

WINNIPEG, FRONTIER TOWN IN 1870, NOW A MODERN METROPOLIS

WINNIPEG'S BUSY MAIN STREET

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY STATION

EIGHT MILLION DOLLAR PARLIAMENT BUILDING

Canada contains some of the oldest and newest cities on the North American continent. Quebec, founded in 1608, and Alask, a recently plotted town on the Alberta-Saskatchewan border, with its 360 souls, are examples that may be multiplied many times.

To the uninitiated public, Winnipeg suggests a prairie town. Those who have been privileged to visit this "Chicago of Canada" know that it is a thriving, modern city with a population of 282,000 who will celebrate Winnipeg's fiftieth birthday during June, 1924. The initial plans for this celebration call for a Pageant of Progress and Golden Jubilee, to be produced under the aegis of the City Officials and Board of Trade and to be participated in by Winnipeggers generally.

Americans planning to vacation in the Canadian Rockies next summer, will do well to arrange their visits to coincide with Winnipeg's celebration, for a stop-over in that fine city will prove a pleasant revelation in many ways, besides affording an opportunity to participate in the anniversary festivities.

Statistics are usually considered dry reading, but they are the best way in which to glean a comprehensive knowledge of what has happened to Winnipeg in the past fifty years. From a small settlement around Fort Garry on the Red River in 1870, it has developed into the third city of Canada, with an area of 15,287 acres, of which 674 are laid out in magnificent parks; 500 miles of streets, including 118 miles of boulevards; 112 miles of street railways; is the third largest retailing city in Canada with nearly 2,000 stores of which the mammoth "Eaton's" and "Hudson's Bay Company" are known far and wide. The Hudson's Bay Company has recently established a highly interesting museum dealing with the fur trade. The city boasts 876 factories employing over 23,000 hands whose annual payroll is more than $24,000,000, and who turn out manufactures worth over $120,000,000 annually.

Winnipeg has eight large hotels, the principal being the well known Royal Alexandra, at which Lord Renfrew, otherwise known as the Prince of Wales, recently stayed. There are many other hotels and boarding houses, the latter catering to students, for Winnipeg is the seat of the Manitoba University as well as the capitol of the province, the provincial government is housed in a new parliament building of great magnificence and recently completed at a cost of $8,000,000. St. Boniface Cathedral and St. Stephen's Church, made famous by its pastor Major Gordon, known as Ralph Connor, are but two of the city's host of fine churches.

Modest Prayer.
A small Brookline youngster whose new suit arrived on Friday added to his prayer that night, "Please, God, make tomorrow Sunday; don't mind Saturday this week."—Boston Transcript.

Musical Note.
Married life may not be one grand sweet song, but there's generally plenty of chin music.—Boston Transcript.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre At Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Rub Rheumatic Pain From Aching Joints

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment, you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

BILLY SUNDAY

IN

The Charlotte Observer

SIX WEEKS FOR $1

Every sermon delivered by the world's greatest evangelist during the six weeks' revival campaign he will open in Charlotte, December 30, will be printed in full in the issue following its delivery.

Billy Sunday's thrilling phraseology, his striking gestures and platform antics, and the manner in which his sermons are received by the thousands who will jam the specially constructed tabernacle, will be duly recorded by an Observer staff reporter.

The fact that The Observer is a morning paper will enable it to give a more complete report of the services than any other Charlotte newspaper.

In addition to the complete Billy Sunday reports, The Observer will carry every piece of news developing in North and South Carolina, the local news handled by a large corps of reporters, and the world news gleaned from a complete Associated Press service. Features, comics, special articles of general interest and an editorial page second to none in the South, make up a paper that is more than desirable.

To Make Hot Water Bottle Stay Hot.
To fill a hot-water bottle for an invalid, fill it half full and lay the bottle flat, holding the mouth up until water appears in the neck of the bottle. Then screw in the stopper, thus excluding the air. The bottle will be soft and the water will keep hot longer.—Designer.

Senate Snuff Boxes.
The snuff-boxes now in use in the federal senate chamber are placed on the ledge immediately to the left of the doors entering the senate chamber lobby. While seldom used, except by visitors, they are kept filled with fresh snuff, and have been in use since the custom was general.
