CROP REPORT

Condition of Cotton Crop Lowest Since the Year 1866

(By the Associated Press.) Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 8.—As received by the North Carolina Crop Reporting Service, the condition of 49.5 per cent of normal reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the cotton crop for the date of September 25 is the lowest for that date since the first report in 1866, except the condition of 42.2 per cent in 1921, although the condition of the crop at this period was less than the usual decline of 6 per cent, and the forecast of production is therefore larger than a month ago, declared Frank Parker, agricultural statistician, in a statement issued today.

The statement continues in part: "For several states, the condition of September 22 is the lowest on record—31 per cent for Georgia, 29 per cent for Florida, 37 for Mississippi and 47 per cent for Tennessee. For Arkansas, the condition of 50 per cent is the same as the previous lowest record."

"The deterioration in these states has been due largely to damage done by the boll weevil, though other causes have contributed as follows: Excessive rains beating out the lint and rotting the bolls in some sections; drought and its effects; cut worms, grass hoppers, the flea and hail. Defoliation of plants by the leaf worm has been common in some localities, but in a number of states this has been beneficial as it has let in the sunshine, thus driving the weevil out to some extent and resulting in earlier opening of bolls."

"In North Carolina the boll weevil has taken most of the squares since early August. It was late in appearing and damage to grown bolls has not been as great as expected. The leaf worm has covered the state during September and by stripping the foliage has helped the bolls to develop. There is no top crop, but a very heavy bottom crop is in evidence."

Clarence Ridenhour Improving. Relatives here of Clarence (Peanut) Ridenhour, star quarterback on Concord's High School football team, declared today that his condition is improving now. Ridenhour was injured Friday while playing against the Charlotte High School team. The Charlotte Observer today says: "Clarence Ridenhour, of Concord, brilliant quarterback on the Concord high school football team, who sustained a broken collar bone in the Charlotte-Concord game last Friday afternoon, is reported to be getting along very nicely. Ridenhour was hurt in the last rush of the second quarter of the contest and was immediately carried to the Charlotte sanatorium where he was given close attention, for it was feared for a while that he was hurt internally."

Young Ridenhour has a number of friends in Concord and Charlotte, and his team-mates and others have been making him regular visits since the time of his misfortune. The doctors found it necessary for him to remain in the sanatorium for sometime on account of his condition, but it is hoped that he will soon be able to return to his home in Concord. In all probability Ridenhour will be unable to participate in any further contests this year, but the good will of the entire school is for him, and will look forward with high hopes to seeing him appear with the Concord eleven next fall.

Any one can see results; it takes a wise man to discern causes.

FLORENCE MACBETH

The Chicago Civic Opera Company is anticipating its biggest season on record. Heretofore the season has been for ten weeks only, but this year it has been extended to eleven and a half weeks, to be followed by a ten-week tour through the middle west and the Pacific Coast.

The roster of artists is more formidable than previous years, in the list being many new artists in high favor with European opera goers. While much is expected of the new comers, many anticipate that the familiar stars like Mary Garden, Galli-Curci, Schipa, Chaliapin and Florence Macbeth will continue to give a good account of themselves. The latter, said to be one of the most beautiful women on the operatic stage, proved to be the sensation of last
