

AUTOPSY PERFORMED ON DEAD MAN'S BODY

Post Mortem Examination of Arthur J. Allen's Body Made at Order of Solicitor Hayden Clement.

TWO BULLETS IN BODY LOCATED

Interest in Case Today Centers in the Habeas Corpus Hearing Being Conducted in Court at Gastonia.

An autopsy of the body of Arthur J. Allen, shot and killed Tuesday night in Kannapolis by O. G. Thomas, of Charlotte, was performed here Thursday night.

Coroner T. N. Spencer was in conference with Solicitor Clement in Salisbury late Thursday afternoon, and after the conference, which followed a day of investigation in Kannapolis by Mr. Clement, the autopsy was ordered.

The bullet which was extracted, was located in the breast bone of the dead man, on a level with the fourth and fifth ribs.

The second bullet was located in the muscle near the spinal column. It entered the man's body just below the left shoulder, struck and shattered the left collar bone, passed through the upper lobe of the left lung, and lodged near the vertical column.

The bullet was a .32 caliber, and the determination of its character corroborates the statement made by Thomas that he shot Allen with a .32 gun.

After the examination Dr. S. E. Duchannan, county health officer, who assisted with the autopsy, stated that in his opinion either bullet would have caused death.

The order of Solicitor Clement for the autopsy has been the occasion of much comment, both here and in Kannapolis.

Thomas and Mrs. Robert Lowe, who was riding with him when the shooting occurred, both stated that Allen approached the car in which they were riding on the left side, and the powder burns on the left neck of the dead man gave evidence that the bullet which entered his left shoulder was fired at close range.

Interest here today centers in the habeas corpus hearing which is being conducted before Judge Bis Rie in Gastonia today.

Reports reaching Concord Thursday were to the effect that Solicitor Clement after making his Kannapolis investigation, had wired Judge Ray, asking that the hearing be postponed until Monday, so that he could get more evidence.

More than 10,000,000 golf balls are used up in Britain every year.

of a Ford Sedan and get into Thomas' car, according to the information given to Coroner Spencer by the Kannapolis police.

Other important witnesses also have been listed by the Kannapolis officers. It was stated by local officers Thursday, but their name and testimony have not been disclosed.

When given no definite information has been given out by local officers, Coroner Spencer stated Thursday night that he understood Chief Boger, of the Kannapolis police, had a most important witness in the person of a young man named Loin, whose father and brother appeared before the coroner's jury Tuesday night.

HEARING POSTPONED.

The Tribune received the following telegram from The Gastonia Gazette at 2:10 this afternoon:

The hearing of the habeas corpus writ in the Thomas case is not likely to be held here today. Judge Ray has instructed Attorney Williams to get in touch with Solicitor Clement over the telephone and report at 2:30 when and where the hearing should be held. The State pleads not ready.

SCHWAB NOT ALARMED AT BUSINESS DEPRESSION

"We Have Been on a Great Spree," He Says in a Speech at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 28.—Chas. M. Schwab, addressing the annual banquet of the National Paint, Oil and Varnish Association last night, said he was not alarmed about the business depression.

"We have been on a great business spree and we are now in the cold gray dawn of the morning after," he said. "The business depression will place us in a firmer, surer future. As long as I can borrow money I am going to get every dollar over which I have control on American industry. I believe that this great nation of ours is going to be the workshop of the world."

"We are on the eve of the greatest development in our history. If we had to live my life over again I would choose the present day for beginning a career. We have all lived extravagantly but it doesn't mean anything. I don't give a rap for money except insofar as I can use it to circulate it through my plants and develop them."

Discussing the industrial conditions Mr. Schwab said: "Wherever I go I hear the same that labor and capital should cooperate, but I have yet to find a man who will tell me how to do it."

REV. W. A. JENKINS THE NEW PASTOR OF CENTRAL CHURCH

The Charlotte News Pays a High Tribute to Him Editorially.

The Charlotte News has the following editorial in regard to Rev. W. A. Jenkins, the new pastor of Central Methodist Church here:

This community, that part of it which knows the subject of this comment intimately and that part of it which knows him only remotely, will sincerely lament the transfer of Rev. W. A. Jenkins, pastor of Trinity church, to a new field, although realizing well enough that such is the way of the Methodists. They come and go with regulated frequency. Charlotte has been fortunate in these late years in drawing assignments to local pastorate of the justly esteemed of this denomination and of men who are more than mere ministers who preach twice a week on the Sabbath. They are men of broad-mindedness, of civic impulses, of son's affiance for the interests and well-being of their fellowmen in this world as well as for their destiny in the other.

Bill Jenkins, as he is Rotarily called by some 150 of those in Charlotte who know him best, has been here only two years, coming here young and fresh for the Gospel ministry, after a period of intensive preparation. He threw himself at once into the work upon which his hands had fallen and in the space of mere weeks, he had become, generally known for his splendid qualities, his unusual ministerial abilities, his capacity as a pulpit orator, and, above all of these even, his appreciation of the earthiness of men. This latter gave an impetus into the lives of a multitude he could not otherwise have touched and his influence, therefore, especially upon the young men of the city with whom he became associated directly or remotely, has been immeasurable.

Mr. Jenkins has indicated a deep interest in the civic well-being of this community and during the two years of his residence here, he has been called upon often to assist in great movements and enterprises that meant much for the advancement of the material interests of Charlotte.

It is regrettable, therefore, that a man of such usefulness in a community that needs a multitude more like him has to be transferred to another field so shortly and that his personal leadership and constructive influence must be interrupted at a time when it seems that these were ripening into great harvests.

FUNERAL OF MR. A. J. ALLEN

Held This Afternoon at 2:30 O'clock at McKinnon Presbyterian Church.

The funeral service over the remains of the late Arthur J. Allen, who was shot to death Tuesday night by O. G. Thomas, was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the McKinnon Presbyterian Church, of which Mr. Allen was a member. The service was conducted by Rev. C. C. Myers in the presence of a large number of sympathizing friends. Mr. Myers spoke as follows in regard to Mr. Allen:

Read I Chr. 29:10-19 and Ps. 29. The first Scripture shows that we are not to stay in this world as it now is but for a short time; it is not our permanent home and that life is uncertain for we know not what a day may bring forth, as we are sojourners here. We are aware of the fact that death brings sorrow but the death which has brought us together at this time is one of the saddest we have ever had to deal with as it was brought about by such a circumstance. It seems clear that a crime has been committed in the taking of the life and if there has been a crime it is a triple crime. First, a crime against the State, in taking the life of one of its citizens. Second, a crime against the young wife. Third, a crime against these three babies. For surely the State, the wife and the children are losers in the death of Mr. Allen.

While we are here not to praise Mr. Allen but to bury him yet as there has been so much said about death, I feel that it is due the dead to say that I have known Mr. Allen for eight years. I have known him as few others knew him. He has been a member of the Presbyterian Church for a number of years and I have been his pastor for five of the eight years I have known him. He has come to me at times for advice and we have been closer friends than just member and pastor, and I have known him as a citizen, as a man and in his home life.

As a citizen the state has lost one of its best. As a man Mr. Allen was quiet and unassuming in his own life. In his home life he was devoted to his family and his little boys were the pride of his life. At the time of the killing his family was gathered around the bedside waiting to hear his footsteps at the door. I want to leave with you who are in sorrow the promises of God as He gives them in the 23rd Psalm, that He would be the shepherd of His flock and even though you have to walk through the valley of the shadow of death as you are doing today He will be with you to guide and comfort you as no other can.

Japs Not Planning Any Disarmament.

Tokyo, Oct. 27.—On the eve of the Washington conference, with the Japanese delegates already on American soil, the Tokio government is preparing the budget for the next fiscal year which will bear practically the same militaristic aspect as the current budget in which approximately 49 per cent went to the army and navy.

The Tokio Nichi Nichi publishes the figures of the new budget tentatively reached by the finance department, showing approximately 48 per cent of the total will go to the army and navy; the 50 per cent to the navy and 18 per cent to the army falling only a fraction of one per cent, below the current defense appropriations. Nichi Nichi says the total budget is approximately 1,000,000,000 yen, the navy taking 470,000,000 yen, a decrease of 20,000,000 yen and the army 287,000,000 yen, and increase of 24,000,000 yen. The naval reduction is explained by economies in maintenance expense. It is not believed the naval building appropriation will be less than the current year.

The army increase is to be devoted largely to aviation. The estimates are known to include 40,000,000 yen for a bombing battalion and other aviation equipment.

OFFICIAL RECALL OF STRIKE IS SENT OUT

Leaders of the Big Five of Railway Workmen Flash Code Messages to General Chairmen Everywhere.

REACHED THEM IN FEW HOURS

Similar Orders to Be Dispatched Today to Telegraphers Union, Which Had Voted to Join Strike.

(By the Associated Press.) Chicago, Oct. 28.—The official recall of the railroad strike orders issued by switchmen, trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen were dispatched today when the leaders of the "Big Five" flashed code messages to their general chairmen. The chairmen will submit the messages to the locals and the official order recalling the strike will thus permeate the country in a few hours.

Similar orders probably will be dispatched today by the telegraphers' organization, the only other union which had voted to participate in the strike scheduled to begin Sunday and which threatened to tie up the nation's transportation facilities.

While these orders are being circulated the United States Railroad Labor Board, which played an important part in the final decision of the union, will today announce its findings as a result of the public hearing Wednesday at which union leaders and railroad executives testified.

This declaration, it was expected, would analyze the situation and its outcome, the Board, according to one member, feeling that the matter is now out of his hands.

With the announcement this morning of the official resolution recalling the strike order, union leaders summoned here for the labor board hearing, and who remained to take the action ending the threatened strike, were preparing to return to their homes.
