

COALITION CABINET WILL UNDERTAKE TO KEEP GERMANY SAFE

Three Party Cabinet With r. Wilhelm Marx as Chancellor and Stresemann as Foreign Secretary Formed.

NO ENTHUSIASM FOR THE CABINET

But Crisis of Last Eight Days Shows This Cabinet to Be Only Kind That Will Be Able to Function Now.

Berlin, Nov. 30 (By the Associated Press).—Official announcement of the formation of the new three-party coalition cabinet for Germany with Dr. Wilhelm Marx as chancellor and ex-chancellor Stresemann as foreign minister, was made this afternoon. No great enthusiasm is displayed over the saving by a narrow margin of the country's parliamentary system through this solution of the cabinet crisis.

It is generally agreed that the crisis of the past eight days has shown that the Marx cabinet represents virtually the only possible combination before the resort to a dissolution of parliament. Press comments indicate that no pronounced new note in the German policy is expected to be struck by the new chancellor.

The cabinet appointments so far made are as follows: Chancellor, Dr. Wilhelm Marx; vice chancellor and minister of interior, Dr. Jaegers; foreign minister, Dr. Gustave Stresemann; minister of defense, Dr. Otto Gessler; minister of finance, Dr. Hans Luther; minister of posts, telegraph and occupied regions, Dr. Anton Hoefel.

No appointments have yet been announced for ministries of transportation, public economy, food and justice.

THE COTTON MARKET

More Active Today Than It Had Been in Advance Which Preceded Holiday.

(By the Associated Press.) New York, Nov. 30.—The cotton market was even more active and excited during today's early trading than it had been in the advance which preceded the holiday. The strength of Liverpool over Thanksgiving day combined with a report from a southwest firm estimating the crop at only 9,807,000 bales, and bullish Bombay advices were the news features of the opening advance of 28 to 61 points on all months except September which was 15 points lower. Heavy realizing was encountered at 37.50 for December and 37.11 for March, but Liverpool trade interests and commission houses were bid buyers and early offerings were absorbed on reactions of 15 to 30 points.

At the Governor's office, it was stated no plea for clemency for Goss has been received, nor was it contemplated to extend the day over the seven day period. Goss was convicted for an attack on a white woman provoking the racial disturbance in Mitchell county in September.

MASS MEETING TONIGHT!

You are invited to be at the Y. M. C. A. at 8:00 o'clock to hear the following speak on Chamber of Commerce Work: "WHAT IT MEANS TO CONCORD"

Mr. Morrison Caldwell, Mr. F. C. Niblock, Mr. Chas. Ritchie, Mr. John Oglesby, Rev. L. A. Thomas, Mr. A. H. Jarratt

Nothing but business and you won't be kept long. If you want to help put Concord on the map, help make it a Bigger, Better and Greater City, then come out and let's put these things over. Admission FREE.

Men have been trying for 100 years to find a way to make a city a greater city and the only successful plan they have found so far is through co-operation. Therefore they organize themselves into a Chamber of Commerce with hundreds or a thousand strong to go forth to success.

We must get closer together in Concord. We must become nearer one people. We must learn the value of co-operative and co-ordinated efforts. None of us can afford to pass the buck.

We believe next year marks the beginning of Concord's great opportunity. We believe the great mass of loyal men in Concord are going to rally to the Chamber of Commerce and then other cities will learn something from Concord.

This is to remind you that there is to be a meeting for the organization of the Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening, November 30th, and you are expected to be here, so make your plans now to be there and get with the Business Men that are going to help the City of Concord put this over.

Have you a plan? Have you something that you would like to have done? We want your suggestions, for it is for you that this meeting has been called, and it is imperative that you be there.

Phone 444 and say, tell Smith that "I'll be there."

NOW FOR A BIGGER, BETTER, GREATER, CONCORD.

MANY USE THEIR JAWS MORE THAN THEIR BRAINS

Twenty-Seven Times as Much Money Spent For Chewing Gum as For Books.

For every dollar spent on books in this country $27 are spent on chewing gum. Do we use our jaws more than we do our brains, or is this a tribute to the permanence of books? It has been suggested that the gum manufacturers give the public what it wants. That is true in some cases. But looking over some of the output of the publishers we are not specially impressed that this is true. It looks as if the gum manufacturers understood the public taste and the book manufacturers did not.

Maybe it is just as well. Gum chewing makes for contentment, reading for reflection. At least the reformers should be happy. A man or woman with a head full of ideas may require the attention of a censor, but not a man or woman with a mouth full of gum.

It is one of the biggest boosts, gratis, the Old North State ever had at the hands of a northern publication. The author is a man who knows where of he speaks—O. M. Wells, chief roadman of the Automobile Club of America.

He further writes: "It is interesting to note through North Carolina at any time of the year. When rain falls, the light, sandy soil absorbs the moisture almost instantly and leaves it hard and dry under foot a few minutes after the shower has passed."

WITNESSES SAY FALL WAS "BROKE" IN FEBRUARY, 1920

Newspaper Man Says He Discussed Finances With Former Cabinet Member.

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 30.—After Carl C. Magee, a New Mexico editor, had testified under questioning by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Wyoming, regarding the financial status of former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Falls, of the Interior department, the Senate Public Lands committee decided today to invite Mr. Falls to appear before it in its inquiry into the leasing of the Tea Pot Dome Naval Reserve to the Sinclair interests.

The invitation sent by Chairman Smoot, summarized the testimony given today and informed Mr. Falls of the committee's opinion he should have an opportunity to be heard.

Mr. Magee described a visit to Mr. Falls' ranch at Three Rivers, New Mexico, in February, 1920, when, he said, Falls declared he was "broke" and intended to resign from the Senate to reorganize. The Senator's statement was borne out, the witness said, by the condition of the ranch and the reads leading to it. Magee said he passed through Three Rivers again last August and "was lost because of the great changes." A first class road went through the property, he testified, and there were concrete gutters, stone culverts, and trees on each side.

Senator Walsh read into the record an affidavit of the present treasurer of the county in which the Fall ranch is located, stating no taxes had been paid by Fall between 1912 and 1922, but that all back payments were met on June 6, 1922.
