

Borah and Johnson Part Company, Philadelphia Record.

Senators Borah and Johnson, who fought so fraternally against the peace treaty and the League of Nations, have parted company on the question of the Presidency, and the Idaho statesman is said to look coldly on the aspirations of the Californian. Mr. Borah has considerable facility in attaching himself to the winning side. Previous to the Republican nominating convention of 1912 he was an enthusiastic Rooseveltian, but after Taft had been named he became entirely regular, and continued so in 1916, when the Colonel again tried for a third cup of coffee. In 1920 he gave a perfunctory support to "His" candidacy, but had no difficulty in becoming a Harding enthusiast. Now he is said to be for Coolidge and Johnson locks upon him with suspicion. At one time Senator Borah was regarded as being of Presidential calibre, but he is no longer considered seriously in that connection.

A medical scientist of Veluna says that he can diagnose a man's character as well as his physical condition by the way he sneezes. Most people sneeze to the left. Sneezing to the right, says the scientist, is a good sign. A heavy sneeze is an indication of physical fitness, and sneezes should never be suppressed.

Man, 81, Heir to Small Fortune "Pestered to Death" by Women

Bloomington, Pa., Dec. 20.—James Hendershott, who recently got a small sized fortune through the settlement out of court of the contest of the will of Mrs. A. A. Geisinger, Danville's wealthy philanthropic woman, declares he is being "pestered to death" by women.

"I'm just pestered to death with letters from these women since I've been so well advertised. The women seem to know a lot more about me than I know about myself—my finances I mean. I guess that story of my money has traveled from one end of the country to the other, at least you'd think so by all the States in the Union.

"From Oklahoma to South Carolina they have been coming, and the end is not yet in sight. One woman wrote that she had written me three times, and she thought it was about time I answered her. Another suggested I send her $100. I declare I never knew there were so many women who were after the men quite so strong as they seem to be after me. But it's a fat chance any of them have of getting anything out of me.

"Then I've been discovering I had some relations I never knew before that I had, and that makes it nice. Some of my 'relations' from out West suggested that I come and make them a visit. I did answer that letter and told that the walkin' wasn't very good now."

Hendershott, who is 81 years old, was an inmate of the Bloomington almshouse when he got word that he had received a share of the Geisinger estate through the contest of the will which he and other heirs brought. Although the terms of the settlement have never been learned, it is understood Hendershott received several thousand dollars as his share.

highway bridge spanning the Yadkin river at Spencer, now under construction, about 65 per cent. complete. The foundation work is said to be 98 per cent. complete, while the superstructure which is to be a permanent part of the new bridge is said to be about 45 per cent. finished.

Splendid progress has been made by the contractors on the bridge which is 1,200 feet long 65 feet high, and with a double with driveway, 23 feet wide at the top.

It is stated that the State Highway Association is now taking steps to have the approaches to the new bridge built so they may settle and be ready for the hard surface by the time the bridge is finished. Some delay in this part of the work resulted by a failure of the road contractors and it is said the matter is being handled by the bonding company as surety for the road builders.

LITTLE MOTHER HAPPY AGAIN

"For the past nine year I have been very much distressed with bloating and stomach trouble due to constipation since I was a child. No medicine gave me more than temporary relief. I got so bad I was afraid I would have to leave my three little children. But since taking a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy two years ago I have been entirely well; no constipation or other trouble." CITY JUDGE WARNS ASHEVILLE POLICE Searching Persons Without Warrant or Unless They Have Good Reason Must Be Stopped.

Asheville, Dec. 20.—A decision of vital importance, far-reaching in its effects and revolutionary in its bearing on the conduct of certain officers on duty during the early morning hours was that rendered today by Judge Cameron McCrae in police court, when he put the police department on notice that the indiscriminate search of pedestrians on suspicion must be stopped.

Ordering the discharge of Willie Smith, negro, about 30, arrested early Thursday with a couple of hot water bags under a raincoat, containing a gallon or more of moonshine, the court said that the American citizen has some right left and that they must be respected. Despite the fact that the people have adopted the principle of prohibition they have not reached the point where a citizen, regardless of his standing in life, forfeits the protection accorded him under the constitution for his person, papers and effects.

Stripped of its legal verbiage and the accompanying comments, the decision means that an officer must have a warrant or positive knowledge of the possession of whisky by a man before he can search him.

It means that arrests on suspicion, regardless of their results in the form of seized contraband will not be tolerated in the municipal tribunal.

CAN SUCH THINGS BE?

Is It Possible That There Are People Who Will Do Such a Food Thing? Monroe Enquirer.

A business man living in another town told me one day last week that peddlers had sold in Union county within the past few weeks many cook stoves or ranges, the prevailing prices being $135—one-third cash down and the balance on the extortion plan.

"Are the ranges better or cheaper in price than our merchants carry in stock?" I asked the man.

"No better, and more expensive," said he. "Can't you do or say something about our folks patronizing foreigners or strangers to the exclusion of home merchants?"

"I'll think about it and see what I can do," I said, "but do you know The Enquirer goes into a majority of the homes of Union county, and we haven't had a stove or range advertisement in over a year."

Merchants, why not instead of fussing about peddlers and mail order houses getting so much business, invite folks to your store. Let 'em know you have the goods and can and do sell 'em as cheap or cheaper than strangers. That's business.

Wears Dress Only Once.

New York Dispatch.

Miss Carolyn Nunder, 24 years old, of New York, changes her clothes perhaps oftener than any other woman in the United States. And by doing so she has worked up a $50,000-a-year business.

She's a dress designer and she wears more than 1,000 dresses a year. After a gown has been worn once she hangs it away—she will never put it on again. She designs all her own dresses and wears them in the most fashionable places—dances, theatres, smart hotels—here and in Europe—and looks so beautiful in them that many Newport, New York and other society women seek her out to buy her self-exploited dresses.

The former society girl obtained this novel commercial idea when she was forced to go to work three years ago due to the business failure of her father.
