Girls Requisitioned in Alsace-Lorraine Actively Employed at the Front.—Some are Under 17. Washington, Nov. 12.—Confirmation has been given by the German government itself to the often denied reports current for the last year that young girls of Alsace-Lorraine have been carried away from their homes and forced to labor for the German army.

From Switzerland today there came a cable report of the reply made by the German under-secretary for war to a complaint of an Alsatian deputy in the reichstag against mistreatment of these young girls.

Mr. J. K. Folsom, of Charlotte, one of the Y. M. C. A. workers and speakers in the campaign to secure $35,000,000 for the war work, will speak at the Central school auditorium tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

"There are more American soldiers in France today than you think. They have cut into their principal to go. You will have to cut into your principal to support them."

"Soon there will always be 10,000 American fighting men on leave in Paris. We have been asked to build an officers' hotel for them and meeting places for the men, Dr. Mott continues.

"Already there are 1,500,000 Americans in the army here and over seas. By July there will be 2,500,000.

"Follow one of these soldiers—maybe he is your own son, your neighbor's son or your former business associate. Follow him to the port of embarkation, which he leaves when his family does not know, and where we are trying to do some of our best work.

PETROGRAD ADVICES ARE CONFLICTING

Some Reports Say that Kerensky Has Entered Petrograd and That the Bolsheviks are Overthrown.

NO CONFIRMATION OF THE REPORTS

In Moscow the Conservatives Have Secured the Upper Hand and Have Formed a Government.

Maximalist rule in Petrograd, apparently, is weakening, as Premier Kerensky, at the head of loyal troops, advances from Katchina, thirty miles southwest of the capital.

Reports received in Finland say that the Premier has entered Petrograd, and the Bolsheviks have been overthrown.

There is no confirmation of these reports, which are at variance with the latest advices from Petrograd itself.

The Bolsheviks are digging trenches and erecting barricades in preparation for a battle with the Kerensky forces. Fighting has occurred near Gatchina between the revolution and the Kerensky troops, but with what result it is not known.

Premier Kerensky's advance toward Petrograd caused military cadets there on Sunday to rise against the Bolsheviks. Although outnumbered the cadets fought desperately for the telephone exchange until they were killed or captured.

The committee of public safety, formed in Petrograd from elements opposed to the extremists, is gaining ground, and a number of its members have gone to Gatchina to attempt to arrange a compromise between Premier Kerensky and the Bolsheviks.

In Moscow the conservatives have gained the upper hand and have formed a government, which, however, is reported to include some Bolshevik members.

Premier Kerensky retains chief command of the Russian armies and has established headquarters at Gatchina. Gen. Alexieff, the former commander in chief, is with him, but whether Gen. Kaledine and Korniloff have joined in the movement against Petrograd, the stronghold of the extremist organization, is not yet clear.

With the Italian armies in position along the Piave from Feltre to the Adriatic and from the Piave west to the Setti community, the Austro-German drive through northern Italy has lost much of its momentum.

The invaders have failed in strong attacks against Italian positions northeast of Asiago, and along the Piave there have been mainly artillery duels.

North of Feltre the Austro-German forces have captured 14,000 Italians who, apparently, were cut off in their attempt to reach the new defense positions.

Italy, aided by the French and British, are prepared to give battle to the invaders, south and heavy fighting is not unexpected.

Powerful efforts are being exerted by the Austro-German invaders of northern Italy to pierce the Italian front in eastern Trentino and by breaking forward to the plains from Sugana valley, and outfit the Italian line on the lower Piave protecting Venetia.

The Berlin official report today claims some successes for the Tenth army in this attempt. They took Longara, northeast of Asiago, and further to the southeast made headway between the Sugana and Cismon valleys, storming defensive works in this area.

The fighting here, obviously, is of a desperate nature, and the Italian forces have shown themselves in a mood of determined resistance.

Between the Cismon and the upper Piave valleys the Italian line is straightening out to virtually an even line for a connecting link between the Piave and Trentino fronts.
