

HAPPENINGS IN OUR NEIGHBORING VILLAGES

WINECOFF. The first of the preliminary debates, looking forward to the coming triangular contest, scheduled to take place in the spring, will be held on the afternoon of February 2, between the teams of the eighth and sixth grades. A second debate will be held on the following week between the tenth and seventh grade debating teams. From the several debaters selected from the classes of the high school, two teams will be drawn to represent Winecoff against the other schools of our section. The subject to be discussed is "Resolved, That the United States Should Enter the League of Nations."

AGRICULTURAL COLUMN Conducted by R. D. Goodman.

The pruning and spraying demonstrations different townships will be continued this year as in the past, and all those interested in caring for their orchards should attend the ones near them as it is impossible for me to visit every home orchard in the county as I am required to select several in each Township that are best suited for this work considering the location and the co-operation that the owner can give.

Good fruit can be grown in Cabarrus county if you give it half the attention given some of our staple crops and pruning and spraying at the proper time with the latest materials.

We Must Become Timber Growers

BY W. B. GREELEY, Chief U. S. Forest Service

Editor's Note.—W. B. Greeley is chief of the United States Forest Service. He is making a life work of leaving to the nation the wood that is left and to creating a new supply of timber to fill the demand that will exist for untold years to come. He has some facts and figures that are surprising.

The lumber industry of the United States is dropping behind the Rocky Mountains. This is the outstanding fact in the 1920 census of American sawmills just completed by the Forest Service. The cut of lumber in practically every western State has increased. In nearly every Washington State and in nearly every Oregon State and in nearly every California State, the cut of lumber has increased. In the United States as a whole, the cut of lumber has increased 100 per cent. The lumber industry of the United States is dropping behind the Rocky Mountains. This is the outstanding fact in the 1920 census of American sawmills just completed by the Forest Service.

As the saw mill acre across the Great Plains into virgin fields, the average lumber miller or manufacturer pays the price. With every fresh move, the lumber miller or manufacturer pays the price. With every fresh move, the lumber miller or manufacturer pays the price. With every fresh move, the lumber miller or manufacturer pays the price.

Because of unimproved forest land, we are draining our timber resources six times as fast as they are being replaced. Because of this, we today feel the slowly tightening grip of a national timber shortage. The ill-effects of forest land is making it more difficult and costly to house our people, to supply our newspapers and magazines with paper, to maintain our manufacturing industries that depend upon wood.

MR. FOX'S NEW SUIT

MR. FOX'S NEW SUIT. "I really must have a new suit of clothes," said Mr. Fox, one morning to his wife, "and while I am about it I may as well have a stylish one. I noticed in the fashion that they were wearing the trousers tighter."

"You can't get about very well in tight pants," said Mrs. Fox, "and goodness knows that you are slow enough now about getting food for the family. You better think a little more about work and less about style."

But in spite of all of Mrs. Fox's good advice Mr. Fox got a new suit, and had it made tight-fitting. "You better put on your old suit of clothes tonight," said Mrs. Fox, as her husband started off with the trunk basket in his arm. "You know that while he was careful not to tear his clothes, he jumped lightly over the wall and went to the poultry-house."

Mr. Dog, up at the hill farm is a very restless sleeper and if he should catch you he might catch you with those tight clothes on. "I guess I can jump and run faster than any old Mr. Dog, even if I am dressed up," replied Mr. Fox, as he slammed the door behind him, "I was tired of hearing so much about his tight clothes."

As he walked along in the moonlight Mr. Fox looked at his fine-looking shadow and forgot all about his anger, or even about Mr. Dog, and...

THEY HAD SOME IMAGINATION

YEA, IT IS YAD BETTER GET UP AND OPEN THAT WINDOW. I CAN'T GET THE DARK WINDOW OPEN, HANK. WELL, THEN BREAK IT. WE'VE GOTTA HAVE SOME AIR. YOU SAID IT.

SMASH! YOU SAID IT. A LITTLE SIMPLY BECAUSE THE BOOKS DOOR, INSTEAD OF THE WINDOW, LAST NIGHT. LOOK!

WIMBLES UP YOUR SORE STIFF JOINTS. WEATHER exposure and hard work bring pains and aches to muscles and joints. Have a bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy and apply freely. Restores without rubbing. You will find at once a comforting sense of warmth which will be followed by a relief from the aches and stiffness of aching joints.

HANK and PETE. YEA, IT IS YAD BETTER GET UP AND OPEN THAT WINDOW. I CAN'T GET THE DARK WINDOW OPEN, HANK. WELL, THEN BREAK IT. WE'VE GOTTA HAVE SOME AIR. YOU SAID IT.

SMASH! YOU SAID IT. A LITTLE SIMPLY BECAUSE THE BOOKS DOOR, INSTEAD OF THE WINDOW, LAST NIGHT. LOOK!
