WOMAN CANDIDATE PUT ON TICKETT

Miss Margie McEachern Candidate for Treasurer—John McAllister, J. V. Elliott and W. B. Boger Chosen.

Harmony and strict adherence to the business before it featured the meeting of the Democratic County Convention at the court house last Saturday afternoon. The leaders of the party were on hand to give encouragement to their various candidates, but they gave this support in a quiet way, and long speeches and oratorical contests which formerly were an important part in any political gathering, were pleasingly missing. One would gather from the precedent set Saturday that the Democratis are going to wage a speechless camare going to wage a speechless campaign. Apparently the feaders have become convinced that the voter of the late Samuel Alexander, widow flattery and promises. There was a sunday evening at 7:15 o'clock at her time, to be sure, when any kind of a home at 82 Franklin avenue. She as it relates to his cilents and said it to be sure, when any kind of a home at 82 Franklin avenue. She as it relates to his cilents and said it speaker would be heard by multitudes, but the worm has turned, and instead of campaign promises the people now want post-campaign action. If this is the platform of the county Democrats, and the convention Saturday indicat-ed this, the leaders have made a good monlous meeting in the county. The supporters of the various candidates fought for their favorites, but once the tide began to swing, the entire convention got into line, and every candidate received the unanimous endorsement of the convention after being nominated. There was not n single "no" recorded on these single "no" recorded on these votes, and the meeting closely resembled the time worn "love-feast" when all can-didates had been named.

go back home.

The wise decision of the prodigal was the thing, however, that counted in his life. It is all right to reflect to be tired of sin, to be sorry, to de said the injunction was one which the courts have no authority to issue.

The bill, Mr. Richberg said, is based on an assertion that the defendants are under a legal duty to obey the decisions of the U. S. Railroad Labor Board.

There is nothing in the transportation act creating the Labor Board, providing any method for enforcing Rs decisions except by public opinion, he said. Even if the board's decisions were legally binding they could not be awfully enforced to prevent the workers from withdrawing from service.

Physicians Think the Change

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, Sept. 11—Improvement in the condition of Mrs. Harding, which began yesterday, continued throughout the night and the forenoon the operation which has been under consideration.

An official bulletin issued shortly after 10 o'clock today said the wife of the President had spent a less restless night, and generally her condition which became critical last week wa-improved. The bulletin was supplemented by statements made by visitors to the White House, Seceretary Wallace, who called shortly after 8 o'clock, saying Mrs. Harding had spent a fairly restful night. Secretary Weeks who cal-led later said he had been informed that the night had been the best the patient had had since her condition became alarming. The temperature of the patient at 9:30 today was noted in the official builetin, 59 1-2, as compared with 100 1-2 at 9 o'clock last night; her pulse was 96 as compared with 116 last night, and her respiration was 30 as com-pared with 36. These figures were said to medical experts to be quite indicative of an improvement.

Mr. Harding is reported to be great-ly encouraged by the improvement, in his wife's condition today. An air of optimism pervaded the White House, tient appearing to be in better spirtient appearing to be in better spirits over her condition than at any time during the past three days.

Refreshed by a night's sleep, the President continued to keep in touch with his wife's bedside, and with the attending physicians. The presence at the White House of the entire ensulting staff made complete yester day by the arrival here of Dr. Char Mayo, specialist from Rochester Minn., seemed to strengthen the hope that Mrs. Harding would successfully pass through the present crisis.
