act of Vengeance Or Political Repression.

Petrograd, Nov. 8.—At a meeting of Congress of Soldiers and Workers Delegates last night, a number of the revolution committee said that on Wednesday Premier Kerensky at Seichina, 35 miles (23 miles) from Petrograd addressed 6,000 soldiers who were on their way from the front to Petrograd. After a conference the soldiers decided not to proceed for the time to Petrograd.

Leon Trotsky, president of the Executive Committee of Petrograd Council of Soldiers and Workers Delegates, explained that the arrest of certain members of the Kerensky government was not an act of vengeance or political repression. He said all the members of the late government would be tried for complicity in the Kornilov movement.

The political parties to which the socialist ministers belong have decided to turn over all ministers, socialists, as well as others, for trial. In the meantime they are being held under domiciliary arrest.

FORMER MINISTERS ARE PUT IN PRISON.

Kerensky's Whereabouts in Unknown Many Casualties.

Petrograd, Nov. 8.—Confirmation was obtained tonight that the former minister of the provisional government who were arrested by the military revolutionary committee have been incarcerated in the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul.

The confirmation was given by the commissioner in command of the fortress who received The Associated Press correspondent and personally explained to him the details regarding the confinement of the ministers.

The cabinet members, he said, were all arrested at the winter palace after they were taken to the fortress where they were placed in solitary confinement.

The commissioner said he did not know the whereabouts of General Kerensky who had fled from Petrograd.

It is impossible at this hour to ascertain what casualties were in the winter palace battle, although they are reported to have been many.

TRANSPORTS ARRIVE IN PETROGRAD.

Leahs Says the "Second Revolution Has Been Accomplished."

London, Nov. 8.—Several transports from Kronstadt arrived in Petrograd on Wednesday, carrying sailors who previously had sided with the provisional government, says a dispatch to the Daily News from Petrograd. The correspondent gives the following extracts from a speech Leahs made to the council of soldiers and workers' delegates on Wednesday.

"The second revolution has been accomplished. We shall offer a peace acceptable to the proletariat of all countries, publish all secret treaties, take over all land and establish the control of workers over industry. The consequence will be the accomplishment of the third social revolution."

THE RUSSIAN ARMY JOINS MAXIMALISTS

Dispatch From German Source Says It Is Marching on Petrograd.

(By The Associated Press) London, Nov. 8.—A German dispatching Amsterdam from a German source, and forwarded by the Central News, says that the Russian army on the north front has joined the maximalists and is marching on Petrograd.

Appeals to Russian Army to Stand Firm.

(By The Associated Press) Petrograd, Nov. 8.—The Congress of Soldiers and Workers Delegates to day appealed to the Russian army to stand firm, and protect the revolution against the imperialist attempts until the new government obtained a democratic peace.

CONFERENCE OF LUTHERANS ENDS

Closing Day of Session at Salisbury Devoted to Address on Reformation.

Salisbury, Nov. 8.—Before adjourning today the Lutheran United Synod of the South passed resolutions pledging unqualified loyalty to the government and calling on all Lutherans to pray that right and justice may prevail. A committee was named to work with the National Lutheran commission for soldiers and sailors. The closing day was devoted mainly to addresses and commemorating the Reformation.

The conference of the synod came to a close tonight after a most interesting and an epoch making session. The synod with the two other large Lutheran bodies, the General Council and the General Synod, has been agreed upon and the merger arrangements approved. This will bring more than a million Lutherans into one United Lutheran church of America.

Rev. A. D. R. Hanger, secretary of the board of home missions, and Rev. T. P. Epping, secretary of the board of foreign missions, made interesting addresses at the morning service.

At the afternoon and evening sessions, addresses were made by Rev. J. A. Morehead, D. D., of Roanoke, Va., and Rev. J. E. Whitaker, D. D., of Pennsylvania.

REAL THANKSGIVING FOR CAMP GREENE SOLDIERS

Women of Charlotte Plan to Have Troops as Guests at Dinner.

Charlotte, Nov. 8.—To have every soldier in Camp Greene have Thanksgiving dinner in a home in the city or county, or in home within a radius of 20 or 30 miles of Charlotte, is a plan to which the women of Charlotte have set themselves. The suggestion comes from a prominent Charlotte woman, Unela Sam prodding all citizens, but it is understood that his dinner can be served the day after Thanksgiving as well, thus allowing the soldiers to have two Thanksgivings dinners. The idea is to ask the people of the county and nearby towns to assist in entertaining the soldiers of Camp Greene on Thanksgiving day.

Southern Tuberculosis Conference.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 8.—Plans to guard the big military training camp in the south against the "white plague" will form the leading topic of discussion at the annual conference which was opened here today by the Southern section of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Delegates are in attendance from Florida, Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee, Louisiana and the Carolinas. The sessions will continue two days, with President Bolton Smith presiding. The experience of the European armies in combating tuberculosis will be clearly brought out at the meeting with a view to preventing by similar means in preparing for a solution of the problem in the United States.

Mail Box of Historic Fort.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 8.—Prominent members of the Tennessee society of Colonial Dames journeyed today to the site of Fort Loudoun, thirty miles from Knoxville, to dedicate a memorial marking the location of the old fort, which played a prominent part in the early history of this section. The fort was built by the British in 1758 to help win the valley of the Mississippi from the French and Indians and was named in honor of the Earl of Loudoun, governor of Virginia. Here occurred one of the most surprising military successes, the surrender being achieved as they their army in 1761.

THE LOSS GRAVEYARD

Sleeping Place of Prominent Citizens People in Search of in Woods.

Mr. Hillier, in company with a friend, on Sunday, November 4, I visited the old historic cemetery known as the Loss graveyard. It is about three miles from Concord and one mile north of Ft. V. Caldwell, near the Loss house, near the property of J. P. Allison. This farm was once owned by David Long and tradition says that George Washington spent the night there. It would be impossible to estimate the number of people whose remains are mouldering there. It is a tangled mass of trees, brush and briars, and I had to get on my hands and knees to try to spot and read the names on the tombstones. I added the names of the Longs, the Whites, the Pitters, the Wincoffs, and one other name that is not common in North Carolina, John Simlans, who died in 1804. The name is either French or Spanish. I will have to leave that for others to decide. His ancestors must have believed in the New Testament because of the name John. He himself must have been a Protestant because on his tombstone is the first verse of that good old hymn, written by Watts:

"Why to we mourn Departing friends."

Will somebody give us more of his history?

The oldest grave that I noticed was Moses White, who died in 1707. The next was Margaret White, who died in 1713. Col. Martin Phifer was born in 1756 and died in 1837; Elizabeth Phifer was born in 1768 and died in 1791; Col. Caleb Phifer died in 1811, aged 65.

To see the condition of this cemetery, the last resting place of the noble people whose deeds have made it possible for us to live the life we have, makes me feel that we are failing to get the best out of life when we go off pecknocking and trying to get recreation from the trifles of life instead of watching the autumn leaves as they silently fall and are placed like a blanket on the graves of these forgotten ancestors, to be later covered by the snow and ice of winter.

If the people who are wrapped in the lap of luxury and rocked in the cradle of wealth would take the money they spend in one day they could improve and beautify this old cemetery and make it a pleasure to visit it. G. C. GOODMAN.

BUMPER CORN CROP IS PRODUCED IN COUNTRY

Is By Far Largest Grown in America; Potatoes Smash Former Records.

Washington, Nov. 8.—A corn crop, larger by more than 60,000,000 bushels than ever grown in the history of American agriculture, is the production of the farmers of the United States this year. The department of agriculture today in its preliminary estimate of the crop placed the quantity at 3,181,083,000 bushels.

"The potato crop," says the statement of the department, "estimated at 440,000,000 bushels, is the largest on record, notwithstanding the unfavorable September and October cut down the actual production below the forecast." "The buckwheat production of 15,815,000 bushels fell below early forecasts although it is up to an average in total production compared with former years.

"The tobacco crop of 1,185,478,000 pounds is the largest on record. "The cranberry crop is very short."

Large increases in corn production in southern states were shown in the estimates as announced by the department. The yield per acre in most of the bowed increase. Production by states shows:

Virginia, 71,960,000 bushels; North Carolina, 60,120,000 and Tennessee, 109,200,000.

Tobacco production of southern states follows: Virginia, 126,000,000 pounds; North Carolina, 199,584,000; South Carolina, 67,070,000 pounds; Florida, 3,410,000; Tennessee, 70,950,000.

Lutheran Synod Pledges Loyalty to Government.

Salisbury, Nov. 8.—Before adjourning today the Lutheran Synod of the qualified loyalty to our government and health passed resolutions pledging unqualified loyalty to our government and calling on all Lutherans to pray that right and justice may prevail. A committee was named to work with the national Lutheran commission for soldiers and sailors. The closing day was devoted mainly to addresses commemorating the reformation.

Think Kerensky Will Act Vigorously From Moscow.

London, Nov. 8.—The opinion is expressed in Russian circles in London that M. Kerensky, who early was advised of the intentions of Nicholas Leontiev to group power, removed the seat of government to Moscow, and from there will endeavor to unite the moderate against the maximalists, and also to rally to his support Cosack and such other troops who have not already gone over to the extremists.

TROOPS ON WAY TO HELP THE ITALIANS

British And French Representatives Held Two Hours Conference Yesterday with King Victor Emanuel.

ACTIVE AND CORDIAL COLLABORATION

Military Measures Called For By the Present Situation Are Discussed in Conference With the King.

(By The Associated Press) Italian Military Zone Thursday, Nov. 8.—Both British and French troops are going toward the front. The French and British representatives who have come to Italy had a conference of two hours today with King Victor Emanuel. Military measures called for by the present situation, were discussed in an active and cordial collaboration. On leaving the King, the party visited the French and British troops, going toward the front.

FALL OF MAXIMALISTS REGARDED AS ESSENTIAL

Opinion of Russian Ambassador Who Says Majority of Russians Will Fight.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 8.—In an address here tonight Boris Bakmetieff, the Russian ambassador, declared that if Russia is to achieve her political freedom the Maximalists, who revolted against the Kerensky provisional government, must be overthrown. Immediate peace, such as the Maximalists proposed, he said, could result only in Russian oppression.

While not attempting to belittle the gravity of the situation in the Russian capital, Ambassador Bakmetieff said the Maximalist revolt was a revolt of the few against the many.

"The majority of the Russians who followed Kerensky since the Romanoffs were overthrown last March," the ambassador said, "are heart and soul with the Kerensky government. They fully understand that the freedom of Russia is assured only through an allied victory against Prussian armistice. They will fight to the end."

Soon after his arrival here from Washington, Ambassador Bakmetieff was informed by the Associated Press of the overthrow of the Kerensky government. His reply to the dispatching news was that "the intent and spirit of Russia's troops are no more to be judged by the news from Petrograd," and he added that the spirit prevailing in the capital is not representative of the Russian spirit, as a whole.

COMMENT OF PRESS ON AMERICAN COMMISSION

Says It Don't Matter If the United States is With the Allies.

(By The Associated Press) London, Nov. 9.—The arrival in London of the American mission, Col. House's statement to the press, and the announcement of the American State Department, fill a conspicuous place in the morning papers. Editorially the Times says: "The theory that America stands more or less aloof from the Allies may still survive, but henceforward she shares our most earnest counsel; not only regarding the objects of the war but also as to the way to win it. In several points lately things have not been going well for the Allies, but none of their reverses or disappointments matter if only the great war power of the United States is directed rightly to the common end."

STILL WITHOUT ANY OFFICIAL ADVICES

Washington Has No Advice About Affairs in Petrograd.

(By The Associated Press) Washington, Nov. 9.—Both the State Department and the Russian embassy today were still without any official advice of any character whatever on affairs in Petrograd.

The State Department's last dispatch from Ambassador Francis was sent from the Russian capital last Tuesday. The embassy's last dispatch was sent from the capital on Monday.

In absence of official advice, officials of the embassy and the Department continued to withhold comment.

THE PENDULUM AGAIN SWINGS TO DEX SIDE.

Wet Majority in Ohio Has Divided to 1,407.

(By The Associated Press) Cincinnati, Nov. 9.—The differences between official returns furnished by telegrams from county seats and those turned in to the Secretary of the State caused the pendulum to swing again toward the dry side today in Ohio's wet majority swing to 1,407, with 71 county seats reporting official figures, and 17 including the large cities, reporting unofficially.

The totals on this basis of compilation are: for prohibition 820,638; against prohibition 820,540.

Italians Are Still Holding Heavy Back

(By The Associated Press) Rome, Nov. 9.—The Italians are still holding back the Austrians and Germans by rear guard action, while the main body of troops is establishing themselves in positions chosen for resistance, says today's official statement.

BIG FOX HUNT

Major W. A. Fall and Party Catch a Big Gray Fox Near Landis.

Quite a large hunting party last evening enjoyed a big fox chase, which took place near Landis. On Wednesday last some people went to Landis to look over some timber, and while on their route they scented a big gray fox out of his hiding place. They reported it to Linn Brothers at Landis, who communicated the news to "Major" W. A. Fall here. Mr. Fall took his hound and was joined by the Linn brothers. They went to the woods and the dogs soon struck the trail. After a chase of about an hour and a quarter the fox was caught alive.

Yesterday evening Mr. Fall took the fox and his dogs and went to Landis again, where he was joined by other hunters. They drove out about two miles from the town, and liberated the animal for a chase. After about an hour's run, the dogs tired the fox in a lot more than ten feet from a dwelling house. A boy was sent up the tree to get him, but before he could get the fox, the fox got the boy by the thumb, biting him pretty severely. However, the boy pulled him in and brought him down. The fox was then liberated again, but after a quarter of an hour more he died from the chase. Much interest was created by the race, and by the time it was over there were about 200 people following.

PROPOSED SETTLEMENT HAS BUT FEW FRIENDS

Proposal to Annex Poland to Austria-Hungary and Courland and Lithuania to Germany.

(By The Associated Press) Copenhagen, Nov. 9.—The proposed settlement of the eastern problem by annexing Poland to Austria-Hungary and Courland and Lithuania to Germany has few friends in Germany aside from the proponents of the idea. Virtually the entire press opposes it.

Conservatives and nationalist organs are against it because they fear the effect of such a step upon their own anti-Polish policy in regard to the Polish provinces of Prussia.

The liberalist and socialist papers are indignant at attempts to decide the questions involving the whole future of Germany behind the back of Reichstag and also resent the efforts to overturn the anti-annexation peace policy set for in the Reichstag resolution.

THE COTTON MARKET

Recovers Part of the Losses of Yesterday—Less Pessimism As to Condition Abroad.

(By The Associated Press) New York, Nov. 9.—The cotton market recovered part of its late losses of yesterday during today's early trading. There seemed to be less pessimism as to political conditions abroad, while overnight spot advances from the South were bullish, and there was buying here by trade interests. Prices opened steady at an advance of five points to a decline of four points. Some further Wall street liquidation was readily absorbed with active months selling about 15 to 24 points net higher before the end of the first hour. January advanced to 29.34 and March to 26.30, making a recovery of about 48 points from yesterday's low level.

Cotton futures opened steady. December, 27.45; January, 26.70; March, 26.80; May, 26.07; July, 25.80.

J. A. TERRY ELECTROCUTED AT RALEIGH TODAY.

Walked Calmly to Death for Murder of John R. Stuart.

(By The Associated Press) Raleigh, Nov. 9.—Walking calmly into the death room of J. A. Terry, 58 years old, convicted on the charge of having killed John R. Stuart, a prominent Guilford county farmer in the fall of 1916, was put to death by electrocution at the state penitentiary here this morning.

The killing of Stuart is said to have been the outgrowth of a bad feeling on the part of Terry caused by a civil suit instituted against Terry by members of the Stuart family. Insanity at the time was offered as a defense.

DECISION ON WAR TAX FOR PICTURE SHOWS.

Theatres May Pay the Tax Without Collecting It from Patrons.

(By The Associated Press) Washington, Nov. 9.—Moving picture theatres and other amusement places may pay the war tax of one cent each for each ten cents admission charge without collecting it from their patrons. Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper ruled today. The ruling was in response to queries as to whether it was legal for theatres to advertise "admission still ten cents; we pay your war tax."

Spartanburg Officers to Be Examined.

Spartanburg, Nov. 7.—Officers of the Twelfth Seventy-fourth regiment today are discussing a telegram from Washington ordering they be given an examination to determine their physical fitness for service abroad. Several of the officers accept the order as a promise of early service in France. Others believe the examination is intended to weed out unfit officers.

A medical examination to determine the fitness of the men in the Twenty-seventh Division for foreign service was completed by Lieutenant Colonel Maloney's division here today. Rejections are said to be negligible.

People Do Not Yet Realize Seriousness of War, Says Small.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Representative John H. Small is preparing for an inspection of Southern harbors and rivers next week. Twelve members of the Rivers and Harbors Committee will go.

Mr. Small declared that he had never witnessed a more united stand for the war program than is shown in his district.

"The people are solidly backing the war," said he. "Washington, my home town, exceeded its allotment to the Liberty Loan. The people do not, however, fully realize the seriousness of the war."

Kaiser is Ordered by Doctors to Get Travelling.

The Hague, Nov. 7.—A message received here from Cologne says that the Kaiser kept his recent visit to Gericin from his physicians.

"The doctors have ordered the Emperor not to overtax his strength," the message said. "Although not all the doctors say the Emperor needs more rest and less travelling, the last six months have been particularly strenuous for him."

It is reported that the Kaiser is ordered by doctors to get travelling.

MR. DOOLING IN CHARLOTTE

Assistant District Attorney Returns From Camp Where 11,000 Soldiers Cast Vote.

Charlotte News John T. Dooling, assistant district attorney of New York City, spent a short while in Charlotte Wednesday morning, returning from Spartanburg where over 11,000 New York city men, now at Camp Wadsworth, have cast their ballots under the "absentee voting law of New York." In the great majority of cases which closed in New York Tuesday night.

Mr. Dooling when asked his opinion as to the election of the New York mayor for the next four years, Judge Hyland, offered but one comment: "I am satisfied with the result."

Mr. Dooling stated that the Spartanburg vote amounted to over 11,000, all of whom are soldiers from the metropolis, and entitled to vote in the mayoralty election, and nearly every New York soldier took advantage of the opportunity.

The increase of the socialist vote was a matter of much interest to the New York prosecuting official. The socialist vote has increased enormously since 1913, but Mr. Dooling thinks that the anti-war element which supported Hilquitt, was prompted more by the opposition to war than anything else. The assistant district attorney was not at all pleased with this showing of the anti-war vote in his home city, and discussed at some length the reasons behind the vote, and the class of voters who took this stand at this critical time in the nation's history, but with the general results of the election in New York, Mr. Dooling had no criticism to offer, aside from relating to the increased socialist vote, which he believes is due mostly to the fact that Hilquitt supporters believed they were supporting a man who was for peace and opposed to the war program.

Mr. Dooling resumed his journey to New York at noon on train 39 which was several hours late, giving Mr. Dooling the entire morning in Charlotte, he having come up late Monday night, expecting to leave early yesterday.

The assistant district attorney will return to the state before November 26, to attend the trial of Gaston B. Means, charged with killing Mrs. Maude A. King, near Concord, on August 29.

"I am willing to leave the case with a North Carolina jury and am pleased with the operation of the courts of the state," Mr. Dooling told a News reporter.

CHARLEY WHITE, THE FAMOUS REFEREE, DYING.

Known by More Sporting Men Than Than Any Other Man in America.

New York, Nov. 9.—Charley White, the famous referee, is reported near death at his home on Cherry Street, in this city. He has been a sufferer for nearly a year from a complication of diseases and recently his illness has taken such a serious turn that the physicians hold out no hope of his recovery.

Charley White is known by probably more sporting men and followers of prize fighting than any other man in America. Any man who pretends to know anything about prize fighting knows all about Charley, for he has at one time or another acted as referee in boxing contests in which all the pugilistic stars have appeared during the past twenty years or more.

White is a product of New York's East Side. As a young man he became interested in professional sports and soon attained prominence as a referee. In the old days, when there were real prize fighters who did not hire press agents nor go on the stage, and when such champions as "Nonpareil" Jack Dempsey, Ike Weir, Dominick McCaffrey Sullivan, Mitchell and the rest were in their prime, the reputation of Charley White as a referee was already established. In those days his services were frequently requisitioned for championship and near-championship bouts in all parts of the country. In more recent years, however, his activities have been confined chiefly to serving as their man in the ring at one or another of the New York boxing clubs. Throughout his long career the honesty of his decisions was never questioned. Many star pugilists when signing up for their big fights were in the habit of stipulating that White should referee the contest. His last appearance as a referee was at the Walker-Moran championship battle in Madison Square Garden.

White best known as a boxing referee, White's interests have not been confined to pugilism, but has extended through the whole domain of athletic sports. The half-recognized world of chance knew him, and there was nothing that appealed to the great sporting fraternity but that drew his attention and acknowledged his influence.

Further reports, also of German origin, and unconfirmed, declare that the Russian army on the northern front had joined the Maximalist movement and were marching on Petrograd.

The great majority of the members of Kerensky's cabinet were made prisoners by the Maximalists when the winter palace in which they had taken refuge, was bombarded by the cruisers and defenders compelled to surrender. In Palestine the British operations around Gaza and Beersheba have resulted in the entire Turkish Palestine army beginning retreat toward the north. It is being harassed by airplane bombardment in its retreat, and its communication along the coast are under fire from the French and British warships. Forty Turkish guns have been captured by the British whose advance is rapidly bringing them nearer to Jerusalem.
