THE DRIVE IS NOW ON

The Proposition Meets With China's Delegates Want the Much Favor Among the Extra Territorial Privi-Citizens of Both Concord leges Abelished Altogether and Kannapolis.

TWO CITIES CAN USE IT JOINTLY

Since the announcement a few days ago that an effort was being made to revive interest in the proposition to start a country club, scores of assurtances of support have been received by those behind the movement. Not only the citizens of Concord, but a number from Kannapolis have expressed a desire to see the club started and have made offers of support. The club property on the Kannapolis road, near Cook's Crossing, is so sittuated that it is convenient to citizens of both towns, being only a few minutes drive from either point.

The more the proposition for a country club is discussed the more apparent it becomes that Concord is probably the largest town in the State that does not have such an institution. And many towns considerably smaller and with no neighboring tewn of consequences such as Kannapolis to become joint owners and supporters have been operating and enjoying country clubs for several years. Rockingham, for instance, has a flourishing country club.

Scores of similar expressions are heard when the country club proposi-tion is mentioned. In fact many ex-press impatience when informed that work, if the plans are successful, can-not be finished before spring. This, nowever, is the earliest time the club could be started as the work of getting the property in shape, after the sub-scription to stock and organization quire several weeks, especially in win-ter weather. The announcement followed a public meeting of the Chapter at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. D. Pemberton, presided and presented Mrs. L. D. Coltrane, who stated the object of the meeting. Mrs. Coltrane briefly outlined the mistory of the effort made to eliminate the book, declaring that, as a history is has been found inacchirate, biased and untrue, particularly in presenting the history of the South in the affairs of the nation, one two catted for a report from a committee of the chapter that had made an exhaustive study of the book and matters show ed, by citing page after page, the turth of Mrs. Coltrane's allegations.

Mrs. J. F. Reed, for a long time connected with the faculty of the city schools, probably brought the most effective indictment against Muzzey by using his own book as evidence. She traced the history of the nation through its pages and showed that scant reference was made to the verging on a break. It is underevents in the south that, with trum as a basis, should stand out in unaying glory. She aroused a wave of resent. glory. She aroused a wave of rescutment against the author by reading his referencee to the soldiers of the confederacy as traitors.

Representatives from various clubs and other organizations were present and voiced their disapproval and the disapproval of the organizations offey represented of the book. Prof. A. S.
