THE GOLD DIGGERS

Mother's Cook Book

There is no age limit. Many people do not learn how to live until they have passed into old-time at eighty-six.

SUMMER SALAD DRESSINGS

DURING the warm weather salads appeal to the appetite and furnish the right kind of warm weather food.

French dressing, which is the simplest of all dressings, is prepared with oil, vinegar or lemon juice with seasonings.

Mayonnaise is prepared with the above ingredients in different measures with the addition of the yolk of an egg.

There are uncoked dressings galore which may be prepared from sour cream and are especially appetizing.

Will face the music, come what may— My heart with hope is throbbing.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"SCHOONER"

THE word "schoon," which came over with the Dutch from Holland, was used for many years in New York and in New England as a term to denote the peculiar movement of stones or flat pebbles when skipped along the water.

The first schooner ever constructed is said to have been built in Gloucester, Mass., about 1713, by Capt. Andrew Robinson.

The use of the same word in anti-prohibition days to designate a large glass of beer is more difficult to trace, but it probably had its origin in the foam on the top of the glass—a substance which appeared to be analogous to the white-caps of the ocean.

YOUR HAND

How to Read Your Characteristics and Tendencies—the Capabilities or Weaknesses That Make for Success or Failure as Shown in Your Palm.

A BUSINESS PERSON'S HAND

WOULD you succeed in business? Study your hand carefully, and note whether the palm, the fingers the mounts, the lines, etc., bear the indications which have been found through study, to make the hand of the successful man or woman of business.

In the first place, the hand should be of good size, and inclined toward squareness, as indicating practicality of mind.

The top phalanx or division of the thumb should be large and well shaped, for this indicates good will power, which is so necessary if one is to win success in the world of affairs.

NEGRO OUTLAW CAUGHT IN TRAP OF OFFICERS

Bob Williams Taken Alive by Officers at Whiteville—Capture Very Exciting.

Whiteville, Jan. 28.—With a 44-caliber hede through his left leg and on crutches, Bob Williams, negro outlaw and murderer, walked into the trap set for him by Sheriff Ammons and Deputy Sheriff Spivey last night and promptly threw up his hands at the word halt, thereby ending one of the greatest man hunts that Cabarrus county has ever witnessed.

Beginning last Thursday night Bob Williams appeared at the little town of Far Bluff, on the Lumber river, in the extreme western part of the county, where with his usual method of robbery, he walked into the store of a citizen, and covering him with a large pistol, told him that "he was the famous Bob Williams, and wanted all the cash he had in his money drawer and safe."

Chief Cobb was watching Williams and entered at the time that he made the demand and promptly opened fire, but an accomplice of Williams interfered and the first shots were missed. Williams then shot Cobb through the right lung and fatally wounded him. However, Cobb succeeded in inflicting a wound on Williams that made his capture possible.

Williams then made a getaway and was located near Whiteville's residence. It was learned that the man was in and around the town and was unable to walk without crutches. Sheriff Ammons then began to plan the ruse that ended in his capture. He secured a negro who knew Williams and had him to make arrangements with the desperado to carry him to Bolton, one of his former associates, near Whiteville.

MAGGETT'S BILL SENT TO A SPECIAL COMMITTEE

Senator Armfield, of Cabarrus, is a Member of the Committee.

Raleigh, Jan. 29.—Senator J. R. Maggett's and Ku Klux Klan measure is being considered by a special committee appointed to investigate and report on North Carolina laws with reference to the regulation of secret societies. The committee was authorized Friday and is headed by Senator L. R. Varner, of Rowan county, with Senator Maggett as one of its members.

The resolution creating the committee follows in full: "Whereas, there is pending before his body a number of bills to regulate secret societies, and

"Whereas, there is a demand by the public for a strict statement of law and such provisions as are necessary to protect the people, and

"Whereas, it is the desire of this body to meet such demand and make such provisions as will best protect the interests of the state, and

"Whereas, it is the desire of this body to do so without feeling passion or impulse but in a calm, deliberate legislative manner and spirit; "Be it therefore resolved that a committee of five be appointed by the chair to take under consideration all bills offered, to investigate the rules and regulations of fraternal orders and secret societies and laws concerning same, and make such recommendations as they may think just and proper. Further that all bills offered to this body be referred to the special committee above referred to, who shall make their report after a thorough investigation of the matters and things pertaining thereto."

NEWSBOYS' RAPID RISE IN MERCANTILE WORLD

Buys Big Store in Front of Which He Once Sold Papers.

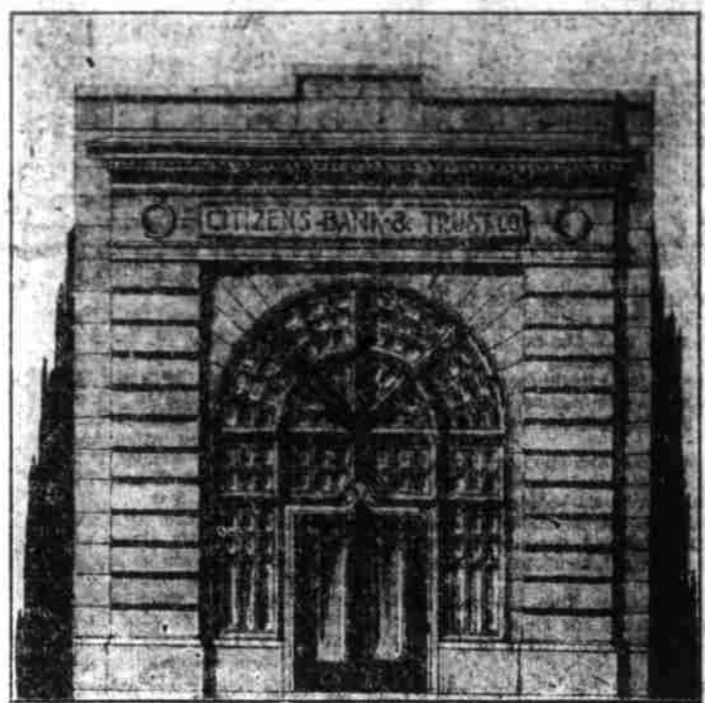

Newark, N. J., Jan. 29.—A boy who used to sell newspapers in front of the Stoutenburg & Company clothing store in this city 20 years ago bought out the store today in a transaction involving more than $1,000,000. The new owner is Barney Taylor, proprietor of a clothing store, No. 104 Market Street. The Stoutenburg store, the oldest retail clothing store in New Jersey, was established in 1849. It occupies a five-story building at Broad and Market streets, with 125-foot frontage on each street.

In front of the store young Barney Taylor set up a newsstand when he was a bare-legged boy of 11 years, just arrived from Philadelphia. He prospered and later established a clothing store. Several years ago he bought a four-story building a few blocks from the Stoutenburg store, where he installed his clothing store.

Two Men Charged With Death of Young Woman

Greensboro, Jan. 29.—Police investigation here resulted in two men being held for further investigation on charges of running down two women on a street here, killing one, Mrs. T. E. Baker, instantly, and seriously injuring the other, Mrs. C. F. Overman, both of this city. One of the men, J. A. Helms, of the Proximity mill village, on the outskirts of this city, was arrested late Saturday night, soon after the tragedy, and the other, Taylor Linsen, of Pleasant Garden, a village near here, was arrested early this morning. Linsen is a brother-in-law of Helms.

The signing of Jocko Conlon, the diminutive Harvard star, by the Braves has inspired hope among Boston fans that the little fellow will turn out to be a second "Rabbit" Alanville.
