The Right Spirit.
When I am in the dentist's chair I do not raise a fuss, but thank my lucky stars I'm not a hippopotamus. When baggagemen destroy my trunk I do not rave and rant, but mentally declare I'm glad I'm not an elephant. And wearing new shoes, stiff and tight, which painfully impede, I smile and think how nice it is I'm not a centipede.—Boston Transcript.

The Grape Cure.
The "grape cure" is practiced in Switzerland by persons who are troubled with gout or liver diseases. The time they spend among the grapes of Mt. Pelicler, above Vevey, or Bexles-Bains, seems to benefit and calm patients. The juicy white grape of Switzerland is most beneficial because of its easily digested skin.

FIRST MEETING OF KIWANIANS FOR 1924

New Officers Installed—Splendid Program—Matter of Public Playgrounds Discussed—Editorial Playgrounds a Talk—Other Matters.

The Kiwanis Club of Concord began the year 1924 with a splendid meeting at the Concord Y on Friday evening, at which time the new officers were installed, several matters of business were transacted, and a splendid program was arranged by Lee Crowell, Jr., in charge. Retiring President Tracy Spencer called upon the new District Trustee Will Foil to present Caleb Swink, the Major did in fitting manner. President Swink then took charge of the meeting. The other officers for the year are: Vice President, Brevard Harris; Directors, Charles A. Cannon, James P. Cook, Jacob O. Moore, John B. Sherrill, Lee Crowell, Jr., Eugene Barnhardt, Jr., and Tracy Spencer. Campbell Cline was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer at the meeting of the directors, while Dr. Morrison King was elected sergeant-at-arms.

The Kiwanians by a rising vote expressed to Tracy Spencer its appreciation of his efforts and energetic leadership during the year 1923. Kiwanian John B. Sherrill called to the attention of the club the fact that the last session of the General Assembly passed a bill empowering cities or municipalities to create public playgrounds and that the matter may be left to a vote of the people upon petition signed by 25 per cent. of the registered voters in such city. The playgrounds committee, with Will Foil as chairman, was instructed to get busy on the project of establishing public playgrounds for Concord children, and were asked for a report on this at the next meeting.

The Club expressed its welcome to Kiwanian James Augustus Kennett, who resumed his active membership in the club at this meeting.

Dr. Greenlee Caldwell was presented as the guest of Brevard Harris, Jr., and Mr. G. Ed. Kestler was presented to the club by Major Will Foil. Mr. Kestler responded with a splendid talk on the Thrift Week campaign which will shortly open all over the United States, and stressed particularly the 500 club. Upon motion, the Kiwanians voted unanimously that the Chamber of Commerce work out details of a 500 Club for Concord, and Kiwanian Jim Smith, Secretary of the Chamber, was instructed to handle the matter.

The program arranged by Lee Crowell, Jr., was one of the ordinary and was greatly enjoyed by everyone. Mrs. H. S. Williams rendered several readings which were delightful, after first giving one of her own compositions, "A Toast To Kiwanis." It follows:

The Kiwanis Club is the best in town Else why would these men be in it? The members are bright and mentally sound. You can see that in a minute.

The officers? no better they make. And so is each member true: In everything they undertake They know just what to do.

When it comes to boosting, they're there with a vim That's why our town is growing— Every man thinks it's up to him— They're the proper spirit showing.

So here's to Kiwanians, when you take a look about You see they're helping our State: In worth while things they're never left out.

My, you bet, they're great."

Rotarian H. W. Blanks, secretary of the Concord Y, was called upon for a talk on Thrift Week, which will be held in about 2500 cities and towns in the United States during the week January 17-23. He explained the purposes of this campaign, and outlined some of the work which will be done here and elsewhere during the week. At the conclusion of his talk the Kiwanians endorsed the Thrift Week campaign, and pledged their support.

A pleasing feature on the program was the readings by little Miss Lorene Blanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Blanks. This young lady, who is ten years old, rendered two readings in a splendid manner, and completely captivated her audience.

The attendance prize was drawn by Caleb Swink. The meeting for January 18th will be in charge of Major Will Foil.

Thrift Week Committee to Work.
The program committee of Thrift Week is busy preparing a big list of speakers for the opening day, January 17th, every citizen of our city should back these committees to the limit as this is of national importance. So great is the demand for advertising material for this week that in a telegram from Thrift headquarters it was announced that the posters ordered for Concord supply was exhausted already and that it would be advisable to get orders for all material at once.

Charlotte Wins Basketball Game.
The basketball game between Charlotte and Concord Y. Friday night proved to be the best seen on the local court and many times when the score was tied the crowd almost stood on tiptoe to see who would be the next to score. The Concord player got into the game and proved dangerous antagonists to the weaker team from Charlotte. Charlotte won 40 to 32.

It is hoped that the citizens will turn out in great number to root for their home team in the future.

Publicity For Thrift Week.
Chairman John Oglesby, of the publicity committee, will begin next week interviewing the merchants relative to publicity and thrift sales for the week. Several merchants are already planning to take opportunity of the occasion and have the biggest sales of their firms on record.

Full information may be had concerning this week and about the program from the secretary at the Y. M. C. A.

WHAT G. ED. KESTLER SAYS ABOUT POSTOFFICE FIGHT

"An Elephant Can Go Through the Eye of a Needle But for a Republican to Get a Job, Oh!"—He Says.

The following appeared this week in The Concord Observer, edited by Mr. G. Ed. Kestler, who is a candidate for the Concord postoffice:

The Concord postoffice matter is still an open question. When the Democrats had the power Mr. Miller four years ago was re-appointed without even a question asked. All agreed that the party in power had the right to put in who they pleased. They agreed on their man and that ended it. The Civil Service laws were the same then as now. Why can't the Republicans now get in their man in like manner? How come they must be forced to have one they do not want and one even the Democrats do not want? What secret, unexplained power is at work to do away with the voice of the people? Who is it that prevents responsible business men with lifelong records and proven business qualities from being eligible when those of doubtful records are put ahead of them? These are questions the voters cannot understand. If the "voice of the people was the voice of God" in other days why not now? If this is the way Mr. Wilson's order is interpreted then Mr. Coolidge should make a new order, and he will when he knows how hard it is for a Republican to get an office under a Republican rule.

JUSTICE FORD SEES MENACE IN BOOKS

"Printed Depravity" Endorsing Work of Churches, McWaras League.

New York World.

"Printed depravity" is undoing the work of the synagogues and churches, Justice John Ford, of the Supreme Court, told the Young Folk's League of Olub Zedek in the Hotel Ansania last night. Justice Ford spoke on the crusade of the Clean Books League.

He began his address with a Biblical quotation about Sodom and Gomorrah and declared the influences which caused the destruction of these cities and of Rome, and other great powers are at work in this country.

"The downfall of every one of these countries was presaged by growing sexual laxity," he declared.

He outlined the plans of the Clean Books League and paid his respects to modern literature:

"Invariably when I have shown a passage from any of these foul books to others they have confessed that they then for the first time gained an adequate impression of the evil I had been talking about.

"I have with me extracts from some half dozen of the books which are freely offered for sale in every book store and stationery shop. No one can gain an adequate conception of their foulness except by reading them. I might exhaust the vocabulary of its denunciations and adjectives without conveying more than a faint idea of their wickedness. I cannot mention the names of any of these publications, for that would be to advertise them."

Fire Causes Damage to Building Occupied by the New York World.

New York, Jan. 4.—Flames starting from a short circuit in the press room of the New York World in the basement of the Pulitzer building tonight shot up an elevator shaft to the top of the fourteen-story building, engendering dense smoke, which forced a general evacuation of the editorial and composing rooms in the upper stories.

Working under the difficulty of having to draw lines of light up stairs, firemen controlled the fire in an hour and employees of the newspaper returned to their work. Three of the fourteen presses in the basement were damaged.

It was announced, however, that the damage would not interfere with publication of the paper.

A report that Cleveland will lose her presidential convention due to a liquor shortage is untrue.

BILLY SUNDAY'S SAYINGS

I never have quarreled with the theater as an institution; I quarrel with the mean low contemptible things that they allow and permit on the stage, and as long as they do, they can not expect anything from me but a scrap.

Just let this city shut up its heart for 16 years, drive out every preacher and every priest, close up every church and Sunday school and every Y. M. C. A. and every Y. W. M. A. Should be in hell before that time and all her wealth and culture would not save her.

I have a good time but I don't have to go to the theater and look at a woman that hasn't got enough clothes on to make a tail for a kite to love it.

So many of you go to the church and look upon the choir as a paid institution to entertain you on Sunday morning. A lot of you never open your lips. You are never heard in song.

I tell you it was a disgrace to America when they leaked the Bible out of the public schools of this country.

If a girl's skirt is too short stick a little on it; if it is cut too much at the top add a couple of stories. But hat won't purify her heart. I tell you, America needs a tidal wave of religion.

The father who crawls into the hay at 8 o'clock and allows his sons to give the cops a merry chase until the cocks crow will need a four-section ladder to get a look into heaven.

Some fathers are so darned afraid their sons will be called a milkop that they let the bars down to him so low there is nothing to keep him out of hell.

A lot of our school curriculum is bunk and junk, not worth a whoop. Where does the child learn to lie? From his lying old mother.

To launch a boy or girl for Jesus Christ is a finer thing than to launch a battleship with 18 inches of hard iron and steel, and men enough on her to make a city.

God help our world when women can go into restaurants and cross their legs and smoke cigarettes and drink booze and still be respectable.

The word "Home" sparkles like a diamond, leaps like a flame, sings like an angel, glows like sunset.

Death of Mrs. D. B. Corzine.
Mrs. Bessie Horton Corzine, wife of Dr. Buford Corzine, died at the Concord Hospital yesterday morning, as a result of complications following the birth of a child on December 26th. Funeral services were held this morning at 11 o'clock from Epworth Methodist Church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. L. A. Falls. She had been an active member of this church.

Mrs. Corzine, who was about thirty-five years of age, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Horton, of No. 10 township. She is survived by her husband and three small children. Four brothers and one sister, a half brother and a half sister, also survive. They are: Messrs. Drayton Horton, of Norfolk; A. C. Horton at the Jackson Training School; Will and Reece Horton, of Cabarrus; Miss Mary Horton, of Concord; Mr. Whary Alexander, of Wilmer, Tex.; and Mrs. Clarence H. Barrier, of Concord.

At The Theatres.
Mabel Normand in "Golden Dreams" is being shown again today at the Star Theatre for the last day.

Tom Mix is the headline star at the Piedmont Theatre in "Eyes of the Forest." The program also includes a Tuxedo Comedy, "No Loning."

"The Steel Trail," with William Duncan in the leading role, is being shown again today at the Pastime. Chapter 6 "Crushed," is the episode today. "Fashion Follies," a Century Comedy, is also being shown at that theatre.

New K. of P. Officers.
The following officers in Concord Lodge No. 51 K. of P. were installed Friday evening for the present term:

- B. W. Blackwelder, C. C.
- E. E. Peale—V. C.
- C. E. Herrin—Prelate.
