FULNESS OF JOY:—Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fullness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.—Psalm 1:11. SUFFICIENCY:—Our sufficiency is of God.—2 Corinthians 3:5.

Congress convenes again today after a recess of several months, and all those persons who keep intimately in touch with Congresses and politics in general, are of the opinion that the present ses-recess of several months, and all those persons who keep intended in touch with Congresses and politics in general, are of the opinion that the present session will be a very important one.

Nominally the Republicans have a majority in both houses of Congress, but things are not certain now, and there is every reason to believe that the "blocs" will control matters. There are "blocs of all kinds in Congress now, but the biggest and most important one is a Senator—LaFollette, who seems to control the other members who are listed neither with the Democrats nor the the Republicans. The power of LaFollette has to be recognized, as much as the regular Republicans have it, and this man is almost certain to wield the whiphand in the present Congress as he did in the last one. At the beginning of the last Congress Senator Lodge and his capture to the Senator Lodge and his capture to the Senator for Misconin but they changed their minds. The situation will be much the same this year. Senator Lodge and big supporters were certain they would not catter to the Senator from Wisconsin, but they changed their minds. The situation will be much the same this year. Senator LaFollette is not expected to line up with the Democrats but he will make the Republicans pay dearly for any allegiance he gives them

The political future of President Coolidge will in all probability, be determined by the action of Congress. If Contain gress acts favorably to the propositions man C. Dayi that appeal to the masses, then President Coolidge is almost certain to be the Republican standard-bearer in the next Presidential election. If Congress makes breaks, which will be forced by the Demogratis and in many instances, by the correspondence and the various "ibloom". ogressives and the various "blocs then Mr. Coolidge is not likely to get the Republican nomination. Mr. Coolidge is a man of few words and his ability to refrain from speech making has many many frineds and supporters for him. But with Congress in session it will not be possible for him to maintain his silence. There is his address to Congress, for instance, and then later many questions prophylic will be left with him. probably will be left with him He will have to be the admin istration leader whether he wants to be not and his action as such will be

Reduction of taxes and the bonus will be the biggest problems to come before Congress, according to present indica-titons. Officials of the American Legion and other service men's organizations declare the bonus will carry. They know what they are talking about, these officials declare, and they are positive they

On the other hand there are Republi as and Democrats alike who are just sure that the reduction of taxes will accomplished. This will be done, he accomplished. This will be done, they maintain, at the expense of the bonus, which will be an impossibility with tax reductions.

The session of Congress that comes just before a Presidential election is always considered an important and dangerous one. The session that began to-day will be no exception. Many prominent politicians and officeholders will be add or killed politically by this Congress.

Representative Harry B. Hawes, Democrat, of Missori says:

"There are always two sides to a question. I did not believe that until recently. The utilities committee of a thrifty town in my State permitted the street car company to raise the fare so that the public would get four tickets instead of six for 25 cents. This caused a great storm of protest. An indignant citizen of the community met an old Scotchman on the street and tried to get him exercised on the subject, but failed.

"'Well what do you think of it?' he

"Of what?" asked the Scotchman "'Of what? asked the Scotchman." Why the utilities committee allowing the roads to collect 25 cents for four tickets instead of six?
"Fine, I like that, was the reply.
"Like it, why?
"Because I walk all the time, and now I can save 25 cents by four trips instead of six."
