

JAMES MILLS DIFFERS FROM THE WIDOW HALL

Chiefly in Regard to Times He Saw Her the Day After Murder—An Hour and a Half Difference in Time.

HAD NOT HEARD ANY GOSSIP ABOUT WIFE

If He Had, He Would Not Have Kept Job at Church.—Heard Plenty of Gossip About Choir Members.

(By the Associated Press.)

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 2.—Looking up from work in a coal bin in the basement of the schoolhouse where he is janitor, James Mills, whose wife, Eleanor, was murdered with the Rev. Edgard Wheeler Hall on September 14, today took issue with some of the statements made yesterday by the designer's widow in an interview. He differed with Mrs. Hall chiefly in regard to the times he saw her the day after the murders.

"I never heard any gossip about my wife and Dr. Hall," Mills also said. "If I had, I would not have stood for it for a single minute. I am man enough not to have kept that job at the church if I thought there was anything wrong between the minister and my wife."

Mills said he had never heard of his wife having trouble with anybody, and said he knew of no enemies that Dr. Hall might have had.

"There was plenty of gossip about members of the choir, though," he added.

Mills said that he met Mrs. Hall at the church at 8:30 o'clock on the morning of September 16th. Mrs. Hall said yesterday that she was at the church at 7 o'clock.

"I know it could not have been earlier than 8:30," said Mills, "because my children had already gone to school."

"The first thing Mrs. Hall asked me was: 'Was anybody sick at your house last night?' We then commented on the fact that both my wife and her husband were missing, and I said: 'Maybe they have eloped.'"

"No," was Mrs. Hall's reply. "No," was Mrs. Hall's reply. "I think something has happened to them."

"At noon when Mrs. Hall came to my house I told her I had not heard anything and she said she had not either."

Commenting on Mrs. Hall's statement that she was not vindictive and that she did not care to see anyone punished for the murders, Mills said: "I am not vindictive either, but I want to see the murderer punished. I believe it was a woman's deed. All these theories about blackmail and robbery and things are rot. It was jealousy and I think her throat was cut for spite because of her beautiful singing."

Suppose You Were a Merchant—

You would be alert at all times to offer for sale only the highest quality merchandise obtainable. You would be prompt in caring for your customers' needs.

You would pay your employees and creditors on time and you would run your business in a punctual, orderly manner.

But what would you expect of your customers in return for this superior service? You would expect that they show their appreciation by paying their bills on time.

If you have unconsciously developed a habit of neglecting to pay your merchants when bills fall due, you are "breaking ground" for a poor rating in every merchant's books. It is just as easy to pay your bills on time. You will have more enjoyment from everything you buy when you know that you are playing fair.

Start on the right road today. Get out all your unpaid bills and show your merchants that you intend to uphold your part of the bargain. They will be able to give you better service, and you will profit in many ways.

CONCORD PICTURES

One of the Thrilling Scenes For "Lazy Lem" Taken This Week.

The leading character in a one-reel comedy was seen raking his own grave this week, making it possible to get one of the thrilling scenes for "Lazy Lem," a picture which is being produced in Concord and Cabarrus county by the Pastime theatre. Driving a big Studebaker truck, loaded with hay, at a rapid rate, young Dave Lewis leaps from the seat of the car just in time to prevent himself being carried over a fifty foot cut. Although the act was exceedingly dangerous, due to the rugged surface on top of cut, the action had been well timed by the cameramen and all went well.

Notwithstanding the fact that everything possible was done to keep the work on this scene a secret in order to avoid the "curious" crowds, several hundred people witnessed the shooting of this big scene, many closed their eyes as the huge truck speeded over the steep cut and the young man leaped to safety.

The local movie troupe has been in different parts of the county this week making scenes. The cameramen in charge of this picture stated that Cabarrus county possesses many ideal scenes for motion picture activities, and that some of the scenes already taken for this picture cannot be excelled in any part of the world. "All-Concord-Cast" production with all scenes made in the county. The work on this picture was completed Tuesday and the cameramen state that this comedy will prove a great success. The picture is now being prepared for the screen by one of the big producers and will be shown at the Pastime theatre within the next week or ten days, and if the comedy is then taken over, and "doctored" by one of the big exchanges it will bear the imprint "made-in-Concord, North Carolina."

WOMEN TAKE DECISION STAND ON EDUCATION

National Woman's Party for Education of Women and Women as Educators.

Washington, Nov. 2 (Capital News Service).—A Chicago superintendent of schools is in favor of the passage of the following regulation: "Since it is highly desirable that the number of men and women in the high schools shall be as nearly equalized as possible, the merit rule shall not apply to prevent recommendations of either sex should the ratio between sexes warrant a choice."

The Teachers' Council of the National Woman's Party is rallying women-the country over to fight this proposal. They say:

"This is an alarm bell, warning the women teachers of the Nation to safeguard the position they have won in our public school system as a result of patient and self-sacrificing effort. The United States Bureau of Education reports that in 1920 (the latest figures available) there were 70,496 women teachers in our high schools and only 22,639 men. If the Chicago ruling were in effect throughout the Nation, something like thirty-three and one-third per cent of our women teachers would have to be dismissed in favor of men."

The National Woman's Party is to undertake the establishment of a forum in Washington, and will direct a campaign in forty-two states during the next few months, looking to the repealing of laws discriminating against women and preparing the way for the urging of a constitutional amendment giving women equal civil and legal rights with men, and making special laws in her favor, such as the eight-hour law, impossible. The National Woman's Party holds that all such special privilege laws, while seemingly for the benefit of women, are really "pampering" her and are infringements of her rights as a citizen of the Nation.

SAM SMALL LAST NIGHT

Well Known Lecturer Entertains and Edifies Concord Audience.

Sam Small, the well known preacher and lecturer, spoke to a good-sized congregation at the First Presbyterian Church last night on "Smashing the Commandments." He came under the auspices of the National Reform Association, the oldest association of its kind in America.

For an hour and a half Dr. Small held the very close attention of his audience with his message of wisdom and salutes of wit. He spoke of five things that are opposed to the Christian Sabbath, as follows:

The Illegal Liquor Traffic. Organized Baseball. The Moving Picture Industry. The Horse Racing Fraternity. The Pleasure Parks of Cities.

In speaking of the first two, Dr. Small said no one enjoyed a good clean game of baseball or a good clean moving picture more than he, but organized baseball and the organized moving picture industry were both openly desecrating the Christian Sabbath. Dr. Small is 72 years of age, and is still alert and quick both in mind and body. He is one of the best known lecturers on the American platform today, is a man of wonderful information and large attainments and is witty to the last degree. His humor is spontaneous and original, and his salutes were thoroughly enjoyed.

President Harding Is 57.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—President Harding today reaches his 57th year. He is now of the same age as were Washington, Madison, Jefferson, and J. Q. Adams at the time of their inauguration. The average age at which Presidents took office was 53, and the average period of their lives after that was 15 years.

Of the twenty-five Presidents of the United States who have died, only twelve reached the age allotted to man by the Psalmist. Only one, John Adams, reached four-score and ten, and no President since John Quincy Adams has lived to be eighty. The three oldest Presidents were the immediate successors of Washington.

But, in a way, the Psalmist scores after all, for the average age of the Presidents has been seventy. The first Harrison was the oldest to be elected President, and the most brief in service. He was sixty-eight years old at the time of his inauguration. Theodore Roosevelt, at forty-two, was the youngest to enter the White House. Of the five who died younger than he were the victims of assassins. Looking back upon his unquenched yearning of spirit, it seems almost impossible to realize that his years were longer than those of Lincoln and McKinley.

The number of diplomas a young man has in his pocket isn't half as important as the amount of determination he has in his head.

ROTARIANS HEAR TWO DISTINGUISHED MEN

Dr. Sprull and Dr. Lewis Address Local Rotarians at Weekly Meeting on Wednesday.

Short talks by Dr. Sprull, tuberculosis expert, and Dr. Lewis, President of Scotia Women's College, were added features to the regular program at the weekly meeting of the Concord Rotary Club at the Y Wednesday. Both men were heard with keenest interest. Joe Robertson, of the Salisbury Club, also was present at the meeting. It was stated during the meeting that Presidents of all clubs in the State have been asked to meet in Raleigh next week with State Health Department officials for the purpose of discussing ways of helping crippled children. President Richmond declared it would be impossible for him to attend the meeting and he appointed I. Archie Cannon delegate from the Concord club.

Bill Caswell spoke briefly when the cause of crippled children was taken up. Bill declared five children from this county are being treated at the orthopedic hospital in Gastonia; six others are going back and forth to the hospital for treatment; two others are on the waiting list and nine more can not go for lack of money. He moved that Miss May Stockton, county health nurse, be allowed to draw on the Rotary Club each year for the amount of $100 to help these crippled children pay their expenses at the hospital.

The motion was not put in order. President Maury declaring he thought it best to wait until after the Raleigh meeting to make any appropriation, as the various clubs in the State might be asked there to make a contribution.

Fab J. Haywood, chairman of a committee appointed to confer with the finance committee of the Y, reported that the Y committee had made no plans so far, and his committee could not report until the finance committee makes known what the Y will need.

John Oglesby told the members of the club that a new movement is on foot to start a country club here. He said it is planned to get 50 members, to pay an initiation fee of $50 and monthly dues of $3, so that a good course can be built at once on the property bought some time ago for the club. The club was not asked to give anything to the new club, John stating that he "just wanted to let the members in on a good thing."

Dr. Sprull, who is conducting a tuberculosis clinic here this week, was heard with much interest. He declared that tuberculosis is not an incurable disease, but rather is one of the easiest of all diseases to cure if the patient is given treatment early enough. He also paid tribute to the work of the Rotary Club, declaring that formerly clubs were organized to provide a loafing place for their members, where smoking, drinking and card playing—all selfish interests—were enjoyed by the members. "But during this meeting," he declared, "I heard not one word of selfishness. I am glad to see this organization is striving to improve conditions for other people."

Thirty-seven persons died in this county last year with tuberculosis, Dr. Sprull pointed out. "These deaths must be laid at someone's door. If there had been 37 deaths among pure bred cattle, all from the same disease, we would have become alarmed, and we would have called in an expert. But over these human lives we have shown no particular interest. We are accustomed to our people dying. And conditions in Cabarrus are found in other counties. People are dying because they have no chance to live."

Dr. Sprull stated that he had conducted about 10,000 examinations but when he had to stand face to face with a man and tell him he is going to die unless he gets treatment and the man answers he has no money for the treatment, he always feels sad and discouraged. "In spite of all the wealth in this country, and all the churches," he added, "there is not a bed on which a patient can be laid except at the county home, and that is the last place in the world to send a person with tuberculosis."

Dr. Sprull stated further that but two counties in the State had taken advantage of a law passed in 1919 in which the State offers land free to counties for cottages at Sanatorium. "These counties are Guilford and Caswell. He explained that if the counties would build cottages at Sanatorium, as many have done at the Jackson Training School, the State would pay all overhead expenses. He thinks the plan of several counties building a hospital together is all right if it can be done, but politics will take a part in the matter, he said, and spoil everything if the builders are not very particular.

He pleaded with his hearers to do something to give this stricken people a chance to be treated, for in being treated they can be saved, he said.

Dr. Lewis, who was the guest of Gus Hartsell, made a very fine impression on the club members. He declared that everywhere in the city he had been very cordially received, and that this treatment meant much to him, a stranger coming here to take up an important work.

He also expressed delight that he had heard so many fine expressions of admiration of Dr. A. W. Verner, late President of Scotia, who died here recently. Dr. Verner was one of his closest friends. Dr. Lewis declared, and he expressed the hope that the cordial relations which had existed between Dr. Verner and Concord men would be continued with his administration at Scotia.

DR. LESLIE SUCCEEDS TO PARALYTIC ATTACK

Well Known Citizen of Morganton Passes Away After Brief Illness.

Dr. W. A. Leslie, one of the most prominent citizens of Morganton, died at his home there yesterday afternoon, death following a stroke of paralysis which was suffered Monday morning. He had been confined to his home for several weeks, but was apparently much better until Sunday when he took a turn for the worse.

Dr. Leslie was born and reared in Concord, but for 25 years had conducted a drug store in Morganton. His fair business dealings and interest in all progressive movements for town and county gained for him the esteem and good will of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. Leslie's Drug Store, which he sold three years ago to establish the Morganton Manufacturing Co., was one of the leading drug establishments in western North Carolina.

Dr. Leslie is survived by his wife, who was Miss Annie McKesson; two sons and a daughter, William, Charlie and Annie. Five sisters, Mrs. Thomas Ross, Mrs. Hal Jarrett, Mrs. W. L. Bell, and Misses Lena and Betty Leslie, all of this city, and one brother, Mr. John C. Leslie, of New York City, also survive.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS GAVE WORLD FACTS

Th. W. W. charges that Attorney General Gilbert Employed Scheme to Employ Republican Students.

AS INVESTIGATORS AT POLLS TUESDAY

Young Men Were to Be Paid $10 a Day Out of a Fund of $100,000.—Would Not Employ Young Daniels.

New York, Nov. 2.—Declaring it obtained its information from Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy and his son, Jonathan, a student at Columbia University, the New York World today printed a story charging deputy Attorney General Gilbert had evolved a "parliament" plan to employ republican students at the University as special deputies and investigators at the polls next Tuesday.

The young men would be paid at the rate of $10 a day out of a $100,000 fund authorized by the legislature for ballot purging purposes, the World charges.

Young Daniels, according to the World, heard that some of his fellow students at Columbia Law School were going to make some "easy money" at election time, and inquired how they might do likewise. He was referred to Miss Edith E. Fairchild, secretary to Dean Stone, of the Law School, who, the World says, admitted she was making up such a list.

"But you're a Southerner, and they're all Democrats," Miss Fairchild said to young Daniels, as quoted in the World.

"Why, yes," he replied, and Miss Fairchild then told him it would do no good for him to apply. The young man told his father, who was in the city yesterday, what had occurred, and the elder Daniels informed The World.
