GEN. HARRINGTON TO CONFER WITH TURKS

Leaves Constantinople for Conference With Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalists Leader.

NEXT 24 HOURS TO SEE CRISIS PASSED

Reports From Athens Indicate That All Greek Soldiers in Thrace Have Joined the Revolutionary Movement.

Constantinople, Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press).—Brigadier General Sir Chas. Harrington, commander-in-chief of the British forces in the Dardanelles, plans to leave this afternoon for a conference with Mustapha Kemal Pasha, probably at Mudania on the Sea of Marmora.

The British are confident that if the next 24 hours passed without firing of a shot at Chanak or other points along the Dardanelles, all immediate danger of hostilities will have been avoided.

The situation in Chanak, where the British and Turkish troops are almost elbowing each other, was unchanged today.

The meeting between General Harrington and Mustapha Kemal Pasha is expected to be held tonight, and it is believed here it will result in the withdrawal of the Turkish cavalry from the neutral zone.

Greek Army in Thrace Revolts. Athens, Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press).—The Greek army in Thrace has definitely joined the revolution. The army corps in the Epirus also has thrown in its lot with the revolution.

Situation Little Short of War. London, Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press).—Grave fears for a recurrence of general warfare in Europe as a result of the Near East crisis are occupying the minds of British official circles. It is stated in authoritative quarters.

The protracted and frequent cabinet meetings which have been going on for the past few days all have been for the purpose of taking every possible step for the prevention of such a conflagration.

It is explained that these fears are based on relations known to exist between the Ankara government and soviet Russia and the potentialities of such relations.

The whole British policy, it is stated, is to keep the Turks from crossing the Dardanelles into eastern Thrace, because it is maintained that in this event fighting would certainly start and the whole of the Balkans be drawn into the fighting. It is declared emphatically such a crossing will not be contemplated.

The issue of war or peace still hung by a thread this morning and there was no relief from the tension existing yesterday. Violation of the neutral zone by the Turks continued, Turkish soldiers are approaching within a few feet of the British outposts, and reconnoitering the whole of the defensive positions. General Harrington's orders have not been changed.

The cabinet went into session again this morning and probably will continue in conference throughout the day with only necessary intermissions.

The situation is as bad as it can be, short of actual war, in the opinion of editorial writers of the morning newspapers. The main danger is still regarded as centering in the Chanak zone on the southern shore of the Dardanelles, into which Turkish nationalist troops continue to move freely in defiance of the British demand.

There were rumors overnight that the allies would possibly evacuate Constantinople thus allowing the Kemalists through to Thrace, where they could co-operate with the British forces in Chanak in keeping the straits open. Fear is also expressed lest the Kemalists sympathizers in Constantinople start on uprising within the capital.

Turks Will Advance No Further. Constantinople, Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press).—Mustapha Kemal Pasha, replying to General Harrington's telegram of Wednesday has sent a message declaring his troops would not advance further. He says he desires that no incident should occur and that he will see General Harrington as soon as possible.

PROHIBITION DETECTIVES POSE AS CATTLE MEN

Had Been Securing Evidence Against Alleged Bootleggers in Salisbury for Several Weeks.

Salisbury, Sept. 29.—Living a high life in Salisbury under the guise of Jersey Cattle Salesman, two federal prohibition agents have been buying liquor from dealers in Rowan and nearby counties to secure evidence, it was learned at the office of Prohibition Officer Kohloss today.

The identity of the men was disclosed, it is thought, by a man from Danville, where the two men had worked before coming to Salisbury about six weeks ago. One of the men was now in Danville testifying in court here.

It developed Wednesday night that the men were known to bootleggers when the car of the agent remaining in Salisbury was stopped on South River bridge by cars belonging to alleged bootleggers. The man returned to a nearby farm house and phoned Prohibition Commissioner Kohloss for assistance.

The men would frame up a party with local citizens and go out and buy liquor in order to secure evidence against the alleged dealers, to whom Mr. Kohloss' men were known.

Whether their work was completed before their identity became established is not known, but it is understood they secured evidence against a number of men.

PRESIDENT'S FATHER FAVORS DEMOCRAT FOR CONGRESS

Says If He Lived in Iowa He Would Vote for Clyde L. Herring for U. S. Senate.

Des Moines, Sept. 29.—Dr. George T. Harding, father of President Harding, caused considerable comment here by a statement that if he were a resident of Iowa he would vote for Clyde L. Herring, the democratic candidate for United States Senator.

Dr. Harding, who is in Des Moines in connection with the G. A. R. encampment, has been the guest of E. T. Meredith, former Secretary of Agriculture, and has been entertained by Mr. Herring and other members of the democratic party.

Yesterday in an interview Dr. Harding said the republican candidate for the United States Senate, Smith W. Brookhart, was a Socialist, adding that he did not want to see him in Washington causing trouble.

"We have enough of these socialists in Washington now causing trouble, and we don't want any more of them," he declared.

PERSEVERANCE WILL WIN 3 FINE AUTOS

Early Entrants Will Gain a Great Advantage in Campaign That Will Continue for Eight Weeks.

INVITATION FOR YOU TO ENTER

Many Workers Are Wanted to Share in the Great Prize List—Everybody Wins Something for Efforts.

Today is one of "opportunities." It is a day when perseverance and energy will win. By the persistent application of these two qualities in the "salesmanship club" now being made by The Tribune and Times, a goodly number of persons in this community will soon own and drive handsome automobiles purchased at great cost, and all the very latest designs. After one fully realizes the possibilities of this great offer there isn't one iota of doubt but that the decision will be to get busy at once and begin an active campaign for subscriptions and votes.

If the prize list contained one or two cars of small value, and in event no commissions were paid to those who were not awarded a prize, the proposition would, perhaps, not appeal so strongly. But, there are three automobiles—each and every one of them of unquestionable value and dependability. Most of us can't see now how we ever got along without the automobile, of course, but it is within the memory of the present generation when the talk of the horseless carriage was accepted more or less as a joke, and the claps who first suggested the idea of propelling a vehicle without a "mag" to pull it were in a class with "Darius Greck" and his flying machines. Folks laughed about Darius and his silly ideas for years, but no one viewed the horseless carriage as anything except a curiosity.

That is, no one but the inventors—these men of tremendous vision who saw in this new plaything and curiosity a great utility of the future. When they might eventually be made to do service in actual transportation, they again got the laugh.

Today the automobile is no more unusual to men, women and children on the civilized globe than the sewing machine. Yet, as recently as the recent nineties it was a burlesque.

In the days when the automobiles were first put out as a pleasure vehicle, only the wealthy could afford them. The auto owner today is the man in every walk of life, and for several years past the automobile has been looked upon as a necessity.

The Tribune and Times "salesmanship club" offers you the opportunity no matter whether you own a car at the present time or wait for the street car—no matter whether you reside in Concord or elsewhere, an opportunity to own a motor car and a good one at that, in exchange for your efforts in the next few weeks directed to help increase the circulation of these two newspapers.

The ambition of every "auto bug" is to own a better car than the one he now has. Those who have not as yet invested in touring cars are doubtless laying their plans to do so in the near future. The choice of the automobile market today is represented in The Tribune's and Times' great prize list.

Join the Club Today. The Tribune and Times extend to you a hearty welcome and a cordial invitation to join the ranks of boosters and share in the division of more than $6,000 in prizes. The "salesmanship club" is a sure thing for you right from the beginning as you are sure of a liberal commission in the event you do not receive one of the prizes.

The first step toward the ownership of one of these magnificent prizes is the nomination coupon appearing elsewhere in this issue. Clip it out now—right now, and bring or send it to the Salesmanship Club Headquarters located in The Tribune Building, if it is inconvenient for you to call in person, get us on the phone No. 78 and let us have your name and address, and ask any questions concerning the big Drive that you do not fully understand.

TOM THUMB WEDDING AND FASHION SHOW

Held Thursday Night and Was a Very Enjoyable Affair.

The Tom Thumb Wedding and Fall Fashion Show, given at Central Grade School auditorium Thursday night, drew a capacity house and was a success in every sense of the word.

The wedding was staged by the local chapter King's Daughters to raise funds to carry on the work of this organization, and that the cause has the approval of the public was evidenced by the throngs that attended.

The participants in the Tom Thumb Wedding were all attired in "full dress" and the stage setting was complete in every respect. The music—instrumental and vocal numbers—also was furnished by the belles and beaux of the coming generation and each number on the program was well rendered. That the entertainment was enjoyed was evidenced by the generous applause and merriment throughout the evening.

At the conclusion of the wedding ceremony a Fashion Show was staged by the Parks-Belk Company. The company had living models showing the newest Fall attire for ladies, hats, suits, street and evening dresses, and coats suit were shown, and this part of the evening's entertainment was greatly enjoyed.

DEATH OF POWELL MARE IS PUZZLE TO OFFICERS

Forsyth County Officers Still Have No Clue as to Who Shot Prominent Farmer.

Winston-Salem, Sept. 29.—"It is the most puzzling case I have ever encountered in my experience as an officer," declared Sheriff Plynt this morning in discussing the death of Powell Mabe, 41, who was shot and killed late Wednesday afternoon in the woods near Walnut Cove by an unknown party.

Mabe who was a highly esteemed farmer, was squirrel hunting with his brother-in-law, Jerry Hicks, and the two men had been separated only a short time when the latter heard a gun fire. Thinking that Mabe had shot a squirrel Hicks paid no attention to it, but while en route home he found the dead body of his relative with his loaded shot gun by his side.

A coroner's inquest was held yesterday afternoon but the investigation threw no light on the party who fired the fatal shot.

Black Snake Found in Child's Pillow. Little Creek, W. Va., Sept. 28.—"Mamma, there's something alive in my pillow and it wiggles," insisted a young daughter of Mrs. Kinsey Darril, when she appeared for breakfast this morning.

The child's statement was confirmed by two other children who reminded their mother that they had made similar declarations since the big, home-made pillow was placed on their bed, Monday night.

"That's hush," replied Mrs. Darril. "I stuffed that pillow with nice, clean chicken feathers and a sewed it myself."

"Well—fed it," insisted a daughter. The mother did. "Maybe you're right," she said. When the pillow was opened outside of the house, a fair sized black snake wiggled away.

Bachelor's Club is Totally Decimated. Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 28.—Thirty-two years ago 23 Waukegan business men forswore marriage, formed a bachelor club and bought a club-house, on Third lake.

Today the old circle had dwindled to one, Clarence J. Bassett, a jeweler—and he sold the club. "It's too lonesome," he said. "When any of the old fellows come back they always bring a lot wives and things."

When the break in the ranks started, William W. Pearce, offered a silver loving cup for the first pair of twins. Ten years later he won it himself. The old bachelor club is to be turned over to vacation colonists.

STILL I MAN LOVES HIS FIGHT AGAINST WIFE

Was Denied Decree of Absolute Divorce Against Anne Stillman, by Daniel Gleason, Referee in the Case.

GUY STILLMAN IS LEGITIMATE CHILD

Of the Banker, Referee Gleason Also Finds—Charges Against Stillman Upheld by Referee's Decree.

Cornell, N. Y., Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press).—James A. Stillman, former president of the National City Bank of New York, was denied a divorce in his suit for absolute divorce against his wife, Anne U. Stillman, and baby, Guy Stillman, was declared legitimate in the finding of Daniel J. Gleason, referee in the case, which was filed here today.

The referee's decision was a complete victory for Mrs. Stillman. Not only was her defense upheld, but the referee also confirmed her charges that Mr. Stillman had miscondemned himself with Florence H. Leeds, former Broadway show girl, and that Mrs. Leeds had borne two children.

In regard to Mrs. Stillman's charges that her banker husband had also miscondemned himself with two other women identified only as "Helen" and "Clara," referee Gleason decided that the evidence was not sufficient to prove the allegations of adultery.

Through his mother's victory, Guy Stillman retains his right as an heir with his two brothers and sisters to the six million dollar trust fund created for them by their grandfather, the late James Stillman.

The referee wrote that the testimony advanced by Mr. Stillman in support of his charges that Mrs. Stillman miscondemned herself with Fred Beauvais, part Indian guide, alleged by the banker to be the father of little Guy Stillman, "uncontradicted and unexplained, was insufficient to justify him (Stillman) in believing Mrs. Stillman guilty of the charges made against her."

"A careful examination, however, of all the testimony," he said, "has shaken my faith and belief in the testimony of the witnesses called on the plaintiff's behalf."
