TO OUR CORRESPONDENTS

We furnish stamped and self-addressed envelopes free to all our regular correspondents. When you need a supply, let us know and we will send them at once. Give name and address.

ROBERTA

Our school is progressing nicely after Christmas, with the teachers as follows: Mr. M. L. Dorton, principal; Misses Ola Williams, Daisy Scariore, Mrs. Cordell Herring, and Mr. Ralph Penninger, assistants.

We had services as follows on Sunday: Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m., Sunday school at 10 a. m. The congregation was small on account of the disagreeable weather.

Miss Halley Ballard spent the week-end with her sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Furr.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Linker spent Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Solomon's, in Charlotte.

Misses Ethel and Mae Blackwelder and Gertrude Furr have gone back to school at Mt. Pleasant, Messrs. Fred Love and Fred Furr have returned to Rutherford College. All these students spend the holidays with home folks.

Venus, Mrs. E. J. Linker has a pair of beads made of cherry and plum wood. They were made by her father in 188. If you can beat that for beads, try them out.

Mr. Hoke Linker and Miss Essie Linker spent Sunday evening with Miss Ruth and Beatrice Blackwelder.

Mr. Ed. Alexander has moved his family to Roberta and will begin work in the mill.

GIBSON MILL

Messrs. Fred Jordan and James Gordon and Miss Gertrude Deers, of Charlotte, spent Sunday here with relatives and friends.

A Ford runabout belonging to Mr. J. T. Cogburn was stolen on last Sunday night. The car was left in front of McGill Street Baptist Church and was taken during the evening service.

When Mr. Cogburn missed his car, he notified the police department. They soon got on the track of it, and overtook the thief with it a few miles out on the Charlotte road. The car was brought back to town by the police; but the thief made his escape through some woods near the roadside. The car was not damaged.

FAITH

J. T. Wyatt has just received an order for a pair of millstones to grind corn. A check came with the order to pay for them.

Mr. Walter Rodger, who has been farming on John Holongby's farm for the past two or three years, has just bought a nice house and lot in Faith on Main street from Mrs. John D. A. Fisher and has moved in it. We welcome him and his family to our little town. Electric lights are now being placed in his residence.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Shive, a daughter, January 8th, 1923.

The electric light and power company of Rockwell has a force of men at work in our town wiring up every residence and church on main street, and several other residences out on other streets. In a short time our little town will be lighted with electric lights. Who says Faith is not coming?

BUSY BEE.

TODAY'S EVENTS.

Friday, January 12, 1923.

Five years ago today traffic through the Central and Western States was paralyzed by a great blizzard.

Robert Underwood Johnson, poet and editor, late United States ambassador to Italy celebrates his 70th birthday today.

The annual Old Guard ball, for nearly a century one of the brilliant functions of the winter social season in New York, takes place tonight at the Hotel Commodore.

Dr. Emilio Cane, famed apostle of auto-suggestion, is to give the first of his series of lectures in America, at the Town Hall in New York City this evening.

The American Engineering Societies give a dinner in Washington tonight in honor of Prince Gasio Graciani, the new Italian ambassador to the United States, himself an engineer.

The Bureau of Standards of the U. S. Department of Commerce has called a general conference to meet in New York City today to consider the subject of radio standardization.

This is the Month.

Farm Life.

To bundle up.

To write it "1923."

To warm the bird's bits.

To make up the poultry breeding pens.

To separate the brood sows and keep them well bedded.

To try on the skates with the boys.

Show them that dad is still a kid.

To remember that manure is exactly the same as cash and to provide a way to save it.

To review last year's most serious mistakes and to resolve that they will not be duplicated in 1923.

To figure up the garden seed order. Better pay ten cents for a packet of seeds than take a chance on home-grown ones.

To prune the grape vines. It is best not to neglect this, as sap rises very early in them and late pruning results in bleeding.

To take special care to exercise the stock. Even on the coldest days the horses and cattle should have an hour or so in the fresh air.

Origin of Moon-eyed.

The expression "moon-eyed," as popularly used to describe an advanced stage of intoxication, had its origin in India, where a certain variety of drink taken in excess renders its victims blind from sunset to sunrise, or during the period that the moon is shining. The condition in extreme cases lasts as long as eighteen or fifty days.

From the Four Corners of the Earth

North, South, East and West—all have something to tell you in the newspapers.

News columns give you items of interest in the political, financial and social worlds. Advertising columns give you information just as interesting, and Even More Valuable to you—news of the things that have to do with your personal, every-day life.

The advertisements spread out for your inspection the products of progressive manufacturers the country over—the comforts and conveniences that play so large a part in modern life. The wares of every progressive merchant in town are laid attractively before you.

From your easy chair you read the offerings, compare values, check the statements against your previous experience and then make your selections.

Thus you save time, money and the effort spent in useless "shopping around." And you gain in the satisfaction that comes from a purchase well made. Keep up on the shopping news.

Read the advertisements before you buy. It pays.
