

PRESIDENT WORKS ON THE WAY ACROSS

Spent Most of the First Day of His Trip in His Office on the Ship and Spent Several Hours at It.

KEEPS IN TOUCH WITH THINGS AT HOME

Mine Sweepers Are Running Before the Bow of the Ship The Weather is Cold But The Sea is Calm.

(By The Associated Press.)
On-board United States Ship George Washington, by wireless to Associated Press, Dec. 5.—President Wilson spent most of the first day of his trip on this ship working in his office, part of his suite. After acknowledging from the bridge the greetings that were given him as the ship put to sea he turned to piles of letters and telegrams awaiting him, and spent several hours working with stenographers.

In the afternoon, on the advice of his physician, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson he lay down and rested for some time because of a slight cold that was affecting his voice.

Later the President received calls from officials on board, including the Italian and French ambassadors.

Following this he took a walk on deck together with Mrs. Wilson.

The President's party dined quietly in the evening being served by a waiter who climbed to have attended Emperor William and the Empress in the same ship on a trial trip of the George Washington.

The report that the President's suite had been fitted up in luxurious manner, are untrue.

In dining halls the music was furnished by ship's band and quartet of sailors.

THE TRIBUNE AND THE "FLU"

The Tribune office, which up to this week had luckily escaped being hit by the "flu" has been struck a staggering blow by this dread monster. Whether or not it is a knock-out blow, only time can tell. We have three men out with it, and this takes half our mechanical force. Our readers can easily imagine what that means. Those that are confined with it are Messrs. Roy C. Crooks, Homer Snyder and Everett Riser. The Tribune can make no promise. We telephoned to Salisbury and Charlotte for help, but if we do not get it we do not see how it is possible to appear every day until some of our force returns. So if you do not get your paper any day you will know the reason why. We hope our advertisers will be considerate and not change their ads, unless it is absolutely necessary until we can see daylight ahead.

Since the above was in type, through the appreciated courtesy of Mr. G. M. Kestler, of the Observer, we have secured the valuable services for part of the time of Mr. Marlin Brumley.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Story of How Enemy Agents Have Been Caught, Dangerous Germans Interned, Etc., Is Recited.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Dec. 5.—The story of how enemy agents have been caught, dispirited, suppressed, draft stickers apprehended, dangerous Germans interned, explosions and other sabotage prevented, and enemy secrets ferreted out for use against their armies abroad was given to the public today in Attorney General T. W. Gregory's annual report. Through a great corps of Department of Justice civil officers, secret agents, and citizen volunteers, this big job of policing has been accomplished, said the Attorney General, with a minimum disturbance to the normal life of communities, and with constant effort to avoid encroaching on freedom of speech, action and political criticism.

The Attorney General disclosed that only 6,000 enemy aliens have been arrested on presidential warrants and ex-ambushed with a view to internment and that "a considerable number" of these have been placed in internment camps administered by the army. The balance were paroled. Most enemies interned were German men, and there were comparatively few German women or Austro-Hungarians. About 480,000 Germans have been registered in the nation-wide census—290,000 men and 220,000 women.

Up to last July, 1, Department of Justice investigators had rounded up 23,439 young men who sought to escape the draft, and had caused their induction into the service. More than 220,000 cases of men who for some reason or other had failed to file questionnaires or to appear for physical examination were investigated.

Looking forward to peace conditions, the Attorney General makes a number of recommendations for reform of judicial processes. Although he referred to the difficulty of pushing anti-trust prosecutions during the war since the government itself has been in the business of suppressing competition, he made no suggestions for new anti-trust legislation which Congress is expected to undertake soon.

SCHLOBIG-STRATFORD

Miss Minnie Stratford Married Here Last Night to Mr. John Schlobig, of Florida.

Where Wilson Will Be Received

Paris, Dec. 5.—The chief feature of the entertainment program that is being arranged for the coming visit of President Wilson will be a public reception given in his honor by the city of Paris. The reception will take place in the magnificent Hotel de Ville which has played so conspicuous a part in French history. The present structure was erected in 1876, being modelled after the original building, which was burned by the Communists in 1871. Throughout the revolutions the Hotel de Ville was the usual rallying place of the democratic as opposed to the court party. It was here that the revolutionary tribunal sat in 1794, and the Reign of Terror ended with the attempted suicide and arrest of Robespierre, who subsequently was guillotined. Here also in August, 1830 Louis Philippe appeared on the balcony in full view of the populace below and benedicted Lafayette, and from the steps of the building on February 24, 1848, Louis Blanc proclaimed the institution of the republic.
