IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

"OPPORTUNITIES" STILL ARE BEING ANNOUNCED

Additional List Made Public by Committee Which is Working to Help the Needy.

"Opportunities" are being announced daily by the committee working to help the city's needy. The following are the latest to be announced:

Opportunity Seventy-Two. A family where the father works, but mother is dead. There are girls aged 14, 10, 7, 5 and a baby not quite two years old. They need food, fuel and Christmas bags for the children.

Opportunity Seventy-Three. An old man who is sick and has no income—has some food now sent by donations of Salisbury, but has an adopted daughter 16 who needs things. A Christmas bag for her.

Opportunity Seventy-Four. This covers a family in which father, mother and eldest daughter are sick and can't work. Boy 14 is only wage-earner. There is another boy 8 years old and girls 6 and 9. Food and Christmas bags.

Opportunity Seventy-Five. Another family in which the father works, but needs some help. The mother is dead. There are girls aged 17, 13, 10, 7 and 4. Food and Christmas bags for the children.

Opportunity Seventy-Six. A woman alone in the world. Food and fruit.

Opportunity Seventy-Seven. A family in which there are boys aged 14, 12, 10 and 8 years, a girl 5. Food and Christmas bags.

Opportunity Seventy-Eight. A very old couple, whose 20 year old son is sole support. Food and fruit.

Opportunity Seventy-Nine. A widow who has two boys and one little girl, four to eight years old. Food and Christmas bags for the children.

Opportunity Eighty. A family in which the mother is a cripple. Boys 12, 9, 7, 5 and 3, and a baby. Food, fuel and Christmas bags for the children.

Opportunity Eighty-One. A mother and four girls—ages 8, 7, 5, and 3. A boy 10 years. Food, fuel and Christmas bags for the children.

Opportunity Eighty-Two. A man and his wife who are very old. Food and fuel, and some fruit.

Opportunity Eighty-Three. A very old lady, who lives alone. Needs coal, food and would like some fruit.

Up to the present writing thirty-seven opportunities have been adopted, which with those listed and a few others in sight to go in, leaves the committee over fifty to care for. We hope our friends will come to our rescue, and please let us have any boys' clothes you can spare. We have four boys under twelve who need warm clothing, and one little fellow eight years old who is suffering for a warm overcoat. Mothers please let us hear from you.

NORTH CAROLINA NOT AS BLACK AS PAINTED

Representative of New York World is Agreeably Surprised at Child Labor Conditions in State.

North Carolina, a headless task-master of innocent and tender childhood, a State that sweats the blood of its helpless children in its mills and holds material prosperity higher than their welfare, a cruel and benighted worshipper of filthy lucre whose altar is drenched with the pathetic tears of babes ruthlessly sacrificed—is this what Henry F. Pringle, special correspondent of The New York World, investigating child labor conditions in this country, found when he visited this State last month and, inconspicuously for two weeks a number of cotton mills in North Carolina?

It is not. On the contrary, Mr. Pringle was agreeably surprised at child labor conditions in this State. He thought, it is true, that North Carolina's child labor law is defective in permitting the ten-hour day, but he found that the law is being enforced with a thoroughness which surprised him, and that child labor is more carefully supervised in North Carolina than in any other Southern State except Alabama, which has an eight-hour law.

Mr. Pringle was impressed with the North Carolina plan whereby the Department of Education and the State Board of Health co-operate in the enforcement of the child labor law by insisting on compulsory school attendance and by giving medical examination to children before they are allowed to work. He complimented Mr. E. F. Carter, executive secretary of the N. C. Child Welfare Commission, which supervises the enforcement of the child labor law in this State, on his careful certification of children employed. He stated that he had seen no violation of the law during the two weeks when, unknown, he inspected a number of cotton mills in Mecklenburg and Gaston counties, and he spoke of the good attitude of the mill men whom he had met while in the State.

Mr. Pringle was in conference for several hours with the Commissioner of Public Welfare, who is ex-officio chairman of the N. C. Child Welfare Commission, the other members of which are the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Secretary of the State Board of Health. He also visited the office of the Commission, discussing the situation in this State fully with Mr. Carter and going over his records.

Before coming to North Carolina, The World's special correspondent had visited a number of states in which conditions of child labor are supposed to be worst, notably Nebraska and Wyoming, with their great beet fields, and Louisiana with its shrimp canneries. From North Carolina he went to Pennsylvania to inspect the coal mines there.

Mr. Pringle will write a series of stories on the child labor situation for The World.

Child Buried This Morning

The funeral of Willie Preslar was held this morning at 11 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Preslar on Bell Avenue. The services were conducted by Rev. G. A. Martin, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Interment was made in Oakwood cemetery. Many friends of the deceased and her parents were present at the services, and the grave was covered with a blanket of beautiful flowers, sent as last tokens of love by the many friends of the child and her parents.

Too Much Faith

A southern darkey became converted and for some time his religious fervor was a matter for awe among the brethren. One night, however, he showed up at meeting with a lugubrious face. "Ise backslided," he announced mournfully from the platform. "Ise a doubtin' sinner. I ain't got de faith in divine providence what Brother Johnson's got. 'Brother Johnson he got such faith in divine providence dat, jes' to show off, dar man climb a lightnin' rod in a thunderstorm. Me, I stays down below on terrn cotta. Yassuh, Ise backslided."

In England a tradition exists that the ghost of Lady Jane Grey drives around the grounds of Gradgate House, in Leicestershire, each Christmas Eve, in a phantom carriage drawn by four spectral gray horses.

The possibility of making smokeless fuel by the low-temperature carbonization of coal in vertical retorts is being investigated by the British Government Research Station at Greenwich.

On the island of Madura, in the Dutch West Indies, the girls marry at an extremely early age. In fact, one who is unmarried at fourteen is looked upon as an old maid.

"Stage Rotten, Says Bowley"—headline. He means salacious. We hear of shows so warm they use asbestos curtains.

OF COURSE—

You are wondering what to buy for Christmas, and here's a suggestion:

To insure warmth and health the first thing to protect should be your feet.

Let your first Christmas purchase be a new pair of shoes for the winter months. They should be warm, strong and comfortable, just the kind we have purchased for the Christmas trade.
