

EVERYTHING IS QUIET AT GOLDSBORO TODAY

Following the Attacks on the Court House There Last Night by Armed Mob Bent on Lynching Five Negroes

SITUATION NOW IS WELL IN HAND

After the Shooting of Herbert Futrele No Further Attempt Was Made to Get Hold of the Prisoners.

(By the Associated Press.)

Goldsboro, Dec. 3.—Everything was quiet here this morning following the attacks on the Wayne County court house last night by a mob variously estimated to number from 100 to 200 armed men, bent on lynching five negroes who were placed on trial late yesterday afternoon charged with the murder of Herman Jones, a cotton merchant, who was shot to death at his home near Goldsboro two weeks ago. The Durham Machine Gun Company arrived in Goldsboro at 7:10 this morning and relieved about 100 armed citizens who guarded the court house building during the night. The authorities believe the situation is well in hand, and do not fear further trouble.

Following the storming of the court house in which Herbert Futrele, said to have been one of the leaders of the mob, was shot, and slightly wounded, the attackers dispersed. Although desultory firing was heard in the vicinity of the court house until after 3 o'clock this morning, no further attempt was made by the crowd to secure possession of the prisoners.

The attack on the court house was made about 9 o'clock last night. Sheriff Grant, his deputies and about 50 armed citizens were on guard inside the building. The mob, which thronged the lawn in front of the court house, fired volley after volley into the building, shattering almost every window pane on the west side. The leaders then led the crowd to the entrance, where they tried to force the door. There was firing from all directions of the lawn at this point, and Futrele fell with a slight wound in his side. Col. John D. Langston, who was inside the court house, believes that Futrele was wounded by a shot fired by a member of the mob. After Futrele was hurt the attackers quickly retreated to a point about a block from the court house and later dispersed. Except for a few scattered shots in the neighborhood of the court house building during the night, there was no further excitement.

The negroes were placed on trial immediately after their arrest here from Raleigh, where they were held for safe keeping, late yesterday. The jury was completed about 6 o'clock and court adjourned till 9:30 this morning.

Herman Jones, for whose murder the negroes are being tried, was called from his home on the night of November 14 and shot to death when he refused to obey a command by one of the negroes to hold up his hands. The negro who is charged with doing the actual shooting is Harry Campbell, with a number of aliases, who represents himself as a detective connected with a Philadelphia agency. Campbell said he went to Jones' home to investigate reports of alleged violation of the prohibition law.

THE CONCORD 'Y' WINS ANOTHER BASKETBALL TILT

Defeats Scrappy Erlanger Team by a 36 to 23.

Another victory went to the credit of the Concord 'Y' team last night when they took into camp the fast and scrappy outfit from Erlanger, the village beautiful. Though the locals managed to keep the lead all the way it by no means indicates that the victory was unaided. Erlanger fought with a determination that made Concord hustle all the way to keep even a safe lead. The closest that the score stood was a 20 point lead when the score was 20-20. It was there for only a moment, however, as Wolf, Concord's greedy forward, was determined to add another counter. It was with considerable satisfaction that the local fans saw a great improvement in the game of our home boys. It was easily the best played game that Concord has put up so far this season. There was more and better team work and most scrappy in our boys than at any previous time this fall. One of the outstanding features of the game was the refereeing of Mr. Caswell, coach of the high school and girls teams at the 'Y'. Fans said it was easily the fastest and cleanest game ever played on the 'Y' court. The Erlanger players were high in their praise of his efforts and admitted there was absolutely no chance to start any rough stuff. The playing of Baltusay, of Erlanger, the elderly guard, was probably the main entertainment of the evening. Baltusay has played for 23 years and is the General Secretary of the Erlanger 'Y'. He plays for the love of the game and certainly was a real fun producer for the fans. He is the oldest player who has ever been seen on the local floor. The Concord boys expect to return a game in January. The lineup last night was as follows: Erlanger—Grimes and Calvert, forwards; Everhart, center; Baltusay and Hearn, guards. Concord—Wolf, Dellinger and Dick, forwards; Goodman, center; Fred Goodman and Hill, guards.

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL ACT PERSONALLY

In Appointing a Mediator in the Armenian-Turkish Matter. (By the Associated Press.)

Washington, Dec. 3.—State Department officials said today that a misconception had been placed upon their statement yesterday as to whether President Wilson would act officially or personally in naming a mediator to act for him in an effort to settle the trouble between the Armenians and Turkish nationalists. They said the President would act personally and not officially in appointing a mediator, but explained that it would be difficult of course, to differentiate between Woodrow Wilson personally and as President of the United States. Should the negotiations not be concluded before President Wilson returns next March 4th, the mediator appointed by him would continue to act as his representative.

TWO MEASURES LOOKING TO RELIEF OF FARMERS

Will Be Introduced Immediately After Congress Convened on Monday. (By the Associated Press.)

Washington, Dec. 3.—Two measures looking to the relief of farmers have been drafted by Representative Dickinson, republican, of Iowa, who announced today that they would be offered immediately after Congress convenes on Monday. One is a bill imposing a tax of 10 per cent on the total value of all contracts for the sale of grain when delivery is not made within 30 days, and the other is a resolution authorizing the appointment of a special committee to investigate grain, livestock and cotton prices and to recommend legislation designed to remedy present conditions. Mr. Dickinson declared that levying of a tax on future contracts would check speculative trading on the grain exchange and would stabilize prices. The bill is patterned on the cotton futures act passed in 1910 which imposes a tax of 2 per cent on all contracted deliveries.

NO SOLUTION YET OF THE FARMER PROBLEM

Treasury Officials Have Given This Situation More Thought Than They Have Any Other Question.

SO SAYS SECRETARY HOUSTON TODAY

The Secretary Was Before Joint Senate and House Agricultural Committee to Recommend Legislation.

(By the Associated Press.)

Washington, Dec. 3.—Treasury officials have given more thought to the situation the farmers face as a result of the falling prices of their products than they have to any other question, but they have arrived at no solution of the problem, Secretary Houston declared today before the joint Senate and House Agriculture Committees. The legislators are conducting hearings with a view to recommending legislation to relieve farmers. "I don't know of any feasible measures in the way of producing any marked change in the situation," said the Treasury Secretary, who declared that he knew of no feasible means the Treasury could adopt to furnish the relief that might not bring about worse conditions than now exist. Mr. Houston said he had "grave doubts" that that organization was created as a war emergency measure. The Treasury chief said the fall in the prices of products generally had been very sudden and that while the retailers still were endeavoring to get the cost of the goods they bought at high prices, he thought they would be able to maintain present prices for any length of time.

SUPP. BROOKS TELLS OF SCHOOLS' NEEDS

Makes Plea Before Club Women for More Life and Spirit in Educational Work.

Raleigh News and Observer. In compliance with the request of Commissioner of Education P. P. Clayton, that women's clubs throughout the country devote a period of this month to education, Supt. E. C. Brooks yesterday afternoon addressed the Raleigh Woman's Club at its regular December meeting on this subject, confining his remarks mainly to the needs of the Raleigh public schools. The main plea which Mr. Brooks made was that more life and spirit be put into educational work. To accomplish this he suggested several methods. First and foremost, to obtain better teachers in the public schools. Much energy has been misspent in this direction, he claimed, the teachers having heretofore been chosen with little discrimination. That condition is being rapidly changed now, however, under the present educational regime in North Carolina, and it has become a requirement that the teacher who receives the best salary give the best returns.
