HAPPENINGS IN OUR NEIGHBORING VILLAGES

LOCUST. Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Connell, of Route 2, on the 25th, a son, Charles Britton.

Among the Sunday visitors here was Mrs. Julia Welch, of Concord.

Mr. Green Street and family, of Albemarle, have moved here, occupying the Cindy Jenkins cottage.

Mrs. Rena Carter and daughter, of Kannapolis, have been spending a few days here with relatives.

The children of Mrs. M. A. Osborne honored her with a special dinner on last Sunday.

Many young hearts were made heavy Tuesday morning because of the down-pour, for a number of club boys and girls were to have started on a camping trip at Lakeview.

In the death of Van Walters, the 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Walters, of Stanfield, another dark page has been added to the history of that section, and following only a fortnight after the shooting and death of Oral Honeycutt, the tragedy is made doubly sad.

Early Tuesday morning the sad word was brought that Mrs. G. P. Furr, of Oakboro, had "passed over the river and was resting under the shade of the trees."

Since her marriage Mrs. Furr had lived in this section until a few years ago, and she was loved by everyone who knew her, being a consecrated Christian woman, gentle loving and kind. Particulars will be given later.

Each and every choir is invited to come and sing.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Haugh and family spent Monday at Mr. W. F. Layton's. TULLIP.

NO. 10 TOWNSHIP. We are having plenty of rain now; too much for cotton. The crop has deteriorated 10 per cent. in the last fifteen days, owing to excessive moisture.

The weevil also is doing much damage to the crop, and no one knows to what extent the crop may be damaged by this pest, as the plants have bloomed out and practically all the young bolls have fallen, leaving nothing but grown bolls, and some of these will be destroyed. So the prospect is not good for a full crop.

Protracted meetings have been held at all the churches and the people will now give their attention to the requirements of the farm—cutting and pulling fodder, haying, picking cotton, plowing, etc.

Mr. R. L. Rodgers and family, of Bishopville, S. C., are visiting Mrs. Rodgers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Newell, this week.

Mr. Sam Black has returned from Davidson, where he visited his sister, Mrs. J. C. Black.

We returned from Asheville (the city of the sky) last Friday. Asheville is the most beautiful city that we have ever seen.

We went as a delegate to the State convention of County Commissioners. Nearly every county of the state was represented. County problems were discussed by the commissioners. It was the avowed purpose of all those present to serve their respective counties with progress and profit. Governor Morrison addressed the convention on Thursday afternoon. He gave an account of his stewardship. He said there was no deficit this year and in his judgment there would be none next year. He said it was true that the state borrowed money to meet expenses, but when the taxes were collected there would be money enough to pay the borrowings.

The Governor spoke of the responsibility of the County Commissioners and bade them see to it that the people of the rural districts had good roads to lead into the State Highways. For, said he, the people of one community had just as good a right to good roads as the people of the community that had good roads.

Walter and Hardy Wagoner, Graden Melchor, Archie and Paul Cline, Carl, Earl and Dixie Honeycutt, Ray Troutman, Brevard Barringer, Roy and Frank Mammill, Hoy and Howard Barringer, Rev. and Mrs. Earl Bodie.

Women the Greatest Buyers in the World. There are 22,000,000 homes in the United States. The women who buy for these homes spend on the average $500 each, or a total of $11,000,000,000, each year. That is more than $36,000,000 every working day. Every year it amounts to half as much as America's Liberty Bond issue. Each woman is a part of this army of buyers, and each, if she will, may be guided to wise and economical purchases if she will but make up her mind each day to read as many as she can of the advertisements which manufacturers are printing for her benefit. The advertising in every newspaper and every magazine is a buying guide for this greatest buying force in the world. This advertising makes it safe and easy for every member of this buying army to make her purchases. It establishes in her mind a buying habit that gives her a preference of one brand of goods to another or an advertised article to one that is unknown. It identifies for her a certain product as being standard, so that she may easily dodge the wiles of sellers who try to sell something that is not so good. It fixes merit as an everlasting adjunct to certain articles. It makes her know that the manufacturer who is proud of his product and jealous of his reputation and character cannot do otherwise than make his product at least as good as he says it is. More than likely it is better. Advertising points out where this greatest buyer in all the world's history may find quality goods by showing her pictures of them over and over again which enables her to recognize them easily and quickly.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG. Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea. Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair. Well-known druggists say everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.
