POLICE CHIEF WILL BE TRIED ON NINE CHARGES

through the glass of the door some white-robed men on her front porch. She called to her son, intending to tell him to bring her pistol, when immediately several men similarly disguised opened the back door, which was not locked, with such violence as to slam it against the wall, and ran up the hallway to her, pointing pistols at her and forcing her to open the front door, when others entered. Every man seemed to have a pistol. Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Purvis were taken out and placed in a car and the young girls, Norine and Nathalie, were hustled outside, given a shove and told to go home. Nathalie says one of her arms was made sore by the rough handling she received when one of the men, with a pistol in one hand and a club in the other, caught hold of it.

After being fogged the women were allowed to walk back home, the men accompanying them about half way, to the tobacco warehouse, when they granted Mrs. Purvis' request not to go with them any farther as she was ashamed to be seen going through town with them.

Mrs. Watson says she was so frightened that she could not say a word. Mrs. Purvis says she was not frightened until they started out of the house with her, and she thinks that the way she talked to them and shamed them for coming there disguised probably was the cause of the punishment she received.

She said Lawson, whom she had known all her life, seemed to be leader, that he gave directions about what to do, and that the others said nothing or talked in whispers. Julie Brogden, she said, led the way through the front door and John Hedgepeth led the way through the back door.

Mrs. Purvis says she told the men they would reap this before they died and Lawson, she said, then made his threat about what would happen if it were told. She was reminded that she had said she was not afraid of the Klan, and she replied that she was not, that if they'd take off their masks they were like other men.

Mrs. Watson was told, she says, that she had not done her duty by her husband when he was sick, but she said there was no truth in that, that she had given him every attention; and this statement was corroborated by her daughters.

Mrs. Purvis, Mrs. Watson and Miss Norine say there is no truth in any of the charges made by the men against any of them, and they say that three of them returned the Tuesday night following to apologize to Miss Norine, in regard to whom, they said, they had made a mistake.

After telling their story to Solicitor T. A. McNeill these women were afraid to go home and they are boarding in Lumberton for the present. Mrs. Watson says she has no means of paying for herself and her two daughters and Solicitor McNeill has assumed the obligation of seeing that their board is paid. It is understood that several citizens have assured Mr. McNeill that they will stand by him in this obligation.

ROTARY MEETING

New Officers of Club Installed and Plans Discussed for Club's Work During Coming Year.
Local Rotarians at their meeting on Tuesday night installed new officers for the year and heard suggestions for work during the year, the meeting proving one of the most interesting the club has ever held.

The new officers installed at the meeting are:
Sam Rankin, President.
A. G. Odell, Vice President.
W. G. Caswell, Treasurer.
Martin Verburg, Secretary.
Bob Ridenhour, Jr., Sergeant at Arms.
P. M. Lafferty, Assistant Sergeant at Arms.

Tom Lawrence, song leader of the club since its organization, presided, this honor having been bestowed upon him by reason of his efficient service in the past coupled with the fact that he leaves soon for his new home in Maryland.

Just before installing the new officers Tom presented a gift to the retiring President, Maury Richmond. The gift, Tom said, was in token of the love in which Maury is held by the club members and in appreciation of his untiring efforts during the past year. In receiving the gift Maury declared that he deeply appreciated the gift for the spirit in which it was given, but that he appreciated even more the fine spirit of co-operation with which the members had worked with him during the year. "I have never enjoyed anything more than this year's work as President of this club," he stated.

The new President, after being installed, made a short talk, asking the members to do their duty when called upon by him during the year, predicting a great year for the club and offering a few suggestions as to work the club can take up during the year.

The first suggestion—President Sam Rankin made that the club get a firmer hold on the masses by bringing more people together. He suggested several joint meetings during the year with the Kiwanis club and other organizations of the city and declared he would like to see the club go further and get in touch with those people who call themselves "employees." This could be done, he said, by having a big barbecue.

President Sam also touched on rural education, stating that he believed the matter of consolidated schools in the county should be taken up. He also urged all members to attend the meetings regularly, to take more interest in the musical programs and to answer in the affirmative when called upon to perform some work for the club.

The first committee appointed by the new President was a Music Committee composed of Martin Verburg, Bob Ridenhour, Kay Patterson, Leslie Bell, Gus Hartsell and L. T. Hartsell. The committee will have charge of the program next week.

Miss Margaret Hartsell, club pianist, at this point in the meeting was presented with a gift by Tom Lawrence for the club in token of her "faithful service." She declared it was a pleasure to play for the club each week in expressing appreciation for the gift.

"Looking Forward," was Frank Niblock's subject when he made suggestions as to work the club can undertake in the next year. The suggestions Frank pointed out, were collected from written suggestions each member presented at a recent meeting. Some of the suggestions were:

Music in the public schools in Concord.
Consolidated rural schools.
Naming of all streets in city and numbering of all houses.
Incinerator to burn city's trash.
New athletic field at high school.
Support of Y. M. C. A.
Interest in boys brought into court.
Better relations between so-called capital and labor.

Aid for crippled children of county. After announcing the suggestions Frank pleaded with the club members to give special attention to two: greater support for the Y. M. C. A. and more interest in the relations between employer and employe. The question of consolidated schools was also given special emphasis as was the need for a new athletic field at the high school.

Though the club did not intend to take up any of the suggestions at the meeting President Sam was advised that something should be done at once about the athletic field, as the school board has made no provision for it in laying off plans for the high school site. The board will not have enough money to construct the field. So the President appointed a committee composed of Aubrey Hoover, Bill Floye and Lester Coltrane to study the matter with an idea of ascertaining what the field will cost and whether or not the city will make an appropriation for it.

Kerr Street Revival.
The service Tuesday night was even better than any service yet. The Westford choir from the Hartsell Mill, was present and did some fine singing, which was enjoyed by all present. The preacher spoke on the call of God from Proverbs 1:24-25-26, "because I have called and ye refused. I have stretched out my hand and no man regarded. But ye have set at naught all my counsel and would none of my reproof. I will mock when ye call to me." The preacher said in part:

God has been calling men ever since Adam sinned and God called him with a call of love and said, "Adam, where art thou?" He calls men in various ways. First, by nature. As we look at all the handiwork of God, we can see in the very nature of the earth the call of God. Second, God calls man by His word. There is not a home hardly but where you can find God's word. God calls men through his servants, the prophets and ministers. I would be glad if you would lose sight of the preacher and only see God and hear His call. Fourth, God calls by the Holy Spirit, and He has been calling in these services. But listen, the call gets fainter and fainter. Fifth, God also calls by Providence. The storms come for a purpose. The floods come for a purpose. The awful calamities come for a purpose. Death sometimes is God calling through Providence.

We had a fine service. Souls were saved. Service tonight at 7:30. Come, Miss Minnie Altman, from Kannapolis, has come to assist in the music and singing. She is a great help in revival meetings. You will miss a treat if you stay away. PASTOR.

Boston Woman Recommending It to Her Friends.

Popular Boston Lady Says Prunifone Has Proven a Godsend to Her.

It is always interesting to listen to the statements of our friends, and especially when you know they are sincere and honest in what they say. Added interest is created in a statement coming from one who has spent a lifetime in Boston, where she is well known socially.

Such a person is Annie Stewart, who resides in Boston and is possessed of the respect and confidence of her associates, and is willing for any one to call on her to verify the following significant testimonial:
"I have suffered with stomach trouble for the past seven years. It took the form of indigestion and dyspepsia. I had dizzy spells and headaches, and after I ate a little food it would ferment and cause gas to form in my stomach. I had pains all over my body and was chronically constipated. My liver was torpid and I felt miserable. I had doctors and had been in the hospital, but received no permanent relief. I was so nervous and restless that at night I could scarcely sleep. The gas, pressing under my heart, caused palpitation, and when I arose in the morning I was just as tired as when I retired. About two weeks ago I began to take Prunifone, and I can truthfully state that it has done wonders in my case. I am feeling like a new woman, and can eat any kind of food. I sleep the night through and have no more aches or pains; in fact, it has cured me, and I am recommending it to all of my friends, as it has been a Godsend to me."

The Gibson Drug Store sells and guarantees Prunifone.

There are numerous symptoms of this trouble that Prunifone can relieve. In fact, any of the following may denote affections of the stomach: Indigestion, sick throbbing headache, poor circulation, night sweats, that tired feeling, costiveness, coated tongue or a poor complexion.

Caution: As Prunifone is recommended as a flesh builder, those not wishing to increase their weight 15 pounds, or more, should not take it continuously.
