RESULTS IN CHICKEN FEEDING

Pays to Keep Rhode Island Reds Awake Overtime by 120 Watt Electric Lamps. (By the Associated Press.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 19.—Announcing today the results of a series of experiments in chicken feeding, Dr. B. F. Kaupp, poultry investigator of the North Carolina Experiment Station at State College, declared that the experiments showed that it pays to keep Rhode Island Red hens awake overtime by the use of 120 watt electric lamps. Dr. Kaupp took two flocks of poultry, giving one group 14 feeding hours by the use of electric lamps and allowing the other flock only the normal daylight hours.

proximately two ounces a day. In addition to this however, they had free access to the dry mash hopper and each bird could eat as freely as desired. The hens under lights ate an additional 46 pounds while those under normal conditions ate only 43 pounds additional. This made a total of 96 pounds consumed by the fowls under the lights and 93 pounds by those not having the artificial light.

The cost of the feed for the hens under lights amounted to $2.15 per hen and the value of the eggs produced was $6.10. The cost of feed for the other hens was $2.08 and the value of the eggs produced was $5.13 per hen. Dr. Kaupp claims, therefore, that one group of hens, those kept awake 14 hours, produced a value of $3.95 each above feed costs, while the other produced only $3.05 each above feed costs, thus making a difference in proceeds of 90 cents a bird in favor of those kept awake overtime.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE DENOUNCED AS GRAPTER

"Detroit Manufacturer" Handled Without Mercy by North Carolina Banker During Discussion of the Federal Reserve System Before Congressional Committee in Session at Greensboro. Special to Charlotte Observer. Greensboro, Nov. 17.—Views of the fifth federal reserve bankers as to limited membership in the federal reserve systems, plans for making the system more attractive to bankers and frank and free discussion of the whole system was the result of the hearing conducted here today by a joint congressional committee.

The meeting lasted practically all day with morning and afternoon sessions, broken by a luncheon at which there was informal discussion of the workings of the system. Such questions arose as eligibility, par collection, discount rates, reserves, deposits, city correspondents of country banks and the various ramifications and interrelated departments of banking. All was said and done in the closest and frankest spirit of co-operation and harmony. The sessions were characterized by a desire to clear up misunderstandings and to get the viewpoint of all upon any of the phases of the federal reserve system.

One lively period was occasioned by an attack by P. H. Gwynn, Louisville banker, upon a Detroit automobile manufacturer, not named by Mr. Gwynn, but declared a "candidate for the presidency," and it was perfectly plain who he meant! He called him a grafter and profiteer, the greatest in the country, and said that he draws drafts with exchange added and the drafts are cashed by the banks at par. Prefacing his denunciation of the Detroit manufacturer with the statement that "this gentleman was going to run Wall Street out of business" and his many agents throughout the nation are now demanding that his drafts be cashed at par, when the drafts, President Gwynn asserted, include the exchange.

GOVERNOR MORRISON INSISTS McBRAYER MUST BE REMOVED

Cannot Remain Long at Head of Sanatorium Without Clear Cut Violation of the Law, In His Opinion.

Raleigh, Nov. 17.—Governor Morrison made a move today with the evident purpose of forcing Dr. L. B. McBrayer out of the superintendency of the State Sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, when he addressed a letter to Dr. T. W. M. Long, chairman of the sanatorium board of trustees, asking him to call his board to meet to consider the Hoke county superior court's judgment against Dr. McBrayer.

The governor declared he could not see how Dr. McBrayer can continue his position "without a clear-cut violation of the law," adding that "under the law he is no longer qualified for the position which he holds."

When Dr. McBrayer pleaded guilty in Hoke Superior Court this week of trading with himself while holding a public position, Judge Sinclair imposed a fine of $50 and declared his position vacant.

GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY Plans Taking Shape For Its Observance on December 2.

Charlotte, Nov. 19.—Plans for observance of "International Golden Rule Sunday" in North Carolina December 2nd are taking shape today with the announcement that the entire student body of Davidson College is planning to eat the regular fare of the Armenians on that day—a slice or two of stale bread and a cup of thin soup or water.

The Presbyterian institution, under the leadership of J. P. Williams, Y. M. C. A. secretary, will also extend their activities to the town of Davidson, a student committee composed of Ernest Milton, Wallace Purdy, A. Y. Bowie, Claude MacIntosh, and T. A. Guiton, having been appointed to ask co-operation of everyone.

Briefly, Colonel George H. Bellamy, state chairman of the Near East Relief, has followed up President Coolidge's appeal by asking every North Carolinian to observe Golden Rule Sunday by eating for dinner a slice or two of stale bread and a cup of thin soup or water and sending the difference in the cost of that and their regular Sunday dinner to the Near East Relief. Col. Bellamy pointed out. The regular campaign will be for the support of the State's quota of 234 orphans.

110 GALLONS OF WHISKEY AND NEW CAR TAKEN

S. H. Williams, of Charlotte, Comes to Grief in Iredell County.

Statesville, Nov. 17.—S. H. Williams, of Charlotte, and his new Studebaker touring car loaded with 110 gallons of liquor were captured Friday on the Mountain road at Deep cut bridge by Federal Agent Hallyburton and Deputy Sheriff's Tomlin and Hoke.

The arrest was made in a unique manner. The officers placed their car across the road at the south end of the bridge and Williams, realizing that his path was blocked, went into low gear and attempted to push the obstructing car out of the way. In this he succeeded, but only to go off into the ditch on the opposite side of the road. His capture was effected then without difficulty and Williams was brought to jail. The officers poured out the liquor on Court Street.

Claude Hampton, of Wilkes county, captured Thursday morning with 80 gallons of liquor in his car, has been released on a bond of $500 with Mrs. S. J. Bost, of Concord, as his surety.

Burglars Fear Barking Dogs.

A dog that will bark at an intruder is of more use than a powerful fighter, for a burglar's nerves when he is "on duty" are necessarily taut and the last thing on earth that Mr. Sykes wishes to encounter is a noise or fight. A couple of yapping terriers are worth their weight in gold if they are placed in a good tactical position overnight.

Overloaded Governments. From time to time peoples have revolted from the overloading of governing bodies, either with men or with prescribed formal duties. Wise leaders who are seeking the permanent good of their people keep as far as possible from this danger.

A Patient Grow. Little Edna, who was watching the men working a pile-driver in the lot opposite, said to her mother: "I'm so sorry for those poor men, mamma; they've been trying and trying to lift out that big one yet, but I've managed to get all the free ones away." American Legion Weekly.

Salesmanship. "The Best—Did you do as I told you and put up the sign outside. Two times $50, one time free?" The New Salesman—"Mum, and I've had pretty fair luck. I haven't sold any of the $25 ones yet, but I've managed to get all the free ones away." American Legion Weekly.
