THE "TWELVE MILE LIMIT"

It takes only the sanction of the United States Senate to give officers of the United States the authority needed to search and seize rum runners outside the three mile limit. Secretary of State Hughes has just conducted a treaty with England for an extension of the maritime zone within which the American authorities may search vessels suspected of liquor smuggling.

The Charleston News and Courier roundly congratulates Mr. Hughes on arranging this treaty holding that he has the distinction of having struck an extremely powerful blow for the enforcement of the liquor laws, "and for this he deserves and should have the approval and gratitude of all who have been deeply concerned over the flooding of the coastal regions of the country with foreign liquor brought in from outside."

Indeed, continues the News, the importance of the new pact is not confined to its efficacy as a means of ending liquor smuggling. It should also put an end to an issue which contained a real threat to good relations between this country and Great Britain, since American resentment over the flouting of our laws by British citizens and British ships has been rising steadily. All the more credit is due Mr. Hughes because, when he first put it forward, his plan was generally laughed at on this side of the water, while on the other side it was greeted at once with a chorus of disapproval.

CARRIED JUST A LITTLE TOO FAR.

Several days ago a report was sent from Chapel Hill to the effect that four members of the Freshman Class of the State University had been taken from their rooms by two masked men and flogged. The report was given state-wide notice and there were rumors that the two maskers were to be sent from the University.

And now comes the explanation that the whole affair was merely a joke and was sent out from The Hill as such. The story first appeared in a University paper and its writer made public announcement that the affair was merely a joke and he sent it out over the State as such.

That seems to be carrying the joke a little too far. Hereafter the joke should be named or so displayed that none can mistake it.

PROGRESS FOR PROGRESSIVE PAPER.

The Greensboro News has just let the contract for the erection of a $150,000 home in the heart of the business district in Greensboro. In addition to the new home the management of the paper announces that more than $50,000 will be spent for modern equipment and when completed the home will represent an expenditure of about $200,000.

It is only right that The News should have a modern home in keeping with it. self. During the past ten years The Greensboro paper has established itself among the leaders of the South, and its home should be in keeping with the progress it has made in other lines.

CAPITOL BRIEFS.

(By the Associated Press.) Raleigh, Nov. 9.—Governor Morrison has granted a reprieve to Joe Williams until January 7, 1924, on account of the condition of his wife's health. Williams was sent up from Wake county last July for assault with a deadly weapon and has served about half his sentence.

The following cases of executive clemency have been handled by Governor Morrison: N. L. Williams sentenced to four months from Alamance county for prohibition violation, parole granted; Jesse Probbill, sentenced from Watauga county to two years for assault with deadly weapon of which several months have been served, paroled for balance of term; J. H. Holt, sentenced from Johnston county for illicit manufacture of liquor to 18 months of which eight have been served, paroled; James Palmer, sentenced from Lee county for aiding and abetting in liquor manufacture to six months, paroled.

MRS. WILLIAMS SUES HER HUSBAND FOR DESERTION

Husband Claims Wife Was Untrue to Him and Names Man Whom He Recently Shot.
Greensboro, Nov. 8.—C. B. Williams, of High Point, Southern railway engineer, answering his wife's complaint that he deserted her without cause, the matter being instituted in superior court, declares that he went to their home in Spencer on the morning of last August 4 and found Frank Brown, Spencer butcher, with her.

He asked Brown what he was doing there and was told, "None of your damned business," it is alleged in Williams' answer. Williams said he got a ladle and looked in the window. Then, according to Williams paper, which was filed in the office of the clerk of superior court, he went to the home of a Mr.
Atwell and Atwell accompanied him to his home. They were met at the door by his wife in negligee, who said Brown was not there, hearing a noise in an adjoining room. He went there, and fearing Brown would shoot him, shot Brown.

It is further alleged that Mrs. Williams has sold the home at Spencer for about $4,000 and had the money for her own use.

Mrs. Williams asks the court to make her husband support her.

Brown was laid up some time from the wound.

Sugar From Dahlias.

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 9.—In the near future the dahlia is likely to become one of the chief sources of the world's sugar supply. A new formula for dahlia sugar has been completed at the University of Southern California, and if it fulfills the present expectations it will probably result in thousands of acres being devoted to the cultivation of a tuber which has hitherto been valued only for its flower.

The tuber of the dahlia contains not only a large percentage of sugar, but sugar one and a half times as sweet as cane or beet sugar. Probably the greatest benefit derived from this new discovery of the commercial value of the dahlia tuber is that the sugar it yields is said to be quite harmless to diabetic patients, and this fact, taken in connection with the recent discovery of insulin, may bring cheer and new hope to thousands of invalids.

Two Good Men Gone.

Mooreville Enterprise.
Concord and Cabarrus county lost two of their best citizens this week in the deaths of William D. Harry and Henry G. Ritz. The former was a well-to-do farmer and a former county commissioner, and had been a resident of Cabarrus for 16 years. Mr. Ritz was of German descent and had lived at Concord for forty years where he married and reared a family. He was a good man and was known throughout this section of North Carolina for his reputation as a "raffy" maker and vender of cold drinks, and for a number of years conducted a variety store in Concord. When he first located at Concord he conducted a bakery.

WOMAN OUTRAGED
BY MASKED MOB

Mrs. Josie Starnes, of Union County, Brutally Treated by White Men.
Monroe, Nov. 8.—The Monroe Journal says Mrs. Josie Starnes, daughter of Bob Irby of North Monroe, a frail little languid woman of not over twenty years of age, was jumped upon by a crowd of masked brutes in the form of men, bent on all over the body with some hard instrument, and left lying in the public square contemptible and brutal deed took place on the Morgan road about a mile from town early in the evening as she was going from Braswell's store to the home of a Mrs. Flynn. She was accompanied by a companion, Betty Flynn, who ran when the men grabbed Josie. Mrs. Starnes says that there were certainly as many as ten men and that they were robed in white gowns and caps. She also says that they said nothing but beat here with something like a leather strap and then kicked her as she fell.

Perhaps from terror, the Journal says, or for other reasons, she did not report the matter to the officers. Sheriff Fowler heard of it only by accident while in a barber shop last Saturday night, just a few hours afterwards. Dr.
Smith was called to see the woman some time last week and found her suffering a good deal, with bruises and signs of beating about the body, especially severe about the lower parts and a wound on one breast.

A mystery seems to hang over the affair that indicates that the work was done at the instigation or with the concurrence of someone with a personal interest in the affair, the paper states.
The officials accept as a fact that she was beaten by men wearing white sheet disguises. Further than that they are at sea.

The little woman does not bear a good reputation but that is beside the question. Any set of grown men who would do a deed of this kind would burn your house over your head and you in it. If the men were white robed as this woman says, it make no difference whether they are Ku Kluxers or not, so far as the guilt of that organization is concerned. It and it only has introduced the white robe and the midnight attack upon ignorance and defencelessness, and if a crowd of other hoodlums go out and wear the disguise, it's all the same.

Any community with men of this type in it is not safe from any kind of cor-porately assault. The officers and responsible public sentiment should not rest till his gang is exposed.

Death of Chinese Tobacco King.

Rocky Mount, Nov. 9.—Ward has just received here of the death in China of October 28 of Kan Cheu Nam, president of the Nanyang Brothers Tobacco Company, Limited, and said to be one of the foremost figures in the tobacco industry of China.

Mr. Kan was one of the largest stockholders in the China American Tobacco and Trading Company of Rocky Mount, president. His company in China is said to be among the largest, being an active competitor of the British American Tobacco Company. He was known in China as the "Tobacco King of China."

In 1918 Mr. Kan, with his son Kan Sat Hing, visited America and while in his country made an extensive inspection of the North Carolina tobacco manufacturing plants. His concern for years has purchased heavily on the North Carolina tobacco market and in the Virginia market also.

Declines to Pardon Lumber Company.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 9.—Governor Morrison has finally disposed of the case of the Suncrest Lumber Company of Waywood County. The company was condemned at the criminal term of court last spring of violating the statute forbidding the operation of logging trains on Sundays and was fined $500.00 and costs.
The lumber company appealed to the Supreme Court and a few weeks ago the Court in a lengthy decision in which he Court decreed the methods employed by the company in working its men on such work as logging operations on Sundays and upheld the lower court.
The lumber company then appealed to Governor Morrison for a pardon and in the decision made yesterday the executive declined the pardon.

LITTLE 'BILLIE' ALIVE.
HIS MOTHER ADVISED

Obscure Husband Steadfastly Refuses to Divulge Whereabouts of Their Child.
Charlotte, Nov. 9.—Little "Billie" McIntyre, alleged to have been kidnaped October 13 from his home in Richmond, is alive and well. This information, given to his frantic little mother, Mrs. Minnie McIntyre, here today by Welfare Superintendent M. M.
Gray, brought relief from the anguish which had made her hysterical for days.

It was her piteous pleadings the past two days in Superior court here, that her husband tell her only if her "baby" were alive, that inspired the public welfare officer and others to bestir themselves to secure information that would partly relieve her distress.

Meanwhile the husband and father, M. C. McIntyre, arrested here Wednesday on a warrant from the Virginia capital, remained unmoved, steadfastly refusing even to assure the frantic wife that the child was alive.

His fight for liberty through habeas corpus proceedings ended today when Judge Harding denied his petition and ordered that he be held for the Virginia authorities.

Superintendent Gray did not announce if he knew the whereabouts of the 2-12-year-old child, but assured his mother that through the cooperation of the associated charities, it had been ascertained that the boy was alive and well.

A Man-Made Niagara.

Paris, Nov. 9.—A gigantic waterfall that will rival Niagara is now being constructed in the Swiss Alps, near Martigny. It is at an altitude of over 6,500 feet and is designed to supply electric power for the federal railway of Switzerland.

The scheme also provides for making a huge dike across the noted Barberine cascades, thus forming a vast artificial lake of about forty million cubic yards.
The height of this dam will be about the same as that of Niagara, and it will have a total length of 818 feet. The total cost of the undertaking is estimated at nearly twelve million dollars, but the benefits to be derived from the power generated by the falls will, it is calculated, repay this sum in a few months.

It is hoped to complete the project within three years. The installation will then be capable of supplying sufficient electric power to run the entire Swiss railway system, which at present is largely dependent on foreign coal.

DINNER STORIES

Father: "Why is it that you are always at the bottom of the class?" Johnny: "It doesn't make any difference, daddy; they teach the same things at both ends."

"Bill's going to sue the company for damages."
"Why? Wot did they do to 'im?"
"They blew the guffin' whistle when 'is was carryin' a 'eavy piece of iron, and 'e dropped it on 'is foot."

Little Bob (about to go out with mother)—"Mamma, you must take some money with you."

Mother—"No, Bob, I'm not going to use any."

"Who was Paul?" asked the superintendent of the Sunday school. "A parasite," said the boy who was asked the question. "What is a parasite?" asked a Sunday school teacher. "A horse," answered one of the bright and shining faces before him. "Didn't Jesus say:
'Whom unto the Pharisees?'" Pedantic Gent: "What is that strange bird, my man?"

Longshoreman: "Why, that's a hal-batross."

"A rara avis, isn't it?"
"Ye call it a halbatross."
"Yes, yes, but I call it a rara avis, just as I would call you a genius homo."

"Oh, do you? Well, I call it a hal-batross, just as I would call you a blooming idiot!"

No Sale.
The clerk was showing a customer some parasols.

As he picked up one from the lot on the counter he struck an attitude of admiration and, holding it up to the light he said: "Now isn't it lovely? Look at the silk. Observe the quality, the finish, the general effect! Feel it!
Pass your hand over it! No nonsense about that parasol, is there?"

"No," said the customer. "That's my old one. I just laid it there."

Bridgroom (to minister)—How much do I owe you?
Minister—You can better estimate the value of the service rendered.

"Bridgroom—Suppose we postpone settlement—say for a year. By that time—Minister—No, no. Make it $5 now."

One Way to Do It.
A schoolboy at lunch time entered a grocery store and said to the clerk:
"Take this order: 10 pounds of sugar at 6 cents; 11 pounds of coffee at 25 cents; 8 pounds tea at 30 cents. Add that up. How much is it?"
The clerk replied: "$5.75."

"Are you sure?" asked the boy.
"Of course I am sure."

The boy thanked him and said: "That is my arithmetic lesson for tomorrow."
