

LOYD GEORGE PLANS TO FIGHT FOR PARTY

Says Conservatives May Win Victory, But He Will Fight to See That Country Does Not Suffer From It.

AMERICAN DEBT MUST BE PAID

The Retiring Premier Also States—Expresses Doubt That Conservatives Will Win in Next Election.

London, Oct. 25 (By the Associated Press).—I will support any party and any government that pursues a policy of peace, economy and steady progress, neither revolutionary nor reactionary, and does it efficiently.

Referring to the coalition government which he had headed, he said: "I have stood for national unity for unity of the men of all creeds, parties and sections."

"Our object first was the winning of the war, and afterwards extracting the country out of its after-war difficulties. It was our policy then, and it is our policy now."

Referring to conservatives who broke away from the coalition and by their defeat of Asquith Chamberlain as conservative leader, brought about the accession of Bonar Law to the premiership, he said:

"I can understand the revolt of the under-secretaries. They were spouters who would like to be captains, and captains who would like to be made colonels or full generals."

"The conservatives may win the next victory, I doubt that, but supposing they do, that is not the end of the war between two great conflicting ideas of the organization of society. Our business is to see that the blunder shall not do harm to our country."

"Unity of action between Great Britain and the United States was urged by Mr. Lloyd George."

"I am for the league of nations," he said, "but will you get the United States and all the great nations of Europe as well as the small, the league will be crippled and cannot serve its full purpose. America and Great Britain must work together."

On the question of German reparations he said: "We would not attempt to impose upon Germany a payment which is beyond her capacity. What is within her capacity she ought to pay."

He expressed himself with some definiteness as regards the question of Russia.

"I am strongly in favor of the renewal of a pact with Russia," he declared.

New Ministry Takes Oath. London, Oct. 25 (By the Associated Press).—The cabinet of Prime Minister Andrew Bonar Law, was sworn in at Buckingham Palace this morning.

MISS ISABELLE GOODSON AND MR. KENNETH CALDWELL WED

Wedding of Prominent Couple Occurred Tuesday Evening in the First Presbyterian Church.

The First Presbyterian Church here was the scene of a wedding of unusual interest to Cabarrus county and western North Carolina Tuesday evening when Miss Isabelle Goodson and Mr. Kenneth E. Caldwell were wedded.

The ceremony was witnessed by a large concourse of friends of the contracting parties, and was performed by Dr. J. M. Grier, of Newton, for many years pastor of the couple.

A unique feature of the wedding was the presence of the members of Company E, Concord's military company, of which the groom is commanding officer. The company marched to the church in a body and occupied seats reserved for them.

White tulle, potted ferns, asparagus fern and chrysanthemums formed a perfect background on the altar and choir railing for the wedding party. Three large potted ferns were used at each end and near the middle of the altar, and near these ferns were placed large vases of beautiful chrysanthemums.

The choir railing was covered with tulle, on which was placed a profusion of asparagus fern, and in the choir loft other ferns and cut flowers served to carry out the color scheme of yellow, green and white.

Just before the ceremony Miss Mary Morrison, cousin of the bride, sang "Knowledge," with organ accompaniment by Mr. Robert Kestler of Charlotte. The processional, from Louise's "Bridal Chorus," and the recessional, Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," were also played by Mr. Kestler.

Mr. Kestler's presence also furnished a unique feature, he having played at the wedding of the bride's mother and oldest sister.

The bridegroom entered the auditorium of the church from the side aisles, the ushers entering first with Farrel White on the right aisle and Leslie Bell on the left aisle. They were followed by Neil Goodson, brother of the bride, and James Caldwell, brother of the groom, who entered on the left and right aisles, respectively.

The groomsmen, John M. Oglesby and W. H. Muse, Jr., entered next. Miss Rosa Caldwell, sister of the groom, and Miss Mary Ford, the bridesmaids, entered next, on the left and right aisles, respectively.

The couples met in the rear of the church and marched to the altar. After reaching the altar they crossed, taking their places on right and left of altar.

Following the bridesmaids came Miss Frances Ridenhour, maid-of-honor, followed by the bride who entered with her father on the right aisle. The groom, with his best man, M. E. Caldwell, Jr., entered on the left aisle and met his bride at the altar. The ring ceremony of the Presbyterian Church was used.

The bride wore a gown of lace over Molly-O crepe, with veil. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

Miss Ridenhour's gown was of jade lace, and she carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Ford was gowned in pale green tulle and she carried pink chrysanthemums. Miss Caldwell wore a gown of pink tulle and carried pink chrysanthemums.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Goodson and is one of Concord's most accomplished and popular young women. She is a graduate of Virginia College, and for one year was a member of the faculty of No. 2 Graded School of this city. Her family is one of the oldest in Cabarrus county.

ANOTHER FREIGHT WRECK NEAR HERE

Southbound Train No. 81 Wrecked on Tuesday Afternoon North of Kannapolis.

Traffic on the Southern's main line from Salisbury to Concord was interrupted again Tuesday afternoon when southbound freight No. 81 was wrecked several miles north of Kannapolis. The wreck occurred about 2 o'clock, and traffic was delayed about four hours.

The cause of the wreck is not definitely known, according to one railroad man here, who stated that it had been reported that hoobs riding on the train had pulled the air brakes, but it is not known for sure that they caused the accident. Four cars were piled up in the wreck, two of them being badly smashed.

Train No. 45 did not reach Concord until after 6 o'clock, and train No. 46 was held at Kannapolis for several hours. Other southbound and northbound trains made their scheduled about on time, the wreckage having been cleared up shortly after 6 o'clock.

GOODMAN-PATTERSON

Miss Mary Patterson and Mr. H. J. Goodman Married in Virginia Last Thursday.

A wedding that will be of interest in this county was solemnized in Fieldale, Va., last Thursday when Miss Mary Patterson became the bride of Mr. H. J. Goodman. The wedding was a quiet affair and was witnessed by only a few friends.

Mrs. Goodman is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Patterson, of this county, and had made her home in Fieldale for about two years. She held a position there with Marshallfield & Co. Mr. Goodman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Goodman, of this county, and is making his home near here, where he is engaged in farming. Both are very popular with a wide circle of friends.

Dr. Wise, New York Rabbi, Assails the Passion Play

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Dr. Stephen S. Wise, New York rabbi, speaking before a congregation of Jews, assailed the passion play of Oberammergau as an agency which inflames religious and racial prejudices against the Jews. Rabbi Wise said he witnessed the revival of the passion play after its suspension during the war.

"The passion play was first presented by the people of that little German village in 1635—almost three centuries ago," he said. "At that time the Jews of Europe were being widely persecuted. They were pariah—the social outcast."

"The play reflects the antipathy for the Jew that was so rampant at that time and I hold that its performance is a grave injustice to the Jewish race and only fans the flames of racial and religious prejudice."

APPROVAL IS GIVEN PLANS OF GOVERNOR

To Organize State-Controlled Steamship Companies to Operate From This State to Eastern Ports.

NEWSPAPERS GIVE APPROVAL TO PLAN

And Chamber of Commerce in New Bern Also Sends Message—No Report on Data Has Been Made.

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—Governor Morrison today was in receipt of a number of congratulatory telegrams for his proposal to organize state-controlled steamship companies for the purpose of operating steamers between Eastern North Carolina ports and Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and other eastern centers of commerce as a means of reducing freight rates.

The senders of the messages included publishers of two newspapers and the Secretary of the New Bern Chamber of Commerce. The perfection of the plan "will most certainly be the crowning event of your administration," said a message from one publisher. "All generations will call you blessed," was the way the other newspaper owner expressed his approval of the plan.

"Millions of dollars now being paid in excessive freight rates will be saved the public on culmination of this idea," said the Secretary of the New Bern Chamber of Commerce in his message to the Governor. "New Bern and this section stands squarely behind you in this proposition."

The Corporation Commission, which was asked by Governor Morrison to get practical data necessary for the organization of a company, had made no report to the Governor today.

GEO. HARVEY WANTS TO KNOW WHETHER WOMEN HAVE SOULS

Ambassador Tells London Authors' Club If They Have Decalogue Does Not Recognize It.

London, Oct. 24.—"Have women souls?" was a proposition placed before the Authors' Club tonight by George Harvey, the American Ambassador, who was the principal guest at a dinner party given by the club. Harvey delved deeply into the pentateuch, the Zend-Avesta and the Talmud, pointing out that there was no recognition in the Decalogue of the possession of souls or inherent rights by women, and that the Ten Commandments were written for men, and apply exclusively to men.

The Ambassador asserted that theory and practice, logic and reason "drive us to the conclusion that either the Commandments should be revised to meet the requirements of modern conditions, or a specific Decalogue should be constructed exclusively for women."

All theologians apparently were unable or unwilling to undertake this, Harvey said, he commanded the solution of the whole fascinating proposition to the Authors' club.

NO NEW FACTS BROUGHT OUT IN MURDER MYSTERY

New Prosecutor Will Not Go to the Grand Jury Yet to Ask an Indictment.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 25.—County officials today resumed their investigation into the Hall-Mills murder mystery after a day spent in going over the case with Wilbur Mott, the newly appointed special prosecutor, but as far as could be learned no new facts could be brought to light.

Beyond giving out a short prepared statement which threw no light on the mystery, he refused to talk to reporters.

SAM SMALL TO BE HERE

Will Lecture in First Presbyterian Church on "Smashing the Commandments."

Sam Small, known through the country as the South's "Old Man Eloquence," has been secured to deliver a patriotic address on the subject "Smashing the Commandments," at the First Presbyterian Church, Wednesday, November 1st, at 8 p. m.

For more than thirty years, Sam Small has been before the public, particularly as an evangelist and as an antagonist of the licensed liquor traffic. He is regarded as one of the leaders in the successful campaign for national prohibition. He has also been active in public life for many years having served on the American Commission to Paris in 1878, in the United States Army in Cuba and was the editor of prominent Southern newspapers.

Mr. Small, however, is chiefly known because of his power on the platform. Former Vice-President Fairbanks said of him: "During my tour of the South, I learned of many orators of high distinction but none more popular and more deservedly so than Sam Small, as his own people affectionately call him," and President McKinley said: "I heard Dr. Small last evening and as often before, got both instruction and fine amusement from his versatile genius."

The meeting here is a part of a national campaign being conducted by the National Reform Association, the oldest reform body in America, in behalf of law enforcement and national righteousness and justice. The meeting is open to all patriotic citizens, old and young.

NOT A DOUBTFUL DISTRICT SEEN IN NORTH CAROLINA

Republicans Not Expecting a Congressman From State.

Washington, Oct. 23.—A glance at a Republican "dope sheet" for the election today revealed the fact that the G. O. P. is not expecting a single congressman from North Carolina.

In figuring their majority for the next house they count on a goose egg from the Tar Heel state. They do not even put down a district as doubtful. After all of the effort to carry the fifth against Major Stedman, they have no hope of Mrs. J. Lindsay Patterson's election.

Senator Walsh, chairman of the senatorial campaign committee, on his return from a tour of the west, said the old Bull Moose states are thoroughly alive with "progressives." In Ohio Senator Pomerehne has the advantage of Representative Fess the Republican candidate for the Senate. Everybody here is talking about the situation in Ohio. Senator Moses, Republican of New Hampshire, has just come back from there, and to friends admitted that the democrats are running ahead in the contest for the Senate. That is sickening news to the friends of Doctor Fess.
