Dullness, however, is still the feature of the goods markets and more predictions of a coming revival of activity there will not affect sentiment to any extent. That with the resulting prospect of further curtailment by domestic mills serves for the time being to offset fully the continued increasingly bullish spot advice, and until there is a change that implies reliable, broader distribution of goods even at advances,

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

STORES TO CLOSE EARLIER ON SATURDAY IN FUTURE

Practically All of the Business Houses of the City Agree to Close Shop at 8 p. m.

A campaign for earlier closing of stores on Saturday nights, started in this city some time ago, has been successfully waged and many of the business houses in the business section announce that beginning January 19th they will close their doors at 8 p. m. each Saturday.

The formal announcement was made in the form of an advertisement which appears in this paper today. The following stores have agreed to the new closing rule:

Parks-Belk Co., Eird's, Ivey Shoe Store, S. S. Brown Shoe Store, J. E. Love, Parker's Shoe Store, Richmond-Flores Co., W. A. Overcash, Hoover's, Inc., The Musette, Inc., Specialty Hat Shop, W. C. Correll Jewelry Co., City Grocery, The Frost Co., the Sanitary Grocery Co., H. B. Troutman, York & Wadsworth Co., McLellan Store Co., Ritchie-Caldwell Co., Ritchie Hardware Co., M. R. Pounds, Starnes-Miller-Parker Co., Citizens Bank and Trust Company, Cabarrus Savings Bank, Cash Feed Store, Lippard & Barrier, Cabarrus Cash Grocery, Cline & Moore, Orchard Produce Co., Bigly Wiggy, J. W. Cline and Kidd Frix Co.

The advertisement is inserted by the Merchants' Association and declares "the undersigned members of the association agree to close their doors promptly at 8 o'clock each Saturday night beginning Saturday, January 19th, 1924."

AN APPRECIATION

Mr. Editor:

The gifts of nature are manifested in many wonderful ways, but the things that are most familiar to us we frequently fail to appreciate; indeed the grandest sights of the universe—the starlit heavens, the western sky at sunset, the undulating landscape—we accept as of course, and let pass almost unthought of. It is not only in its larger aspects that enjoyment is to be found, but in almost all nature artistic combinations exist until destroyed by the intrusion of man. The artistic derangement can be re-arranged in a more formal garb by those who by taste and study are qualified to do so.

This is merely to introduce to one of regarding, and call attention to one of the beauty spots of Concord; in other words, to the post office building and the grounds surrounding it. The artistic merit of the selection of the trees and shrubs is apparent at a glance; especially low now when the brilliant colors of summer are gone and the foliage has dropped from the forest trees. The design, which has been so well carried out, was to form an arboreal frame for the building that would be attractive at all times of the year and under all conditions of weather. The landscape architect who designed the picture is to be congratulated, and we who are permitted to enjoy it should be thankful.

W. H. DEWEES.

STOCKHOLDERS OF FAIR ASSOCIATION IN SESSION

Held Meeting at Office of Secretary Friday Night—All Old Officers Re-elected.

Stockholders of the Cabarrus County Fair Association held their first meeting of the year Friday night in the office of Secretary, Dr. E. N. Spencer, in the absence of President J. E. Cannon, Vice President W. A. Foil presided.

All of the old officers were re-elected by the stockholders, and H. W. Caldwell was added to the board of directors.

After the stockholders adjourned, the directors met. They appointed Spencer, H. A. Goodman, C. W. Swink, Caldwell and Foil a committee to go ahead with all plans for the 1924 fair.

Foil and Swink were appointed a committee to audit the books of the secretary. This was done and they report that all finances were found in excellent condition.

New Principal at Sunderland. Miss Alice Thompson, the new principal of the Laura Sunderland School, arrived about the first of the year, and is now in active charge of this popular school for girls, succeeding Miss Melissa Montgomery, who held this position for 27 years.

Miss Thompson comes from the Asheville Normal College where she had been a member of the faculty for the past nine years. Another change in the faculty is that of Miss Beatrice Moller, who comes from the Wasatch Academy, in Utah, as supervisor of the kitchen and dining room.

While it is regretted that Miss Montgomery gave up the work at Sunderland where she so ably carried on the work of the school, the school is to be congratulated on having at its head Miss Thompson, an educator of ability and experience. Miss Montgomery was popular with numbers of our people in the city, where she took an active part in the civic and church life of the community.

Miss Montgomery has gone to Knoxville, Tenn., where she will spend some time resting at the home of her brother.

It's sometimes better to back down than to get your back up.

LIPPARD FADES AWAY FROM GUILTY VERDICT

Indicted on Liquor Charges, He Stands Trial in Statesville Court—Then Vanishes.

Hickory, Jan. 11.—Ed. Lippard, moonshiner and bootlegger, forfeited his bond in Federal Court at Statesville today and is thought to have fled the State.

He is under bond also in Burke and Catawba on serious charges, that in Burke being for liquor and in Catawba for transporting a young girl for immoral purposes.

Lippard's case was concluded yesterday afternoon, but when Judge Webb convened court this morning Lippard's lawyers, Joe L. Murphy, Jr., of Hickory, and Hayden Burke, of Taylorsville, were surprised when he did not appear. A jury found him guilty.

W. S. Stroup, well known Hickory man, is said to have gone on his bond in the sum of $1,700.

Philip T. Dodge's Optimism

Philadelphia Record.

Philip T. Dodge, president of the International Paper Company, is optimistic over the business outlook, but his optimism is tempered with a note of caution. He said recently, "If I read the signs of the business sky aright the demand for newspaper will be strong throughout the greater part of the year. This should spell prosperity for the paper-making industry. But risk is of the essence of business. It doesn't pay to be sure. The unexpected so often happens. It is best to make allowance for the fact that the future may not be as bright as it looks and so to organize your affairs as to have the shock of adverse conditions cannot disturb you greatly."

The demand for newsprint means a demand for newspapers, due to phenomenal circulation such as "The Record" has gained in the past year, and increased advertising space, used by wise business men. They know how to keep the wheels moving, and no longer look upon advertising in the daily newspapers as an experiment. It has proved its worth to their full satisfaction.

The late Carl Hagenbeck, the great animal dealer, made many experiments in crossbreeding. He successfully crossed the lion and tiger, their progeny having a tiger's body and a lion's head.
