And the Bill Now Faces Its Third Rewriting. - Measure Finally Passed by Senate by Vote of 38 to 34.

NOW GOES BACK TO THE HOUSE

At Rough Estimate Treasury Experts Say the Bill as Now Written Would Net About $3,250,000,000.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The tax revision bill now faces its third rewriting, this time by the House and Senate conferees. The measure was finally passed early today by the Senate 38 to 34 at the end of a continuous session lasting nearly 18 hours. It will be returned to the House when that body reconvenes tomorrow and republican leaders there plan to send it to conference Thursday. It may reach the President for approval late in the month. At a rough estimate the Treasury experts say the bill in its present form would net approximately $3,250,000,000, or $200,000,000 less than the present law, and about the amount of revenue which the Treasury officers say the government should have. Eventually the bill, the experts assert, would reduce the nation's debt total about $750,000,000.

WASHINGTON IN GALA ATTIRE

The City Is Like a Vast Camp of the Nations of All the World. Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—The national capital suddenly blossomed out with flag today, nearly every civilized country on the globe hoisting its standard over the legations and private residences where the conferees delegates have taken up their quarters, while the hotels, with their multi-colored banners snipping in the breeze, formed a stirring picture. The city is like a vast camp of the nations of the world. Practically all of the legations have arrived. The delegates, with their secretaries, advisers, and clerical staffs, tax the capacity of the hotels to the utmost. In addition, there is a small army of newspaper correspondents, representing the press of all nations. Never before in the history of the capital has the city encircled so large and cosmopolitan a gathering.

ON THE NIGHT PRECEDING THE FORMAL OPENING OF THE CONFERENCE THE VISITORS WILL BE TREATED TO AN ELECTRICAL DISPLAY WHICH NEVER HAS BEEN QUINNED BEFORE

This volume of light with which the city will be bathed will equal 4,000,000,000 candles. The dazzling central spot of the illumination will be the jeweled portal, at the intersection of Seventeenth and B streets, near the Pan-American building and close to the official home of the Limitation of Armament Conference. There a gateway of radiance, of Roman design, but more brilliant than anything Rome ever knew, has been constructed. Two lofty obelisks rise eighty-five feet, and between them will be suspended a splendid jeweled curtain over a span of eighty-six feet.

UPON THIS IMPERIAL, IN A GREAT CENTRAL SUNDIAL, WILL BE SEEN THE FLAGS AND COATS OF ARMS OF GREAT BRITAIN, FRANCE, ITALY, BELGIUM, PORTUGAL, THE NETHERLANDS, JAPAN, AND CHINA.

The curtain will bear a scheme of interwoven designs, traced in jewels of varied colors, which will sparkle in the sun by day and in the flood-lights by night. Of these jewels, 32,000 will be in crystal and jasper and 5,200 in ruby, aquamarine, amethyst, topaz and emerald. The street that leads to this archway of light and color will be illuminated for a stretch of four blocks, as the Avenue of Light. Rows of four-burner Roman lamps, with flaring, torchlight flames will line both sides from the Corcoran Art Gallery to the conference building. This effect will be produced by illuminating gas, although most of the display will be accomplished by electricity.

OTHER IMPUSAL EFFECTS WILL BE SEEN AT THIS POINT. IN FRONT OF THE PAN-AMERICAN BUILDINGS, THE BUILDING OF THE DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, THE RED CROSS BUILDING AND THE DISTRICT BUILDING ON PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, WILL STAND SIXTEEN HERALDIC BANNER STANDARDS.

All these buildings will have illuminated fronts and their porches will be bathed in concealed, rose-tinted rays, while all the flags will be flood-lighted. The Washington Monument will be literally washed in light. Four batteries of eighteen-inch searchlights being located at the base of the monument. Their rays will shoot straight up on each side of the shaft and will go on into space as far as human eyes can see.

FROM THE TOP OF THE MONUMENT SIXTEEN EIGHTEEN-INCH SEARCHLIGHTS WILL ILLUMINATE THE WHITE HOUSE, THE LINCOLN MEMORIAL, THE DOME OF THE CAPITOL, THE AMPHITHEATRE OF IRLINGTON, THE SOLDIERS' HOME, AND THE BUILDING OF THE BUREAU OF PRINTING AND ENGRAVING.

As the monument is but a few hundred feet away from the site of the jeweled arch, all these lights will link together the principal sections of the city.
