For Children

Styles in underwear change even for children. The really modern small boy wears a plain loose undershirt cut like dad's. The really modern small girl wears a garment that looks as much as possible like an envelope chemise and really is a combination.

MISS JENN COLTRANE IS ENDORSED BY CONVENTION

State D. A. R. Meeting Passes Resolution Endorsing Miss Coltrane for Vice President General.

Miss Jenn Winslow Coltrane, of Concord, one of North Carolina's most gifted and prominent women, has been endorsed by the State D. A. R. Convention as a candidate for Vice President General of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The endorsement was given to Miss Coltrane in a resolution passed by the State Convention on Thursday while in session in Pinehurst.

Miss Coltrane for several years was Historian General of the D. A. R. and has been prominent in the organization's work for several years.

The following story from Pinehurst of the State Convention will be read with interest by D. A. R. members here:

The second day of the State Conference of the North Carolina Daughters of the Revolution opened with a morning meeting at the Carolina Hotel.

PERSONALS

Mr. William Branson, who has been attending school in Des Moines, Iowa, is visiting now at the home of his mother, Mrs. W. R. Odell.

Mrs. E. C. Register returned this afternoon to her home in Charlotte, after spending several days here with her sister, Mrs. J. B. Sherrill.

Miss Mary Spurgeon, home economics teacher in the Concord schools, left this afternoon for Hillsboro to spend the week-end with home-folks.

Miss Mary MacLaughlin, of the High School faculty, left this afternoon for Greensboro to visit Miss Nellie Dry for several days.

Mr. R. D. Goodman, county farm agent, spent Thursday at Oakboro, where he was judge at a community fair. The fair was one of unusual merit.

Former Senator W. R. Webb, of Bell Buckle, Tenn., is expected this afternoon to visit his nephew, Prof. A. S. Webb, at his home on Bell avenue.

Mr. Robert Jones is spending the day in Pinehurst. He will be accompanied home this evening by Mrs. Jones and Miss Jenn Coltrane, who have been attending the State D. A. R. meeting which was held at the Carolina Hotel.

Mrs. D. G. Bost and Olea and Junita Bost, of No. 11 township are spending the day here with Mrs. Kenneth Fagart, who is confined to her home on White Street with an attack of a gripe. Her condition today is reported as improved.

announcement, and, after a solo by Miss Torrence, recess for lunch.

At 2:30 the meeting was resumed and after Mrs. M. J. Harris offered an opening prayer, Miss Catherine Clinkscale, of Charlotte, gave a highly creditable piano recital. After reports from district leaders and various other committees, new business was taken up.

Due to a change in the regular program, the annual election of officers was held this afternoon instead of Friday morning.

The outcome of the election was as follows: Mrs. Ralph Van Landingham, of Charlotte, elected librarian; Miss Ann Blair, of Monroe, resigned, but her resignation was not accepted; Miss Jenn Winslow Coltrane, of Concord, was endorsed by the State as a candidate for Vice President General.

In the evening a musicale was held, solos being rendered by Mrs. H. N. Pharr, and Miss Nettie Allison, both of Charlotte, and Miss Marie Torrence, of Gastonia. Miss Clinkscale accompanied.

THE ARTISTS WHO WILL APPEAR IN CONCORD NOVEMBER 16TH.

I think it is interesting to know something of the people we will hear in Concord the night of November 16th. Miss de Sazn, the violinist, is a native of Russia. Her father was a full General in the Czar's army.

She played as far East as Persia and Siberia, and concertized through Russia, England and Germany, from where she was driven by the war to America.

The political upheaval of the former Russian Empire brought disaster upon her relations, many of whom met an ultimate death. Her uncle, vice-roy of Finland, General Governor de Sazn, died from the hands of the Bolsheviks. Her father was decorated many times for bravery.
