

TURKS TO BE ALLOWED TO OCCUPY THRACE

Only After Conclusion of a Peace Treaty—Great Britain and France Agree on This Principle.

BUT LITTLE DOUBT ALL WILL ACCEPT

The Solution Provides Three Steps for the Return of Thrace to Turks—To Be Referred Also to Rome.

Paris, Oct. 7 (By the Associated Press).—Great Britain and France, as represented by Foreign Secretary Curzon and Premier Poincare, have agreed in principle that the troops of the Turkish nationalists shall be allowed to occupy Thrace only after the conclusion of a peace treaty.

This agreement now will be submitted to the French and British cabinets which are now in session and will be referred to Rome by the Italian representative here.

There is considered to be little doubt, however, that all will accept, and the details will be worked out this afternoon so that the allied generals at Mudania can resume their conference in full agreement with each other as to the terms to be offered the Turks.

The solution provides three steps for the return of Thrace to the Turks as follows:

First, the Greek army and those of the population desiring to leave must evacuate immediately.

Second, a Turkish civil administration will be installed at the same time the allied troops take the place of the Greek forces to preserve order.

Third, the Turkish army will be allowed to cross the Straits of Dardanelles and enter Thrace only upon the conclusion of a peace treaty, and it will not be until that time that eastern Thrace is completely restored to Turkey.

10,000 Greeks in Eastern Thrace. London, Oct. 7 (By the Associated Press).—Ten thousand Greek troops have been concentrated in the Thessaly district, eastern Thrace, which is under control of the French cavalry, says a Central News dispatch from Constantinople.

Greek officers are reported to have distributed arms to some of the population of Thrace, telling them to resist the Turks.

Fires have broken out in the forest of Istranja, north of Constantinople, and are spreading in the direction of the Bosphorus.

The Turkish newspapers announce Mustafa Kemal Pasha has left Ankara for Mudania, where he hopes to meet General Harrington, the British commander, says a Reuter dispatch.

Mudania Conference Resumed. Mudania, Oct. 7 (By the Associated Press).—The sessions of the conference here were resumed at 8 o'clock this morning. Owing to the lateness of the arrival of British instructions from home no formal session was held last evening, but allied generals conferred late into the night.

Reported That Sultan Has Abducted. London, Oct. 7 (By the Associated Press).—A report that the Sultan Mohamed VI of Turkey abducted at 10:35 this morning was received today by Russian delegates here in a wireless dispatch from Moscow. There is no confirmation of the report, but Moscow is believed to be in close communication with Constantinople.

The Moscow dispatch, which repeated the message from Ankara, says that upon abdication the Sultan named as his cousin, who will be known as Mehmed II.

Since the successful campaign of the Turkish nationalist army against the Greeks there has been several reports of abdication of the Sultan. In reply to these reports he declared in a letter to a friend on September 30:

"I shall continue to discharge my holy duties until the end. When the nationalists enter Constantinople I shall have something pertinent to say to them."

New Instructions. Paris, Oct. 7 (By the Associated Press).—Viscount Curzon, British foreign secretary, following another conference this morning with Premier Poincare, told the Associated Press that he and M. Poincare had agreed in principle on the new instructions to be sent to the allied delegation at Mudania.

Greeks Must Evacuate Thrace Immediately. Paris, Oct. 7 (By the Associated Press).—The Mudania conference has definitely agreed that the Greeks shall evacuate Thrace immediately. It was announced here today. A month three after the Turkish general and a Turkish administration will enter Thrace and the allied contingent controlling that territory in the thirty-day period will withdraw.

KIWANIS MEETING

Resolution of Commendation for the $50,000 Gift.—John Miller Talks on Fires and Fire Losses.

The Kiwanis Club of Concord at its regular meeting Friday evening at the Concord Y. M. C. A. transacted several business matters, and enjoyed a splendid program arranged by Team No. 6, Fred R. Shepherd, captain.

Lee Crowell, Jr., presented to the club resolutions expressing to Mrs. J. W. Cannon the appreciation and commendation of the Kiwanis Club for her recent donation of $50,000 to the Jackson Training School to help rebuild the administration building which was recently destroyed by fire.

A letter from Commander John M. Oglesby of the Fred Y. McConnell post of the American Legion was read. Mr. Oglesby stated he had been informed that it will be proper for the American Legion to join in a celebration on Armistice Day, and that the post will be pleased to assist in arranging a celebration for November 11th.

The matter was referred to the special committee, of which Major Will Hill is chairman.

The District Convention to be held in Asheville on the 17th and 18th of this month was again called to the attention of the members of the club. The official bulletin of this convention was furnished to each of those present.

Arrangements are being made for quite a number of local Kiwanians to attend this big event, at which will be gathered Kiwanians from the two Carolinas, representing forty-two Kiwanis clubs.

Chairman John H. Sherrell of the District Convention Committee is making arrangements for members of the local club who expect to attend the convention.

Captain Fred R. Shepherd, of Team No. 6, took charge of the program. Miss Mary MacLaughlin, former Concordian, delighted the club with two vocal selections, the accompaniment being played by Miss Nell Herrick.

Mr. John L. Miller, one of the charter members of the Kiwanis Club, and known throughout the state in firemen circles, was presented to deliver a talk on fire prevention, in observance of Fire Prevention Week, which has been set apart from October 2nd to October 9th.

Mr. Miller outlined to his hearers the vast amount of losses sustained by this country on account of fires, running up to $550,000,000 per year, or $5 each for every man, woman and child in the United States. In comparison with other countries in the world, the United States has the highest losses in the whole world, some of the countries having losses as low as one-twentieth of ours or less.

Besides the loss of property, 100 lives were lost last year in the state of North Carolina.

Two things are responsible for so many fires in the United States, continued Mr. Miller. These are ignorance and carelessness. Ignorance in the building of structures, faulty flues, defective wiring and the like cause millions of dollars loss annually; while carelessness of persons in allowing all kind of rubbish to accumulate about their premises has led to other losses still as large.

The speaker stated that the children of the present generation are being educated along the line of fire prevention, and he predicted that the next generation will see wonderful improvement along this line.

Rev. William A. Jenkins, a member of the Rotary Club and an honorary member of the Kiwanis Club, was present at the meeting, and presented to the Kiwanians the matter of support for the Concord Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Mr. Jenkins outlined the good work which is being done by the local Y in boys' circles, building them up physically, morally, socially and spiritually.

The speaker brought to the attention of the club the financial condition of the institution and urged that steps be taken by the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs of Concord to put the Y on a sound financial footing.

It is planned now to hold a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs in the near future, at which definite plans will be laid for this work.

Three teams reported 100 per cent attendance at Friday evening's meeting, as follows: No. 6, Fred R. Shepherd, captain; No. 9, Dr. Robert Fisher, captain; and No. 11, Dr. Julius Shannon, captain. The silent boost was given by Will M. Lipker, of team No. 6.

The attendance prize for the last meeting was drawn by the members of team No. 11, Caleb W. Swink winning the prizes which was donated by Brevard Harris, of team No. 4.

GIANTS WIN IN THIRD GAME. Jack Scott baffles the Yanks and leaps into realm of stars.

New York, Oct. 6.—A little more than three months ago John William Scott dropped out of the baseball box score and no tears—save possibly his own—were shed. Jack had never ranked with those whose names are passed on. A hard working plodder had just worn out and was expected to fade away. Tonight he is the most talked about man in the United States and his name will live.

He transformed himself today and became an identity by pitching 112 balls that resulted in his team, the New York Giants, defeating the New York Yankees, 3 to 0, in the third game of the world's series, and supplied his club with a two-game lead in the classic, an advantage that has been overcome only once in history.

Everyone knew that Waite Hoyt, the "hey wonder" who won two out of three games from the Giants in the 1921 series, striking out 18 men, allowing only 18 hits, and yielding only two runs, both unearned, was to pitch for the Yankees. One fan remarked that McGraw virtually was conceding the game, believing Hoyt unbeatable, and had decided not to throw away a man who might win tomorrow.

Jack Scott's record in the books now stands there, that the castoff pitcher was so impressive that the Giant outfielders made only six putouts that the Yankees were so thoroughly subdued that 18 out of their 24 outs were of the easy infield variety. Only four hits were made by the Yankees, with their touted "murderer's row" and only six times did they get a man on first.

On the mound, facing 40,000 pairs of critical eyes, listening to the blasts of the mighty shouts, Scott showed the formation of earnestness, altho and hope, but he never smiled. He remained inscrutably calm and cool.

Jack Scott combined his head and his aging right arm today—and he followed orders. Earl Smith, the catcher, said afterward that every time he called for a high pitch, a high one came. Not once, he said, did Scott fail. He used only a curve but he had such remarkable control that always it went where Smith, whose knowledge of the Yankee batters and discerning judgment cannot be overvalued, ordered.

McGraw was visible in his praise of Scott and Miller Huggins, the beaten and crestfallen mentor of the Yanks, was not remiss.

QUICK GETAWAY IS PREDICTED IN BIG RACE

Starting "Gone" Will Sound Monday in Most Interesting Prize Event Inaugurated in This Territory.

STUPENDOUS PRIZES OFFERED MEMBERS

Great Benefits Will Result From Entering Now and Getting Even Break at Barrier—Rewards for All.

Quite a number of folks who have been considering entering the Club and weighing their possibilities, of earning one of the big prizes are sending in their names now, with the request that we use particular care in having it appear in the first list. One member who entered yesterday said that she believed his would be "conscience stricken" if she allowed the opportunity of owning an Anderson automobile get by her without taking a "shot at it." "I know it means work, and work is just what I mean to do," she added.

The three greatest elements to success in anything you undertake are effort, industry, perseverance; the easy things of life are of little value. You have something good to sell when you offer your friends The Tribune or The Times, or both—you have something that the world is reaching out for every day—news, information, The Tribune and The Times convey both to the public, they are an institution in the community, exerting a powerful moral influence—an educational factor.

When you have something good to talk about it is not hard to tell the people the nature of your business.

The Names Appear Monday. The first list will appear Monday, and the list will be the starting "zone" for the official opening of the "Salesmanship Club." Eight weeks from that day three Club Members will be the proud possessors of the wonderful automobiles. Every other person in the list will be paid handsomely. The Club will end at a time when automobiles will be the most desirable acquisition one could imagine. You are cordially invited to take part in the Club and get a liberal share of the big $5,000.00 list.

This is Membership Week. We have been writing and you have been reading a great deal during the past day or so about Membership Week. We are going to tell you some more about it. We are modest, of course, but we have enough confidence in the attractiveness of the Salesmanship Club proposition and in the wonderful prizes offered to believe that there are scores upon scores of persons who would welcome seeing their names appear in the first list.

And if their names appeared as a result of the thoughtfulness of some friend, they would be tickled "pink." They would begin immediately to justify the confidence their friend or friends had placed in their ability as a winner by requesting supplies and all information relative to beginning a winning campaign at once.

It isn't necessary that you be nominated by some friend; in reality the best friend one has is himself. Therefore, don't stand back waiting for someone else to do it, but send in your nomination today YOURSELF, and determine to ride in one of the classy automobiles of the stupendous prize list.

Do Not Hesitate. The all important thing about the entire procedure is the start, and after once the start is made one is surprised at the ease with which their friends rally to their support. It is the experience of everyone who has canvassed their friends up to the present time that they have received splendid encouragement from all. It is only human to wish to be on the winning side, and after once you convince your friends of your determination to succeed, the rest is easy.

You still have plenty of time to get your name in the first list—the charter member list. Thousands of people are eagerly awaiting the first publication of names, and those whose names appear in the first list will be fortunate indeed. We are going to suggest that you lose no time in making your decision, and that if acquiring a prize in value from $2,020.00 down to the liberal cash commission for your spare time interests you in the least—by all means get your nomination in now.

20,000 FREE VOTES. The nomination coupon has a face value of 5,000 votes, and four of them will be accepted for any one member, but be sure to clip them from the papers and send them in, as they are filed away carefully and will be turned over to the judges when the big count takes place.

Remember the Club opens Monday (next Monday, October 9th). You will waste enough spare time during that time to earn one of the three automobiles in case you do not enter the Club and compete for them.

ARM FROM "THE GRAVE" TOO MUCH FOR YANKEES

John Scott, Resurrected From Baseball's Graveyard, Leads Giants to 3 to 0 Victory.

New York, Oct. 7. (By the Associated Press).—Their aspirations cooled by the frigid breath of a ghost from baseball's graveyard, Miller Huggins' Yankees stood today in a shadow of their own tomb. They must recover from the blight of the phantom long John Scott, whose rattling Tar Heel bones gave them a scare yesterday, from the length of which only one team in the history of world's series has recovered.

The unearthly pitching which the spook brought from the cemetery, caused the Yanks' bats to pass through as if the balls were bits of estopias, and in a worldly way of speaking, defeated them 3 to 0 in the third game of the world series. The defeat was the second in the series for the Yanks. In the series of 1921 the Giants set a precedent by winning the title after spitting the Yanks to the first two games.

Long John's pitching bones were laid to rest last July. Pat Moran of the Cincinnati Reds officiated. He had pronounced John's pitching days over, they dirge was droned, and the baseball world soon forgot that John Scott had ever lived.

Then some world being communicated with the spirit land, and Scott learned that John McGraw, of the Giants needed pitchers and he would have them even if they had to be resurrected.

So the gannet figure of John Scott appeared yesterday on the mound they call the pitcher's box. First as he was in the tricks of the "beyond," he put them where the Yankees couldn't see them. Most every living thing in the world is thinking about Scott today, but the Yankees are thinking of other things. Miller Huggins is trying to forget about it by making desperate plans for today's game.

GEN. PERSHING WILL ATTEND THE STATE FAIR

Will Be There Thursday, October 17. Guest of Governor Morrison.

Raleigh, Oct. 7.—General J. Pershing will attend the State Fair, Tuesday, October 17, rather than Wednesday, as previously announced. It was stated today on the return of Colonel Albert L. Cox, chairman of the entertainment committee, from Washington, where he conferred with General Pershing relative to arrangements for the stay of the distinguished soldier in Raleigh.

The change in the plans of General Pershing will cause "Military Day" to coincide with "Opening Day" and will give the Fair three speakers of national reputation for the opening day. General Pershing will speak, probably after the Fair has been formally opened by Governor Morrison and Mrs. Edith Vanderbilt, president of the Fair, has made her annual address.

General Pershing has accepted an invitation to be the guest of Governor Morrison while on his first visit to the State Capitol and will be entertained at breakfast at the Executive Mansion Tuesday morning at nine o'clock. Following the breakfast at the Fair grounds, an luncheon at the two million troops in the American Expeditionary Forces, will lead the parade to the Fair grounds and after the speaking exercises will be the guest of honor at a luncheon at the Fair grounds on Wednesday.

General Pershing will leave Raleigh at 5:40 Tuesday afternoon for New Orleans, where he will attend the annual convention of the American Legion. Conflict between the two engagements caused General Pershing to advance the date of his trip to Raleigh.

Colonel Cox also announced that arrangements have been completed for a battery of field artillery to camp on the Fair grounds during the entire week of the Fair. This outfit will take part in the parade for General Pershing and will give exhibition drills on the Fair grounds each day, furnishing the greatest attraction of the kind the Fair has ever had.

Adjutant General J. Van B. Metts has been asked by Mrs. Vanderbilt to act as Chief Marshal for the parade and expects to have several units of the National Guard in Raleigh for the occasion. The thirty-two piece field artillery band, one of the best military bands in the country, from Fort Bragg, will also be here as well as the band of the 120th Infantry of the North Carolina National Guard.

Brigadier General A. J. Bowley, commanding officer of Fort Bragg, will be present with his staff and the staff of Governor Morrison will also be present for this occasion and arrangements are being made for full representation of the American Legion posts throughout the state.
