

MAKEUP OF CONGRESS ABOUT CERTAIN NOW

On the Face of Practically Complete But Unofficial Returns the Republicans Will Control Congress.

MAJORITY IN BOTH HOUSES REDUCED

In Next Congress Republicans Will Have Majority of 15 in the House and Not More Than 9 in Senate.

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 10.—On the face of practically complete but unofficial returns from Tuesday's election the exact lineup by the parties in the 68th Congress will be:

House—Republicans 225; Democrats 207; Socialist 1; Independent 1.

Senate—Republicans 53; Democrats 42; Farmer-Labor 1.

The republican total in the Senate is based upon the victory for that party in the Senatorial contest in North Dakota. Should the final returns show the election of a democrat the republicans will have 52 and the democrats 43.

In the present Senate the republicans have 49 members and the democrats have 35, a republican majority of 14.

Later—20 Majority in House and 11 in Senate.

Washington, Nov. 10.—There will be 20 more republicans than democrats in the next House of Representatives, and 11 more republicans than democrats in the new Senate, unless results indicated by practically complete returns are overturned.

FINGER PRINTS FOUND ON MR. HALL'S SHIRT

Faint Imprints May Be Powerful Clue in Solution of Jersey Murder Mystery.

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 9.—Finger prints found on the bosom of the shirt worn by the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall may picture to experts one of the principals in the murder of the actor and the choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Richardson Mills.

The authorities, some of whom were in conference today with Albert Gibb, grand jury foreman, while they did not make known the details of the discovery of faint smudges on the shirt, admitted that a report by experts on the finger prints is expected tomorrow.

It is possible that the tiny imprints left by fingers may be one of the most powerful bits of evidence to be presented before the grand jury.

After the conference with Mr. Gibb, Special Deputy Attorney General Mott announced that the case would not go before the grand jury until next week.

Death of Prof. J. T. Crabtree

Prof. J. T. Crabtree, superintendent of the Latham Orphan Home at Salem, Va., died last Saturday.

Crabtree was the father of Mrs. G. F. McAllister, of Mt. Pleasant. He had been superintendent of the Home for 18 years, and it had witnessed a remarkable growth under his care.

The Salem Times-Register says this of him:

"In the highest sense he was a father to the fatherless committed to his care, and provided a real home for the lonely children. His love drew them to him, as the little ones were drawn to the Master, and today many in and out of the Home rise up to call him blessed."

"He was characterized by gentleness of spirit that never inflicted a wound, by a devotion to duty that robbed him of needed rest, by a sense of honor that made him a man in whom there was no guile, by an unselfishness that drew both young and old to him, by a heroism that was as noble as it was unostentatious, and by a dignity, reserve and courtesy that made him truly a gentleman of the old school."

Buck has pitched against some of the best college pitchers of the South, including George Murry of State and Llewellyn of Carolina. During his senior year at Davidson he was president of the student body, which fact shows the high esteem in which he was held by the students.

He has now returned to his alma mater as student secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Buck will bring with him two or three other athletes who will make short talks. The theme of these talks will be the same theme that runs through the November meetings—"Christian Citizenship."

The Concord orchestra, which failed to be present at the last meeting on account of some misunderstanding, will most assuredly be on hand this time to furnish special music.

While the meeting is being conducted under the auspices of the boys' division of the Y, all older boys and men are invited and urged to be present. A treat is in store for all.

(Chicago, Nov. 10.—Remarks attributed to Miss Alice Paul, vice president of the National Woman's Party, in commenting on the Washington defeat of all women candidates for membership in the next Congress met criticism here today from Mrs. Mary Bell Spencer, herself a defeated candidate in the Illinois primaries last spring.

Mrs. Spencer is a Chicago attorney. "This woman says women do not deserve success because they do not vote for women and take their legal and physical ills to women lawyers and doctors," Mrs. Spencer said.

"She's wrong. The thing that makes me furious is that any woman should imply that women use their sex as a weapon in a political contest with men.

"In the primaries last year I received 73,678 votes and I'd die if I shame if I thought I got one of them simply because I was a woman."
